Seniors' mortgage up in smoke

By CHRISTINE GwidT
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY - The Boyne Area Senior Center celebrated Sunday when, after less than three years, they set a match to the paid-in-full mortgage on their building. As more than 100 people turned out for dinner "The Cousins Music Group" played energetic, foot-stomping music that propelled many onto the dance floor. Following dinner was a short program honoring former and current board members and the combined efforts of all that resulted in the day's triumph.

The party heated up when the mortgage was ignited, page by page, by those who had worked so hard to accomplish their goal.

"I never dreamed that I'd see this place built," Rose

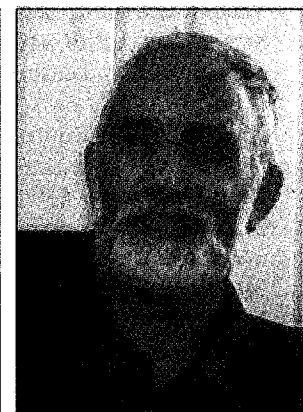

Reinhardt said, just before she touched a page of the mortgage to the flame.

Rose, along with friends Mary Towne and Phyllis Tison, recalled the days in the early 1980's when they struggled to keep the senior center going.

"I made 2 sets of Raggedy Ann dolls and a quilt and we raffled them off," Rose recalled. "After a few more raffles and some bake sales, we put $6,000 in the bank to start a fund for the senior center."

Center Director Vice President Nels Northup gave the opening remarks, saying that the senior center was "the best kept secret in town for years." He traced the progress made from the beginning when the fledgling program moved from place to place. "Finally, they found a space at city hall where lunches and activities were held for about 30 years," Northup said. "The See MORTGAGE, page 2A

Boyne City hires new department head

BOYNE CITY - The city hired a new director of public works to fill the position that became vacant following the former director's retirement.

New director Michael Wiesner brings 33 years of local government experience to the position. He was city manager for the city of Charlevoix for 23 of those years.

Former director of public works, Denny Jason, retired in early May after 17 years with the city.

The department of public works manages streets, parks and the motor pool. In reporting the hiring of Wiesner to city commissioners on May 22, city manager Michael Cain said that Wiesner's knowledge is important to the city, especially at this time.

"Mike (Wiesner's) experience, ... his strong engineering background, development of infrastructure improvement programs for streets and other utilities, marina development and See WIESNER, page 2

Several business owners and residents were "appalled" to see the owner of this vehicle with a boat trailer use five parking spaces on Water Street downtown Friday said Kristin Bates, one of the business owners. When Boyne City Police arrived on scene, the owner claimed car trouble, but put the hood down and drove off, Bates said.

Flag Day is June 14

By B. J. HETLER

BOYNE CITY - The community and the nation celebrate Flag Day Thursday, June 14. Many citizens will unfurl flags at home and fly them from front porches or yard poles. At other homes the American flag will already be flying.

"We fly it almost everyday," Boyne City's Jillian Wilhelm said while she walked by the Boyne River on Sunday. The flag is taken down in inclement weather.

Scott Thomas of Boyne City said he always displays the flag on Flag Day. Patriotism and freedom come to mind for him when he sees the flag.

James Nichols of East Jordan said Flag Day is one of the times he stops to remember sacrifices made for the country.

"It's a way to recognize all of the people who gave and who continue to give," Nichols said, "I think flying the flag is for the people who sacrificed for this country."

"Freedom," was the first thing Maddison Cesaro of East Jordan thought of when she pictured the U.S. flag. Cesaro attends seventh-grade at East Jordan Public Schools.

The American Legion Ernest Peterson Post 228 will hold a Flag Day service in Veterans Park at 6:30 p.m., Thursday. A Flag Disposal Ceremony is part of the service and provides a time that the public may bring flags that need to be retired because they are torn or faded. The Post also takes flags from 2-8 p.m. any Saturday at the American Legion location at Lake and Main streets.

If the American flag touches the ground it does not mean it should be destroyed, according to an Internet U.S. history site. If the flag is dirty, it should be cleaned by hand with a mild soap solution and dried before returning it to use.

If a flag is torn, it may be repaired if practical, otherwise it should be replaced.

The U. S. Code, Title IV contains rules and guidelines about the U.S. flag. Other information is available on Internet sites, such as ushistory.org.

Challenge Mountain changes resale stores

BOYNE CITY - Challenge Mountain has begun an evaluation of its resale stores to improve services, offer loyal customers some great new prices and, most importantly, focus energy on specialty items.

First, Challenge Mountain is set to begin offering more "outdoor fun" items in the stores. Anyone who has items such as used sporting goods, tents, grills, lawn furniture, mowers, skis, skates, and any other outdoor activity items they would like to donate would be greatly appreciated. You may receive an acknowledgement of your donation at the time of drop off.

The goal of the organization is to provide a much needed specialty product to the area. Since Challenge Mountain provides adaptive recreation to our special needs populations in our communities. From Chicago, to Detroit, to Gaylord, to the UP and back people who benefit from our services are able to learn and grow due in part to the stores.

Secondly, beginning in June, Challenge Mountain Resale Stores will offer some exciting deals for customers to enjoy. Anyone who has a computer and visits the organization's website at www.challenge-mtn.org can print a $5 off certificate for one time use in the stores. Third, new sales will is a natural and important direction for the resale stores.

According to Sue Moody, Challenge Mountain Executive Director, "Our hope is to bring a component to the resale business in our area that has been unfulfilled. We feel eager to bring this focus to our loyal customers, plus bringing in new customers to enjoy these items. We are really counting on community members to remember Challenge Mountain when they no longer need outdoor items that still have a lot of use."

Moody went on to say, "We are extremely proud of the hard work the volunteers and staff at the stores do. It is through the work of this group of dedicated individuals that we have been able to provide adaptive recreation to our special needs populations in our communities. From Chicago, to Detroit, to Gaylord, to the UP and back people who benefit from our services are able to learn and grow due in part to the stores."

Secondly, beginning in June, Challenge Mountain Resale Stores will offer some exciting deals for customers to enjoy. Anyone who has a computer and visits the organization's website at www.challenge-mtn.org can print a $5 off certificate for one time use in the stores. Third, new sales will be popping up frequently for customer's shopping pleasure. Customers who purchase over $6 in the stores can put their names in for a monthly drawing for a variety of great gift certificates from local restaurants and businesses. Purchases over $50 will get your name in a special drawing for gift certificates.

Fourth, a great new "Tell a Friend" program will begin in July. Customers will have the chance to receive a gift certificate and so will a friend for shopping in the stores and bringing in new customers. Details will be available mid June in the stores.

Cindy Thomas, Resale Stores Manager stated, "We've worked hard in making the stores a nicer, cleaner shopping experience for everyone to enjoy. We want our customers to feel as if they are coming home when they enter our stores. They are an extension of our family. We want everyone to walk away with a smile and feeling as if they have gotten a good deal or helped someone out with their donation."

To donate outdoor items, household goods, or other gently used items, drop off times are available when the stores are open. To schedule a pick up for furniture, please call Cindy at 231-582-6966 or Kim at 231-348-3195.

dream was to someday have a home to call their own." That day came in December 2005 when the seniors moved into the new building on Division Street. A voter approved millage raised $754,000, defraying the $980,000 total cost of the project.

"You should be very, very proud of what you've done for the city," Mayor Eleanor Stackus said when she addressed the group. "It's a pleasure to be here on this occasion to celebrate what is really a great achievement."

Loretta Stansell, a 54-year resident of Boyne City, said that she enjoys playing cards at the senior center. She moved to Deer Meadow's in 2003 and appreciates the convenience of the center being located next door. She was happy to see all of the work come to fruition. Seated next to Loretta, Louisa Northup agreed that it was quite an accomplishment.

"They've been working hard for this day," she said.

Also at the June 7 meeting, commissioners discussed the likelihood of an early solution to East Jordan harbor's sediment problem. To date the city has not received a permit from the Army Corps of Engineers nor State approval of the requested funding necessary to begin the project. City Administrator David White said it is doubtful that the dredging could be accomplished before the end of September.

"We can't begin after July 1st because of certain kinds of fish," White said, "If you go down and look, you can see that 9 to 12 of the slips are unusable. The water is so shallow that you can walk to them."

Sixty percent of the cost of the proposed dredging would be paid by the state with the balance funded by harbor operations.

city hall restoration experiences, will be of immediate assistance to us as we deal with very similar issues," Cain said. "These are great skills to have as we seriously consider how we may wish to implement our new facilities study..."

Wiesner, who is just over two weeks on the job, said a major focus at this time is deciding with others the method for running the 10-employee department.

"My philosophy is the public sector are leaders in the community," Wiesner said. When streets and curbs are improved, the surrounding private areas tend to also improve.

"I think the public sector does better than the private sector, because the public sector thinks 15-20 years ahead."

The community has room for growth and the city manager is giving the community fine direction, Wiesner said.

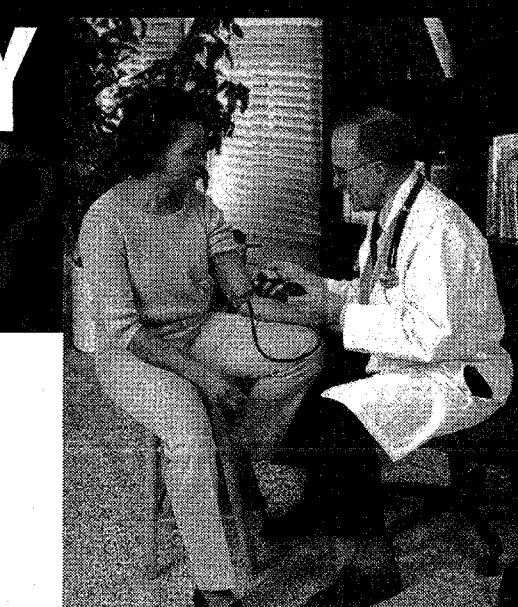

The city and Wiesner set a one-year term for the position.

Ride toward Harbor Springs at your leisure. You can turn around at the Fettes-McCue Overlook behind Glen's North, the Little Traverse Township Park at the airport, or go all the way to Harbor Springs and back, a total of 18 miles. FOJ announces its children's programs

EAST JORDAN - If looking for bugs and little critters in the water, learning about animals and the environment through pasture hikes and hands-on activities is something your children would enjoy this summer then you will want to check the Friends of the Jordan "Young Friends Program." It is an opportunity for youngsters to spend time with friends, make new friends and learn to be a "Friend of the Jordan." Under the guidance of education specialists Alison Berry and Melissa Hansen of the Little Traverse Conservancy participants will scoop into the river to gather samples and then look at them under microscopes to see what tiny creatures live in the water. That will be the focus of "Life in the Water" scheduled for June 28. Another event will offer an opportunity to learn about the mammals who share the Jordan Valley with us.

Students will be able to handle skulls, bones, claws and pelts, compare footprints and use these to learn about the different animals, how they survive the environment and predators, what they eat and how they raise their young. "Mammals" is the topic for the July 12 program. On August 9, Melissa and Alison will lead a nature hike focusing on "Food Chains", learning who eats what from the tiniest creatures to the larger predators. The programs are all scheduled for Thursday mornings from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Activities will be geared to 7-12 year old students but parents and siblings are welcome to attend. A light refreshment will be provided. All activities will take place from the Jordan River Watershed Center, 101 Union Street in East Jordan. There is no charge, but you are asked to register by phone at 231-536-4977 or through e-mail at foj@friendsofthejordan.org.

In addition, on the other Thursday mornings through the summer, Shirley Vollbach will bring some of the critters who live in the farms and fields around us and let children learn about these animals through stories, facts and hands on contact through her program called Backyard Wildlife. She is a naturalist who has done wildlife rescue and operated a nature center in Tennessee for years. Join her on the porch of the Watershed Center to see who she brings with her. Thursday mornings at 11 a.m. No registration required - just stop over after checking out the Farmer's Market in the adjoining Sportsman's Park.

For more information and other activities please visit our website www.friendsofthejordan.org.

United Way announces community investment allocations

PETOSKEY - Twenty-three local health and human service agencies will receive community investment allocation grants from the 2006-2007 Char-Em United Way Campaign, and an additional eight have received designated donations, United Way officials announced.

"Because we greatly exceeded our campaign goal, we are able to award a record amount of funds this year. We are pleased to award $129,350 in allocations and an additional $29,712 in designated gifts to local agencies," said Martha Lancaster, United Way Executive Director. "By providing this funding, we helped nearly 1,000 individual and business donors partner with these agencies fulfill a need that no one else does in this community."

The awards will be made at the upcoming United Way Celebration Breakfast June 12 at North Central Michigan College. The event will celebrate the success of the United Way Campaign and thank the many campaign volunteers and donors who contributed. The John Newton Awards for Excellence will be presented to an individual and business recipient and funds will be distributed to the Partner Agencies. To register for the breakfast, call 231-487-1006.

United Way Partner Agencies which will receive allocations are: American Red Cross; BASES; Bergmann Center; Big Brothers/Big Sisters; Boyne City Pre-School; Camp

These agencies submitted funding requests for specific projects which were reviewed and approved by United Way volunteers.

Most of the partner agencies also received donations specifically designated to the individual donors. In addition, the following agencies also received designated gifts from the United Way Campaign: Camp Daggett; Habitat for Humanity; Hospice of Little Traverse Bay; MSU Extension 4-H Program; North Country Community Mental Health; North Central Michigan College Foundation; Planned Parenthood Northern Michigan; and YMCA.

"We want to acknowledge the contribution of the donors who helped us exceed our 2006/2007 Campaign goal, as well as the Frey Foundation which provided a $20,000 challenge grant. We also thank the members of our Community Review Panels who reviewed proposals and made funding recommendations to the

"We are now beginning planning for the 2007/2008 Campaign and expect it will be even more successful in engaging the community in making investments that meet critical human needs."

Char-Em United Way conducts worksite and other fundraising campaigns to raise funds to support many local health and human service agencies. THE CITIZEN-JOURNAL OPINION

NEIGHBORS

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Herzog were honored by all of their 8 children and 16 grandchildren who visited Boyne for their parents 55th wedding anniversary. Eugene and Sally Herzog of Bay Street were married June 9, 1952, in Minneapolis at St. Lawrence Catholic Church. Their children and grandchildren traveled from all over the country to acknowledge their parents. The family gathered for several events throughout the weekend including a lunch reception at the Dilworth June 9 provided by their children and a brunch June 10 provided by their grandchildren.

Bunny Garlock recently attended the graduation of her grandson, Derrick Dzedzie, in Pellston. Derrick is the son of Joe and Connie (Garlock) Dzedzie. An open house was held the following day at his parents' home in Pellston. Derrick will be attending the Lincoln Technical School in Indianapolis where he will be studying car detailing and bodywork. Also attending were many of his aunts and uncles.

The Oral Sutliffs recently returned from San Francisco visiting their son, Scott, and friends. They really enjoyed a nice little vacation.

A warm "welcome to our community" goes out to Howard and Sharon Stewart, formerly of Kodiak, Alaska. The Stewarts have built and moved into their new home on Wildwood Harbor Road. Sharon is the daughter of Florence Kominski.

Proud grandma Judy Owen, with bragging rights, reports that granddaughter Kelsi Churchill, daughter of Adrian and Cristy Churchill of Boyne City, received a recognition certificate award for being the most rounded student in her second grade class at Boyne Falls Public School this past year. Way to go Kelsi.

Lee Stadt, sons, grandsons, cousins and family friends from the Grand Rapids area, all men, enjoyed their annual all day golf event on Saturday. About 30 of them played at least 36 holes, if not more, out at Ye Nynne Olde Holles Golf Course. The group closed a great day with dinner and catching up on things.

If you haven't been to the Boyne City Historical Museum, then you should go, because there are a lot of interesting things on display. It is now open on Saturdays from 12 p.m. until 4 p.m. You will also find some interesting stories to go along with some of the exhibits.

The Boyne Area Senior Center held a yard party on Tuesday, June 5, at the senior center. This is better known as "clean up." About 25 people joined together to plant flowers, wash windows, and clean the yard along with several other required chores. It was a great time for everyone. Fun refreshments followed the work time.

Continuing last week's item about our hometown serviceman, Matt Brong, who is serving with the a U. S. Army in Iraq, on Saturday, May 26, Matt's unit was hit with a roadside bomb. Matt was injured and will be undergoing back surgery among other serious medical needs. He was scheduled to arrive at the Walter Reed hospital in Washington last Friday, and his parents have flown to meet him there. Updates will be forthcoming, Matt has a long recovery time ahead of him and continued prayer would be appreciated.

LIVING WITHOUT LIMITS

Timeless principles

How do you live life your way, to its fullest potential? What you have to do is recognize, understand and apply the same proven principles utilized by successful people for thousands of years. These timeless principles work reliably through faithful and consistent implementation.

These principles, although simple and straightforward, can seem difficult to carry out. Why? Because application of these principles requires us to think and act in a manner different from what we are used to.

To make changes in your life you must change what you are doing. Only you can alter those aspects of your life you are not happy with. You can not blame anyone else for your situation. You can not depend on anyone else to make changes for you. What happens in your life is your choice. It's up to you.

Each of my columns will give you valuable, practical suggestions for getting the most out of life. Look for and save each one.

By Bryan Golden

The next several columns will outline each of the following principles:

- You are what you think about
- Set goals
- Plan how to reach your goals
- All we have is today
- Never ever give up
- Education never ends
- Control your own emotions
- Guard your time
- Have an attitude of gratitude
- What you project you receive
- 1. You are what you think about
- Your attitude and what you think determines who you are. How you think is the only thing differentiating you from others.
- Twenty-four hours a day your mind operates to figure out ways which will bring your thoughts to reality. Positive thoughts or negative, your mind doesn't discriminate. Like a freshly plowed field, your mind grows whatever seeds of thought you plant.

Annual pause for the Pledge of Allegiance

To the editor:

At 7 p.m. (EDT) on Flag Day, June 14, Americans all across the nation will pause to recite the Pledge of Allegiance to our flag. While most of us know the words of the pledge, there are a large number who do not know of its origin.

Mr. Francis Bellamy, an ordained minister of Rome, NY, is credited with the authorship of the original pledge. It was he who, on the eve of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, initiated a campaign for the establishment of a national holiday on Oct. 12, to celebrate the day on which Columbus discovered America. In his concept, he envisioned that flags should be flown over every school-house and public building from coast to coast.

In the material that he nationally circulated, he wrote, "Let the flag float over every school-house in the land and the exercise be such as shall impress upon our youth the patriotic duty of citizenship." He also included the original 23 words of the Pledge that he had developed. "I pledge allegiance to my flag and the republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Thus it was, that on Columbus Day in October 1892, the Pledge of Allegiance was repeated by more than 12 million public school children in every state in the union. The wording of the pledge has been modified three times. In 1923, the words "the flag of the United States" were substituted for "my flag." In 1924, "of America" was added. On Flag Day, 1954, the words "under God" became a part of the pledge. Thus, the 23 words have become 31 words.

By a joint resolution on June 9, 1966, Congress requested the President to issue annually a proclamation designating the week in which June 14 occurs as National Flag Week and calling upon citizens of the United States to display the flag during that week.

The idea of the annual Pause for the Pledge of Allegiance originated in 1980 at the Star-Spangled Banner Flag House in Baltimore, MD. Since then the concept has swept across the country in a grassroots movement supported by a broad spectrum of individuals, organizations, and businesses.

The National Flag Day Foundation, Inc. was created in 1982 "to conduct educational programs throughout the United States in promotion of National Flag Day and to encourage national patriotism by promotion of the Pause for the Pledge of Allegiance." On June 20, 1985, the 99th Congress passed and President Reagan signed Public Law 99-54 recognizing the Pause for the Pledge of Allegiance as part of National Flag Day activities. It is an invitation urging all Americans to participate on June 14, at 7 p.m. (EDT) in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance. The effect of this simple ceremony, which transcends age, race, religion, national origin, political and geographic differences, is a stimulating patriotic experience at home and a sign of unity abroad. To prevent an allergic reaction to these plants, learn to recognize their "leaves of three" and avoid contact with them. If exposed, immediately wash the affected skin with rubbing alcohol and then rinse with water. Then take a shower with warm water and soap. Wash all clothing, shoes and other contaminated articles with strong detergent. Calamine lotion, hydrocortisone cream or a baking soda and water paste can help ease itching. Ask your pharmacist or doctor about other medications available for severe cases.

Only you can select the seeds of thought which are planted. The only thing you have absolute control over is your attitude and thoughts. Always be positive and visualize success. Act the way you want to be. If you think you can do something you are right. If you think you can't do something, you are also right. The choice is yours.

2. Set goals
What do you want from life? You don't need to project years into the future. You need to determine what you want now. It doesn't matter what your goals are so long as they're your goals and don't involve hurting others. Write down your goals and read them every day. Goals give you a definiteness of purpose and are the map to your desired destination.

If you don't know what you want, spend time analyzing yourself to determine what you like and don't like. Make two lists. One will contain everything you want from life while the other will list what you don't want. Develop these lists without any limitations.

List everything, even if you think it seems unrealistic. These lists will enable you to set immediate goals. Without goals, you have no direction or destination and are like a rudderless ship on the ocean; much more likely to run aground than arrive safely in port.

Many Michigan drivers believe that their "No Fault" auto policy will cover everything - no matter who is at fault. This is not entirely true.

Some losses are intended to be covered by the at-fault driver. But, what if their policy coverage limits are too low, or they drive with no insurance at all?

Red Devils can't pull off two miracles

KALKASKA — East Jordan's baseball team couldn't strike lightning twice.

The Red Devils surprised a lot of people when they knocked off favored Elk Rapids, 6-5, in extra innings in the Division 3 regional semifinal game at Kalkaska High School last Saturday.

But they couldn't duplicate the effort in the regional against Standish-Sterling.

Yes, they did benefit from a little good fortune when the Elks made some fielding blunders to open the door for a four-run fourth inning.

Elk Rapids, champion of the Lake Michigan Conference this season, was 26-5 and had its ace pitcher, Brandon Isenhart on the hill.

Worse still, the Elks grabbed an early 1-0 lead. All but the East Jordan fans in attendance considered it only the beginning of what would soon be a flood of runs for Elk Rapids.

It didn't look promising for the Red Devils.

But fate has a way of intervening. That appeared to be the case when the Elks dropped an infield pop up with one out in the fourth inning.

Pouncing on the mistake, East Jordan benefited from further Elk fielding blunders and mental errors, plus a timely hit, to score four runs.

Now leading, 5-1, the Red Devils seemed to be in total command of the game.

Isenhart had been lifted in favor of a relief pitcher, and was playing at a different position for the Elks.

He failed to get a hit in his next time up at the plate as well, and the Elks' confidence dipped along with their spirits.

East Jordan then experienced its own misfortune when after holding the Elks' vaunted offense at bay through the first five innings its starting pitcher suddenly lost command of his pitches.

Unable to locate the plate, he issued a couple of walks, including one which came with the bases loaded and forced in an Elk Rapids run.

The Elks' fans sensed a comeback, and began to cheer their team on.

With the noise level reaching increasingly high decibels, East Jordan was in jeopardy of losing its composure, and perhaps the lead ... maybe even the game.

Elk Rapids tied the score, and the game went into extra innings. Just that quickly, the fortunes of the game swung in favor of the Elks.

Rather than get down on themselves for squandering what once appeared to be a comfortable lead, the Red Devils kept playing hard and kept their heads in the game.

Their chances didn't look all that good with two outs in the bottom of the eighth inning.

But, they had a runner on base in freshman Billy Kraemer, and the game wasn't over yet.

Seizing the moment, junior Scott Hansen ripped a shot through the middle of the infield to drive Kraemer home with the winning run.

East Jordan's miracle run ended in the regional finals, where Standish-Sterling handcuffed the Red Devils hitters and emerged with a 4-0 victory.

Despite the shutout loss in the finals, East Jordan should feel proud of its tremendous effort in beating a very good Elk Rapids team in the semifinals.

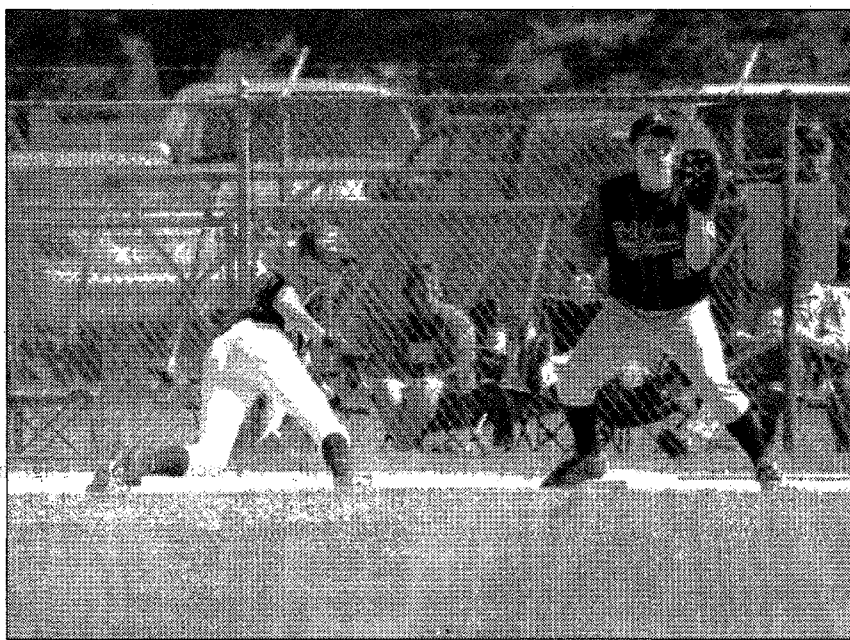

In achieving what some thought impossible, the Red Devils proved that no team is unbeatable.

They also proved that any team can win if they play the game right, and never give up.

Going for the upset

District champs downed in regional final

KALKASKA - The day couldn't have started any better, but the ending left something to be desired for East Jordan fans.

The baseball team earned a trip to Kalkaska for Saturday's regional finals by winning the district championship the previous week. After earning an upset win over No. 8 ranked Elk Rapids in the opener 6-5 in eight innings, the Devils were defeated in the final 4-0 by Standish-Sterling.

Tom Pentecost started the game against Elk Rapids, and after allowing an early run held the Elks scoreless for a few innings and allowed the Devils to take the lead.

With a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning, David Marr scored on a wild pitch to give the Devils a 2-1 lead. They scored three more runs in the inning, including a run by Pentecost to help his effort.

The Devils held that lead until the sixth inning, when the Elks scored four runs to tie the game and eventually force it to extra innings.

In the eighth, Scot Hansen hit an RBI single with two outs, to score Billy Kraemer, and advance the Devils to the regional final.

Matt Pater came in to relieve Pentecost, and earned the win.

Unfortunately for the Devils, it was their last run scored of the year.

In the final, they faced Standish-Sterling and a strong pitching staff. The Panthers were coming off a 5-0 shutout victory over Newberry in their opener, and continued their scoreless inning streak against East Jordan.

Justin Migut and Dewey Milan combined to allow just three hits, leading the Panthers to a 4-0 win. Pater pitched for the Devils, striking out two and allowing six hits.

The Panthers scored a pair of runs in the first inning, followed by a run in both the second and fourth innings. Marr and Ryan Gettel had hits for the Devils in the game.

Hearing the play-by-play

The skill may never come in handy, but it's there. Each baseball, or softball player, likely has it, but never realized it. Those trying to pay attention to both the softball and baseball games during postseason play, may have stumbled on it by accident.

It's the ability to hear the game. Knowing what is happening, simply by listening to the atmosphere. But, you'd likely have to be a former player or coach to realize it.

Games on a diamond have a universal language, with similar catch phrases used in parallel situations. For those of you in the dark, I can translate a bit of the language for you. In each situation, there's a way to decipher what's happening. If the team needs a hit, there's a phrase for it. If there's an RBI to be had, there's a cheer for it. Here's your guide to what you'll hear and when:

- *The pitcher throws a strike - "Way to fire."
- *The pitcher throws a ball - "Looked good."
- *The team needs a hit - "Little bingo, kid."
- *Runners in scoring position - "R-B-R-B-R-B-U. R-B-R-B-R-B-I."
- *Stealing a base - "Dig, dig, dig, dig."
- *Run about to score - "Home it! Home! Home!"
- *A potential home run - "Back, back, back, back."
- *The umpire made the "wrong" call - "Come on, what are you looking at?"
- *The umpire made the "right" call - "This guy's good."
- *The umpire should power walk to the car - "The program lists umpire names.....what about phone numbers?"
- *A nice catch is made - "Good leather."
- *The batter just swung and missed - "Keep your eye on it."
- *The batter hit it foul - "Straighten it out."
- *The batter gets a hit - "Nice rip kid."
- *Runner on third, less than two outs - "Squeeeeeeeeeeeze!"
- *Two outs, runner on base - "Running on anything."
- *Batter got on base, with a little help from the defense - "Good hustle."
- *Someone screwed up - "Get your head in the game."
- *Someone did well - "Way to be."

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

ing the weekend of the Insect Film Fear Festival, an event the organizers describe as "a celebration of giant rubber bugs, low production budgets, and an underhanded attempt to educate non-entomologists about the joys of insects." A must-see, to be sure.

- It's been reported that the final words of Conrad N. Hilton, the man who founded the famous chain of hotels (and, incidentally, the great-grandfather of infamous heiress Paris Hilton), were "Leave the shower curtain on the inside of the tub."
- If you're a butcher by trade, you might be interested in knowing that your profession, too, has a patron saint: Saint Luke.
- Do you dread seeing the black ink turn gray, continuing to print until the text on your documents becomes ghostly? When you leave the office-supply store with a new ink cartridge, does your wallet feel significantly lighter? Well, you're not imagining things, printer ink really is expensive. In fact, by volume, it costs seven times as much as Dom Perignon champagne.

- Think the arts and sciences don't mix? You may want to think again: All the craters on the planet Mercury are named for artists, writers and musicians, and the moons of Uranus have names from characters and places found in the plays of William Shakespeare.

Thought for the Day: "I don't know anything about music. In my line, you don't have to." — Elvis Presley
