Many enjoy EJ's Freedom Festival

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

EAST JORDAN - The 2007 Jordan Valley Freedom Festival was a success right down to the sunny and mostly warm weather.

Crowds filled the streets downtown to hop on rides at the carnival, watch the talent show, view a movie on a 40-foot screen and to cheer on the parades.

This year's Freedom Festival held Thursday, June 21, through Sunday, June 24, featured two parades on Saturday, a Youth Parade with a "Disney Stars" theme and the Grand Parade, "Stars of East Jordan." Serving as Grand Marshal was the East Jordan Public Schools with 80 walkers who accompanied the schools' float in the parade.

Resident Tom Graham drove his shiny, black Ford Model T in the grand parade. He is a member of the Ford Model T International Club and has four more antique cars and trucks at home. The automobile Graham chose to bring to the parade has a racing engine

Boyne man to plead on arson charges

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY - A man who is charged with setting fire to his house on Timber Ridge Trail is scheduled to enter a plea on July 6, in the Charlevoix County Circuit Court. If the court accepts the plea a trial will not be held and sentencing would take place at a later date.

Cordell Lester Cambric, 53, allegedly set the fire on April 22, that destroyed the house at 2082 Timber Ridge Trail. The fire spread to nearby woods with flames reaching high into the air. Three fire departments and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources were involved in fighting the blaze. No one was injured.

Cambric waived a preliminary examination in district court and on June 5 was bound over to circuit court. He has received a court-appointed attorney, Christopher Turkelson. Cambric is incarcerated in the Charlevoix County jail with bond set at $200,000.

The Charlevoix County Prosecutor's Office has charged Cambric with three counts. Count one is arson of a dwelling, a 20-year felony, count two is arson of insured property with intent to defraud the insurance company, a 10-year felony, and count three is a charge of habitual offender. Past convictions are for burglary and possession of controlled substances.

EJ talks budget, harbor dredging

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

EAST JORDAN - The city's offer of early retirement made to three employees was rejected by all three. Administrators and the city commission will now look at other options to balance the budget.

City administrator, David White, reported to commissioners at a June 19 meeting that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is taking public comment on harbor dredging until June 29. A permit may be issued following that date, but White noted that the time might not allow dredging, because of the season's fish population.

East Jordan's public marina cannot use 12 of its 60-some slips because of sand that has gathered in the area.

Approximately 25,000 cubic yards of sediment needs to be dredged. The city also proposes to dredge up to 10,000 cubic yards on an

It's time to "Stroll the Streets"

By CHRISTINE GWIDT
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY - On June 29, Boyne City will launch the fourth season of its popular "Stroll the Streets" program on Fridays from 6 to 9 p.m. First introduced in 2004, the Friday evening festivities will include favorites from past years as well as new attractions.

The entertainment this year is prolific and diverse. Three to four different musical acts will perform each Friday from various locations along Water and Lake streets, including the Horton Creek Band, the John Richey Group, the Straight Forward Band and the Judy Slocum Group. The Boyne City Play Group will provide fun for children. Charlevoix Area Hospice is sponsoring Madame Fortune Tellers, who read palms and predict a positive future from their colorful tent.

The Boyne District Library will conduct a book sale from the corner of Water and Park streets and there will be a 50/50 drawing. Magicians, face-painters, gymnasts, balloon twisters and the Boyne City High School Jazz Band are also scheduled to appear as part of the summer roster. Additionally, a float sponsored by "Stroll the Streets" will be a part of the Fourth of July parade and will feature singer Kristin Glasgow.

Main Street promotions committee member, Karen Guzniczak, has worked hard to organize the event. She brought the concept to the Main Street Program Committee after she and her husband, Ray, (proprietors of Boyne City shops, Country Now and Then and Up the Lazy River) visited friends in Alden and were impressed by a similar offering in that town.

"It's fun for residents and it's exciting to bring people into town who have never been to Boyne City before," Guzniczak said. "They sample our great shopping and dining and our hospitality when they stroll around and then they come back at other times, often with other family members and friends."

The first year was a learning experience for Guzniczak, who coordinates the event and books the talent.

"In the beginning it was difficult to find performers to come out," she said. "Now that we've been doing this for a few years we have people calling and offering to entertain."

The program is funded through donations from individuals and businesses and will be presented every Friday from June 29 to

Aug. 31. Local businesses are encouraged to participate by offering a sample of their specialties for a nominal donation.

"I think that most people take an interest and have pride in their city," Guzniczak said. "And we still have a need for volunteers to direct people along the street and to sell raffle tickets. We'd also like to hear from anyone who has a special talent and would be interested in performing."

Anyone wishing to make a donation to "Stroll the Streets" or with an interest in performing, should contact Karen Guzniczak at 231-582-2355.

Summer is blooming at the farm market

By CHRISTINE GWIDT
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY - When the first vendors pull into line at Old City Park, it's a sign that summer is really here. From tents and tables lining the sidewalks on the corner of River and Park streets, local farmers, bakers, craftspeople and horticulturists bring the best of the season to Boyne City every Wednesday and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. During peak season, there are approximately 60 vendors that participate.

Visiting the farm market is a festival of abundance and an exercise in temptation. From the riotous displays of perennials, annuals and cut flowers to the homemade baked goods, preserves, arts and crafts and fresh local produce, it's an irresistible assemblage of earthly delights.

"Without a doubt, it's the best farm market in Northern Michigan," Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Scott MacKenzie said. "All products and produce are grown or manufactured within a 30 mile radius of town, unless there is a niche that isn't filled. Exceptions are approved by the farm market board.

"Not only do local shoppers get healthy, quality products, but they're also helping to preserve a traditional way of life and the natural beauty and open space that we all value in Northern Michigan."

Dave Siegrist of Siegrist Farm and Greenhouse in Boyne Falls echoed MacKenzie's statement that it is the best farm market in the area. Siegrist has been selling plants, flowers and honey at the market for 22 years and he recalled that at that time not many vendors made the trip to town with their produce.

"There were just a few stand holders then," Siegrist said.

"and we used a bench or a little card table, or we'd just pull in and sell off of the back of the truck."

Anyone who has ever sampled the mysteriously piquant concoction, Sweet Creamy Mustard, from Washburne's Tasty Treats, knows just how long the winter can be when, in mid-February, the knife clicks against the bottom of the last jar in the pantry. Mike Washburn of Charlevoix is the creator of this addictive condiment and his woebegone caricature adorns the label.

Gerber's Homemade Sweets from Charlevoix make it difficult to settle on just one of the many flaky-crustied pies, breads and sweet rolls that fill their table. Lauren Gerber began baking with her mother when she was a little girl, and it's her mother's pie crust recipe that is used in the hand rolled pastries.

"Our most popular yeasted bread is the 100 percent whole wheat with sunflower seeds," Gerber said. "We also have sticky buns with pecans, a variety of sweet breads and hand dipped chocolates, when the weather's not so warm. And we make handmade teddy bears, too."

Linda Uloth of Boyne City crafts bejeweled glassware and serving pieces and Arnett's Pure Honey from East Jordan will include a recipe or two with the purchase of their flowery, mild spun honey.

Ryan and Andrea Romeyn of Providence Farm & CSA continue to offer freshly harvested vegetables and herbs at the market, as well as shares in a summer's worth of weekly produce beginning in late June and continuing through late October.

One of the crowd of shoppers on Saturday, Kristin Bates, owner of Lost and Found Antiques and Unusuals on Water Street, pulled a basket of strawberries from her bag to admire them.

"Look at how shiny they are," Bates said, holding the berry by its long stem. "This market is one of the best things about summer."

Shoppers move from booth to booth, sampling and asking, "Is your crust..."

"Homemade? Yes."

nual basis at the boat launch. When dry, all material gathered would be relocated to an offsite upland area, according to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers public notice of June 15.

The purpose of the project is to increase navigation opportunities within the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix and to allow larger boats access to the public boat launch and marina.

In other matters at the June 19 commission meeting, reconstruction is planned for the intersection of Mill and 4th streets after work on M-32 caused overuse at that intersection.

White said a contract would be signed with a contractor to remove the corner market. The city expects a report from an environmental consultant before proceeding with the project.

The Talent Show featured singers and the ages 12 and under winner was Syndal Thompson, ages 13 to 18 was Alisha Healy and the adult division winner was Paula (Miss V) Vollbach.

More music was provided on Saturday by Charlie's Root Fusion and Horton Creek who entertained under the band shell on a perfect June evening.

The Festival 500 raffle-drawing winner was Patsy Steglitz of Charlevoix.

Other activities included a flea market, horseshoe tournament, bingo, a horse pull and a Sunday morning Lumberjack breakfast. A fireworks show closed Saturday's events.

Festival president Gretchen Bender said she was pleased with this year's Freedom Festival and the many people who attended. Police Chief Dan Reece had a full force on for the weekend and reported no major incidents during the four-day festival.

Jill Jack opens concert series

BOYNE FALLS - Jill Jack played for the first time at Aten Place last July, and literally "rocked the barn." Grasping the opportunity to demonstrate the full range of her singing and song writing prowess, without the usual accompaniment of her backup band, Jack set a new high water mark for all future performers at Aten Place. Jack was joined on stage by backup guitarist, Billy Brandt, who will join her again this year.

Jack grew up in Michigan, and her interest in playing guitar and musical tastes were hand-me-downs from her older sisters who cultured her in the music of the times. Jack has worked relentlessly for years playing everything from hole-in-the-wall clubs to singing commercial jingles.

Jack's genre-jumping sound doesn't slide easily into any one format and keeps her free to write and sing what she wants, the way she wants, the way she wants, to create her own sound. Her newest CD, "Moon and the Morning After," is a collection of Jack's most honest, raw, and comfortable songs to date. Each song is lyrically poignant and draws musically from folk, country, rock, and gospel roots. "This is my most personally focused record ever - the truest material I have ever written - it's all from my heart."

Aten Place is located 1/2 mile south of Cherry Hill Road on Old Mackinac Trail in Boyne Falls. The venue is an eighty-year old oak frame barn with seating for 180, overlooking the Boyne River valley, in the shadow of Boyne Mountain. All tickets are $10 at the door, and there are no advance ticket sales. Tickets go on sale at 6:30 p.m., with performances beginning at 7:30 p.m. Aten Place is a non-profit endeavor, and no food or beverage is sold on the premises. Many patrons bring snacks and desserts to share at intermission. There is also a picnic area for those who wish to come early and enjoy the grounds and peaceful setting.

For more information on this summer's schedule go to www.atenplace.com or call Bill or Maxine Aten at 231-549-2076.

AmeriCorps assists students

Community service learning project

By LAURA HAYES
INTERN, CHAR-EM ISD
COMMUNICATION SERVICES

BOYNE CITY - Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District AmeriCorps member Ann Holland and six Boyne City Public Schools students participated in the 7th Annual Take A Day On sponsored by Charlevoix County 4H Youth Development. This year's event was held at the Charlevoix County Humane Society in Boyne City in late May. The Boyne City middle and high school students spent the morning listening to local professionals discuss animal healthcare and training. Presenters included Jodi Adams, Charlevoix County Humane Society Director; Martha Weisler, Kennel Manager; and Dr. Kurt Erxleben, D.V.M., of Lake Street Veterinary Clinic. After lunch the students spent time exercising the animals, cleaning the facilities and helping with outdoor maintenance. Take A Day On began in 2001 with a goal of teaching area students the importance of community service projects. Each year a different location in Charlevoix County is chosen to host the event. Take A Day On is open to all interested students who attend school in Charlevoix County. The focus of the Char-Em ISD AmeriCorps Program is to mentor elementary school age children in need of academic assistance or social issues. Members also train students in no-bullying and conflict resolution skills. The Char-Em ISD AmeriCorps Program serves 11 school districts within ISD service area of Charlevoix, Emmet, and northern Antrim counties. For more information about AmeriCorps or to request an application for the 2007-2008 AmeriCorps program, please contact Linda Johnson at 231-547-9947.

Charlevoix County Master Gardeners on Mackinac Island

By DANIELLE KAPRAL

On Thursday, June 14, the MSU Extension Office transported 48 Charlevoix County students and chaperones to Mackinac Island for the Lilac Festival as part of their Master Gardener Program. The group toured the Mackinac Island Butterfly House, the new Insect World, as well as the Stuart Museum.

The Junior Master Gardener Program is geared towards third to fifth grade students who wish to be instructed on topics involving soil, flowers, vegetables, fruits and food preservation. The classes run for about eight to 12 weeks, and following the completion of ten hours of community service, there is a graduation ceremony where students receive official Junior Master Gardener diplomas. Each year the program takes a group of the gardeners to visit a garden facility. Over the years they have been to garden facilities in

Grand Rapids, East Lansing, and Traverse City. The Mackinac Butterfly House was a big hit among the students. According to Sue Shenk, Michigan State University Extension, "The children totally enjoyed the gardens and of course the butterflies as they landed on the children."

With 44 different species and over 800 live butterflies imported from Africa, Asia, Central, South, and North America, it really is a "must see". The Butterfly House was established in 1991 as the third oldest live butterfly display in America. The junior gardeners were able to learn about the butterflies, including what predators eat them, how they eat nectar, and what flowers they enjoy. Right next door, Insect World, created recently in 2007, includes some of the world's most beautiful and rare insects. Thanks to 4-H Youth and Family Coordinator Sue Shenk, and the other members of the Charlevoix County MSU Extension Office, even the "Master Gardeners" had the opportunity to learn something new. For more information on the 4-H Junior Master Gardener program call the Charlevoix County Extension Office at 231-582-6232.

Sheriff warns of fraud

CHARLEVOIX - Sheriff George T. Lasater advises that a fraudulent mailing is going out to citizens of Charlevoix County stating they are required to complete an electrical inspection.

This mailing fraudulently uses the Building Department of Charlevoix County's name and address on it and claims that records indicate a failure to complete home inspection. The mailing is very detailed giving permit numbers and time frames that the alleged inspection was supposed to have taken place. It also includes a form labeled electrical permit application.

If you receive a similar mailing please contact the Charlevoix County Building Department at 231-547-7236 or the Charlevoix County Sheriff Office at 231-547-4461.

At the Boyne Area Senior Center on Wednesday, June 20, a dedication was held for the new flags and flagpole. Our thanks and appreciation to the VFW for the donation of the American flag and also to Bud Rauch for the Michigan flag. The Eagles Club assisted in installing the pole for the center and our thanks to President Bob Hyde and all of the members of the Eagles. A special thanks to Gene and Gail Farley, also Gordon, Kathy and Alissa Burns for the assistance with this project. The senior center was honored to have Boyne City Mayor Eleanor Stackus attend the dedication along with city manager Michael Cain.

By Nancy Northup

The flagpole was purchased with donations from the Eagles and Janet Meldrum, in memory of her late husband, Clarence. Several seniors joined the dedication. Past director, Phyllis Tison and Mary Towne, who worked at the senior center for more than 30 years were present to see their dream of a senior center in Boyne City becoming a reality. Rose Reinhardt, another long time fundraiser for the center could not be with us, but we know she was thinking of us.

Shyla Green, daughter of Lisa Talboys and granddaughter of Libbie and Steve Talboys, celebrated her third birthday on June 17 at her grandparents home. Guests attending were Jean and John Talboys, Bunny Garlock, aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends. Shyla received many gifts and loved her princess birthday cake.

The class of 1958 had their monthly lunch at Subway in Boyne City on Tuesday, June 19. They enjoyed visiting Doug and Danya (Bryan) Liverance who were on their way home to Williamston from the festival on Mackinaw Island. Also attending were Kay and Rick Casper, Morrie and Sue Hobbs, Carl Charon, Bedella (Shaler) Brennan, and Nelda (Kindy) Stanley. As usual, it was an enjoyable time.

TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) MI #1463 Boyne City, just returned from their 2006 Convention in Grand Rapids. TOPS members in Michigan lost 49,451.50 pounds in 2006. The Boyne City TOPS meet each Monday night from 5:15 to 7:00 p.m. at the Nazarene Church and all are welcome to lose with them.

A "better late than never" item came in from former Boyne area resident Anne Jenkins, now living in Iona. Anne left on May 4 for a tiring but wonderful month-long trip out west, visiting her son Gary Wade and family in Reno, Nev., and then went on to the northern California home of daughter Julie and Wayne Nadon. It was there, in the beautiful Redwood Coastal region, that they celebrated Anne's 87th birthday. While there, they also attended the college graduation of daughter and granddaughter, Jennifer Ann Nadon, a straight A honor student of interior design in Sacramento. Then they flew off to Houston, Texas, where Jennifer became the bride of Clinton Fleagle. She then spent time in Dallas with grandson Lance Lewis and wife Brook and also visited former Boyne resident, Terry Jenkins and family before Lance accompanied her back to Michigan.

A warm "welcome neighbor" goes out to Hedy Wojciechowski, who has been moving into Deer Meadows this past week.

The Grandvue Auxiliary met with twelve members for a short business meeting, followed by a program that continues to educate and inform members concerning the philosophy, operation and activities of Grandvue. The June program was inspirational as Russell Peck directed on-site activity with four residents from the dementia unit. They participated in one of their own programs, Create Your Own Story, called TimeSlips.

The Guild was asked to participate in a Grandvue Bake Sale with money to be used for a wheelchair lift for their new van. The Auxiliary Salad Lunch will be held July 12 at 12 noon. Anyone interested in learning more about the auxiliary are invited to attend a monthly meeting the 2nd Thursday of each month at 2 p.m..

After a recent fall at her home in Boyne City, Evelyn Gould is recuperating at Boulder Park Terrace in Charlevoix.

Congratulations goes out to 16-year old track star, Ashley Skrocki of East Jordan, who broke the 100 hurdle record at the Kalkaska track meet this past May. Ashley, the daughter of Duane and Kim Skrocki, who will be a junior this fall, won a grant from East Jordan High School and she and her mother left on Sunday for a 3 day training session at Michigan State University in Lansing.

YOUR VOICE

Proposed gravel pit will detract from area

To the Editor:
I read with interest the East Jordan high school journalism students' editorials in last week's paper. I think it's great that the kids did research and submitted their work to the local newspaper. I am very concerned, however, about several statements made in the editorials that are not true, and would like to bring them to the attention of your readers. I live in South Arm Township and am a member of Neighbors United, a group of local people who are opposing MDC Corporation's (Manthei) application for a special use permit to operate a sand and gravel mining and crushing operation on

Ellsworth Road (C48) at Ranney Road. I have attended both Township Planning Commission meetings that have had this issue on the agenda, and have copies of all the applications and correspondence MDC has filed with the township. MDC is not putting up a fence to keep wildlife out. MDC was very misleading by stating they would put warning signs on the "fence posts", inferring that there would be a fence. Posts with signs on them are called sign posts. When questioned by a planning commission member, the MDC lawyer admitted that there would not be a fence. There is no guarantee that new jobs will be created by opening this pit. In MDC's presentations, verbally and in writing, to the township regarding this enterprise, there has been nothing promised to that end. It is true, we do have three sand and gravel pits in a four mile stretch on Ellsworth Road. We feel another mine will multiply the noise and dust pollution exponentially and it is not a reason to allow yet another one. Enough is enough. We are already oversaturated. I disagree that a sand and gravel mining and crushing operation will be healthier for the earth than what people individually do every day.

I also disagree that the noise on site will only be as loud as someone talking. In defense of the student who wrote that statement, I believe he researched this information from the statements made at the public hearing by MDC's lawyer. The lawyer had the audacity to tell the commission and local residents in attendance that the sound of a concrete, asphalt and rock crusher would be the same decibel reading as his loud voice, even the same as a babbling brook. What a ridiculous statement! How insulting to our intelligence! Don't forget the noise of all the heavy equipment operating on site, back-up beep- See CORRECTION, page 5

Ellsworth pig roast a hit

To the Editor:
On behalf of the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce I wish to extend congratulations and appreciation to the members of the Ellsworth Pig Roast

Committee on a successful event held June 15 to 16 in Ellsworth. Kudos to the entire Village of Ellsworth for all of the support, time and enthusiasm that was displayed prior to and during the weekend. Special recognition to the many sponsors who made the festival events possible. The 26th Annual Ellsworth Pig Roast will be remembered fondly by all who attended.

Hats off to our flag

To the Editor:
Hats off. Along the street there comes a blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums, and loyal hearts are beating high, a flash of color beneath the sky. Hats off! The flag is passing by! The old saying "out of sight, out of mind" appears to be holding true in communities all across our great country. Following 9-11 everyone seemed united by flying American flags and displaying bumper stickers announcing their patriotic support of their country and, following the invasion of Iraq, by supporting our troops by displaying ribbons stating "We Support Our Troops" or "God Bless Our Troops" on their cars and trucks. If you will take notice, you will see very few messages of support being displayed and fewer privately owned American flags being displayed. How soon many appear to forget, being caught up in everyday family events. Another disturbing cultural change is the lack of respect being shown our American flag during parades and ceremonies by the public in general and especially our children in particular. All through my childhood my parents taught me to respect our flag, our national anthem and our Pledge of Allegiance. Our schools used to teach patriotism and respect for our country and its symbols, but this too has seemingly been eliminated from our culture, as has God who gave us all our liberties and freedoms. It is time that we reflect on the cultural changes around us and make personal commitments to reverse these trends and return to a culture that shows the world that we are a United States of America by showing respect to our national symbols. We can begin this July 4th by standing up, removing our hats and placing our right hands over our hearts as Old Glory passes in our parades to celebrate the birth of our nation with all its freedoms. What culture do you ascribe to and support? Will you set an example for our children by showing respect for our flag when it passes by? The choice is yours. Duty-Honor-Country.

Flag sales provide scholarships

To the Editor:
The Northern Michigan Detachment of the Marine Corps League offers their heartfelt thanks to the generous citizenry residing in the "Tip of the Mitt," for their support of the Flag Day sales of American flags in recent weeks. Very few people entering area stores found it necessary to pass by the men, women and friends of the League handing out the flags. The results are gratifying. The result was the greatest amount of money ever collected in the ten year history of this event. After minimal expenses, this new record will allow the League to provide three, $1,000.00 scholarships to high school seniors attending North Central Michigan College this fall. An extra amount is building in an endowment account, the interest from which will eventually provide a fourth, self-sustaining scholarship.

BOYNE CITY — On Wednesday, June 20, and Thursday, June 21, Petoskey residents, Sydney and Hayden Foster, did something that few young people think of. They spent two days of their summer vacation thinking of others.

This brother and sister duo set up a lemonade stand at Dan Webster's Pro Shop parking lot and sold their wares for the special needs youth and adults who attend Challenge Mountain programs.

Their mother, Amy Kanack, said they got the idea from a promotion by Sunkist. They received materials from Sunkist's program, "Take a Stand," to raise money for the organization.

When Amy approached her bosses, Tim Webster jumped to the challenge. He put up an awning, flags, and was completely behind the youth's efforts. Amy felt that Webster went beyond her wildest expectations in supporting their efforts.

When Challenge Mountain Executive Director Sue Moody met with Sydney and Hayden, the two were very excited. They raised a total of $103.15, one cup of lemonade at a time.

Moody said, "It is amazing seeing youth take time to think of others and give so much of themselves. When I met with them, they were so happy to know that the money they raised would go toward programs for kids with special needs. They even gathered up their mother's old snowboard equipment to donate to our winter sports. We are so honored to have these two young people think of our organization to give to. We look forward to seeing them in the winter to volunteer. Kids like this don't come along often."

ers, double tandem semi's accelerating up a large hill to leave the pit and jake-brakes applied to slow these huge vehicles downhill to enter the pit.

Regarding the 6' berm that MDC will build for a buffer, you must understand that on the north edge of the property (bordering Ellsworth Road,) they are tearing down a high (perhaps 20' tall by our visual estimates,) natural, beautiful hill covered with mature trees. What they will replace it with is a 6' high soil berm. This doesn't make sense.

A twelve hour work day for an operation that has told our planning commission they will have minimum crushing activity and only several trucks in and out all day, doesn't add up. A mine of the same acreage looking for a permit in Norwood Township has indicated they will have 30 trucks in and 30 trucks out per day. Quite frankly, we don't believe MDC's estimate. A twelve hour industrial operation day is too long.

We have many more issues, problems, and efforts uncovered in our diligent research regarding this special use permit application. If you would like more information, have ideas or suggestions to share, or want to get involved, please feel free to call our family.

Charlevoix County women raise funds

PETOSKEY — The Women's Resource Center has found Charlevoix County women to be generous and enthusiastic supporters of its outreach programs to women, children and families in need in north-west Michigan. Over $20,000 was raised at the Women Can/Women Do luncheon hosted at the Charlevoix Country Club on June 13. The fund raising event drew 136 women from East Jordan, Elmira, Charlevoix and Boyne City. "We were very pleased with how receptive Charlevoix County women were to the luncheon, and we were dazzled by the refulgent talent of the table designers," says Joyce Herbert of Charlevoix who co-chaired the luncheon with Gretchen Tambellini, also of Charlevoix.

Imaginatively decorated tables were a hit at the WRC fundraising luncheon.

Tables, each set for eight guests, were individually decorated by 17 designers and proprietors of local businesses. The thematic inspiration of the decorators transformed dining tables into other worldly environments: a Parisian café, an African jungle, a zen garden and even the primordial Garden of Eden. One table showcased the work of

Jordan River Arts Council members while another was set with handcrafted tableware from nationally renowned artisans. "It was a huge wow factor when you walked into the dining room," says Tambellini. "We were delighted by the creativity and doubly pleased that all the hard work goes for such a good cause."

Ultraviolet Rays Can Damage Eyes

Eye disorders such as macular degeneration and cataracts have been linked to long term exposure to the sun's ultraviolet (UV) rays. Be sure to protect your eyes with sunglasses that block out at least 98% of UV rays. In addition to UV protection, polarized lenses cut glare and provide comfort for your eyes. Sunglasses should fit close to your face for more complete protection.

BOYNE CITY RAMBLERS, BOYNE FALLS LOGGERS AND THE EAST JORDAN RED DEVILS

Sometimes, parents make me wonder

In this case, not mine, but the ones that don't thoroughly research a name before jotting it on their child's birth certificate.

Like former Detroit Lions' defensive back Harry Colon. Come on, his name is already Colon, isn't Harry really necessary?

I graduated high school with someone adopted in Korea, and raised here in Michigan. His adopted last name was Browne, of course, they went with James for a first name. I'm a fan of the late singer James Brown, so I didn't think it was too bad. But he did have to put up with ridicule, some of which came from me, always referring to him as "The Godfather of Seoul, Korea."

I have a unique Polish name, I highly doubt I'll have to worry about being teased for someone having the same, or similar name. In fact, the only Troy in any news was Dallas Cowboy quarterback Troy Aikman.

Recently researching a story, I came across a story "Project Troy", it peaked my interest, as I don't see too many Troys.

After looking into it, I'm glad there aren't too many with the name.

A Canadian named Troy Hurtubise is making noise in his home of Ontario, Canada, as an inventor. His efforts in creating a metal suit, to withstand bear attacks, has led to media exposure and the 43-year-old inventor.

He was attacked by a grizzly bear at age 20, and a few years later had an epiphany while in his dorm room. While watching the movie RoboCop, he got the idea to create a metal suit to withstand bear attacks, such as the one he encountered a few years previous.

So many good ideas come from dorm rooms, huh?

Over a decade and $150,000 later, the Mark VI suit has passed the tests - both bear and biker.

To test the titanium suit's durability, not only did Hurtubise have it tested by allowing a bear to attack it, but it also survived a gang attack. While wearing the suit, he paid a group of motorcycle riders to attack him with baseball bats and pieces of lumber.

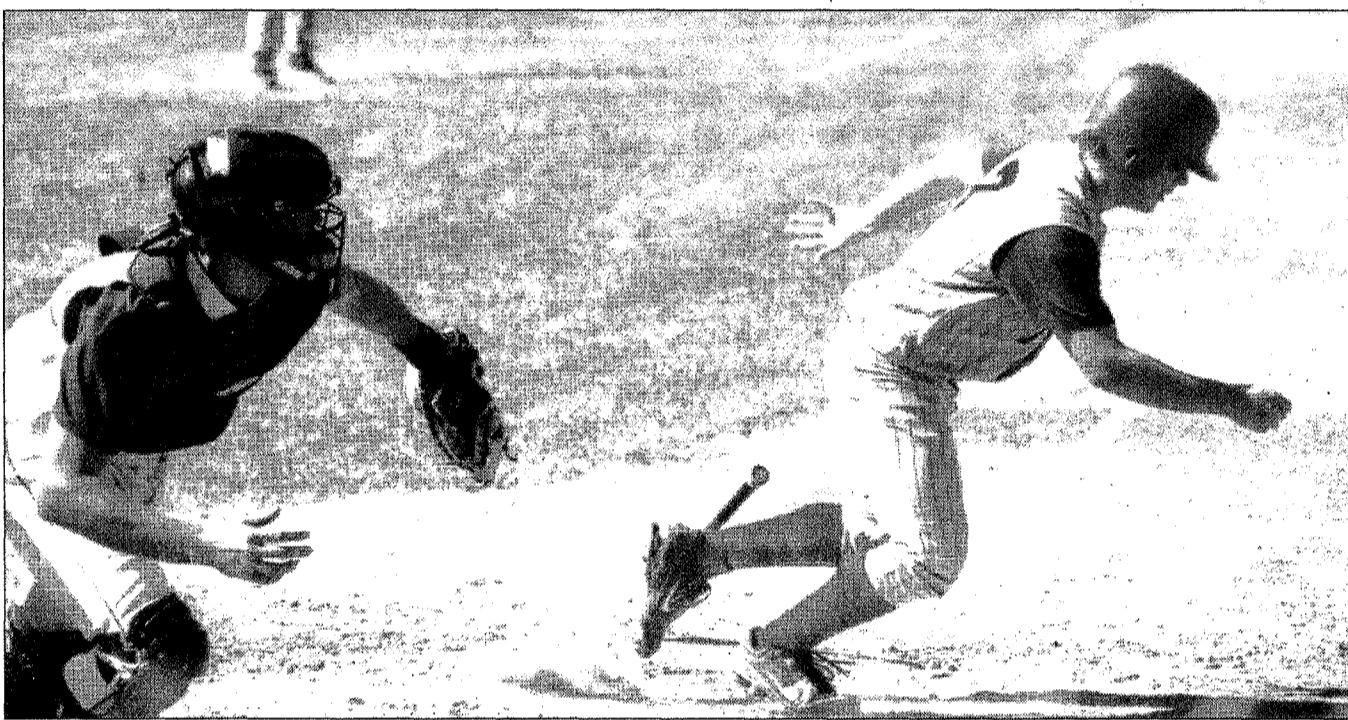

The exploits led to an episode of The Simpsons as a parody, where Homer designs a similar contraption.

While I'd really like to be in an episode of The Simpsons, if it takes being mauled by a bear and beaten by a biker gang, Mr. Hurtubise can be the Troy of the show.

Rotation being set

ATLANTA—Andrew Miller's North Carolina Tar Heels are back in the College World Series championship game, the same place they were a year ago. Miller is a full-time Major League starter, a long way from Chapel Hill in a year's time.

Beyond the trade of Mike Maroth, the Tigers also set their rotation for the near future, with Miller in it. After the Maroth deal opened a spot for Kenny Rogers, Chad Durbin is moving to the bullpen to make room for Nate Robertson next Tuesday, leaving the 22-year-old Miller in his spot after Sunday night.

It's the next step for the Tigers' first pick in last year's First-Year Player Draft, who began the year at Class A Lakeland and progressed swiftly up the ladder over the past month and a half. But it's not something he expects to change his mind-set. Manager Jim Leyland has made a point throughout Miller's stints here not to expect too much, too soon, emphasizing that Miller will have his ups and downs while he learns to use his talent at the big-league level.

Miller hasn't dominated in his two starts since being called up from Double-A Erie a second time, but he has shown enough to convince Leyland and club officials that he gives the team a shot at a win when he takes the mound.

It's enough of a shot that it's worth taking a chance.

"I think the worst thing you can do," Leyland said, "is to win and sit still and pretend that you'll never have any problems again. So I'm giving Andrew Miller a shot. I don't know how it's going to work out. I'm not that smart. But it's talent, and there's no pressure on him.

"It's an ongoing process," Leyland said. "But like I said, if you send Andrew Miller out there, somebody who's got that kind of crude stuff, you've got a chance."

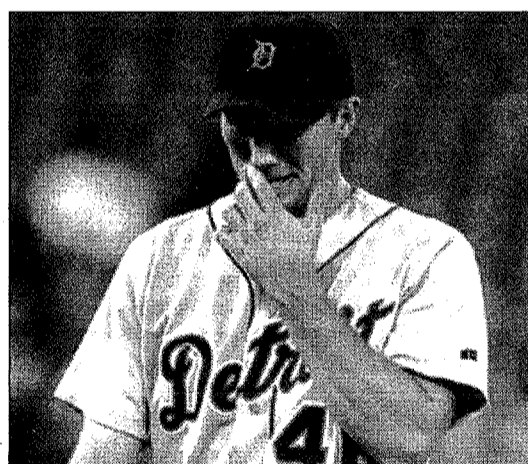

It's the potential of that chance that sent Durbin back to the bullpen, where he was originally slated to start the season before Rogers' arterial bypass surgery opened a spot in the rotation.

Durbin is 6-3 with a 4.37 ERA in 14 starts, during which the Tigers have gone 8-6. His last start was a six-inning, one-run performance last Tuesday at Washington, ending a personal two-game losing streak.

His next outing will be out of the bullpen, possibly as soon as Saturday.

"I want to make this perfectly clear: He didn't do anything wrong," Leyland said. "Chad Durbin did not pitch his way out of the rotation. We've been put in some situations recently where we had to make some very important decisions. He was really a victim of the situation."

Robertson's return

Mike Maroth was traded to St. Louis, as the Detroit Tigers firm up their rotation.

Tuesday moves Bonderman up a day for the time being to pitch on Monday on the standard four days' rest. Eventually, Bonderman is expected to pitch just ahead of Kenny Rogers, giving opponents a contrast in styles that the Tigers used last year.

Maroth trade

The Detroit Tigers announced the club has traded left-handed pitcher Mike Maroth to the St. Louis Cardinals for a player to be named later on or before September 15, 2007.

Maroth started 13 games for the Tigers in 2007, compiling a 5-2 record and 5.06 ERA (78.1IP/44ER).

Acquired by Detroit in a two-player deal with the Boston Red Sox on July 31, 1999, Maroth posted a 50-62 record and 4.81 ERA (880.0IP/470ER) in 147 games (143 starts) during his career with the Tigers.

Additionally, prior to tonight's game in Atlanta, the Tigers have reinstated left-handed pitcher Kenny Rogers from the 60-day disabled list.

Draft picks signed

The Tigers announced they have agreed to terms with 17 players selected during the 2007 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft.

Additionally, the Tigers announced the club has agreed to terms with two non-drafted free agents: infielder Roger Tomas from the University of Miami and leftfielder Mark McBratney from Emporia State University in Kansas. Prior to this year's draft, the Tigers agreed to terms with right-handed pitcher Brandon Johnson from Butler Community College, the club's 34th-round selection from the 2006 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft.

Ledezma dealt to Atlanta

The Tigers announced the club has acquired lefthanded pitcher Macay

McBride has appeared in 18 games with Atlanta in 2007, posting a 1-0 record, 3.60 ERA (15.0IP/6ER) and 17 strikeouts. He has held left-handed hitters to a .160 batting average (4x25) this season. Additionally, McBride saw action in seven games (five starts) with Triple A Richmond this season and he posted a 1-2 record and 3.13 ERA (23.0IP/8ER).

"We are happy to add a pitcher the caliber of Macay McBride to the Tigers organization," Tigers President, Chief Executive Officer and General Manager David Dombrowski said. "McBride is a good, young pitcher with major league experience that gets left-handed hitters out very well."

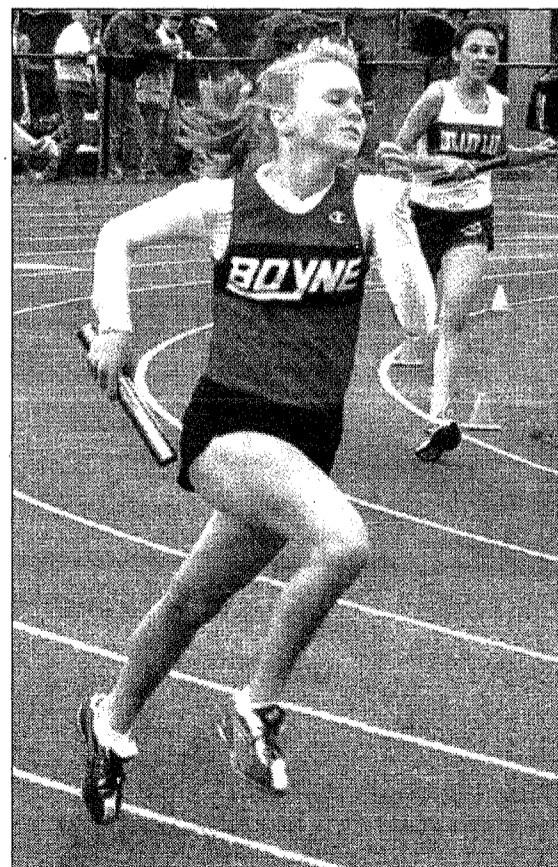

A first-round selection by the Braves in 2001, McBride has compiled a 6-1 record and 3.99 ERA (85.2IP/38ER) in 112 games during his career with Atlanta. He has limited left-handed hitters to a .176 batting average (28x159) during his career.

Ledezma posted a 3-1 record and 4.79 ERA (35.2IP/19ER) in 23 appearances with the Tigers in 2007. He saw action in 106 games (33 starts) during his career with Detroit, compiling a 15-18 record and 5.15 ERA (283.0IP/162ER).

Tip on playing in the wind

By PGA PROFESSIONAL
MARK BLAKEMORE

For more tips visit Mark's popular golf instruction website www.PGAProfessional.com.

Have you ever heard the saying, "When it's breezy; swing easy?" It's an old golf cliché that has been around forever. But it's very good advice.

What will swinging more easily do for you when the wind is up? Well, for one thing it increases the chances of solid contact, which will create a more penetrating ball flight. Conversely, swinging harder, in an attempt to fight the wind, decreases the chances of solid contact for various reasons (wrong muscles in the wrong sequence, loss of balance, increased grip tension, the list goes on...). Another benefit of swinging more easily is that it compresses the ball less, which causes it to spin less, creating a more penetrating ball flight.

Notice the theme: solid contact and keeping the ball down. Swinging harder when the wind is blowing is a powerful instinct to overcome. But if you can discipline yourself to use more club and swing easier (like all the textbooks, great players and great teachers have been recommending forever) it will have a wonderful effect on your ability to control the ball in the wind. Give it a try.

NASCAR

Rookie wins on road course

SONOMA, Calif. — Juan Pablo Montoya had to work for his money Sunday at Infineon Raceway.

Facing a level of competition that surprised him with its quality, Montoya conserved fuel at every opportunity during the final 41-lap green-flag run and made it to the finish line first in the Toyota/Save Mart 350.

It was the first NASCAR Nextel Cup victory for the much-publicized rookie from Formula One, who joined Mario Andretti and Dan Gurney as the only drivers to win in F1, IndyCars and NASCAR Nextel Cup.

In his No. 42 Ganassi Racing Dodge, Montoya also posted the first Car of Tomorrow win in a car other than a Chevrolet. Montoya, of Colombia, is the first driver born outside the United States to win a race in NASCAR's foremost series since Canadian Earl Ross triumphed at Martinsville in 1974.

The Richard Childress Racing trio of Kevin Harvick, Jeff Burton and Clint Bowyer stretched fuel mileage to claim positions two through four. Believing Montoya might run out of gas, Harvick raced conservatively over the final 10 laps and crossed the stripe 4.097 seconds back.

Greg Biffle was fifth, followed by Tony Stewart, Jeff Gordon, Kyle Busch, Boris Said and Denny Hamlin.

"I was very surprised at the level of driving here on a road course," said Montoya, who made up for Friday's 32nd-place qualifying effort. "The top five or six cars were really strong, but them, the top 20 was like — whew! — I definitely worked for the money.

"We worked hard for it, and the whole team deserves this."

Before Montoya's victory, no Cup race winner at Infineon had started deeper in the field than the 13th starting spot.

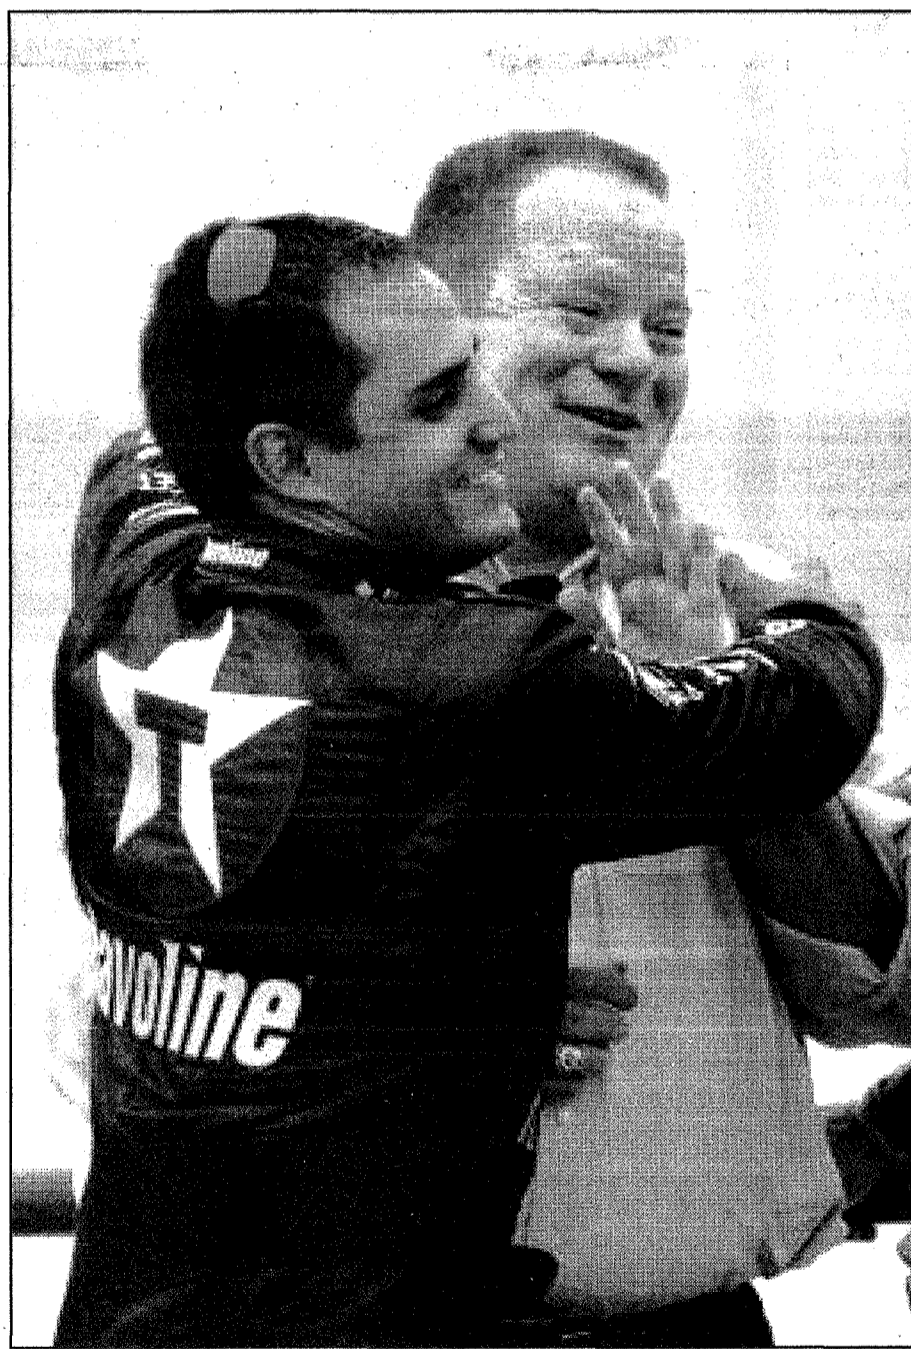

Montoya, who won the Busch Series road race at Mexico City in March, battled polesitter Jamie McMurray over the closing laps of the 110-lap race and finally took the lead through turn 2 on lap 104. McMurray ran out of fuel on lap 109, coasted into the pits and fell to 37th place at the finish.

Asked whether the victory was more satisfying than his wins in Formula One or IndyCars, Montoya, 31, said it would be difficult to compare his successes.

"It's hard to say this is bigger than that," said Montoya, who won seven F1 races in addition to winning the 2000 Indy 500 and the CART championship in 1999 as a rookie. "I would say right now this is the biggest thing I've done. It's unbelievable. In openwheel, that's what I was meant to be winning in. In stock cars, I wasn't."

"To get our first win in our first year is huge. We know we're a little behind at some of the ovals, and we still need to work hard, but I think this is a big boost for everybody working in the shop."

The victory wouldn't have happened, however, had Montoya been unable to get the most out of his gas tank.

Juan Pablo Montoya won his first Nextel Cup race Sunday, in this, his rookie season in NASCAR's top series.

"We missed it a little bit in qualifying, so today we had to play a little catch-up and take a gamble at the end," said No. 42 crew chief Donnie Wingo. "We made our last stop (under the final caution on lap 69) and just saved enough fuel to make it."

"We had it figured a lap short, and he did a great job saving fuel."

It was an adventurous seventh-place run for Gordon, the points leader, who started 41st after NASCAR barred the No. 24 Chevrolet — along with the No. 48 Chevy of Gordon's Hendrick Motorsports teammate, Jimmie Johnson — on Friday for body modifications that fell outside the sanctioning body's tolerances.

Gordon and Johnson, who started 42nd, were not allowed to practice or qualify on Friday but were allowed to practice Saturday and race after their cars were repaired. Johnson, the reigning Cup champion, finished 17th Sunday.

2. Denny Hamlin	2,128
3. Jimmie Johnson	2,055

DNR WEEKLY FISHING REPORT

The following is the weekly fishing report, as provided by the Department of Natural Resources:

Petoskey - In Little Traverse Bay, good numbers of 2- to 5-pound smallmouth bass have been caught and released as the fish were still on the beds.

Charlevoix - Is where most of the chinook salmon have been caught on spoons, dodgers and flies. Lake trout have also been caught. Check water temperatures daily as they tend to fluctuate quite a bit this time of year.

Lake Charlevoix - Panfish are close to shore in the weedbeds while smallmouth bass are right along the drop offs. Walleye are biting at night along the west end of the lake and in the channel.

Walloon Lake - Bass fishing for both large and smallmouth has moved out to waters 10 to 20 feet deep. Shallow running baits and spinners work best. A few walleye are being caught using crawler harnesses or rapalas. Try 10 to 30 feet deep in the early morning or late evenings and deeper waters during the day. Perch and bluegills have also been caught on worms, minnows, flies or small spinners.

Thumb Lake (Lake Louise) - Splake anglers are trolling near the island on the east half of the lake and close to the Saddle on the west half of the lake. Minnows or spawn in 40 to 80 feet of water was the ticket. Both large and smallmouth bass are hitting on tube baits, poppers, minnows, crawlers, crankbaits and spinners in waters anywhere from 5 to 40 feet deep. Bluegills were caught in the backwater areas around the island and in the northwest margins of the lake. Perch and rock bass have been caught and bullheads are starting to show up in the shallows.

Elk River - Has excellent smallmouth bass fishing when using leeches and crawlers at the dam.

Torch Lake - Fishing for pike and walleye has been good in the early morning or just before dark. Try working the visible weed lines with jigs or trolling close to them. Both ends of the cuts where they open up into the two lakes have been productive. Smallmouth bass are being caught on minnows and soft plastics in 6 to 10 feet of water off the rocky shoreline.

Strange BUT TRUE

• Next time you're making a trip to Hong Kong, you might want to stop by a Pizza Hut and try a pizza you probably won't find here in the United States: It's topped with corned beef, corn and peas. In Saudi Arabia, you can have one topped with tuna, and curry is a favored topping in Australia. Russians evidently like mackerel, salmon and sardines, while Germans — perhaps unsurprisingly — order their pizzas topped with sauerkraut.
