State denies One Water Street marina

By B. J. HETLER CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY - A permit to construct a marina at the proposed One Water Street project site was denied by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality on Thursday, July

The city had given the green light to the marina project, as well as to the land-based, two-acre condominium development.

In its determination, the state found that the project as proposed would have significant adverse impacts on the public trust and the MDEQ's July 5 denial letter stated in part:

BOYNE CITY --- A good song can make people cry. A great song can make them catch their breath and laugh out loud. It's funny because it's true.

Whit Hill and the Postcards are a gem of an Ameriroots/bluegrass/ rockabilly fusion band from Ann Arbor. They played to an appreciative crowd at the Old City Park gazebo on Wednesday as part of the July Fourth festivities.

From the first popping guitar licks of their opening number "Last Saturday," a flvaway lament to lost love, Hill and her band mesmerized the audience. They gave

Boyne man sentencing set for arson

By B. J. HETLER CONTRIBUTING WRITER

CHARLEVOIX — A plea of no contest in an arson case was accepted by Charlevoix County Circuit Court Judge Richard M. Pajtas on Friday, July 6.

Cordell Lester Cambric, 53, did not contest a charge that he set fire to his house on Timber Ridge Trail near Boyne City on April 22. He appeared in court with his attorney, Christopher Turkelson, who entered the no contest plea on

A charge of habitual offender was dropped from fourth offense to second offense, which is a potential 30-year felony. Another charge of arson of insured property with intent to defraud the insurance company was dismissed.

Sentencing of Cambric is set for July 20 in Judge Pajtas's courtroom. A $200,000 bond continues and Cambric remains in the county jail.

Cambric's house at 2082 Timber Ridge Trail was destroyed in the fire that spread into surrounding woods. No one was injured.

Jordan River enthusiasts fight dumping

By B. J. HETLER CONTRIBUTING WRITER

CHARLEVOIX — The Jordan River is acclaimed by biologists, fishermen and environmental groups as one of the last free flowing, non-fragmented rivers in the country.

The river's headwater is just west of Alba in Antrim County. Water flows westerly for about one-third of the river's length, then turns northerly to flow into the south arm of Lake Charlevoix at East Jordan in Charlevoix County.

But the pristine Jordan River could be at risk if CMS Energy, a holding company of Consumers Power, is allowed to store contaminated wastewater nearby.

Recent clean up of leachate, a hazardous by-product of water and cement kiln dust, found at Bay Harbor on Lake Michigan has left the former owner of the land, CMS Energy, looking for a place to dump the toxic wastewater. Alba was the choice as the site to install an underground injection well to hold the leachate.

But, Friends of the Jordan River Watershed, working with professors from Michigan State University, have identified the Alba area as a primary source of groundwater for the Jordan River, said FOJ president, Dr. John Richter.

"Any contamination of the ground water from this injection well would ultimately harm the Jordan River," Rich-

FOJ is opposed to the CMS Energy proposal in the Alba area. The group was successful in obtaining an extension of time for public comment concerning the proposal from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

In a June 27 letter to the EPA asking for the extension, Richter informed the EPA of the reasons FOJ opposed the injection well proposal.

"The area in question involves a large magnificent aquifer which supplies the region's drinking water, as well as several major pristine rivers, including the Jordan and Manistee. A mistake or miscalculation here would have profound ramifications for many years to come," Richter

"Unlike many of the surrounding shoreline affluent communities, most residents of Alba do not have resources as readily available to organize in a short time period when proposals that threaten our environment arise. We would like to believe Alba was not chosen because of this. An extension to the public comment period would alleviate such a concern and give us time to ensure mistakes that could last generations are not made," he added.

CMS Energy must obtain a permit from the EPA because the agency regulates underground injection of fluids through wells. The proposed injection well in Alba would be 2,200 feet deep, approximately 900 feet deeper than drinking water wells in the area.

CMS Energy spokesman, Tim Petrosky, appeared before Charlevoix County Commissioners at a June 27 meeting in the county building. He stated that the company has long adhered to state and federal regulations and maintains a good record in the state.

CMS Energy applied for the well because it is responsible for the leachate disposal, he said. The well would give the company control over the disposal.

Alba was chosen because the geology is ideal, Petrosky said.

CMS Energy has also applied for a permit to dispose of the wastewater at the Bay Harbor site, he told commissioners. A public hearing is expected to be held in mid or late August, Petrosky said.

In light of that, the application for a well in Alba may not have been needed. But Petrosky said that it was.

"We don't have a permit yet for on-site (Bay Harbor) disposal and we don't know how long it will take, and in the meantime we have an obligation to take care of this in an appropriate manner," Petrosky said on Monday.

But, CMS Energy does not have a permit for the Alba site either.

A hearing on the Alba site held on June 13 in Alba, brought many comments based on concern for the ground water and the river, FOJ's Richter said.

"Every person who spoke against the injection well feared contamination," he said.

The biggest social issue of the hearing was the insult of transporting Bay Harbor waste to Alba, he added.

Written comments may be submitted until July 27 to the EPA at UIC DI Section (Attn: Lisa Perenchio, Chief), 77 West Jackson Blvd (WU-16J), Chicago, III., 60604.

the fireworks that followed some serious competition with a steamy two-hour set of audacious original material.

"I don't got no blues," Hill sings to an upbeat tune. "No, I got nothing to loose --- I lost it all when you went away. I lost it all last Saturday."

Hill's voice morphs between a dust bowl growl, an aching purity and something akin to plain conversation. But it is always authentic. And the material is a perfect match for that voice.

Playing an acoustic guitar that seems oversized slung over her slender frame, Hill is ably backed by the Postcards, Terry Farmer on lead guitar, Mike Buhagian on bass and Chuck Navvac on drums.

Between songs Hill addresses the audience with the ease of a old friend who's invited a few folks over for a backyard barbeque. With the exception of two covers, all of the songs were written by Hill and her lyrics are engaging, intelligent and honest.

On "50 Miles to Detroit" Hill eschews true love for someone more geographically convenient:

"Well it's 800 miles to your place Hot weather, good food, red clay

And I do believe you mentioned you might have some love for me

But if I want it, I gotta drive two days

And it's only 50 miles to Detroit."

There is a smattering of empathetic laughter from the crowd. It's funny because it's unexpected and a little off-kilter for a love song lyric. And it's funny because it's true.

side of the project, provided no authorization for usage of their RIA for ingress/egress.

Another state department, the Department of Natural Resources, objected to the project "because of the impact on the public's right to navigate and fish on all navigable waters."

MDEQ and other state agencies received more than 150 comments. Most of them pertained to adverse impacts to the public trust, specifically the right to navigate and fish on Lake Charlevoix.

Telephone calls to the city and to the developers were not returned by press time.

The developers have a right to appeal within 60 days. The MDEQ also suggested that dockage be reduced in any alternative plan. Owner of One Water Street Investments LLC, Greg Krueger of St. Clair Shores, and developer, Jerry Rutter of Elk Rapids, had planned to build a 24-slip marina and an additional 379-feet of broadside dockage to accommodate 10 boats. Plans called for docks up to 704-feet in length. The marina plans were part of the One Water Street development project that includes condominium residences, retail shops and other businesses on the Lake Charlevoix waterfront downtown.

moved to the new center, with a dream of someday having a flagpole. The American flag was never flown outside until the installation of the new flagpole. The flags and flagpole are complete with their participation. We, the Boyne Area Seniors, do wish to convey our appreciation and gratitude to the American Legion, VFW, Janet Meldrum (in memory of Clarence) and the Eagles for making this a success.

On Sunday, July 1, a surprise 50th birthday celebration was held at Young State Park for Karen DeNike. Michelle Metzger, Karen's daughter, organized the surprise. There were 34 people attending the picnic lunch. Karen's birthday isn't till later next week but son, Kevin Metzger, is home for the week on vacation from Columbus, Ohio, so Michelle said it was the perfect time to surprise Mom. And surprised she was. Karen had not a clue to all the planning that had taken place this last month. Karen said it was perfect and a great surprise to her.

Forest Area graduate Dan Karlskin was honored with an open house given by his grandparents, Don and Sue Karlskin, June 16. He was able to visit with many family and friends before heading off to college in the fall.

On Friday, the BCHS Hospitality class prepared and delivered delicious spaghetti dinners, including garlic bread and salad, to residents of Litzenburger Place and Deer Meadows. The kind gesture was much appreciated.

CWO Kevin Crandall and son Kyle of California were here to attend the wedding of Jessica Bush to Jason McNutt, which was held at the home of Bardel and Gerald Belford last week Saturday. While here for the week, he visited his mother, Dorothy Daniels, and his sisters.

Last Saturday night, many friends honored Eleanor Stackus for her 65th birthday. The party was held at the Harley and Ann Parks home, and it was a fun evening, right down to the sparkler candles on her cake. On Sunday, Eleanor's children and grandchildren honored her with another 65th celebration. Belated Happy Birthday, Eleanor. May you be blessed with many more.

Pam and Mike Smith of Farmington spent the 4th of July week here visiting mom, Gen Varnum and family. Gen commented that even though the 4th was mid-week, she had never seen so many cars here on this particular holiday in all the years that she has lived here. Even Thursday night, Glen's parking lot was full, even along the side of the building.

During the 4th of July holiday Jill Williams of Orange Park, Florida, was in the area to visit her family, Janet and Jim Shepherd. All of Jill's brothers and sister attended a 4th of July party at the home of her brother, Jerry and Pat Froats. Her grandmother, Phyllis Tisron, also attended as well as other family members and neighbors.

Jean Grimm of Boyne City has returned from attending her high school class reunion in Wisconsin. While there, she enjoyed seeing old former friends and classmates as well as visiting her sister and cousin. Arriving home, she was pleased to have her son, David Grimm, his wife and daughters and their foreign exchange student from France spend a few days of the holiday with her.

The BCHS class of 1972 celebrated their 35th reunion on Saturday night at the Hotel Dilworth. The 23 attending out of a class of 72 enjoyed a delicious meal as well as catching up on one another's lives. The one who traveled the farthest for this occasion was Roger Maule of Florida.

Jim Northup of Germany, the son of Murray and Jan Northup of Midland, was able to make it here over the 4th of July to join family gathering at the home of his grandmother, Edna May. Others of the 4 generations attending were from Ohio, Marshall, Sterling Heights, Eastpointe, Indiana, Boyne Falls and Boyne City. Included in the day's events were enjoying the terrific parade on downtown's beautiful new streets, honorable mention of twins Murray and Nels's and Denny Wakley's birthdays, and congratulating Ball State University graduate, Sean Northup, son of Kevin and Debbie Northup, grandson of the Murray Northup's, and wonderful visits with mom and grandma and everybody else, great food and the entertainment of the 5 Witer girls, daughters of Tony and Jenni (Northup) Witer, all topped off with more food and the fantastic fireworks - made it a truly unforgettable family day.

To the editor:

In our free society we usually rely on the "mainstream media" to keep us informed as to important issues effecting our way of life. But there are issues we never hear about until it's too late to correct them and another bite is taken out of our freedoms. One of those issues concerns the efforts now underway to combine the United States, Mexico, and Canada in a North American Union similar to the European Union and combine the dollar and peso into one currency. Robert Bartley, the former editor of Wall Street Journal, wrote, "think the nation-state is finished," and "NAFTA should evolve into something like the European Union, with open borders not only for goods and investment, but people." Although not well known to the general public, the liberal and "globalist" Council on Foreign Relations is the most powerful private group directing U.S. foreign policy today and the CFR published a report that calls for the formation of a North American Union overseen by an interparliamentary group with power over our elected members of Congress. CFR's "Building a North American Community Report" advocates an integrated continental court system and developing a North American border pass with biometric identifiers so that Mexicans can have "full labor mobility." It also supports a Social Security Totalization Agreement that gives billions of dollars of our social security to illegal aliens and supports a de facto amnesty for millions of illegal aliens. More Mexicans would legally flee their low wage country for ours. That would lead to a massive strain on America's health care, environment, transportation, prisons, and schools. The public would overwhelmingly oppose this proposal, so the sponsors seek to make this happen incrementally. First is to repeal or ignore American immigration laws and border security and next is to blur the line between citizens and illegal aliens or as they are now called "undocumented" workers." The North American Union goes far beyond the trade and security agreements we currently have with our neighbors and seeks cultural, political, and eventually, monetary integration of our three countries that would be a disaster for the United States. We must all contact our representatives in Congress and tell them to stop this unconstitutional attack on our freedoms before it's too late. Duty Honor Country

The Annual BCHS All-School Reunion which was held on Sunday, July1, down at the Veteran's Memorial Park, had a pretty fair turnout. In spite of the mid-week holiday, there were about 60 registered former classmates. The oldest was from the class of 1940 and the youngest was 2006. I believe it was said that Helen Kujawski was there from Mo. Several of the Belford family, all of the Dunsmore family, which included Don from Traverse City, and Betty Kelts of Grandvue, were there too. Among those having school days pictures or whatever to share was Harley Parks, and it brought lots of laughs. He shared a report card that went way back to elementary school. Mrs. Herricik had written,"Harley's a good little fellow." Also heard it told that someone in Indian River was exclaiming to someone that she had just come from attending the BCHS All School Reunion and had a great time. Maybe we can all make it there next year.

On Friday, a full house of Boyne Area Seniors thoroughly enjoyed the great entertainment of the Petoskey Chorale.

On Sunday, July 1, Litzenburger and Deer Meadows residents appreciated the bimonthly church service presented by Ron Knapp, accompanied by his wife, Cheryl, on the piano, in the Litzenburger Place Community room. An extra treat followed, as patriotically decorated with "Happy 4th of July" white and chocolate cakes, donated by the BCHS Drama class and cookies donated by Phyllis Sheehy were enjoyed.

The winner of the Delta Delta Sorority "Bushels of Fun" picnic basket is Pat Hershey. Thanks to all who buy tickets to support this and other local charities.

Items of interest may be called into Nancy's home phone at 231-582-9174, or emailed to neighbors@gtlakes.com before the noon deadline on Friday.

Rocky and Mary Rickard

Rocky and Mary Rickard, originally from Boyne City, now living in the Petoskey/Boyne Falls area, were totally caught off guard on the 4th of July. Their children secretly surprised them with a party at the Dilworth Hotel in Boyne City. The celebration was to congratulate them on their 50th wedding anniversary. They were thrilled to be greeted by their friends, family and relatives that travelled far and near.

Rocky and Mary's grandchildren, as well as their children, Dottie, Mitch, Todd and Steven, kept the secret in order to pull off this exciting event. The party was filled with delicious food and great conversation. Rocky and Mary were overwhelmed with joy to share this day with all the special people in their lives.

We would like to thank everyone for your beautiful messages of condolence. Your words have helped more than you will ever know. In Appreciation, John & Nancy Miett

Good causes to get out and golf

I'll never be a golf fanatic.

You won't catch me with the dress shoes that have cleats, plaid shorts or ankle-high socks. And nothing short of placing goalies and defensemen in front of the hole, or making golfers race the carts from hole-tohole, would tempt me to watch golf on television.

Some people respond to me, saying watching NASCAR on television is just as bad. To me, golf on television makes NASCAR look like a four-hour hockey fight.

Getting me on the golf course is a rarity, but there are a few good reasons for everyone to hit the links the next few

First, it's Take Your Daughter to the Golf Course Week, to help promote female golfing. The event is a promotion by the National Golf Course Owners Association, and is in its seventh

While the title says daughter, really, it's just an effort on a nationwide scale, to increase the number of women that are playing golf. Evidently, it's working. According to the NGCOA, in the same week last year, nearly 75,000 players participated in some form. That was an increase of over 10,000 from 2005.

Some golf courses, including Boyne Mountain, are having special events. Friday, Boyne is hosting a free parent/daughter clinic starting at 9 a.m. It is one of nearly 1,200 golf courses in the country, expected to participate in the promotion.

Another reason to golf, is the Bellaire Lions' golf outing at Centennial Farms Golf Course, Thursday, July 19. The money raised helped the Lions serve the community, in various aspects.

This is the eighth year for the event, which will have $5,000 cash and a trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C., up for grabs.

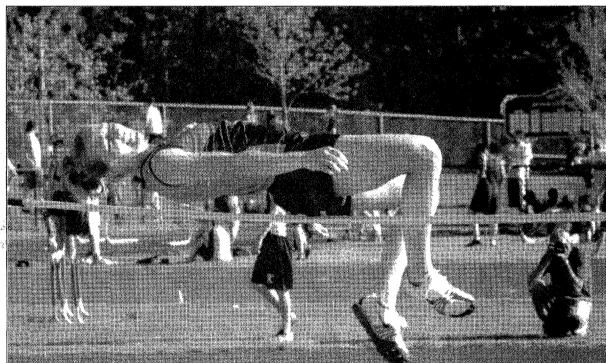

If everyone there, will be golfing just like me, I think the cash, and Myrtle Beach, are safe.

Human interest stories dot Jordan Valley Triathlon

EAST JORDAN — Sometimes, the most intriguing stories aren't those about the winners, but those who also ran, or competed.

That certainly was the case with the 22nd annual Jordan Valley Triathlon on Saturday, June

Among the 160 competitors, one was an amputee and the other had survived after several months in a coma.

It could well be the reason one competitor was quoted as telling a member of the Chamber of Commerce that the race was "the jewel of the participant satisfaction, it always gets high reviews," race director Thomas Birgy said.

"They love the volunteers, and the enthusiasm. And, we do a couple of things differently that help make it more participant-friendly, and even spectator-friendly." Before the race, volunteers go around the entire course distributing handbills alerting residents when the race will take place.

Short biographical information on some of the participants is included in the hand-outs as well. It has the desired effect, as many residents set up chairs in front of their homes to watch, and cheer, the participants as they follow the course. From start to finish, there's about 20 miles contestants have to traverse on land, so distributing the handbills is a pretty major undetaking for the volunteers.

The bicycle course covers 19.9 miles, and the participants complete the rest on foot — running.

"We have a very enthusiastic crew of volunteers," Birgy said. "I don't think I've ever had a volunteer say that they wouldn't be back to help next year.

"Everbody enjoys it enough that they're willing to come back again. Part of that is some of the human interest stories that go along with some of the participants."

Among the participants this year was a 61-year old man who had double knee replacement surgery, and survived a bout of cancer a year ago.

Birgy thinks the man has been coming to the race for 15 years now, and his daughter participated this year.

There was also a former Navy SEAL who was part of an elite sky diving group.

Some time ago, he was 3,000 feet up when another sky diver shot through his deployed parachute. He plummeted to the ground, and was in a coma for two months. When he came out of it, he was paralyzed for about six months. But his troubles weren't over.

"This guy had severe frontal lobe damage, so he has balance issues, and some reasoning issues sometimes," Birgy said. "He started to work out at a gymnasium after he was able to walk again, and started participating in the race last year.

"It's just pretty heartwarming to see someone who has battled back from those kind of issues to be able to have a smile on his face when he finishes."

Lastly, there was a 19-year old girl left on a doorstep in China, badly burned.

She was brought to the United States an amputee. But, she did the race, and didn't ask any help. She did the swimming part of the race with only one leg.

"You feel really gratified that you've been a part of that," Birgy said.

on golf courses than anywhere else. · One of the great tragedies of the United States was the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln at Ford's Theatre (incidentally, it was also the first assassination of a chief executive of our nation). Most people don't realof our nation). Most people don't realize, though, that another, less wellknown part of the family was also murdered. It's been reported that Lincoln's dog, Fido, jumped up on a drunk man, who then stabbed the pooch to death for getting muddy paws on his clothes.

Senior services assessment is underway

The Charlevoix County Commission on Aging is urging anyone who receives a senior services assessment survey to complete and return it as soon as possible. It will take only 10 minutes to complete. Surveys will be mailed the week of July 16 and 'Your Senior Survey Enclosed' will be marked on the envelope. Surveys should be returned by July

Early this year the COA announced that an assessment would be conducted to determine current and future needs of Charlevoix County seniors. The assessment is being conducted by outside, independent consultants who are collecting information from COA service providers and community focus groups; the anonymous survey of randomly selected residents, including caregivers, over 50 years of age is the last stage of data collection.

The COA has launched this effort to update the information gathered in 2000 in support of the senior millage. Specifically, the COA aims to determine the awareness, usefulness and quality of existing programs and services as perceived by seniors and identify gaps in services that need to be addressed with expanded or new services and programs.

The outside consultants will conduct the analysis of all information collected and will recommend to the COA specific services and programs to meet any shortfalls. All information will be kept confidential and reported to the COA in a way that protects the anonymity of anyone who contributes information for the assessment. Results are expected to be complete by Sept. 30 and will be available to the public after a presentation to the county commissioners.

Cholesterol

There are two kinds of cholesterol, "good" (HDL) and "bad" (LDL) Higher levels of HDL are associated with reduced rick of heart disease and stroke A recent study discovered that people who consumed fewer sugary foods and drinks had higher HDL than those who ate more HDL can also be raised by regular aerobic exercise, losing excess weight, cutting trans fats, eating more monounsaturated fats (i.e. olive oil and canola oil) and by adding more soluble fiber (found in oats, fruits, vegetables and legumes) to your diet. Soluble fiber both raises HDL and lowers LDL.
