The river flows softly and peacefully nearby, the water tranquil alongside its newly restored banks of rocks, young flowers and grasses.

The scene would not be so idyllic had it not been for the initiative of Friends of the Boyne River and project chairwoman, Nancy Cunningham, to restore and stabilize the river's banks. FOBR volunteers have Boyne City. The bank erosion of the Boyne River had been a concern for several years, but until 2005, the problem remained unaddressed.

"The city talked about it being a problem for a long time," Cunningham said.

Not wanting to wait any longer for the city to take the reins, the FOBR began plans and fundraising efforts to control the erosion, stabilize the banks, and beautify the park. Aiming first to address the ecosystem health of the river, FOBR consulted with the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council that had monitored the river and found lowered numbers of insects and salmon over the

The project, funded by approximately $60,000 of private donations and grants, extends 420 feet and utilizes largely native plants to keep the soil of the banks in place. The native plants can grow without fertilization or irrigation and were carefully selected for root depth and range as well as for their beauty. By holding the soil in place, these plants prevent rainwater and pedestrian traffic from washing the soil into the river. Boyne City downtown improvements begin final phase BOYNE CITY — The city is entering the third and final phase of the downtown improvement project and will hold a public meeting at 5:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 16 at city hall to discuss the project with residents.

Phase three concentrates on Water Street from Lake Street to East Street. Improvements include new street pavement, sidewalk and curb improvements, burying utilities and new pedestrian signals.

Some of the trees in Sunset Park will undergo cutting and removal because they are either diseased or damaged, city manager Michael Cain said.

"MSU Extension was very helpful. They reviewed each tree for transport or destruction," Cain said.

The plan is to replant trees of a species that allows people to view more of Lake See STREETS, page 2

EAST JORDAN - The city and the hills beyond will rumble and roar with the sound of motorcycles Friday and Saturday, Aug. 17 and 18, as the city hosts the 7th Annual Lady Biker Day, a time for sharing stories, taking in the countryside, and helping Camp Quality's kids with cancer.

More than 125 women bikers had registered for the twoday event as of Aug. 9, said Dawn Johnson, chairwoman of Lady Biker Day. They not only come from Michigan, but from other states, such as Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio and some come from Canada.

The bikers are riding Harleys, Hondas and other makes of motorcycles, "some big, some smaller," Johnson said.

"They ride in, very few are trailered-in," she said. Johnson began riding in 2000, after a longtime interest.

East Jordan plans for path to continue

EAST JORDAN - The city received a request from the Michigan Department of Transportation to hold off on construction of a bike path on M-32, but the city is determined to follow through on the project.

City administrator, David White, said MDOT wants to wait until the year 2013 when it will be working on M-32. But White told city commissioners at an Aug. 7 meeting that people walk on M-32 everyday and need a path for safety. The project has not been cancelled at this time and discussions with MDOT and state Sen. Jason Allen's office continue, White said.

"I worked at Big Rock Point and a lot of co-workers had motorcycles and they got me into it."

Women have been riding motorcycles for some time. Jane Shaw, grandmother of one of this year's participants, began riding in the 1930s on a Harley Davidson purchased by her brother, Pete.

"My brother was a patient teacher," Shaw writes in a memoir. "Soon I was riding that Harley across corn fields, down dirt roads, across streams and up hills."

Shaw joined up with other enthusiasts and wrote about the times they had. "We were not a sanctioned club. We had no by-laws to follow or dues to pay. We held our meetings in garages or tool sheds. Sure, we had 'colors' which we wore proudly. Our froad shirts' which were dark satin with our names embroidered on them were reserved for special occasions or events. Our light-colored club shirts were for everyday riding. Instead of helmets we wore leather aviator caps complete with goggles.

ing my 90th birthday and my fondness for the motorcycle has not waned. I can remember, in detail, the good times I shared with my fellow riders and I have even given some thought to setting aside money from my monthly social security checks to purchase a trike but after grocery and rent there's not much left." Shaw's daughter and granddaughter both own Harley's.

Funds from the event go to Camp Quality, a program that gives children with cancer a week of camping, games, campfires and a time to be a kid again.

"Last year we raised over $14,000 and the year before $21,000," Johnson said.

The event includes a welcome reception by the Jordan River Arts Council where a vintage bike exhibition will be held. A "best of show" contest is scheduled and the winner will lead the Parade of Bikes on Friday.

Boyne City musicians find a perfect fit

Robin Berry and Nathan Bates share the stage at the Black Cat Concert Barn.

BY CHRISTINE GWIDT CONTRIBUTING WRITER

CHARLEVOIX — Robin Berry and Nathan Bates performed in Charlevoix on Sunday as part of the Black Cat Concert Series. The renovated barn at Cornelia and Carl Dhaseleer's farm on Paddock Road sits on a gentle incline at the edge of a cornfield. As the setting sun washed streaks of pink and gold through the open doors, Berry and Bates transported the audience with the sheer purity of their harmonies. They traded riffs and vocal lines from their repertoire with a generous spirit and mutual regard that was palpable.

They don't have a collective name. And they've only been playing together since last winter. It doesn't matter. When two unstoppable forces meet, it's bound to be interesting.

Boyne City singer/songwriter Robin Berry has been playing music since she was four-years-old. The first song that she remembers singing is "Jesus Loves Me." A veteran performer, Berry has garnered a solid reputation among fans and peers as a premiere entertainer. Her soaring vocals and versatile mastery of the guitar, violin and baritone ukelele have made her a perennial favorite on the Michigan music scene.

Nathan Bates began writing songs in Seattle at 6:30 p.m.

in the early 90's, accompanying himself on the guitar. He honed his chops in Montana and Idaho as well as in Washington, before moving back to his home state of Michigan in 2001. His dusky voice is seductive, drawing the listener into a song with a whisper. His lyrics are so powerful, well-crafted and accessible that he forms an immediate and intimate connection with his audience.

"It was (my husband) Tony's idea," Berry explained. "He took me by the arm and said, 'You should be working with this guy."

On Bates' "Boat Song" Berry infuses the chorus with an intricate, spot-on harmony as they sing;

"So much that I can't understand,

Tough luck, but I can't get a handle on it,

There's so much here I do not see,

I can't see the forest for the trees.'

According to Berry, the next project for the duo will be to record a CD showcasing their original material. With influences as diverse as big band balladeers and the Weepies, coupled with the blending of two unique voices, this promises to be an eclectic and interesting endeavor.

Berry and Bates are currently performing at Lester's in Boyne City on Wednesdays beginning

South Arm Twp. neighbors call for traffic study

BY B. J. HETLER EDITOR

SOUTH ARM TWP.

- A traffic study will be conducted at the site of a proposed driveway for gravel pit trucks entering and exiting, because of an outcry by neighboring residents.

Neighbors United, a group formed because of concern for the location of the gravel pit and its driveway, submitted a petition to the Charlevoix County Road Commission with 198 signatures asking for the study. The petition requests that the Michigan State Police conduct the study and that it look at sight distance, speed, and safety.

The South Arm Township board supports the study. The township planning commission board approved a special use permit for the gravel pit on July 17.

Ellis Boal represents Neighbors United.

"In granting the permit, the planning commission voted to allow MDC (Manthei Development Corporation) up to 18 trips a day for 20 years between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. The peak season lasts from late April to early December," Boal said.

The citizens' right to know

A sizable number of local government representatives attended a recent session on the Open Meetings Act and the Freedom of Information Act to learn about these laws that are critical to democracy.

The Northwest Michigan Council of Governments hosted the session attended by representatives of Charlevoix county, cities, townships and others.

Language from Michigan's Open Meetings Act, Public Act No. 267 of 1976, states that it was adopted by the state Legislature to strengthen the right of all Michigan citizens to know what goes on in government by requiring public bodies to conduct nearly all business at open meetings.

The law applies to the state Legislature, all cities, villages, townships, charter townships and county government. It also includes school districts, colleges and universities, public hospitals, road commissions, health boards and zoning boards.

The Open Meetings Act spells out the rights of citizens under the law. For instance, within 10 days of the first meeting of a public body in each calendar or fiscal year, the body must publicly post a list stating the dates, times and places of all its regular meetings. For special and irregular meetings, public bodies must post a notice at least 18 hours before the meetings.

Any citizen may request that public bodies put them on a mailing list so that they are notified in advance of all meetings. A reasonable fee may be charged to cover the cost of printing and postage.

Minutes must be kept for all meetings and are required to contain the time, date and place of the meeting, the members present and absent, a record of any decisions made, a record of all roll call votes, and an explanation for the purpose if the meeting is a closed session. All minutes are open for public inspection. Proposed minutes must be available for public inspection within eight business days after a meeting. Approved minutes must be available within five business days after the meeting at which they were approved.

The law provides for closed meetings in a few specified circumstances. Some reasons are consideration of the purchase or lease of real property by a public body, legal consultation with its attorney in pending litigation under certain circumstances, or review of an employment application when the candidate requests confidentiality.

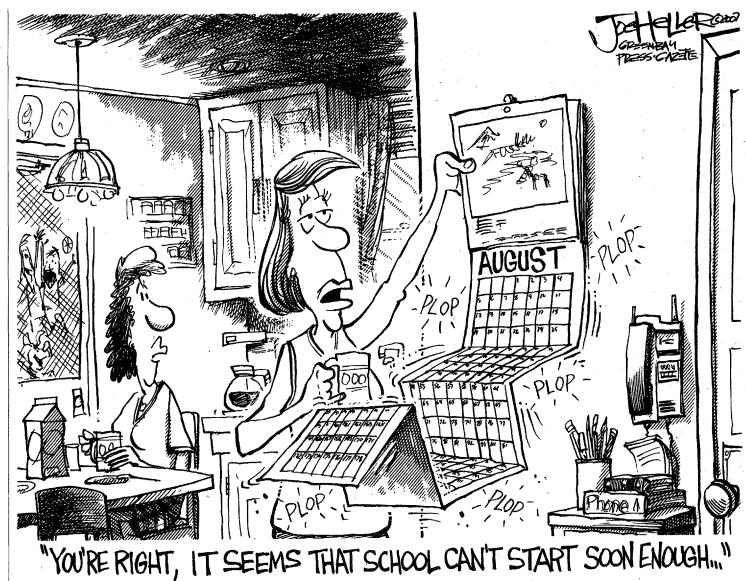

Michigan's Freedom of Information Act regulates and sets requirements for the disclosure of public records.

All state agencies, county and other local governments, school boards, other boards, departments, commissions, councils, and public colleges and universities are covered. FOIA does not apply to the judicial branch or to legislators. Any program primarily funded by the state or local authority is also covered.

Records that come under the FOIA include working papers and research material, minutes of open and closed meetings, officials' voting records, staff manuals and final orders or decisions in contested cases.

The act applies to records whether handwritten, typed, printed, photographed, photocopied and every other means of recording. It does not include computer software.

A public body may withhold from disclosure certain records, such as information about an individual's private affairs, if their right to have the information protected from public scrutiny is greater than the public's right to the information. Investigating records compiled for law enforcement purposes may be withheld under certain conditions. Also attorney-client privileged information, appraisals of real property to be acquired by a public body and medical counseling that would reveal an individual's identity.

Robinson named editor and manager

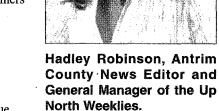

A few weeks ago, I moved up to northern Michigan to be the managing editor of the four weekly newspapers that are Up North Publications, including your very own Citizen-Journal. I'm delighted to be taking this position here at such a long-standing and respected community publication.

With me joining the team as managing editor, and B.J. Hetler recently stepping up as editor of the Citizen-Journal, we are pleased to have an editorial staff that is more complete than it has been in years and we feel well positioned to bring more news and extensive coverage to this area.

I've recently moved to the area from Massachusetts where I worked for a group of small privately-owned weekly newspapers. While I am a new permanent resident of northern Michigan, I'm no stranger to the area. I have spent summers up north since I was a young child and feel familiar and connected with the area and the people. I'm thrilled to finally live here year round. Residents and visitors to the area are blessed with friendly people and a gorgeous setting.

But, I know it isn't all ripe cherries and blue

The Citizen-Journal and our other publications are here to address those issues and those difficulties. Our focus and priority is on local news. The staff at this newspaper is local and we're here to report on everything going on right here in this county and how greater issues in the state impact this area. We are covering the things that happen in your backyard that nobody else is covering. That being said, we need to hear from you. As the managing editor, I open my door to feedback, to ideas and to discussion on what is going on in this area. My email address will be at the end of every story I write. Send me a note to let me know what you're thinking. We will try to know everything and cover everything, but I ask for your help in letting us know what is affecting you, both positively and negatively, big and small.

This paper is for you, the people of Boyne City and East Jordan, and if you think we're wrong, or we're not being fair, or we're missing important events and issues, please tell us. We want our readers to be properly, completely and accurately informed and we urge you to make

Family expresses gratitude

To the Editor:

Words can not expxress our thankfulness to all the friends and neighbors of Boyne City, Petoskey, Charlevoix and Gaylord who supported and loved our daughter, Lianne House Arthurs.

We are very much aware of your overwhelming kindness when fire destroyed her home. So many helpful hands were involved and we thank each one. Lianne's loyal Boyne Country Provisions customers and employees contributed greatly to her happiness and we know she cherished each of you.

All of us will miss her cheerful greetings, the big smile, perhaps a funny story and always "time for a chat". We are so grateful to those who truly loved and cared for Lianne. May God bless you all. Thank you. Her mother, Mary Flinn.

Relatively speaking

By Christine Gwidt CONTRIBUTING WRITER

It's happening again. Forces beyond my control are conspiring to wrench the bliss that is summertime in northern Michigan from my grasp and hand the reins to my out-ofstate relatives.

I love my extremely extended family. Let me make that clear. They are blood of my blood and the salt of the earth. My memories are rife with the sweet and gratifying time spent in their company. The birthday parties, holidays and summer vacations of my childhood are indelibly marked on my psyche. They are me and I am them and they are driving me crazy.

It began innocently enough. The first group to land on my doorstep in late May garnered my heartfelt enthusiasm and hospitality. The guest rooms were festooned with fresh spring flowers and little baskets with Michigan-themed snacks and chocolates were placed on the dressers. There were hand made soaps, scented candles and fluffy, fresh towels. Two full days of scrubbing, polishing and spit-shining rendered my house whiteglove ready. I was more than happy to put my life on hold for that week while we careened between points of interest. I reveled in preparing exotic meals replete with all of the five major food groups. We stayed up until a ridiculous hour every night, talking and laughing. When I finally waved goodby to them from the front porch, both my bank account and my body needed a transfusion.

Round Two began a month later. This time I swore that I would avoid the kitchen slavery and so I spent the week prior making and freezing pizza and sweet rolls. The candles were a sure we are doing that.

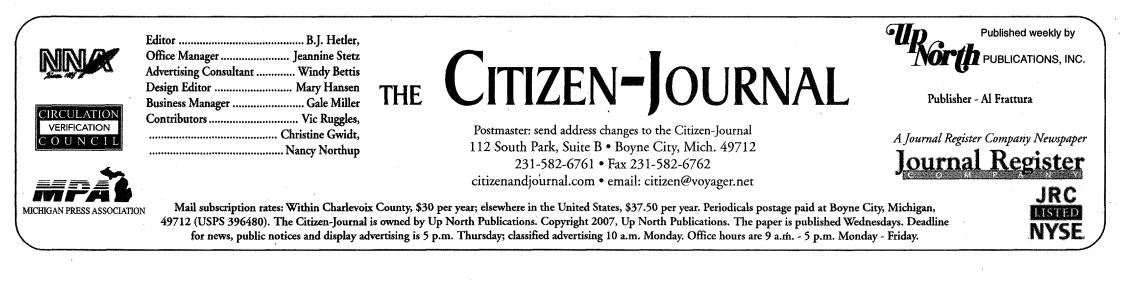

Feel free to contact me, Hadley Robinson, with any questions or comments at hrobinson@michigannewspapers.com or by calling (231) 533-8523.

bit sooty and gutted, but servicable. The snack basket idea was retired. There were fresh flowers, but this time they were daisies and field grass. I made it a point to get to bed at a reasonable hour, knowing that I would need to be rested and semi-perky in order to survive. I re-visited the points of interest in a somnambulistic daze usually reserved for "Seinfeld" reruns. This time I murmured "Hallelujah." as the dust settled behind their departing car.

The newest influx was heralded by a startling email titled "Michigan here we come!" With icy fingers, I opened the missive and a little thrill of adrenaline triggered a mild fight or flight reaction. Over the next few days I segued through the five stages of grief - denial, anger, bargaining, depression and finally, acceptance. I cast a baleful eye over my cozy home and decided that vacuuming would suffice. I bought a loaf of bread and packages of cheese and lunch meat and called it good. I washed the sheets and towels, folded and stacked them on the beds.

I am now four days into Round Three. I have eaten my weight in baked goods and I am logy with the heat and carbohydrates. A virulent skin condition prevents my cousin from partaking in prolonged exposure to the sun, so beach activities are not an option. I am vaguely uneasy in the belief that this visit is perhaps not all that they had hoped it would be.

November is arguably the least seductive month. The sting of frigid winds. Skeletal trees pawing bleak skies. Striped of the siren's call of summer, and not yet replete with the bucolic blanket of snow that lures the winter sports enthusiast, November has always seemed like such a lonely month. Ah, November... How I long for thee.

They had the best turnout they've had in many years. The first time chicken barbecue was certainly enjoyed by all. The family auction was fun, too. Hope to see everyone again next year, same time.

BOYNE CITY -Coach Nick Baic felt the Boyne City boys' soccer team made a lot of improvement last season, and had a pretty good year.

Trouble is, he's starting this season with an almost entirely different group because of boys tennis shifting over to the fall now, forcing some veteran soccer players to make a choice between the two.

Just how many go over to tennis remains to be seen, but Baic knows there'll be some.

Once he learns that number, he'll be better prepared to deal with the situation.

Speaking on the eve of pre-season practice, Baic wasn't certain who'd be coming back.

He'd know more when the team gathered for the first day of physical conditioning on Monday, Aug. 13. It's not like the tennis team isn't dealing with a similiar problem, as some of its veteran players have donned football pads and helmets this fall him to run through, the rather than pick up a forwards on a soccer racket.

No matter how many veterans, and which ones are coming back, Baic is certain of this --- the and timely passing to Ramblers need to continue getting better if take advantage of their it doesn't matter how good your goalie is ... he's going to get scored on.

"And, if you don't have midfielders that can feed the ball at the right time, to the right place to the forwards, they're not going to score. You're not going to out-dribble 11 guys (on the defense).

"So, it really is so much of a team sport. You also need fast defenders that can keep up with the other team's fast forwards. If you have speed, you have a chance to be better. If you don't have it, you better compensate by playing smarter."

The defense's job is to funnel opponent's shots to the goalie, who is expected to make the saves.

When there's a breakdown where the offense can choose wherever it wants to shoot, and move the ball, it signals big time trouble.

No goalie is capable of stopping every shot, all the time. Especially in high school.

Boyne City has its starting and backup goalies coming back from last year in junior Mike Fox and senior Ryan Kasper, respectively. Kasper took over in the district tournament when Fox had to sit out, and he's been practicing on his own all summer.

"Kasper performed well (in the district). It'll be a good one-two (com-

But, there's a good chance of that happening, if the Ramblers are able to realize their potential.

The Ramblers' entire lineup could be significantly different than last year, Baic said.

It depends on who comes back out for the team.

Ramblers installing offense, defense preparing for Friday's scrimmage

SPORTS WRITER

BOYNE CITY — With only 27 players on the varsity roster as preseason workouts began, Boyne City football. coach David Hills isn't blessed with a lot of depth.

What he does have, though, is experience among the starting group on both offense and defense.

Nine players who started on offense last year are coming back, and eight starters return on defense.

Those veterans will be counted on to give the Ramblers leadership, both by example as well as vocally, for the younger players.

Expectations are understandably high followng the Ramblers' sixth consecutive appearance in the state playoffs last season, 6-4. It's early yet. The Ramblers have only practiced in pads for two days, and there's still much for Hills to evaluate before the games begin for real Aug. 24.

Hills felt the opening week of physical conditioning and practice showed that the Ramblers have the necessary athletic skills, and mental focus to make another run at the playoffs.

But, there's still a lot of work to be done. "There are still a lot of things we need to get into and get better at," Hills said on Sunday afternoon Aug. 12. "Right now, we're just looking at finishing installing our offense and defense. 'We're trying to get enough reps (reptitions) in so that we're proficient at it, and we're ex-which unfortunately ecuting those things as ended in the first round well as we can right as Boyne City finished now."

Every position needs to be evaluated and tweaked with the preseason scrimmage coming up Friday, Aug. 17, at Suttons Bay.

Hoping to escape some of the heat, and also accomodate those players who still have summer jobs, Boyne City has been practicing from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Other than running a youth skills camp right after school let out in June, and their usual weight lifting program, the Ramblers didn't have a 7-on-7 or any other kind of camp.

So, the Ramblers are fresh as they start their second week of practice.

Playoffs still far off dream Like every other team in the state, the Ramblers have set certain goals that they'd like to reach. Making the playoffs again is obviously one of them. But with the regular season kickoff still a couple of weeks away, and the Lake Michigan Conference schedule to worry about, the Ramblers have been focused on pre-season preparation.

"I think we're so involved in getting our offense, defense and special teams installed, it's hard to look ahead (to the playoffs)," Hills said. "Not having played any games or anything yet, those things are still pretty far off. Most of what we're concerned with right now is getting proficient at our system, and being as good as we can at the details of our schemes."

The Ramblers should get a good test in the scrimmage Friday with Manistee, Suttons Bay and Pine River all scheduled to participate starting at 11 a.m. Junior varsity teams will scrimmage at the same time as the varsity, with two fields available at Suttons Bay.

"Suttons Bay is returning a lot of players, and they're a very good football team this year," Hills said. "I know Manistee is a very physical, big football team. They're going to be very good. "Pine River has a new coach coming in, and they've been very good the last couple of years. So, it (the scrimmage) should be a very good test for us. We'll find some things out."

Video on football head, neck safety distributed ber schools, the Michigan High School Athletic Association has distributed a new video addressing the need for proper blocking and tackling techniques in football.

"Heads Up" is a 15minute message produced by the National Athletic Trainers' Association designed to help coaches, players and fans understand the importance of safe play and the sometimes catastrophic consequences of not doing so. The video was distributed to schools earlier this month in time to be used in pre-season meetings with teams and parents.

Among the individuals featured on the video is former Jackson Parkside High School quarterback

Tony Dungy, now head coach of the Indianapolis Colts. The video was distributed to colleges a year ago, and with the support of The Andrews Institute, copies were made available to high school athletic associations for their members.

"Head and neck safety continues to be a point of emphasis in the rules of the game, and educating all parties on this topic is an ongoing process," said John E. "Jack" Roberts, executive director of the MHSAA. "Everyone cheers at football games when a big hit is delivered, but there's a right way to deliver those big hits, and we'll continue to help our schools with resources in that regard."

The video is available to view online from the Football page of mhsaa.com. MHSAA.

This is the latest of many similar projects the MHSAA has been involved in. During 2000, the Association teamed up with the Brain Injury Association of Michigan to distribute 20,000 sports concussion cards to member schools; and assisted in the development and distribution of the brochure "Heads Up, Eyes Forward" printed by the Michigan Department of Community Health for use by parents in preventing football injuries.

In 2002, the video "See What You Hit" was provided to schools in cooperation with the Spine in Sports Foundation. There have been other efforts directed toward football safety as well as many initiatives to promote head and neck safety in other sports served by the

As the gavel passed from Todd to Steve it was a time to reflect the accomplishments made this past year. Topping the list is the beautiful new pavilion at Rotary Park which will be completed this coming year. This ambitious project has been in the construction stage for the past two years. When completed, a ceremony will be performed to turn the facility over to the City of Boyne. Of course we reflected the memories of our famous barbecues for which the Club is famous.

This coming year promises to be another active year as the Club continues to grow in membership. Rotary International is dedicated to empowering ordinary people to do extraordinary achievements. Boyne Rotary Club will serve its community, nation and the world through its membership of over 2,500.000 members worldwide.

The Boyne Rotary Club meets every Monday evening at Robert's Restaurant at 6 p.m. If you would like to become involved with this dynamic organization, please call Steve Baker 582-7211 and discuss your ideas.

• You don't often think of sports and classical music as having much in common, but there are times when the two worlds intersect. In 1941, the Brooklyn Dodgers were doing very well, and fans were delighted with their success. One of those fans was American composer Robert Russell Bennett. On Aug. 4, 1941, his "Symphony in D" premiered - and he made a point of letting everyone know that the "D" stood for "Dodgers." The Dodgers won the pennant that year, but, despite Bennett's musical tribute, they ended up losing the World Series to the Yankees.

• Have you ever titivated anything? You may not realize it, but unless vou're an inveterate slob, it's fairly likely that you have. "Titivate" simply means "to make (something) look neat" or "to spruce (something) up."

· Chicago is well-known as "The Windy City," and most people assume that the city on the shores of Lake Michigan got that moniker because of its gusty weather. The true origin of the nickname, though, is in the residents' penchant for bragging --- as the story goes, citizens of Chicago talked so much about how great their town was that they were deemed "windy."
