Boyne City Sept. 11 meeting

At the Boyne City city commission meeting at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 11 at City Hall, the commissioners will hold a second reading of the proposed parking exempt amendment to the zoning ordinance.

The amendment will be voted on for approval or disapproval by commissioners following the second reading on Sept. 11.

The parking exempt amendment would allow the city to grant parking exemptions to developers, meaning they would not have to create parking spaces, but instead would pay a fee to the city. There will be time for public comment.

Planning commission meets on Beaver Island

The Charlevoix County Planning Commission will be holding a regular monthly meeting on Thursday Sept. 13, at 7 p.m., at the Peaine Township Hall on Beaver Island. Earlier in the day, the Planning Commission will be touring the Island and visiting sites (yet to be determined) in order to view recent, proposed new and potential future development. Both the tour and the meeting are open to the public. All local elected and appointed officials and the citizens are encouraged to attend. See COMMISSION, page 2

Fishing pier proposed by developers

Resort's revised marina plans go back to state agency

By B. J. HETLER
EDITOR

BOYNE CITY - One Water Street developers have made changes in their proposed marina plan in an attempt to garner a permit to build the structure, following denial by the state of an earlier plan.

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality denied a marina permit on July 5, citing overall size, insufficient room for ingress and egress of boats and adverse impacts on the public trust.

Developers Greg Krueger and Jerry Rutter reduced the overall usable length of the dock from 407 feet to 262 feet, a 35.5 percent decrease in size, they told the MDEQ. The 100-foot slips and 240-foot of broadside dockage were eliminated.

The break wall on the proposed marina's southern side was opened up from 15-feet off the city's riparian line to a minimum of 20-feet, allowing ingress and egress without intrusion into the riparian area, Krueger said.

The MDEQ and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources said adverse impacts on the public trust included the public's right to navigate and to fish on Lake Charlevoix. The marina's previous design hindered these activities for the public.

The earlier plan had some of the resort's boats traversing into the city's riparian area. Although the city commissions had approved this, the state did not. The MDEQ has yet to rule on the changes made to the design.

In an attempt to appease the MDEQ in its determination that the marina project would have violated the public trust, the developers have offered to fund and construct a public fishing pier along the north end of the property, adjacent to city property. It would be part of a section of land that will be deeded to the city for a park. The fishing pier would be eight feet wide and 120 feet in length and would run along the shoreline.

One Water Street developer, Greg Krueger, announced his fishing pier idea at an Aug. 28 city commission meeting.

"We're asking you to give approval to the fishing pier so we can move forward," Krueger told commissioners.

Commissioner Chuck Vondra raised the connection between the fishing pier and the marina permit.

"This is attached to the marina right? If the marina gets shot down this fishing dock isn't going in, right?"

Red Fox Regatta

By CHRISTINE GWIDT
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

HORTON BAY - Since its inception in 1970, the Red Fox Regatta has flourished. Initially a casual get-together among Boyne City Yacht Club members who would make the Horton Bay Red Fox Inn their destination for dinner and camaraderie, it grew to include members of the Charlevoix Yacht Club and, inevitably, it turned into a 21-mile race and a Labor Day tradition.

Attracting sailing enthusiasts from all over the Great Lakes region, the regatta has expanded to host approximately 100 entrants for the two-day event. The original concept has remained much the same, with participants enjoying friendly competition and the company of their fellow contenders at an after-race party and awards presentation.

Results for this year's race are on page two.

The Boyne City municipal marina was filled to overflowing with Red Fox Regatta participants, as the sun begins to set on another beautiful summer season. Labor Day is the "unofficial end to summer" at best, as lots of great weather and special events are still to come.

Humane Society wants county to 'show them the money'

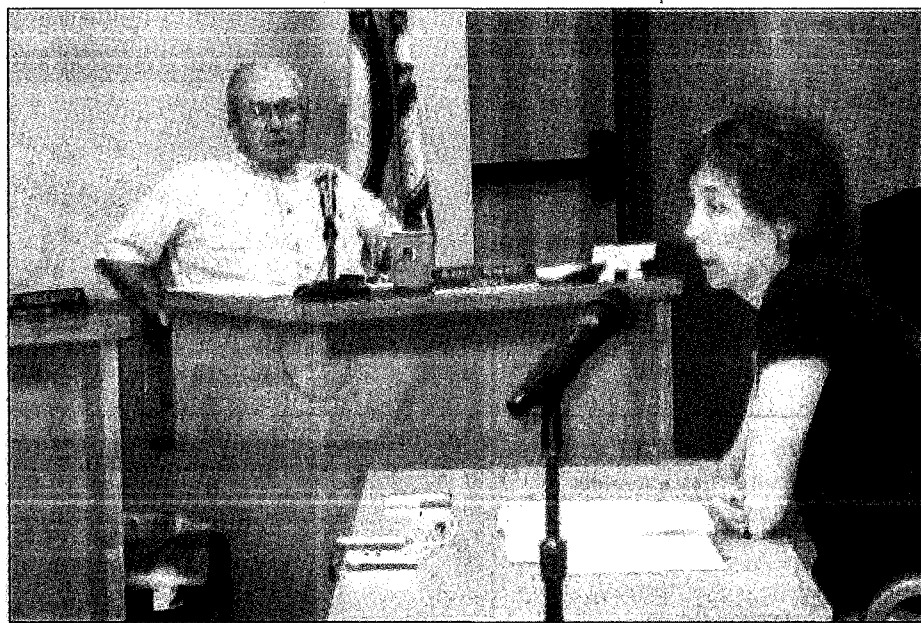

By B. J. HETLER
EDITOR

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY - The Charlevoix County Humane Society has carried the county shelter financially for years and can no longer do so.

That was the message from Executive Director, Jodie Adams, who met with Charlevoix county commissioners on Aug. 22, and presented them with a report from the Humane Society. Adams said there is a need for the county shelter to be better funded.

"The county would spend approximately $85,000 a year on staffing if it handled the shelter," Adams said.

"Over the years the staff, board and volunteers of CCHS have brought the Humane Society operations up to the high standard we now proudly display. The animals here receive top-notch care and the facility is kept in excellent condition by staff," she said. But, the Humane Society is sorely under-funded for the role it serves for county animal control services (the shelter). In 2006, total expenses were $141,502. The annual county grant was the usual amount of $20,000.

In 2006, the Humane Society handled 756 animals,

352 dogs, 395 cats and nine wild animals, Adams said. Of these numbers, 19 percent were claimed by their owners, 30 percent were adopted and 46 percent were euthanized.

"These numbers, though perhaps not large for a human population the size of Charlevoix county are indicative of a problem nationwide of 'disposable' animals," she said.

"Humane Societies need to spend resources toward education, gratis spay and

Commissioners look at funeral home zoning amendment

BOYNE CITY - City commissioners are working towards an amendment to the zoning ordinance that would allow funeral home businesses in the Traditional Residential District.

The amendment would also change funeral homes from a use by right to a conditional use in the General Commercial District, and to a conditional use in the Rural Estate District, the Transitional Commercial District, and the Regional Commercial/Industrial District.

 Krueger said that was correct.

Commissioner Dan Adkison said he was concerned about the expense of moving the fishing pier in and out.

Commissioner Jerry Douglas expanded on the idea of a public fishing pier.

"I'd rather see a fixed pier, because it would extend the access. I'd like to see us take this opportunity to make the Boyne City waterfront open for everyone. I think this needs to stand apart from the marina," Douglas said. "I don't think it would break our bank to do this, and it would be good for generations."

Krueger had a different opinion about the cost of Douglas's idea.

This drawing shows the location of the public fishing pier that One Water Street developers propose to fund and build on city land.

"The cost as I propose is probably somewhere around $50,000 to $60,000, and that is the amount I would be prepared to pay toward any other plan," Krueger said, and added that he estimated Douglas's proposal to cost about $250,000. The commissioners referred Krueger's fishing pier proposal to city planner, Scott McPherson, to work on it with the developers.

At Krueger's request, the commission approved the drafting of a letter of interest in Krueger's proposal, so that he could give it to the MDEQ. Further discussion and possible action may take place at the city commission meeting at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 11.

 The effect of the proposed amendment is to increase the area where funeral homes could possibly be located. It also clarifies the ordinance by replacing the term "mortuaries" with the term "funeral homes." The city planning commission recommended approval of the amendment to the city commissioners, following an Aug. 20 public hearing. Planning Director, Scott McPherson, recommended that the city commission schedule the proposed amendment for a second reading at the Oct. 9 commission meeting.

nary services center, education programs, and a pet safe program where women who are going into safe haven facilities can drop off pets for a reduced care fee. Adams asked the county commissioners to meet with the Humane Society board and review the current agreements. The goal is to develop a revised statement of operations between the two entities.

Charlevoix County resident charged with homicide

Sheriff George T. Lasater announces that Sheriff Office detectives arrested Charles Curtis Merriman, 58, of Eveline Township on the charge of homicide-open murder, which has a maximum penalty life in prison, authorized by Prosecuting Attorney John Jarema.

Charles Curtis Merriman is charged with murdering his brother, William George Merriman.

The arrest was the result of a year-long investigation by Sheriff Office Detective/Lieutenant Michael Wheat. Sheriff Lasater advises that Lt. Wheat was assigned this investigation and worked on this case almost exclusively. Sheriff Lasater states without the stalwart efforts and tenacity of Lt. Wheat this "cold case" may have gone without charges being brought. The investigation led Sheriff Office detectives and staff of the Sheriff's Office on multiple trips (5) to the White Feather Landfill in Pinconning.

The Sheriff's Office was assisted by the following agencies:

- Michigan State Police Crime Lab in Grayling
- Sheriff's Office Auxiliary
- Sheriff's Office K-9 Unit
- Michigan State Police K-9

• Odawa Tribal Police Charles Curtis Merriman is currently in the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office Jail without bond with a court date of Sept. 13, for a pre-lim examination.

Sheriff Lasater would like to bring to the attention of the public not only the efforts of Det. Wheat, but also the support and guidance of Prosecuting Attorney John Jarema and his staff.

Tourism bill introduced

State Sen. Jason Allen (R-Traverse City) introduced legislation on Aug. 22, to fund the state's Pure Michigan ad campaign at levels competitive with other tourism states.

A written statement from Allen's office says that Senate Bill 690 would boost the Pure Michigan ad campaign to $30 million annually from its current level of $5.7 million, without a tax or fee increase of any kind.

"Tourism is already one of Michigan's most important industries, yet we can improve our public policies to help the industry generate even more employment and economic benefits,"

Allen said. Leaders of Michigan's tourism industry welcomed the bill, the statement said.

"We know that every $1 invested in tourism promotion generates $2 to $3 in new sales tax revenues for the state within a matter of months," said Dan Musser III, president of the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. Musser is serving as one of three co-chairs of Tourism Improving Michigan's Economy (TIME), a coalition of tourism and other businesses and organizations that back the legislation.

Other TIME members include the Michigan Hotel, Motel & Resort Association, the Michigan

Chamber of Commerce, Michigan Restaurant Association, the Michigan Association of Convention & Visitor Bureaus, at the Traverse City Convention & Visitors Bureau, and other groups.

TIME co-chair Stephen Kircher, president of eastern operations for Boyne USA Resorts, said Michigan's current budget for Pure Michigan ads in other states is not competitive.

"Michigan is a spectacular four-season tourist destination, yet our tourism promotion budget ranks near the bottom among the 50 states," Kircher said. "We are leaving year-round tourism jobs and sales tax revenues on the table for other states to gobble up."

Other states in the region that spend far more include Illinois at $48 million, Pennsylvania at $64 million, Virginia at $21 million and Wisconsin at $15 million, Allen's statement said.

In 2005, Gov. Jennifer Granholm and the Legislature approved a one-time increase of $15 million in the Travel Michigan budget to be spent over two years. The one-time appropriation expires at the end of 2007.

Under SB 690, $30 million in revenues generated by the state's six percent sales tax would be earmarked annually to fund Travel Michigan ads in other states, according to Allen's statement.

Second annual Bluegrass Festival at Boyne Mountain

By CHRISTINE Gwidt
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE FALLS — When the David Grisman Quintet took the stage at Boyne Mountain on Saturday, it was to present a two-hour jaw dropping set of jazz infused tunes that spanned his recording career from the early 1960s to the present. He traded maniacal call-and-response riffs with flutist phenom, Matt Eakle, whose smile disappeared only long enough to accomplish the task at hand. Grisman's fingers fly and the result is nothing short of breathtaking. By the time one amazing lick has registered with the listener, the band is three bars ahead and blowing strong. It's like drinking a magic elixir that somehow tastes even better after it's been ingested. Rounding out the quintet, and each a formidable force in their own right, were bassist Jim Kerwin, drummer George Marsh and guitarist Frank Vignola.

Mandolinist/composer David Grisman is enjoying a long and illustrious career. For over 40 years he has been a seminal force in a diverse range of musical styles and has played with luminaries such as the Grateful Dead, Bonnie Raitt, Stephane Grappelli, James Taylor, Earl Scruggs, Emmylou Harris, Bela Fleck and Chris Isaak, to name but a few. His eclectic blend of swing, bluegrass, Latin, jazz and gypsy styles was dubbed "dawg music" by long-time friend and collaborator, Jerry Garcia. An innovator in the "newgrass" movement, he is a living legend and a musician's musician.

Grisman and his band headlined the Second Annual Bluegrass Festival at Boyne Mountain. They were preceded on stage by five bluegrass acts, all of whom have attained recognition as premier examples of the genre. The line-up was stellar, beginning with local band, Cow Cow Boogie, fronted by Kit and Janelle Anderson of Alanson and featuring Dave Eggebrecht of Torch Lake and Boyne City's John Hoaglund and Dave Amatto. Other acts included Packway Handle, Lonesome County Band, Greensky Bluegrass and the Neptune Quartet as a scintillating eleventh-hour replacement for Ruby Jane Smith.

Set against a backdrop of summer revelers riding the chairlift up and down the ski hill, the concert was a musical feast. Those who attended were treated to more than nine hours of unrivaled entertainment from musicians who played with the elan of artists who love what they do, and do it very well.

Business approved for expansion

BOYNE CITY - The 220 Lake Street business was approved for an expansion and remodeling by the Boyne City Planning Commission on Monday, Aug. 21, in a unanimous vote.

The approval means that the owners of the restaurant and bar, formerly known as the Tannery, may proceed with plans to expand the kitchen area and to construct a patio. The patio will seat approximately 60 patrons. The application for development was submitted by one of the owners, Chris Teal.

Several residents who live downtown attended the planning commission meeting and voiced concerns about the volume of the musical entertainment.

The commissioners determined that the business would come under the city's noise ordinance, as with the other downtown businesses.

The building is part of the new facade enhancement project that is available to several downtown businesses through the Main Street Program.

Woman injured in crash

The Charlevoix County Sheriff Office is investigating a one vehicle personal injury crash that occurred Tuesday, Aug. 28, at about 5 p.m., on Boyne City Road near Boyne Circle in Hayes Township.

Catherine Zavesky, 48, from Boyne City, was driving her 2003 Pontiac Grand Am 4D southbound on Boyne City Road when another vehicle crossed the centerline. Zavesky swerved to avoid the crash and lost control, went into the ditch and hit several trees and a large rock. She was transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by Charlevoix EMS for head and arm injuries.

The sheriff office was assisted at the scene by local residents and other drivers.

The crash is still under investigation at this time.

Sheriff investigates death

The Charlevoix County Sheriff Office is investigating the death of Ronald Ray Green of Boyne Falls, on Monday, Aug 27. The 68-year-old male was found near his remote cabin in the Boyne Valley area where he had been skinning logs. When he did not return home at dark, his 66-year-old wife of 47 years responded, finding him cold and unresponsive. She then went to US-131 to direct emergency personnel. The Boyne Valley Fire Department under the direction of Chief Haskins used ATVs to extract the victim from the forest.

Investigation continues pending medical examiner's report.

Who's on first

If the country's states keep going as they are in the quest to hold a presidential primary or caucus earlier than other states, eventually we may choose our candidate for the next election during the first year of a new president's term.

A bill introduced in the state Legislature by Sen. Michelle McManus on June 27 hit the ground running and with lightening speed became law, Public Act 52 of 2007, on Sept. 3, with the signature of Gov. Jennifer Granholm. The House of Representatives and the Senate voted 67-34 and 36-0, respectively, on the bill that moves Michigan's presidential primary to Jan. 15. Apparently, with the right issue the political bickering can be put aside and bipartisan cooperation established.

The StarTribune of Minneapolis-St. Paul Minnesota reported on Sept. 4 that the move makes Michigan among at least seven states signaling their intention to flout party rules by scheduling primaries or caucuses before Feb. 5. Iowa and New Hampshire, long notable for holding the earliest elections, may reschedule their contests even earlier than anticipated, perhaps in the first week in January 2008 or even December 2007.

What's at stake here? Why the rush?

Does Michigan have a penchant for greeting the candidates fresh-faced and energized before months on the campaign trail wears on them? Or is it a desire to be first or at least among the first of the states to grab the television lights?

Gov. Granholm says the earlier date will put greater emphasis on issues affecting Michigan, such as manufacturing, health care and alternative fuels.

The new law does increase the influence of Michigan voters on the national nominating process. By holding both the Republican and the Democratic primaries on Jan. 15, Michigan would have a greater presence during the 2008 national primary season and would garner more attention from candidates, according to the Senate Fiscal Analysis.

In addition, an early primary will pump millions of dollars into the state's economy in television and radio ads, debates and visits from candidates and staff.

Under this new law voters must choose a Democratic or Republican ballot. Some people feel that voters should not have to declare a party affiliation in order to vote in a presidential primary election.

At any rate, both Democratic and Republican party leaders are urging their candidates not to campaign in states that hold early nominating contests in violation of party rules. Somehow, this probably won't hold up. It will take only one candidate to break and all of the candidates (how many are there now?) will clamor to campaign in Michigan.

One thing is certain, hang onto your hats, it's going to be a wild ride.

LETTER POLICY

The Citizen-Journal encourages and welcomes its readers to submit letters or emails expressing their opinions.

Letters should be limited to 350 words and must contain the author's name and daytime phone number, which will be used for verification purposes only and will not be published. Photocopied submissions are not acceptable.

City commissioners contradict voters

To the Editor:

Now developer Greg Krueger has offered to build a fishing dock for "Boyne City," but only if they get approval from the DEQ for their Marina. The city commissioners "Welcomed Krueger's proposal." This seems to echo a previous proposal Krueger and One Water Street, LLC made to the city commission to give Boyne City back the end of Water Street, which is already owned by the city as a public street, in exchange for development approval and a zoning permit to construct a development at One Water Street which violates the city zoning ordinance. Why didn't the city commissioners, when One Water Street, LLC first claimed ownership, take it immediately to court? Instead the city commissioners voted to approve the agreement to not enforce our Zoning Ordinance for the One Water Street Development in exchange for the end of Water Street, property which is already public, and now it appears they are about to lend support for Krueger's marina proposal in exchange for a fishing dock.

The city commission should incorporate a public fishing dock in their municipal marina plans rather than again bargaining away the protection of our citizens from a development that violates the ordinances. The public asked that these ordinances be put in place to protect from overdevelopment of the waterfront.

We were promised by the city commissioners in 1999 that there would be no more residential condominiums on the waterfront when the Waterfront Overlay District Ordinance was adopted. Now this promise has been broken with the approval of the One Water Street development. Years ago the agreement was that there would be no additional buildings between the southernmost Harborage Condominium and Tannery Park. What is there now?

Changing the dock to the same amount of boats, just smaller dock, will not fix the problems of encroaching on the neighboring properties riparian area, nor will this reduce the number of parking spaces necessary which cannot be provided on the small lot, nor will it retain the unobstructed view of Lake Charlevoix as you drive into our city and shop on Water Street, nor will it protect the valuable fishing waters which will be lost by the construction of the dock and is so valuable in bringing tourism to our town, nor will it be small enough to not impede the natural flow of the Boyne River as it empties into Lake Charlevoix, nor will it reduce the amount of pollution caused by the large number of boats still allowed.

The minor changes promised by Krueger and One Water Street, LLC are not enough for the city commissioners, as elected by and representing Boyne City's citizens, should not make agreements which contradict what the voters want. They need to re-member who elected them and what their responsibilities are.

Parents need to stop whining about their children's lack of playing time

To the Editor:

Freedom of speech is for the most part a good thing. On the flip side, the letter submitted by Tim Kenney was so typical of the growing number of liberal "feel-gooders" in our society that it makes a mockery of itself without the need for a rebuttal.

Nevertheless, I have decided to respond. We don't live in a perfect world Tim. Never have. Never will. There will always be injustices everywhere you look - the schools, the workplaces, government, etc. etc., but I'm a believer that for the most part you get out of something what you put into it. This is particularly true with athletic competition. As far as lower level participation is concerned (t-ball, Pop Warner football, youth basketball, to name a few) I would agree that one of the goals should be to allow for as much playing time as possible for all participants, as these are "developmental" programs. As participation moves up into the high school levels, the "feel-good, everyone plays equal time" approach no longer applies, nor should it. This type of mindset is one of the reasons that our public school system and society have spiraled downward over the past 40 years. Discipline and responsibility have gone out the window, and few are held accountable for their actions or the choices they make. The "entitlement" philosophy has set in and now we have a generation or two of kids who feel that everything should be handed to them without having to work for it or earn it.

Is there on occasion favoritism? Sure there is, but overall there is no conspiracy or "corruption" with regards to the playing time of participants in athletic programs. When my children would come home after a basketball, baseball, volleyball, or football game grumbling about playing time (though this isn't often), I simply tell them the following:

"If you want more playing time, then you need to work harder and put more effort into improving your skills. It's as simple as that. I don't see you out in the driveway dribbling or shooting the basketball in your spare time, or asking to go up to the batting cage to hit balls. You are responsible for your own playing time. I enjoy coming to watch you play whether you are a starter and play the whole game or whether you come off the bench and play 3 minutes."

Many of the athletes over the past few years, who have been disciplined for various reasons (suspended or removed from teams), deserved exactly what they got. As a matter of fact, for most of them it should have happened sooner. I'm all for giving people second chances, and quite possibly even third chances, but at some point there has to be some accountability and there has to be some consequences for actions and choices made. The primary reasons that most participants get minimal playing time are as follows: a) lack of ability, b) disrespect to coaches and/or authority figures, c) lack of dedication, commitment, desire, effort, team play, d) selfishness - "It's all about me."

We are all partly responsible for this because for years we have catered to our children's every desire, by sacrificing quality time together as a family so that our children can be involved in every sport and activity under the sun and then be part of weekend and summer travel teams on top of that! Participation in school extracurricular activities should be a privilege, not an entitlement.

Tim, "fair and equitable playing time" obviously has different meanings for you and I. Some of our children are/were not "starters" on the sports teams that they participated on and probably did not get the amount of playing time that we as parents might have wished they would have. This was not due to a "corrupt" athletic program or school administration as you have alluded to in your letter. It was simply because they did not have the desire to put forth the time and effort needed to get better and to prove that they deserved more playing time.

We don't need any school

Bud and Evelyn Hull are celebrating their 40th anniversary on Sept. 15. They are exchanging their vows, with her uncle Jim McWatters doing the honors, at 3 p.m. at their home in East Jordan. All friends and relatives are invited to share in this special time in their lives.

By Nancy Northup

unit 227 will be having a Craft and Bake Sale at the Legion on Main Street in East Jordan from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday Sept. 8. They're looking for a good turnout, so let your taste buds and your creative curiosity walk right in.

Loads of families came in from Hawaii, Virginia, Texas, Grand Rapids, Traverse City and the surrounding areas for a fantastic time. Wonderful food for all was enjoyed at the annual Jo Kelts Kipapa luau in the first week of August, held at the home of Pee Wee and Bardel Belford on Marvon Road. The only downer for that day was that Grandma Betty was unable to attend this year. A real upper over this past weekend was not only a Kelts family reunion down at the pavilion in Veteran's Park, and Betty was there, but it was a wonderfully warm "welcome" to Ipo Kipapa Larmond's husband Chris and sons, Teven and Akeem, who have just arrived in Boyne City from Jamaica, bringing Ipo's family home for good.

Some sad news is that the food pantry money jar placed at the Dairy Queen has been stolen. 'Tis hard to believe that could happen in our wonderful little town of Boyne City, but as the collector of the jar said, "God bless whoever took it. Shameful as it is, they must have needed it pretty badly."

Salvation Army officer Scott Nicloy of Alaska is here visiting his sister Linda, brother Jim and Joanne in East Jordan and his mother Carmalita Nicloy, who is in Grandvue and other friends and relatives. Scott, an accomplished organist, entertained the residents on Tuesday with his beautiful music.

Rochelle Barnhart of Minneapolis, Minnesota spent the holiday week and the Sept. 4 birthday celebration for her mother Dolores Barnhart. Rochelle also enjoyed area family visits.

John and Liz Hull welcomed the arrival their first child, a son, Braxton Alexander on Aug. 3. Braxton weighed 7 pounds and 14 ounces and measured 20 1/2 inches in length at his birth. Proud grandparents are Bud and Evelyn Hull of East Jordan.

Last Thursday's annual Grandvue picnic was a great success. Residents and their families and friends enjoyed a beautiful day and lots of good food under the tent, with delicious grilled "on the spot" chicken by Lester's of Boyne City.

Hey, hope everybody comes down to Veteran's Memorial Park on Saturday, Sept. 8 for the second annual Community Potluck Picnic. The committee has been really working on this, hoping to see lots of families, neighbors and friends turn out as great as last year's. So - bring a dish to share and join the fun. It all starts at noon.

President George W Bush sent a card of congratulations, with an 8 X 10 signed colored picture to Boyne City's Lloyd and Joyce Kelsey in honor of their 60th wedding anniversary. The Kelsey homestead was the location, and the Lake Street Market catered a surprise dinner for forty guests, including four generations, Lloyd, Brian, Chad and Clayton. The family was pleased to meet Chad's new friend, Ashley McClintock. They also celebrated grandson Daniel's 28th birthday, with his fiancée LeAnn Jepson. Lloyd and Joyce more than appreciated this wonderful surprise planned by their daughter and son-in-law Janell and Robert Pawlus and her "helping hands" friends, as well as the many other kind tributes to the celebrants.

Boyne's last "Dancin' in the Streets" was "the best," I heard. The East Jordan Red Hats had invited the Boyne Area Senior Steppers to join in the line dancing and another group was there too on the blocked-off Lake Street out in front of Cindi Franco's.

People were there with their own chairs and kids were enjoying their bubble blowing prizes and the band played on. The Lake Street Market and Rennie's provided tables of good eats. The band surprised Marie Schmittiel for her 85th birthday by clearing the "dance floor" just for her to dance, but then she got lots of help with Scott McKenzie, Dick Dunsmore and others joining in the fun.

Leona Burrows has returned to her Deer Meadows apartment after a long bus trip to Wisconsin. She was thrilled with the week or so visits there with her daughters and families, her granddaughters and grandsons. There were a few trips to the hospital with sick times with daughter Mary Anne, but all in all, it was a meaningful and heart touching trip. For Leona, even though it was right in the center of the flood area.

Items of interest for the Neighbors Column may be called into Nancy's home phone, 231-582-9174 or send e-mail to neighbors @gtlakes.com before the Friday noon deadline.

Seniors enjoyed concert

To the editor: A group of Boyne area seniors attended the final concert in the park and enjoyed finger foods that were brought to share.

The concert was great, as were the munchies. The weather was great for the final music of the year. Concert organizers did a great job. Looking forward to next year's performances.

Parents

Continued from 4A policy mandating playing time for athletes. We live in a capitalistic society where equal opportunity should exist whenever possible, but equal outcome should not be part of the deal. Rights and responsibilities go hand-in-hand. This is how it is (or at least should be) in the work place and in the "real" world (life beyond high school). My children and your children better learn that lesson. No one is going to hand them anything once they leave the nest. They will need to earn it. When we voice complaints about our children's playing time to every coach of every sport at every level from elementary school through high school the only message we are sending our children is that it is okay to whine every time things don't go our way.

Nature walk
scheduled

Come for a guided walk along the Jordan River trail on Saturday, Sept. 8 from 9 to 11 a.m. We'll look for fall mushrooms. GRNA naturalist Franny Bluhm will help you identify what's good to eat and the ones you should stay away from.

Meet at the Pinney Bridge parking lot which is located on Pinney Bridge Road off of M66 approximately 10 miles south of East Jordan. Bring your camera and wear comfortable walking shoes.

Grass River Natural Area and Friends of the Jordan are co-sponsoring monthly walks through October. The finale will be a color tour on Oct. 13. For more information, call GRNA at 231-533-8314.

Community picnic
scheduled

The second annual Boyne City Community Potluck Picnic will be held Saturday, Sept. 8, beginning with opening ceremonies at noon, at Boyne City's Memorial Park pavilion.

The potluck picnic will be immediately after the opening ceremony. Everyone is asked to bring a dish or two to share.

Keyboard music will be provided from noon until 2 p.m. by Roger Hartson.

Face painting with the Girl Scouts will be from noon until 2 p.m. and board games and card games will be available all day long. Children's games provided by the Kiwanis Club will follow the picnic.

After lunch, the time capsule from the 2006 Sesquicentennial Celebration will be sealed at the pavilion, and will be followed by the Boyne Area Senior Steppers performing their dance routine.

At 2 p.m. there will be a baseball game between The Red Mesa Restaurant and Rennie's Restaurant. Plan to root for your favorite team.

The entire Boyne City community is invited to attend this fun event. It is a wonderful opportunity to greet your friends and neighbors.

For more information, call the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce at 231-582-6222.

Craft and bake sale

The American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor a craft and bake sale Saturday, Sept. 8, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the American Legion Hall on Main Street in East Jordan. Proceeds will go to the American Legion Auxiliary Scholarship fund and other Auxiliary projects.

Old-fashioned pictures on a pony

The Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce and The Birds Nest will be sponsoring a fundraising event benefiting the Boyne City Playgroup on Sunday, Sept. 9. Have your child or grandchild's picture taken on a pony - cowboy boots and all. Photos will be $15 for a 5x7 photo. Pre-registration is required - stop by The Birds Nest to pre-register for a photo time.

Big Chickens

Flock to these "Big Chickens" events at the Jordan Valley District Library. "Big Chickens" by Leslie Helakoski is the Michigan Reads! 2007 One State, One Children's Book.

"Big Chickens" story times will be Wednesday, Sept. 12, at 10:30 a.m., for preschoolers during playgroup at the library; Wednesday, Sept. 12, at 4 p.m. at the East Jordan Elementary Media Center, for children kindergarten to 5th grade.

Both story times are free and presented by the Jordan Valley District Library and includes reading of "Big Chickens," chicken crafts, games and the chicken dance.

Sunday, Sept. 16, the Jordan Valley District Library will show the movie "Chicken Run," rated G, 84 minutes. There will be a pre-movie party 1 p.m. for $1 per person that will include a reading of "Big Chickens," craft, games, snack and door prizes. The movie will begin at 2 p.m. and is free.

Sponsored by the Jordan Valley Library Friends. Go to jvdl.info or call the library at 231-536-7131 for more information.

Caregivers
support group

The Charlevoix Alzheimer's Disease Caregivers Support Group will have a new location. Beginning Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 1:30 p.m., and the third Tuesday of every month thereafter, the group will be meeting at the Charlevoix Senior Center, 06906 Norwood Rd., Charlevoix. For more information, call Charlevoix County Commission on Aging at 231-237-0103. Other caregiver groups are available to attend monthly, the first Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at East Jordan Senior Center, and the third Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Boyne Area Senior Center.

Leigh Reis-Kurchinski is the facilitator for Charlevoix County Support Group.

Explore the streams of northern Michigan

Join us in exploring and protecting the streams of northern Michigan. The tip of the northern Lower Peninsula contains more than 2500 miles of streams, including a number of amazing "blue ribbon" trout streams such as the Pigeon and Boyne rivers. We need volunteers to help monitor stream water quality. No experience is required, simply a love of the great outdoors and an appreciation for our amazing streams.

Volunteer stream monitors collect aquatic insects, snails, crustaceans and other small invertebrates, which are used as bio-indicators to gauge the health of a stream. We focus on life in the stream, collecting aquatic "critters," such as mayflies and dragonflies, to evaluate water quality. Most people really enjoy the experience, returning time after time to experience our fantastic streams first-hand and join in the quest to protect these treasures.

If you would like to volunteer or learn more, contact Kevin Cronk at 231-347-1181, ext. 109, or via email at kevin@watershedcouncil.org. Don't miss out on the fun, call today - it's a great educational and social experience.

Meet the critters

The Friends of the Jordan River will present Backyard Wildlife every Thursday through the summer (except July 12 and Aug. 9) at 11 a.m. Shirley Vollbach will bring some of the critters who live in the farms and fields around us and let children learn about these animals through stories, facts and hands on contact. Shirley is a naturalist who has done wildlife rescue and operated a nature center in Tennessee for years. Join her on the porch of the Watershed Center to see who she brings with her.

New-rider bicycle group forming

Bicycle safety, ride etiquette and experience riding the road and the Little Traverse Wheelway are the focus of a new-rider bike group sponsored by the North Country Bicycle Club and led by Donna Moll. We will have a weekly ride each Monday morning for a short distance of 8 to 12 miles with flat terrain, a slow pace and snack stop. If this fits your ability, come along and join in the fun of learning cycling with proper instruction.

Ride schedules are posted in the Chamber of Commerce, Bike Fix Cycling Center, North Country Cycle Sport and Outside Edge for both this starter group and for more advanced rides on Tuesday and Thursday.

For more information call Donna, 231-582-7242.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

At the regular meeting of Ernest Peterson Post 228, held on Aug. 2, the following communications, reports, discussions and actions were presented or acted upon: the post received a Legion National Children and Youth Citation and an Americanism Citation for outstanding service to the community and children and youth program; donations received were $300 from the Stackus Funeral Home in appreciation of assistance provided by the honor guard, $50 from Jamie

Smith and $50 from Charlene Wojcik in memory of Maxine Hough, $50 from Donna Ward in appreciation of the graveside service by the honor guard for Randall Guy Bester; and thank you cards were received from the family of John James Salisz for the graveside service by the honor guard and from the Roy Coates family for support provided by the post at the passing of their father. It was moved, supported and passed that the post donate $100 to the Boyne City Fire Department for their Fire Prevention Program for children. It was reported that bingo is doing better and that the ad by the Auxiliary wasn't beneficial and was discontinued. The commander appointed Mary Legg as Troop Support Program officer. The WW II Veterans Memorial Committee Legion representative reported that the city bureaucracy is complicating and delaying the veterans project that may cause interest to wane resulting in the loss of support of donated labor and materials. The honor guard conducted the following: graveside services for Randall Guy Bester and John James Magee, Veteran of the Month ceremonies for Maxine Dorothy Hough and Louis Robert Bryant, and flag ceremonies at the annual Flywheelers show. The Citizen Journal published the Veteran of the Month for Maxine Dorothy Hough, the Legion News, notice to veterans and a thank you letter to the 4th of July parade committee.

Fund raisers for the WW II Monument project were discussed such as a breakfast or dinner dance. The chaplain reported on area veterans who are sick, disabled, shut-in or have answered the final call, and stated that there are 17 veterans living at Grandvue Medical Care Facility, most are doing good, and would welcome visitors. The commander stated that the 19th District meeting Sept. 16 will be hosted by the post with the squadron providing the meal. Also, we are accepting items from the public to be sent to our troops overseas, at the post on Saturdays between 3-9 p.m., and Blue Star Banners and troop support ribbons are available to the public. The next regular meeting will be held Sept. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the post home and will be preceded by the "Veteran of the Month" ceremonies at 6:15 p.m., followed by a potluck supper in their honor. Area veterans are welcome and encouraged to attend.

OBITUARY

Lucille S. Jenkins-Dodge

Lucille S. Jenkins-Dodge, 91, Jackson, died Aug. 25, 2007, at Foote Hospital.

She was born June 9, 1916, in East Jordan. She was raised in rural Antrim County, near Gaylord. She often talked and wrote fondly about her life on the farm, playing the violin and learning to drive. She began her teaching career while still a high school senior and received a masters in education from Eastern Michigan University. She taught at several so-called "country schools" before joining the Jackson School District in 1952. She retired at the age of 70, after teaching mostly 5th and 6th grade students at Allen and Tomlinson for 32 years. During her 51-year teaching career, with the exception of a bout with cancer, she was rarely absent from the classroom and was well known for teaching "standard" classroom materials enhanced by after-school life skills such as crafts, knitting and cooking. After retirement, she took up poetry (winning second place in a 1997 contest) and painting, while continuing to maintain her extensive flower gardens.

She married Robert Carl Jenkins and moved to Henrietta Township where they built the family home and raised two children: a daughter, Kay, and a son, Roger who preceded her in death in 1984. Widowed in 1979, she later married Wynard Dodge, and he also preceded her in death. Lucille was an active supporter of Henrietta Township, particularly the library and fire department. She was named Citizen Patriot Citizen of the Year in 2001.

She is survived by her sister, Virginia, and brother,

Charles, both of East Jordan; her daughter, W. Kay Voorhees and grandson, David E. Voorhees of LaCygne, Kan.; her grandchildren, Amy L. Dausey of Pois, Wis., Allan R. Jenkins of Green Bay, Wis., Michele Krueger-Rux of Spencer, Wis.; 8 great-grandchildren, and her step-grandson, David Dodge.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, Oct. 13, at 1 p.m. at the Henrietta Township Fire Station. In lieu of flowers, the family has requested memorials be sent to the Henrietta Township Public Library, Henrietta Township Fire Department, or the American Cancer Society. Arrangements by Caskey-Mitchell Funeral Home, Stockbridge.

Don't Skip Breakfast

If you don't eat breakfast regularly, you may want to make it part of your morning routine. Research indicates that eating breakfast has health benefits and can help manage weight. It is associated with lower body mass when compared to those who skip breakfast. It also reduces risk of obesity and insulin resistance and is a proven strategy for maintaining weight loss longterm. Studies show that people who skip breakfast tend to eat more calories through the day. Make sure to choose healthy options like low-sugar whole grain cereals, fruits, yogurt, oatmeal, etc.

Ramblers rally to beat Grayling, 3-2, in soccer

By GREG GIELCZYK
SPORTS WRITER

BOYNE CITY — It was what coaches often refer to as "gut check" time for the Boyne City Ramblers boys soccer team last week against Grayling.

Down by two goals with eight minutes left in the first half of their match, the Ramblers were admittedly a little shook. But that feeling didn't last long.

Grayling didn't score again, and the Ramblers owned the second half en route to pulling out a thrilling 3-2 comeback victory that lifted them to a 1-1 record for the season.

"We were back on our heels after they (Grayling) scored those two goals," Boyne City soccer coach Nick Baic said. "But, the kids dug down deep, and found the energy necessary to come back for the win."

Sterling Adgate got the first Ramblers goal on an assist from Brendan Baic at the four-minute mark of the second half. It served to light a fuse on the Ramblers' offense.

Ethan Mapes tied the game with 15 minutes remaining in the second period, and then 10 minutes later Beau Kroondyk received a corner kick which Phillip Conklin headed into the corner of the Grayling goal for the winner.

"All goals are good, but ours were all technically good shots," coach Baic said. "They were well placed, and well shot. There were no sloppy goals."

Tyler Urman paced the Boyne City defense, which picked its game up a notch in the second half and controlled the ball, while Mike Fox had 14 saves in goal.

"It wasn't our best defensive effort, tactically," coach Baic said. "We had people trying hard, but we didn't have our coordination down. But, it's getting there."

Grayling had already played three games prior to seeing the Ramblers.

That played a role in the beginning

"We started out a little flat," coach Baic said. "We hadn't played a game in quite awhile. They kind of had a little bit of a head start on us, as far as game experience."

"I don't think we've ever come back from two goals before. It could be the first time we've done that."

Boyne City isn't scheduled to play again until Sept. 10, when the Ramblers host Charlevoix.

Boyne City rambles past Newberry, 21-0

By GREG GIELCZYK
SPORTS WRITER

NEWBERRY — Boyne City varsity football coach Dave Hills had several reasons to be smiling after last Friday night's 21-0 non-conference victory over Newberry.

For starters, it was the Ramblers' second consecutive shut-out. Any time the defense hangs a goose egg on someone, the coach has to be beaming afterward.

Secondly, the Ramblers are off to a 2-0 start and gathering momentum for what they hope will be a run at the Lake Michigan Conference title and a playoff berth.

And, last but by certainly not least, the Ramblers took advantage of two key turnovers by Newberry inside what is commonly called "the red zone."

That's the area from the opponent's 20-yard line on in to the end zone.

If a team picks up a fumble or intercepts a pass in that area and fails to punch the ball into the end zone ... it calls more for a frown than a grin from the coach.

But the Ramblers didn't disappoint coach Hills, quickly capitalizing on both big turnovers to spoil any chance Newberry had of staying in the game.

After some spotty play in a season-opening 34-0 win over McBain, the Ramblers tightened things up against Newberry and didn't experience much trouble.

Dominating the game defensively, the Ramblers further finetuned their offense in preparation for major tests that await them down the line.

Ramblers capitalize on turnovers

The Ramblers benefited from two costly mistakes by the Indians. One was a fumbled punt return, as well as another fumble when they were threatening to score.

Newberry's defense managed to hold the Ramblers' running attack to just 142 yards on 29 carries for the night, a total that coach Hills definitely wasn't happy about.

But the Ramblers won the field position battle, and that made the difference.

With the offensive line again providing excellent blocking, the Ramblers managed to make enough headway on the ground to continue its ball control attack.

Robby Jensen was their leading rusher for the game with 92 yards. Trever Krusel added 68 yards rushing.

Red Devils cross-country makes noise at Benzie meet

By GREG GIELCZYK
SPORTS WRITER

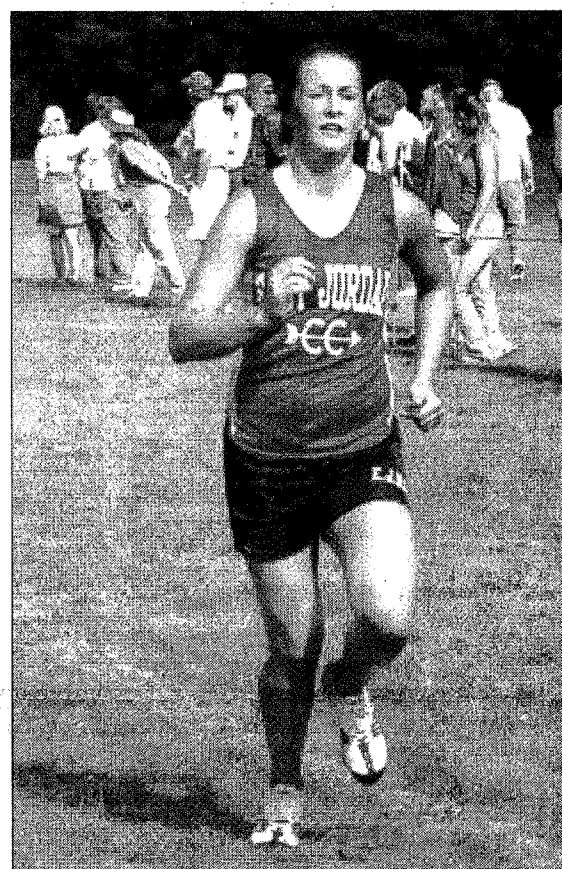

BENZONIA — Meghan Thomas paced the East Jordan girls cross country team in last Saturday's Benzie Central Invitational with a seventh place finish in the White Division.

Thomas had a time of 21:44, beating Glen Lake's Amber Therrien, who finished ninth in 21:54.

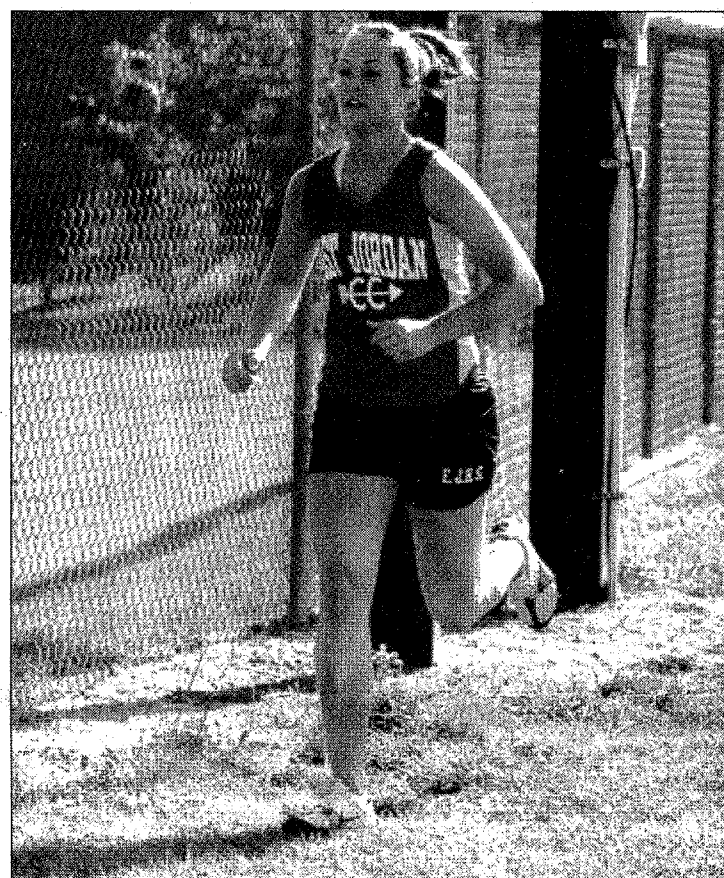

Alicia Oliver was the next East Jordan runner to finish, coming in 25th with a time of 23:14.

Brady Brennan followed her with a time of 26:01 for 55th place, while

For the boys, Nick Zell led the way with a 41st place finish in a time of 20:37, followed by Felix Kevekordes in 55th place with a time of 21:57 and Ben Winter in 60th position with a time of 22:21.

East Jordan's Meghan Thomas set the pace for the cross country team at the meet in Benzononia.

Red Devils lose to St. Ignace, 34-8

By GREG GIELCZYK
SPORTS WRITER

EAST JORDAN — First-year East Jordan varsity football coach Chris Nelson had a more auspicious home debut in mind than what transpired on the field last Thursday night against St. Ignace.

The Red Devils (0-2), perhaps feeling some jitters in their first home game with a new coach, turned the ball over twice in their first four possessions.

It was a bad omen.

St. Ignace didn't squander either gift opportunity, converting both miscues into touchdowns and rolled to a 34-8 victory to spoil the Red Devils' home opener.

Coach Nelson's comments to the media after the game reflected the gloomy mood that prevailed the atmosphere outside the Red Devils' locker room.

"It's tough," coach Nelson said. "Mentally for the kids, we ran four plays to start the game, and we had two turnovers. One is hard enough, and it seems two really takes the wind out of you."

Like a punch to the solar plexus.

St. Ignace didn't waste any time converting those turnovers into touchdowns, either, and that also sent the air whistling out of East Jordan's balloon.

Body blows take toll on Red Devils

The game resembled a prizefight in many aspects, with St. Ignace hammering away at the Red Devils with body blows that eventually took their toll.

After the first 30 minutes were finally over, St. Ignace had punched out 211 yards on offense and had a comfortable 27-0 lead at halftime.

Coughing the ball up on turnovers on two of their first four possessions had the Red Devils rocking back on the heels from the start.

East Jordan will be working on eliminating that problem in practice.

"The turnovers are something that we really have to work on," coach Nelson said. "We have to be more disciplined on offense so we're not making those mistakes."

St. Ignace intercepted the Red Devils' first pass attempt of the game, and turned into six points soon after when Jesse Becker scored on a 27-yard run.

Kyle Smock went in from four yards out to make it 12-0 for the Saints, and he scored again early in the second quarter on a one-yard plunge as the score increased to 20-0. St. Ignace made it 27-0 at the half on an 18-yard scoring strike from quarterback Gerritt Mortensen to tight end Alec Fitzgerald.

Red Devils never gave up

East Jordan trailed 34-0 early in the third quarter after Becker went into the end zone on a five-yard run, just two plays after intercepted another Red Devils pass.

Finally, the Red Devils found the end zone with just two minutes left in the fourth quarter when quarterback Scott Hansen kept the ball himself and scooted one yard for the score. Jordan Richards ran in the two-point conversion. "One thing about these guys is they never give up," coach Nelson said. "It seemed we were able to drive the ball all game, but it was either a bad penalty or a turnover that would stop us."

"Their (the Saints') defense was designed to stop the run with six guys up front, and a single linebacker," coach Nelson said. "But, we were able to get off some decent runs."

East Jordan running backs Anthony Castle,

Marshall Page and Richards combined to rush for 82 yards. Hansen completed 12-of-26 passes for 125 yards. Sophomore receiver Matt Werner caught six of them for 42 yards, Hines had two for 34 and James Brown one for 29.

Neil Schneider was the Red Devils' leading tackler with 14, Page made 10 stops and Brown nine. Lucas Spence, Castle and Hines all had eight tackles each. Hines intercepted a pass, and Spencer recovered a fumble.

- You might be surprised to learn that there are no distilleries in the town of Bourbon, Kentucky.
- Bausch & Lomb, a company best known for its eye-care products, was originally known as Vulcanite Optical Instrument Company.
- Celine Dion and Gladys Knight both made their public singing debuts when they were only 5 years old.
- Unless you've been living under a rock, you've heard of the seventh, and final, installment in the Harry Potter series, "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows." It's now become the fastest-selling book in history, with 11 million copies being purchased in the first 24 hours alone. The series has been so successful that the author, J.K. Rowling, is the first person to become a billionaire by writing books. According to Forbes, she is the second richest female entertainer in the world (after Oprah Winfrey, of course), and the magazine also ranked her as the 48th most powerful celebrity for 2007. With all her fame and money, it's interesting to note that Rowling was once fired for writing on the job.
- It was libertarian author and lecturer James Bovard who, in 1994, made the following sage observation: "Democracy must be something more than two wolves and a sheep voting on what to have for dinner."

- Those who study first families of the United States say that first lady Pat Nixon ironed her own dresses, first lady Rosalynn Carter mended the family's clothes, and President Harry Truman washed his own undergarments.
- The last state to officially abolish slavery was Mississippi—and it wasn't until 1995 that it happened.

Another year of drag race challenges

Once again the "burn out" is the center of attention at the BCPD Drag Races, as seen from Boyne's aerial fire truck.

Fastest machine at the BCPD Drag Races this Labor Day Weekend was this Arctic Cat snowmobile. Here the driver has time to look back to check his lead over the competition. Photos by Vic Ruggles We're Open!

While construction crews are digging in to build a better future for our community, all downtown businesses are open and ready to serve you. Rear entrances and parking are available to make things a little easier until the Water Street reconstruction is completed late this fall. See you downtown!
