VOL. 128, NO. 46 WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 2008 75 CENTS BOYNE CITY, MICHIGAN 49712

At a glance Absentee ballots

Absentee voter ballots may be obtained by mailing the application offered online at www.Michigan.gov/vote, by a letter, a postcard, or a pre-printed application form available from the local clerk's office.

Absentee ballots are available to those aged 60-years-old or older, physically unable to attend the polls without assistance, expecting to be out of town on election day, in jail awaiting arraignment or trial, or unable to attend the polls due to religious reasons.

For the Jan. 15 election, voters must indicate whether they wish to receive a Democratic or Republican ballot. Voters who only wish to participate in a Jan. 15 local special election and not the primary may do so by asking for a no party declaration ballot that does not include presidential candidates. To receive an absentee ballot by mail, you must submit an absentee ballot application to your township or city clerk by 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 12. Voters also have until 4 p.m. Monday, Jan. 14, to vote in person in your clerk's office.

Eagles offer rides to vote

The Boyne City Eagles Jub members are offer. ing rides to city residents who want to vote on the parking exempt referendum on Jan. 15. Call the Eagles club at 231-582-6904 to schedule a ride.

The new Rogers Family Homestead Preserve lies along more than a mile of the Jordan River just outside of East Jordan. The Rogers family worked with Little Traverse Conservancy to keep 86 acres of land permanently protected.

EAST JORDAN — A family that has owned land in the Jordan River area for nearly140 years has designated 86 acres as a nature preserve.

The family of Marguerite (Rogers) Stokes and the late Donald Stokes has created the Rogers Family Homestead Preserve through the Little Traverse Conservancy and several donors. The land lies along more than a mile of the Jordan River. It is adjacent to two other nature preserves owned by the Conservancy. Marguerite was a teacher for many years in the East Jordan area, as well as a farmer. It was her grandfather, Samuel G. Rogers who settled the original homestead about the year 1869.

Little Traverse Conservancy worked with the family, including Carolyn and Bill Ashley, and the following contributors to make the Rogers Family Homestead Preserve project a reality: the J.A. Woollam Foundation, the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, North American Wetland Conservation Act program, Taylor Endowment Fund, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMullen, Jasam Foundation, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dow, Frey Foundation and American Commercial Lines.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY --- Two men arrested for larceny from the Boyne Area Medical Center parking lot in Boyne City appeared in court on Friday, Dec. 28.

Douglas Robert Goodenow, 51, and Jerry Wayne Quance, 52, both from the Boyne area, appeared in Charlevoix County Circuit Court on the various charges against them.

Goodenow pled guilty to a charge of resisting and obstructing a police officer, a two-year felony. Two other charges, automobile theft and larceny, were dropped. Goodenow was on parole from serving time in prison for earlier convictions. He is scheduled for sentencing in circuit court on Jan. 18.

Quance was in court with his attorney for a scheduling conference regarding the four charges against him. They are unlawful driving away a motor vehicle, drunk driving 3rd offense, a felony, larceny under $200, and 4th time offender which is also a felony. A tentative date for a plea offer is Jan. 18.

The Boyne City Police responded to a call on Friday, Dec. 7, reporting that two men were removing items from vehicles in the Boyne Area Medical Center parking lot. The men, Goodenow and Quance, then drove off in one of the vehicles. The two attempted to flee and resisted arrest. The Michigan State Police and the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office assisted in apprehending the men.

School board reviews Headlee

EAST JORDAN - At its regular meeting on Monday, Dec. 17, the East Jordan Public Schools Board of Education reviewed information relative to the 2008 Headlee Restoration Proposal that will be placed before voters at the May annual election.

The district's current restoration of 2.25 mills, which was overwhelmingly approved by district voters a year ago, expires on Dec. 31. The district seeks Headlee Restorations on an annual basis to ensure that the district is able to levy the full 18-mill property tax on Non-Homestead property in the district. That was originally approved by voters in 1995 for a period of 20 years.

"Buy into Boyne" returns

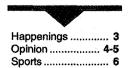

"Buy Into Boyne" is returning for 2008, sponsored by the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce and Boyne City Main Street.

New this year will be a "Kick Off" event Feb. 16 in downtown Boyne City, featuring a chili cook-off, family activities, winter games, an open house for participating businesses and a Presidents' Day scavenger hunt at all participating businesses, with prizes.

The final drawing will take place May 9, during the Mushroom Festival.

Watch for more information to come later, including participating businesses, and get ready to "Buy into Boyne."

The city placed the signs to recognize the achievement and the hard work and training by the ski team and the coaches. The signs are located on M-75 South near the Charlevoix County Road Commission and on M-75 North (State Street) by Rotary Park.

The city congratulates the Boyne City High School Girls Ski Team 2007 State Champions on a job well done.

The Board will finalize a restoration proposal in February, however, at this time it looks as though the same levy. (2.25 mills) that was approved by voters a year ago will cover the district's expected Headlee reduction in 2008-2009.

In other matters, the board approved child-care leave of absences for Elementary School faculty members Kelly Neer and Charity Patten.

The board reviewed and approved a retire/rehire arrangement for food service staff member Camille Yarbrough. Mrs. Yarbrough's retirement was effective Dec. 1. Her retire/rehire agreement will take effect on Jan. 1, 2008. The district expects to benefit from Mrs. Yarbrough's experience in her position as the Lead Cook at the High School, while also saving more than $3,250 in wage and benefit payments during the remainder of the 2007-2008 school year.

Some of the community stories during the year 2007 are still in the news, while others concluded with a happy ending.

Stories of parking in the downtown areas of Boyne City and East Jordan will continue into the year 2008. On Jan. 15, Boyne City voters will decide the parking boundary zone issue that has been the subject of numerous stories. In fact, an editorial about the matter is in today's issue. East Jordan may have solved its parking problem. A letter was sent from the city to businesses asking that employees not park in prime downtown spots, but leave them open for shoppers.

County stories that have an impact on Boyne City and East Jordan and the surrounding areas are the disrepair of the Boyne City-Charlevoix Road and the county road commission's decision not to plow snow on the weekends. The reason for both decisions is economic and political. Both of these matters caused a great deal of concern to citizens and we will follow future actions into the new year.

PETOSKEY — The hardest part about donating gifts to a little boy Diane Lewis chose from the Giving Tree wasn't finding what he wanted; it was trying not to go overboard with lots of other presents, too.

With a 3-year-old grandson herself, Lewis, Northern Michigan Regional Hospital Information Technology and Call Center Manager, was one of nearly 100 hospital staff who made Christmas wishes come true for dozens of northern Michigan families in need.

"Some of them had very few things on their list and you just wanted to get more for them. I threw in a few more trucks, too," said Lewis. "It is the season '

Lewis, along with Donna Gengle, the Hospital's Information Technology Applications Manager, coordinated the gift drive to benefit Child and Family Services of Northwestern Michigan and its Paper Angels program.

Over the last several weeks, hospital staff looked over the wishes of area children and families written on paper ornaments hung on the Giving Tree in the hospital lobby. The lists requested everything from toys to household supplies and food items, and each ornament included the age and gender of the requestor. Staff purchased the lieve it. I was just as-items on their chosen list, and the goods were given to Child and Family Services for distribution.

'We ended up sending out of here seven carloads of gifts," said Lewis. "I could not betounded at the generosity of the organization, of the people that work here. It was very heartwarming to see the outpouring of love."

Along with two families helped through the Women's Resource Center, in total hospital staff fulfilled the wishes of at least 90 area residents, who each received a minimum of three gifts.

Gina Aranki, marketing director of Child and Family Services, said the hospital staff deserves recognition for its generosity this holiday season to hundreds of foster families and kids, children victimized by sexual abuse, and others in need.

"It is a program that we created to assure that the children and families in our care receive holiday gifts," Aranki said. "Every gift is a big gift and we appreciate what the hospital has done."

Seasonal Affective Disorder

If you experience symptoms of depression each winter that disappear in the spring, you may suffer from SAD (Seasonal Affective Disorder). Symptoms include changes in sleeping and eating habits, weight gain, feelings of hopelessness or apathy and lethargy. The cause is believed to be associated with melatonin, a sleep-related hormone. Shorter, darker winter days seem to stimulate an increased production of this hormone in some people. Treatments include bright light therapy and some antidepressant medications. Discuss your symptoms with your doctor.

Boyne City to vote on parking exempt zone

Michigan's primary election is Tuesday, Jan. 15. In addition to voting for the candidate to be nominated for President of the United States, voters within the city of Boyne City will vote on a proposal, namely the parking exempt zone referendum.

The parking exempt zone is a downtown area designated by the city commission. Developers and business owners located within the zone boundaries may request a waiver that allows them to provide fewer parking spaces than the number required by the zoning ordinance. The ordinance requires a certain number of parking spaces based on the size of the project. The pertinent section of the zoning ordinance is Article XXIV, Section 24.20.

If approved for a waiver, developers and business owners then pay a fee (as yet undetermined) into the city's parking fund based on the number of spaces waived. The city would use the fund money for creating parking spaces elsewhere.

The boundary zone runs roughly along Main Street, Pine Street, the waterfront streets to State Street and dog-legs along parts of Spring, Pearl and Boyne streets.

In September 2007, the city commission approved the boundary area of the parking exempt zone and voted to amend the city ordinance. Subsequently, approximately 700 citizens petitioned against that approval. It was then decided to put the issue before the voters to decide whether the city commission's actions stand, or whether to rescind the commission's decision.

A "yes" vote on the parking exempt zone referendum is a vote to rescind the city commission's boundary zone actions. It means that developers and business owners would not be allowed to request waivers. Instead, they would be required to construct the number of parking spaces required by the zoning ordinance, or appeal to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

A "no" vote is a vote to let the parking exempt boundary zone stand as approved of by the city commission. Developers and business owners located within the boundary zone would then be able to seek waivers from the city to construct fewer parking spaces for their projects. They would pay a fee into the city's parking fund for each space waived.

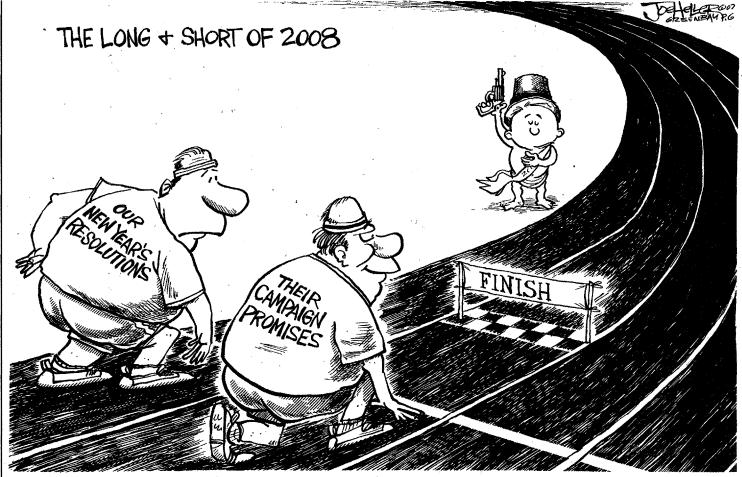

Opponents of the parking exempt boundary zone say that allowing fewer parking spaces for a project will create a parking crunch downtown with too many cars and not enough spaces. They say the downtown businesses will suffer because people will shop elsewhere when they are unable to find a parking space.

Proponents of the parking exempt boundary zone say that the city has more than enough parking spaces downtown. They say that waiver of parking spaces will bring more development and business to downtown and discourage sprawl. The funds collected for each space waived by the city will be used to construct parking lots convenient to downtown, they say

Don't forget to vote on this important issue.

Bill and Lynda Christensen had a nice visit from Tim Goodwin of Grand Rapids and his sister Betty Goodwin from Honolulu during the Christmas break. Christmas day Kristie, Chris and Sara joined their folks for dinner. Later in the day Lynda's brothers, John and Pam, Jim and Teresa and her nephews, Noah, Chester and Jeremy Yell stopped by for fun and games, with Lizzie Yell, Lynda's seven-year-old great niece. A fun time was had by all.

That's what I like about the south

I love northern Michigan in the wintertime. I'm certainly not alone, but I may be in the minority with my passion for rising early, setting up a pot of coffee and coaxing a friendly flame from the ashes of yesterday's fire. I never tire of watching the sky lighten to reveal a fresh fall of snow. It's peaceful and thrilling at the same time. It's cozy and comfortable. It inspires the feeling that everything is as it should be and that all is right with the world. The cords of split wood stacked on the porch are better than money in the bank. The pantry and freezer are stocked with last summer's bounty and if I had to, I could survive for weeks in my private snow globe.

As I sip my first cup and ramble around the house, I'm aware of this feeling of contentment. The niggling itch of responsibility seems to soften in the winter. My focus narrows to include only the most mandatory tasks, to be executed within the parameters of this frozen world in my own good time. There is a certain enforced moderation to this season. A very definite delineation between the obligatory and the optional. And although it's sweet, I've perhaps become overly fond of my familiar routine. At least that's what I told myself when I set out this winter for a few months in Florida.

As I drove the 1,200 miles to Amelia Island, I had plenty of time to reflect upon other escapades. What happened to the adventurous spirit that I nurtured with such fervor in my youth? Never mind that that fervor, that elan, was fueled with the ache of longing for experiences that might somehow change me. The possibility that beyond that road, my future would explode into a Technicolor movie with a soundtrack to die for. And sometimes it did.

But if I have learned nothing else (and this may be a real possibility) I understand now; in my semi-dotage, that it was the journey and not the destination that has marked me and made me who I am. For better or worse, we are all tattooed with the roadmaps of our various expeditions. Often, the most vivid impressions are those that we could never foresee. We make mistakes, but they are tempered with triumph. If we're fortunate, the good will outweigh the bad, or at least we will remember it that way. I'm surprised and grateful for whatever switch has flipped that allows me to appreciate them both.

What I do recall most clearly about my childhood was a yearning for summertime in the winter and vice versa. It seemed to take forever for the days to pass into a new season. I always wanted whatever I couldn't have. And now, oddly, it seems that I have what I want. It's so simple, and yet it took me so long to figure it out. I want to know that no matter where I go or what may happen en route, that I can always come back home.

And that's what I like about the South. And the East, West and North. That is what keeps the experience tantalizing and makes the journey palatable. The knowledge that the road runs both ways.

The support staff of Boyne City Schools, which includes secretaries, bus drivers, cooks, custodians and parapros, adopted a family for Christmas. They raised $575 amongst themselves and with the true spirit of giving, got a Wal-Mart gift certificate, in time for that family to get what they needed for Christmas. ***

The Garlock clan all spent Christmas Eve at Mom's for dinner and opening of their many presents. Bunny had four of her great-grandchildren present, along with ten of her grandchildren. A special "grab bag" was done in memory of their dad and grandpa, Tom. This is something the girls' dad had done for many years and daughter, Patti, has Kathie and Mike Handy spent Christmas day in Cheboygan with their two grandsons, Reece and Masin. Also coming for Christmas dinner was Molly and Antwan Moore, Cory Handy, and the Dzedzie family of Pellston, Connie, Joe, Derrick, and Katie.

On Dec. 20, the little Daisy Girl Scouts and their "Petal" friends, along with their leader, Connie Urman and her helpers, decorated Christmas cookies and brought them to Litzenburger Place and joined about 30 residents to sing carols and have cookies and hot chocolate, which was furnished by the residents "elves." She had told him how much she had enjoyed being out, even on a cold day, warmly wrapped while riding through snowy roads on a cutter, a sleigh drawn by horses. One of the guys piped up and said, "You can still do that you know. Gordon Robinson and his wife Doris take people or groups on wintry sleigh rides around their place, Horton Heights Farm, all the time and free of charge at that." So,off they went and sure enough, on a sleigh ride they did go. Ruthwas thrilled, not only with the nostalgia of the ride, but also with meeting the friendly Gordon and Doris. will be holding introduction to disaster response classes in January at the Petoskey service center. Completion of the two basic disaster classes qualifies volunteers to provide disaster assistance in the local community as members of our Disaster Action Team. Ideally, members of the local Disaster Action Team can be available to be on-call on a rotation basis.

Fulfilling Our Mission is the first in the series of Disaster Services' classes that provides a foundation for understanding the mission of the American Red Cross. Participants will learn how to apply their skill sets to disaster response situations and the mission, principles, and supporting values of the Red Cross and Red Crescent movement. This class will be held from 6-10 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 17.

Client Casework: Providing Emergency Assistance is the second class necessary to becoming a local Disaster Action Team member. Client Casework will focus on developing interviewing skills, knowledge, attitudes, and relationships necessary to meet the needs of individuals and will familiarize participants with the services available for individual clients and their families. The participant will learn the procedures and Plying familiar waters in the playoffs, and hosting an opening round game, didn't give the Ramblers the edge they'd expected as they were eliminated early.

Advancing out of the districts for the first time ever in 2007 initially didn't appear to give the Ramblers the jitters.

They played a solid first match and reached the finals by shocking the host team, Kingsley, in the semifinals.

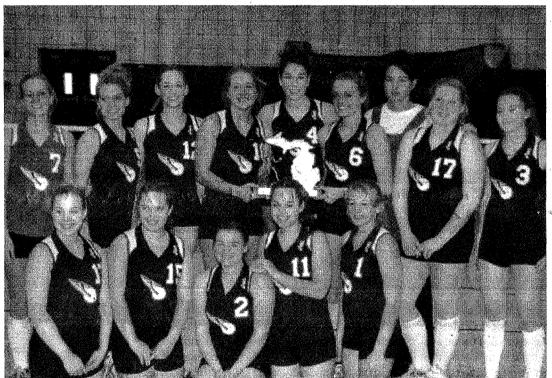

Kingsley came into the match with a long tournament history after winning its fifth straight district title.

Fill in the grid so that every row, every column, and every 3x3 grid contains the digits 1 through 9, but only once in each. No number is repeated in any row, column, or box.

Tips and computer program at www.sudoku.com. For solutions check 'JRC Publications' on the solutions page of www.sudoku.com.

DIFFICULTY: **

* Moderate  Difficult  GO FIGURE!

• As the races for the presidential nomination in both political parties heat up, it's interesting to consider that it was the 33rd president of the United States, Harry Truman, who made the following observation: "All the President is, is a glorified publicrelations man who spends his time flattering, kissing and kicking people to get them to do what they are supposed to do anyway."

• Some parental organizations, disturbed my the promotion of theft they

A New York minute

Boyne City High School seniors (from left) Britt King, Oliver Ryan, Shelley Koteskey and Maris Herrington gave their acceptance speech after receiving a Student Emmy Award from The Foundation of the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences in New York City. The award, given on May 1, recognized these and the other Boyne City High School Visual Imaging students' documentary "Mythbusters" which aired on the Discovery Channel in March.

New streets give downtown a fresh look

Boyne City has new streets downtown - Water, Front, Main and South Lake streets are rebuilt from below the ground up, said city manager Michael Cain. "We have done all this on time, on budget and on a schedule to minimize the inconvenience to our downtown businesses," Cain said at a ceremony on Friday, Nov. 2. "These improvements represent a major investment in the future of Boyne City by the city, the Boyne City Main Street Program and the state of Michigan." The state's Michigan Economic Development Corporation provided more than $1.6 million in grants.

The city acknowledged and thanked H & D for its work, and also expressed appreciation to C2AE, Northern Lakes Economic Alliance, the Michigan Economic Development Corporation, and city water and wastewater superintendent Dan Meads.

Show time in East Jordan

The Rotary Choir was part of the East Jordan Rotary Club's annual variety show hold at the high school's auditorium on Nov. 2 and 3. Other entertainment enjoyed during the evenings was the school band, the Rotary Rascals, the Weber Grill Team, the Rotary Biker Babes, and Tommy Tropic. The event is a fundralser for the Rotary Club.

Another county story is the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging and the investment fund it has built up to $1.5 million, or more. The commission states that it is working to provide more services to the county's seniors. This is an ongoing story.

There was a happy ending to the plight of some seniors living in a Boyne City apartment complex without air conditioning. The federal government had required removal of the window air conditioning units that were installed, because the units blocked a secondary escape route in case of fire. The residents could use freestanding units, but many could not afford them. With contributions from community groups, individuals and the commission on aging, eventually every senior was provided an air conditioning unit.

Another heart-warming story concerns the extensive work that volunteers from the Friends of the Boyne River performed to build up the banks of the river in the area of Old City Park. The techniques and materials used to prevent erosion were ecologically beneficial, such as native plants with long roots. The plants provide beauty as well. The entire community benefits from the work of the volunteers. A highpoint for Boyne City Public Schools was the Discovery Channel choosing films produced by students and instructors to air on the cable station. That, in turn, resulted in the award of an Emmy in New York City. East Jordan Public Schools may make a law in the state Legislature. Superintendent Chip Hansen and others from the school district drafted a bill that provides more income for the schools from the sale of forestland on school property. Rep. Kevin Elsenheimer is behind the bill. News about crime included vandalism to the Boyne City Maple Lawn Cemetery. The incident caused a great deal of sadness within the city and surrounding area. The community responded with donations to repair the damage. The vandals were apprehended and faced court action.

Lady bikers come to town

Lady bikers roll through East Jordan during the seventh annual Lady Biker's Day gathering in August. The event raises money to benefit Camp Quality, a camp for kids with cancer.

Crime stories included several drug overdose deaths. Roberta King and Alan Michael Noirot died from drug overdose. Ryan Matthew Fisher was charged in the drug death of a Petoskey attorney.

In business news, the development of several projects will provide ongoing stories. Sommerset Pointe in Eveline Township received the go-ahead for a residential and marina project. Boyne City is providing water and sewer to that development. In East Jordan, a hotel project was approved downtown, and in Boyne City two projects are still in the initial stages, the One Water Street project and the Boyne Beach Club project.

Old City Park riverbank improved

The Friends of the Boyne River restored and stabilized the riverbanks to keep the river healthy. Erosion from the banks causes sediment to settle in the water making the river eventually uninhabitable for fish. Many volunteers and contributors helped with the project that benefits the area wildlife and the community.

Jonathan Dixon, 11, of East Jordan holds the "Sheriff's Citizen Life Saving" award that was presented to him at school on Sept. 17. With him are his grandmother, Nancy Dixon, (left) and his mother, Amber Dixon (right). On Aug. 3, Jonathan rescued Chasyn Vondran, 5, who had stepped into a sink hole while swimming at the Eveline Township beach.
