Marianne Ballard of Midland shows off a very large mushroom at the festival this past weekend. Although it was not found during the contest it was still worthy of a photograph. This mushroom filled a small cooler all by itself.

Parking redesign a go

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY — The downtown parking redesign will be implemented following the Memorial Day weekend. The changes approved by city commissioners at a meeting on Tuesday, May 13, will take about two days to complete.

Angle parking is altered from 60-degree angles to 50-degree angles, giving drivers a better view when backing out of the spaces and widening each space by about four inches. A total of 11 handicapped spaces are designated, several of which will accommodate vans.

Providing handicapped parking spaces was a goal of city commissioner Mike Cummings.

"I want to thank the city for recognizing (the needs of) handicapped people. This is what the people wanted," he said.

Eight spaces will have 15-minute time limits for people who have quick errands to make, and a number of two-hour limit parking spaces will be designated on Lake and Water streets where many of the retail shops and restaurants are located. Unspecified parking time limits will still be available in the downtown area.

Employees of the downtown businesses will have areas for parking on nearby streets so that prime spaces will be available for shoppers and visitors.

Parking enforcement will be based primarily on police response to complaints they receive.

The parking redesign was based in part on comments made by residents and business owners at meetings hosted by city staff in April. Maps that show the parking designations may be obtained at City Hall.

The redesign is on a trial basis this summer to determine the practicality of the changes. The city seeks comments from business owners and others on any changes that may need fine-tuning.

Lasater will not seek re-election

By JEFF BERGREN
EDITOR

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY — The longest serving sheriff in the state of Michigan has decided not to seek re-election to his office this fall after 32 years of service. Charlevoix County Sheriff George T. Lasater announced his decision on Wednesday, May 14, saying it was "long thought and difficult after investing 32 years in service to the residents of Charlevoix County."

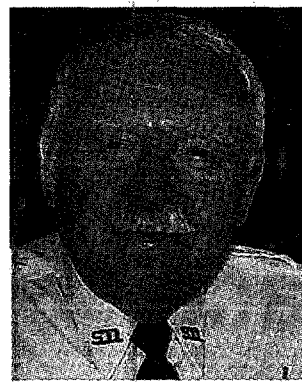

After last Tuesday's filing deadline passed the nominating petitions filed for the office of sheriff were by current undersheriff Don Schneider and retired detective Don Sproul, both as Republicans.

"I promised my undersheriff, William D. Schneider, four years ago, if re-elected I would not seek re-election and do everything I could to see that he was able to be elected as Sheriff of Charlevoix County," Lasater said. "I feel keeping my word is more important to me than seeking re-election, therefore, my decision has been made."

Lasater, 70, was adamant this was not the end of his career by not seeking re-election, saying he will seek other opportunities in Charlevoix County to serve his family and friends.

"The citizens have been very good to me. They have allowed me to fulfill a childhood dream and I appreciate that very much," Lasater commented. "I've seen a lot of changes and we have had a lot of challenges but I've been able to surround myself with an excellent staff, so they have made the job a lot easier than it would have been."

Lasater will support Schneider, 65, of Eveline Township who has been with the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office the past 26 years. Schneider started as a road patrol deputy and has been undersheriff the past 11 years.

Schneider has filled in as sheriff in the past when Lasater was injured and Lasater credited him with doing an excellent job. While he is backing Schneider, Lasater said Sproul has always done a good job and has nothing but respect for him as an excellent officer.

Sproul, 57, of Charlevoix Township, retired from the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office in April of 2007 and has been working for the Boyne City Police Department the past few months.

"I would like to thank the citizens of Charlevoix County who have supported and believed in me for the last 32 years," Lasater said. "Hopefully, the one area remembered about my leadership in the sheriff's office is that I was able to surround myself with an excellent and outstanding staff who consequently has given the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office the reputation as one of the finest law enforcement agencies in Michigan."

Lasater was quick to thank all the people he has worked with and his message for the next sheriff was simple.

"When people praise me they probably give me too much credit. The credit should be to the people I have surrounded myself with," Lasater added. "The message is the same as I presented to them from the very beginning. That is treat people as you would like to be treated and that goes a long way. Just be honest and loyal to Charlevoix County and things will work out okay."

Lasater's term ends on December 31.

East Jordan new budget approved

But not all agree

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

EAST JORDAN — In a 4-3 vote the city commission adopted the new city budget for 2008-2009 at a May 6 commission meeting, following what Mayor Dan Bennett said was eight weeks of budget work sessions.

Commissioners Lee Symonds, Ron Klooster, Mark Postma and Mayor Dan Bennett voted to adopt the budget. Commissioners Ray Fisher, Paul Timmons and Deneille Moes voted not to adopt the budget, generally because they wanted more cuts in expenditures. The new budget's general fund shows revenues in the amount of $1,671,992 and expenditures in the amount of $1,671,815.

Property taxes in the anticipated amount of $1,158,306 provide the largest source of revenue on which the city operates. State revenue at an expected $270,000 provides the second largest source of revenue. Permits, interest, township contracts and cable franchise fees are some of the other sources of revenue.

The police department is the city's largest expenditure at $465,555. The Department of Public Works at $164,497 is the second largest expense budgeted in the 2008-2009 budget. Attorney fees, administration, recreation and parks, buildings and grounds and sidewalks are some of the other expenditures.

The non-union employees will receive a 2.5 percent raise under the 2008-2009 budget. Commissioner Moes submitted proposed cuts and asked that the commission discuss them at the next meeting.

"We should try to make some cuts because it would make a difference in the health of the city," Moes said. "We're spending every penny and we have no reserve for an emergency."

The city's police department, which is budgeted at $465,555, could be cut back by approximately $75,000 under Moes's proposal. Much of that amount would be from cuts in personnel, for instance reducing the police force by one full-time officer. The department would then employ four officers instead of five.

Moes compared crime statistics for the year 2000 with the year 2007 and found larceny was one of the few crimes that had increased. Assault and battery, breaking and entering, malicious destruction of property and criminal sexual assault were among the crimes that have significantly decreased, she said.

With the sewer fund's balance at $2.6 million and the water fund's balance at $1.2 million, Moes said the funds should be capped at a specified amount. When the money exceeds expenses under the capped amount, the city should give cuts to the citizens, she said.

The new budget calls for a five-cent per cubic foot increase on water usage, but it also calls for a five-cent decrease on the debt fund, said city administrator David White.

Moes is one of the commissioners who, along with a group of citizens, have questioned the city's financial status.

"All I want is disclosure to the people and that the city is honest with them and with the commissioners. We need to have efficiency and accountability," Moes said.

Amendment would extend permits

By B. J. HETLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

BOYNE CITY — A proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance would extend the time that a zoning permit is valid from one year to two years.

Zoning permits are required by the city when someone wants to build a house or a developer plans construction of a project.

Planning director, Scott McPherson, recommended that the city commission consider the amendment at the commission's May 13 meeting.

"The adverse and unpredictable nature of the northern Michigan construction season does impact many construction projects," McPherson said at the meeting. "It was viewed by the planning commission that extending the zoning permit for a second construction season would be reasonable and allow projects sufficient time for completion."

Many permit holders have made substantial progress on their projects, but are not 100 percent complete within the one-year time frame, McPherson said. The two-year permit would allow a second construction season for projects.

A two-year permit would also allow for longer term financing of projects, he said. City commissioners reviewed the amendment to section 28.35 of the zoning ordinance and scheduled a second review for June 24.

MUSIC BEAT

CHRIS OSTERHOUSE

The Boyne City Performing Arts Center was packed for the Horton Creek concert Saturday night, May 17. Cheering exploded from the audience as the band started their opening number. The songs were dripping with old timey, loaded with banjo and fiddle twanging. They had a sound that was reminiscent of the tunes on Oh Brother Where Art Thou, a movie set in the dust bowl era.

Horton Creek's harmonies were precise, and there was a strong gospel feeling to some of the songs. It was the kind of music that goes well with peach pie or a tall glass of ice-cold country lemonade - down homey with a religious drawl. The lyrics and bluegrass sound were like the performances that can be seen on Sunday mornings on cable.

During tune-ups Scott Boss, one of the singers, joked around to the delight of the crowd. They erupted into laughter at his comments on wife Cindy's country western outfit. After the initial jokes and teasing, the band let loose into the performance.

The third song was interesting with its imagery of a little sparrow, small and fragile, flying high without pain. Mike Harmeling, the banjo and mandolin player, said it was a Dolly Parton tune. The songs had a steady rambling beat on the troling bass, and the crowd clapped in time here and there to the music.

One song was particularly intriguing. The band played it through once and then ran through it a second time with a kicked-up tempo. The guitar and banjo were very fast-paced, yet no one fumbled at the high speed. Later, Scott Boss took out a ukulele with no strings. He pretended to play along with an instrumental piece that gained much applause. At the end of the song the banjo player, John Warstler, teased that the monitor should have been turned down on the ukulele.

One beautiful number with a very subdued instrumental beginning caught the crowd's attention. The lines "Dressed in flannel and blue jeans, I was no beauty queen," spoke of the importance of the inside not the outside.

At one point Brian Eggers, the electric guitar and mandolin player, performed a song he wrote. It was a softly sung modern rock ballad with a touch of bluegrass.

The lineup for Horton Creek, for those of you who do not know it, consists of Brian Eggers on electric guitar/mandolin, Bob Harmeling on bass, Dave Eggebrecht on fiddle/mandolin, John Warstler on guitar/frailing banjo, Tom Eggers on lead guitar, Mike Harmeling on banjo/mandolin, Cindy Boss, lead singer/percussion, and Scott Boss, singer.

I am sure that with the popularity of the Horton Creek band in this area we'll be happy to see (and hear) them again soon.

Free rides for seniors

Charlevoix County Commission on Aging and County Board of Commissioners in collaboration with Charlevoix County Transit Oversight Committee are doing their part to assist seniors with the increased demand of the high cost of gasoline by providing free transportation for seniors 60 and over by Charlevoix County Transit bus system, including use of transit bus on Beaver Island.

Free rides for senior customers will start June 2 for 3 months. This is a pilot program to provide more senior-friendly transportation and alleviate the cost of driving your own car, thus decreasing global demands for gasoline. Seniors will still need to call ahead to arrange for transportation at 231-582-6900. The free rides will be limited to within the county for any activity such as shopping, senior center activities, and out-of-county to medical appointments (unreimbursed) only by using the Charlevoix County Transit bus system.

The new transit director, Ray Leach, and COA director, Sue Bergmann, are striving to make Charlevoix County a Senior Friendly County and to improve services provided to its elderly residents. Cost of this program is being funded by Charlevoix County Senior Millage.

Medical personnel attend to Harold Keck of Petoskey after he became trapped underneath a motor coach bus while doing repairs.

Man trapped underneath bus

By JEFF BERGREN
EDITOR

BOYNE FALLS — The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office responded to a call on Tuesday, May 13, when a man became trapped underneath a motor coach bus in a parking lot at Boyne Mountain at about 2 p.m.

Harold Frank Keck, 62, of Petoskey, was working on a 1995 Prevost Motor Coach Bus' brakes when he asked the driver, James Charles Schreiber, 58, of Midland to start the vehicle to charge the brake line.

When Schreiber turned on the bus he noticed the motor coach had rolled back and quickly put on the front brake to keep the bus from moving back further onto Keck. Schreiber then called 911.

Keck was transported to Northern Michigan Hospital by the Boyne Valley EMS where he was treated for his injuries.

The Sheriff's Office was assisted by Boyne Valley EMS, Boyne City EMS, Boyne Valley Fire Department, Boyne City Fire Department, and the Melrose Township Fire Department.

The officer on the scene did not know the extent of Keck's injuries and he was listed in serious condition on Wednesday, May 14.

SPECIAL REPORT

FORT BRAGG, N.C. — Wounded soldiers need highly specialized care. Getting soldiers healed from physical, psychological or emotional wounds is recognized as an Army mission of highest priority, second only to combat.

The son of a Boyne City couple is one of America's warriors in transition. The care he receives is personal and as important as serving in a war zone.

Army Sgt. Matthew A. Brong, son of Arthur and Marilyn Brong, is assigned to the Warrior Transition Battalion here. He is being treated by a newly formed Army unit that exists solely to facilitate the recovery of soldiers. Brong is in a recovery setting unlike any the Army had yet to offer.

"I was riding in an up-armored Humvee in Iraq. The Humvee was struck by an IED (roadside bomb)," said Brong, a 2002 graduate of Boyne City High School.

"At the time, I was serving as an infantry fire team leader. I was medically evacuated to Germany for surgery and then was sent to Walter Reed," said Brong. "I sustained multiple lumbar vertebral fractures and traumatic brain injury," he said. "Now, I am waiting to reclassify to a job that I can still medically qualify for," explained Brong.

Army Sgt. Matthew A. Brong is recovering at the Warrior Transition Battalion located at Fort Bragg, N.C.

The battalion here is among 35 warrior transition units worldwide established in mid 2007 to better serve the severely injured soldiers' needs. The transition unit's staff focuses on a system called "triad of care," staffed by a platoon or squad leader, primary care manager and a case manager for each soldier.

The "triad of care" maintains soldiers' records, takes them to appointments, ensures their finances are in line and also helps their families with issues they might be having. Soldiers like Brong recognize how convalescing here has been of great benefit on the road to recovery.

"The transition battalion has provided me with physical therapy to work towards my return to active duty," said Brong. "They have also provided me with administrative support by helping to reclassify me into a job that is less physically demanding," he said.

Each soldier is cared and accounted for continually until he or she is ready to transition back to their unit or into the civilian world. Before his recovery began, Brong was assigned to multiple locations.

"I have been on active duty for just under four years," said Brong. "I trained at Fort Benning, Ga., and then was assigned to Fort Bragg. I plan to remain on active duty and hope to reclassify into military intelligence," said Brong.

Governor declares EAB Awareness Week

LANSING — Governor Jennifer M. Granholm has declared the week of May 18, Emerald Ash Borer Awareness Week in Michigan, which is part of an effort to limit the spread of EAB to Michigan's Upper Peninsula and across the nation.

"Across the Lower Peninsula, Michigan residents have witnessed the loss of millions of ash trees, which in some cases has dramatically changed the landscape of what were once beautiful tree-lined streets," said Granholm. "We continue to fight the battle to save what is left of this precious natural resource and call on residents to join us in that fight."

State officials are asking residents to honor quarantines that are in place, which make the transport of hardwood firewood off-limits to the Upper Peninsula or out of quarantined areas. Also banned is the movement of regulated articles such as ash trees, ash logs and lumber with bark, and wood chips greater than one inch.

State agriculture officials note that for residents in Michigan's Lower Peninsula, EAB has been a household name for the last six years; however, it's relatively new to residents and travelers in the Upper Peninsula. Michigan is participating in a national prevention effort to halt the spread of EAB across the United States.

"Michigan continues to be on the front-line in efforts to identify biological control organisms and treatment options as well as national research efforts to learn more about how we can live with EAB," said Michigan

Department of Agriculture (MDA) Director Don Koivisto.

"Although there are isolated areas of infestation, the U.P. continues to be a primary focus in preventing the pest from spreading to Michigan's western U.P. and neighboring states. EAB Awareness Week further highlights our efforts to ensure the UP's forest resources don't suffer the same devastating effects experienced in much of the Lower Peninsula."

Michigan residents and visitors are urged to learn about EAB and adhere to the state's quarantine banning the transport of ash trees, ash materials, and all hardwood firewood from quarantined areas. Quarantine violators face fines/penalties ranging from $1,000 up to $250,000 and face up to five years in jail if found guilty of transporting hardwood firewood out of the quarantine zones or Lower Peninsula into the Upper Peninsula or surrounding states.

Along with Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, Nebraska, Ohio, and Wisconsin are using the national EAB Awareness Week to underscore the need for continued cooperation and support of citizens, tourists, communities, government, and industry partners for containing this pest and protecting the millions of ash trees blanketing North America.

In 2008, MDA, the United States Department of Agriculture, and other EAB partners will be participating in a federal trapping strategy to help establish a national footprint of where the pest is located in the U.S. Michigan motorists traveling in the U.P. will begin to see three-dimensional purple traps hanging from ash trees beginning in early June.

"Preventing the artificial spread of EAB in the Upper Peninsula continues to be critical to safeguarding ash as a genus in Michigan's forest landscape," said Ken Rauscher, MDA's Pesticide and Plant Pest Management Division Director. "Slowing the spread of ash mortality affords researchers the opportunity to identify additional tools necessary to combat this devastating pest."

Emerald Ash Borer is an exotic insect native to Asia that attacks ash trees in its larval stage; EAB feeds undetected under the bark of ash trees, disrupting water and nutrient flow, and ultimately killing the trees in just a few years. First discovered in 2002, the borer is responsible for the death or damage of approximately 20 million ash trees in Michigan.

Mystery chicken

When my friend Shary picked me up for a ride to our aerobics class, I knew at once that something was afoot.

"We have to make a quick stop on the way so that I can deal with this chicken fiasco," she said, indicating a grocery sack that occupied a place on the floorboard by my feet. "They're not going to get away with it this time."

A light inquiry about what it might be that they were trying to get away with elicited a barrage of venom.

"I am so sick of this. Within the last week I've paid $5 for a bag of mealy oranges, a small fortune on avocados that tasted like watered-down mulch and I bought a piece of salmon that smelled like cat food when I opened the package. It's not enough that the grocery bill is only slightly less than a vacation in the south of France - I'm spending half of it on garbage."

"Are you returning this chicken?" I asked her, nudging the bundle with my toe.

"I am." Shary shifted into third gear with a vengeance and gunned it in the direction of the grocery store.

"What's wrong with it?"

"It's diseased! I baked it last night and when I took it out of the oven, it looked fine. But when I stuck a fork in the breast, it just deflated. Phhhh. Nothing but air. There is no breast meat on the thing."

"So let me understand this: You have a baked chicken with no breast meat in this bag, and you are returning it for a refund?"

"Damn straight."

Oh, goody. This was going to be interesting. There aren't many people that I know that can expound from astride a very high horse more eloquently than Shary. While she is level-headed and philosophical most of the time, every once in a while something will strike her as blatantly outrageous and she will perform like a disrespected diva. It's always entertaining to witness the spectacle from a safe distance.

When we arrived at the grocery store, she wheeled into a parking space and killed the engine. Grabbing the bag, she stomped furiously across the parking lot while I trotted along in an attempt to match her stride.

There was a line at the meat counter and we waited while, one by one, customers were handed their white paper-wrapped bundles. Shary didn't speak, but her eyes flashed with righteous indignation from behind her tortoise shell frames and her hand gripped the bag in a death-lock.

Finally, the man in the white apron turned his attention to Shary. He smiled, resting his hands on his hips, and innocently inquired as to how he could help her.

"I bought this chicken yesterday and it is obviously cancerous," she began evenly. "It has no breast meat. I baked it and it looked fine when I took it out of the oven, but when I cut into it, the skin just flattened out down to the bone. I would like my money back."

"I'm sorry?" The man's smile had turned quizzical.

"So am I," Shary snapped. "This is beyond irresponsible. You are selling poultry to the public that is genetically flawed. God only knows what the long-term repercussions could be of ingesting something so revolting. It isn't enough that we have to be constantly aware of pesticides and additives and everything else that's used to make our food look appealing at the expense of our health. Now we're being treated to chickens that have mutated to the point of deformity."

With this dramatic declaration, Shary deposited the bag upon the countertop with a thump.

"Did you say that there's no breast meat on this chicken?" The man's tone was serious and concerned as he unwrapped the suspect bird for inspection.

"Exactly," Shary affirmed.

The man removed the chicken and, holding it aloft in gloved hands, he examined it with a critical eye. Then he began to laugh. He proffered the feckless fowl out towards Shary and flipped it over.

"You baked it upside-down," he reported gleefully. "Upside-down. See? The breast was on the bottom."

He and I shared a chorus of laughter as Shary snatched back the bird, mumbled an apology and wheeled toward the door.

"Great," she muttered as we walked back to the car and I mopped my streaming eyes. "The best meat department within 20 miles and I can never go back there again."

May is National Older Americans Month

The Administration on Aging is celebrating National Older Americans Month and this year's theme is Working Together for Strong, Healthy and Supportive Communities. Americans 65 and older are encouraged to observe the contributions of the past and present of individuals who enhance the community and personal lives by sharing and transferring knowledge of cultures, values, and life experiences among generations.

The AOA estimates that older citizens of the future are expected to be some of the most active in America's history and historically, Older Americans Month has been a time to acknowledge contributions, particularly those who defended our country.

Older Americans Month was established in 1963 when only 17 million living Americans had reached their 65th birthdays. At the time, there were very few programs to meet senior needs and concerns were growing. In April of that year, President John F. Kennedy met with the National Council of Senior Citizens and this served as a prelude to designating May as Senior Citizens Month. In 1980, President Jimmy Carter replaced Senior Citizen Month as Older Americans Month as it stands today. Every President since has issued a proclamation during or before May asking the entire nation to pay tribute in some way to older persons in their community.

This special day is celebrated across the country through ceremonies, events, fairs and other such activities.

With a large population of senior citizens in our area, this is the perfect time to celebrate individuals who have shaped our community. With Memorial Day right around the corner, this is the perfect time to honor all those who served our country.

There are so many stories to tell about the veterans in Charlevoix County and Sheriff George T. Lasater has been working diligently in the community to resurrect the memorial of Boyne City residents who served in World War II.

Lasater has even written a book on all the contributions of Charlevoix County residents who served our country during that time. While many people aren't aware of Older Americans Month, now is the perfect time to celebrate the older generation.

Both senior citizens and the younger population should recognize this event and in some small way honor the people who have shaped our lives. Whether it is at home or by attending events, take the time to recognize our seniors and their contributions.

For more information visit the AOA website at www.aoa.gov/press/oam/oam.asp or contact your local Commission on Aging for ideas on how to honor people in your community.

Protect our water

To the editor:

Anyone who has ever canoed, fished, or hiked in the Jordan River valley knows it is one of the last pristine wild areas in northern Michigan. The proposed deep injection wells in Alba could threaten to change that.

Cement kiln dust (CKD), when mixed with water, becomes a toxic bleach-like soup releasing large amounts of mercury, arsenic and other contaminants. The State, DEQ and developers have known for over 20 years that ground water was mixing with CKD from the former PennDixie cement plant and leaching its poisons into Little Traverse Bay. Their solution? Build luxury homes and a golf course over the piles and hope no one would notice. CMS Energy was one of the development partners.

The toxic leachate entered Little Traverse Bay. East Park was closed. The EPA, in 2005, ordered CMS to isolate, contain or remove the CKD piles to eliminate groundwater contamination. Such containment would necessitate digging up the golf course. CMS says its too expensive. Their solution? Allow the groundwater to become contaminated, then collect a small percentage of it (the rest is still flowing into the bay), transport it to Alba, a community with far fewer economic resources and once again bury the problem. 135,000 gallons shipped by tanker trucks on hilly country roads every day for the next 10-20 years - the potential for transport problems are reason enough to oppose the well.

And what if the leachate doesn't stay buried? These wells have an 8% malfunction rate. A deep injection well in Romulus, Michigan failed, the company responsible for its maintenance vanished, leaving the community to clean up the mess.

Do we want to risk poisoning the Jordan River or the drinking water of area residents? Do we want to continue to allow leachate to flow into Little Traverse Bay? The CKD piles should be removed, not dumped in another community, possibly contaminating another watershed. Join with Friends of the Jordan and Star Township in opposing the deep injection wells and protect our water.

Memorial Day tribute from a Marine mom

At 2 a.m., my cell phone rang. The voice on the phone said, "We just landed and I should be at the base in two hours." The news my family had waited seven months to hear had finally come. Our Marine was back on U.S. soil, having landed at the Marine Corps Air Base at Cherry Point, North Carolina. After checking weapons there, buses would bring the Marines to Camp LeJeune, a 45-minute drive, to meet their anxiously awaiting families. Our Marine had spent seven months as a weapons platoon commander in the Anbar Province of Iraq. About 4 a.m., the buses arrived to "welcome home" signs, cameras flashing and smiling faces of moms, dads, wives, sisters, brothers, children and friends. Seeing his face for the first time since October was an indescribable joy! I thanked God for keeping our Marine safe through two deployments in the Anbar Province of Iraq.

That same week in April, another Marine arrived at his home in Wisconsin. Lance Corporal Dean Opicka was escorted off the arriving plane by Marine honor guards in a flag draped coffin. LCpl Opicka had made the ultimate sacrifice for our nation's freedom. Instead of a welcoming hug, his parents received a folded American flag and appreciation from a grateful nation. At his burial service, Dean's younger brother, Darren, also a Marine, who has served two combat missions to Iraq, stated that he and his brother were both proud to be brothers and to serve in the United States Marine Corps, "to serve the great nation, to serve an outstanding tradition and freedom...Dean's passion and what he believed in led him to the greatest sacrifice for freedom—his life, which he gave honorably." (Quoted from Greenbaygazette.com, by Andy Nelesen, April 30, 2008).

As Memorial Day approaches, and families celebrate the holiday with cookouts, parties, picnics and fun activities, may we take a few moments to remember those, like LCpl. Dean Opicka, who throughout our 232-year history have given their lives in war to secure the freedoms we enjoy today.

Traditional observances of the holiday have diminished over the last fifty years following the end of World War II. Memorial Day parades and services in cities across our nation have steadily decreased in numbers. Fewer families seem to be affected by war today than in the early 1900's when 18 and 19 year-old young men were signing up to fight for the freedom of our nation. The entire country was affected and it seemed like everybody knew a soldier who died while serving his country.

Thankfully, in the current war on terror, fewer casualties are experienced because of improved military weapons and different strategies of war. Currently, 4,077 of our service members have made the ultimate sacrifice in Operation Iraqi Freedom. Every life given in the pursuit of defending our liberties deserves tribute from those who live to enjoy it. Americans should never forget the sacrifices made by brave men and women who died while serving in war.

This Memorial Day, take time to thank a veteran, current military personnel, and military family members. Fly the American Flag proudly. Pray for our nation's political leaders and troops serving to defend our freedom. Make a pledge to uphold the freedoms granted in our Constitution and find ways to improve life in local communities. May the sacrifice of our military never be forgotten.

Gaylord to Mackinaw City Trail.

Dedication

Top of Michigan Trails Council will dedicate the Gaylord - Cheboygan - Mackinaw City Trail on Saturday, June 7. This 62-mile crushed stone trail is the longest contiguous improved rail trail in Michigan's nearly 1400 mile trail system.

The dedication will begin at 8:30 a.m., with simultaneous ribbon cuttings in Gaylord, Vanderbilt, Wolverine, Topinabee, Cheboygan and Mackinaw City, the towns along the trail from south to north. The morning's events will culminate in Indian River at 1 p.m., when the dedication ceremony will be held at Marina Park. The public is invited to bicycle to the event from any of the ribbon cutting communities and, if registered, to enjoy a lunch in Indian River and obtain a commemorative tee shirt. Registration and trail maps can be found on line at www.trailscouncil.org

The 62-mile trail represents a twelve-year effort of many people including those in the private and public sector. When abandonment of the 62-mile rail line became a reality in the 1990s a number of individuals began lobbying the state to buy the land for public use, virtually a linear park. Top of Michigan Trails Council, formed in 1994, was in the forefront of that movement including many of the original board members: Tom Bailey, William Brown, Jeff Bodzik, Gerald Danin, Fred Fettis, Wesley Hovey, Horace M. Huffman, Roy Kuczawara, Neal

Kretchman and Sebron Litzenberger as well as TOMTC's original executive director, Jennifer Srigley. The Department of Natural Resources welcomed the encouragement of TOMTC and sought the funding necessary from the Natural Resources Commission to purchase the trail from the Detroit and Mackinaw Railroad. DNR personnel, past and present, did and continue to do yeomen's work in the acquisition, improvement and maintenance of trails throughout Michigan. In addition the Michigan Department of Transportation, which is the conduit for federal trail funds, has been of great assistance.

Support also came from the Rails-to-Trails Conservancy Michigan Chapter who assisted with lobbying efforts when the Natural Resources Commission was being asked not to fund the trail purchase. That chapter has evolved into the Michigan Trails & Greenways Alliance (MTGA) headquartered in Lansing (<http://www.michigantrails.org>) which fosters and facilitates the creation of an interconnected statewide system of trails and greenways. Led by MTGA on the state level, and TOMTC on the local level there is tremendous growth of interest in and use of existing trails. Trails help connect people with nature, trails help children get to school safely, trails help more people get helpful exercise, trails bring families together and trails are good for our state's economy. On the national level the Rails to Trails Conservancy leads the charge for trail development from its Washington D.C. office, since its inception in 1986 RTC has assisted hundreds of communities and rail-trail advocates in building nearly 13,935 miles of rail-trails throughout the United States. For further information on RTC see www.rail-trails.org

While state and federal funding are the primary sources of trail acquisition and improvement, local funding and support is the catalyst for trail development. Those who control the federal and state purse strings need to know there is local support for trails. That support was most evident in the development of the Gaylord - Cheboygan - Mackinaw City trail. Virtually every municipality through which the trail runs supported the trail development by resolution and financial contribution in addition to the County of Cheboygan. In addition a number of service clubs, businesses, chambers of commerce and tourism councils supported the trail effort financially.

TOMTC continues to advocate for improved trails in the eight counties within its jurisdiction. However, this work can only continue with the active support of its existing and new members. For membership information see TOMTC's website.

New option for lawn care

The Charlevoix County Commission on Aging is now offering an easier alternative to the lawn contract program to assist with the expenses of spring cleanup. This is in response to the multiple phone calls requesting assistance with raking and cleaning of debris that the Sheriff was previously providing with community service workers and non-violent prisoners. This voucher can be completed and mailed to the COA, without a pre-signed contract, accompanied by a quote or receipt for lawn cleanup. The voucher, which expires July 1, is good for up to $100 to pay a provider to clean up your lawn. One voucher is allowed per household for a person 60 years of age or older who resides in Charlevoix County and owns his/her own home. Please call the Commission on Aging for assistance with these programs at 231-237-0103. We continue to offer the lawn program contract arrangement, announced earlier, for mowing, lawn care and snow removal, reimbursable on a sliding scale.

Wagbo film series

Wagbo Peace Center's THINK! Film Series presents "The end of suburbia: Oil depletion and the collapse of the American dream" on Wednesday, May 21, at 7 p.m., in the Jordan Valley Library Community Room, rear entrance.

Since WWII North Americans have invested much of their newfound wealth in suburbia. As the population of suburban sprawl has exploded, so too has the suburban way of life become embedded in the American consciences. But as we enter the 21st century, serious questions are beginning to emerge about the sustainability of this way of life. As energy prices skyrocket in the coming years, how will people react to the collapse of their "American Dream?" Are today's suburbs destined to become the slums of tomorrow? What can be done to avoid "The End of Suburbia?" 78 minutes, not rated.

Low cost movie snacks available for sale. Admission is free, donations appreciated. Sponsored by the Wagbo Peace Center and the Jordan Valley Library Friends. For information call 231-588-6391.

SEE-North farm program

During the month of May, SEE-North will be offering farm programs for school groups at Pond Hill Farm. Students experience being on a working farm and learning about some of the jobs and tasks that get done on a daily basis. Children will see first hand where the vegetables they see in a grocery store come from. The farm program will focus on plants as our food, the animals on the farm, the new births on the farm and give the students a chance to participate in the farm chore of feeding the animals. Students will also take a tractor ride to see the outlying parts of the farm, the trout pond, and SEE-North staff will provide an introduction to the NorthWings birds of prey. Before they leave, students will get to use the "squash rocket" - Pond Hill Farm's unique "compost" system.

To learn more about the program, contact Alison Fall-din at Alison@see-north.org.

Volunteers needed

Do you have a few hours every month to donate to a wonderful cause? If so, The Friends of the Boyne District Library is looking for you. We have several board openings and are always in need of volunteers to help out on our fund-raising events.

The Friends are a great group of people who enjoy spending time with each other and benefit Boyne City's "Crown Jewel," the library. Come and laugh with us at the Fun Fair - our unique Up North Fashion Show, children's street games, bake sale and so much more. It is one of the best evenings of entertainment and we all enjoy bringing the event about every year. It's so worth seeing all the kids' smiling faces.

One of our larger projects has been the mural in the Children's Room, interactive, colorful and educational. We help to sponsor the Boyne Reads program every year that brings a different author to town, we buy equipment, computers and games to enhance what the library already offers.

So, please consider joining us as a board member today - you won't regret it. Contact Cindi Malin at 231-582-0526 for more information or join us May 6 in the Library Community Room at 5:30 p.m. for our annual meeting.

Anorexia Nervosa is not about weight...

As food restriction is transformed into food refusal, the anorexic withdraws from everyday activities and relationships. There may already be an excessive exercise schedule in place with an effort to outpace her achievements academically or in sports. There is often calorie counting, excessive weighing, and a euphoria may capture the starving person. However, as the illness progresses the euphoria turns into depression. By the time, a person enters treatment there is a pervasive denial and deception, which serves to maintain the illness of anorexia nervosa. Anorexia nervosa is often devastating with tragic implications.

Riding Mowers Not Meant For Child's Ride

(MS) - As the days grow warmer and the grass grows longer, the potential for accidents involving children and riding mowers increases as well.

Giving a child a ride on a riding mower, even with the blades off, sends the wrong message: that the mower is a fun ride and not a machine with rotating blades that may cause serious injuries. After being given a ride, a child may run out for another one when you are mowing and you may not hear or see the child approach. He or she may slip and fall into the path of a mower, dart out from behind an object or be playing behind the mower, unseen by you. These situations can lead to serious, life-altering accidents.

Protect children. Tell them that riding mowers are potentially dangerous machines, not toys. Tell them you have a family safety rule about riding mowers: when they can hear the mower running, they have to be inside and stay there. As an operator, protect children by making sure they are inside, under adult supervision. Stop mowing and turn off the engine if children or others are near. Look down and behind you before and while backing up, to avoid accidents.

When finished mowing, always store and lock the riding mower and keys away from children, and never allow a child to play on or around a riding mower.

Remember, the blades of a riding mower rotate at speeds of 200 miles per hour. Just as you wouldn't let a child operate a food processor, so should you keep children away from a riding mower.

For more information about riding mower and other outdoor power equipment safety, visit the Web site of the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute's Education & Research Foundation: opei.org/foundation.

Morels were not the only tasty treats to be sampled in the tent on Saturday, as the "sweet" ladies from Kilwins, Jen Towns, Gayle Harbaugh, and Kelly Sweet, offered another local Northern Michigan delicacy. Fudge!

Boyne City and great cars have been synonymous for a long time. This weekend was no exception as Classic Instruments hosted its 8th annual Northern Michigan NSRA (National Street Rod Association) Appreciation Day.

NEIGHBORS

It surely was a "Happy Mother's Day" for Boyne City's Linda Caverly. Her home was filled with her children and grandchildren - 15 total - there for the day. A real surprise for her was receiving a beautiful brand new complete dining room set from her children.

By Nancy Northup

Enjoying all of them, she said, "It was a wonderful day!"

There was a good turnout last week Thursday for the Mother's Day potluck at Deer Meadows. It was a fun time of sharing dinner as well as stories about mothers.

friend, Saleena, were here from Tenn. for the graduation of their daughter, Holly Gasco, from North Central Michigan College. On Mother's Day everyone gathered at Jody's parents, Murray and JoAnn Folette's, for the first cookout of the summer.

Last Friday, the residents of Litzemberger Place held what looked like an old time country auction, with Dorothy Daniels clad in suspended pants and a straw hat, calling out for bids and straw-hatted Judy Owen recording the sales. They raised enough to buy a larger outside grill and are looking forward to a lot of tenant cookouts throughout the summer. This past Friday, a group from there went via Charlevoix County Transit to Grandvue to visit former Litzemberger Place residents now living there.

Vasco and Joni Zucchiatti spent a few days in Marine City visiting their granddaughter Remie and son and daughter-in-law, Damon and Kris, who celebrated their 13th wedding anniversary on May 13.

Boyne Area Rehab was pleased to have registered 26 people from Boyne City as marrow donors, in conjunction with the Charlevoix Area Hospital and Northern Michigan Regional Hospital, and as participants of northern Michigan's National Marrow Donor Program.

Bonnie Hiller is now back home at her Litzemberger Place apartment after last week's major surgery. Her daughter, Kelly Kline, was to be returning to her home in Palmer, Alaska, on Friday.

Leslie Luebke, a comic artist, was up from downstate to visit his daughter Jessica over the weekend. On Sunday, he surprised his mother, Freda McCallum, with a timely visit. And was she ever surprised and happy as it had been quite some time since his last visit. Check it out--the free senior ride program sponsored by the Commission On Aging and provided by Charlevoix County Transit will kick off June 2. Seniors can ride anywhere in the county for free and

Three Rambler girls qualify for states

Skrocki wins two events for Red Devils

By GREG GIELCZYK
 SPORTS WRITER

BENZONIA — Natasha Bell and Caitlyn Wonski are returning to the state championships in their strongest events for the Boyne City girls track team.

Lacey VanAlstine broke the school record in the discus with a throw of 109 feet 4 inches on her second attempt.

That came in the preliminaries at the regional competition hosted by Benzie Central last Saturday.

In the finals, VanAlstine had a throw of 109 feet 7 inches to finish second overall and take home a silver medal.

She eclipsed the old school record of 107 feet 1 inch set by Angela Reich in 1986. Reich is Kristina LaVake's mother.

Bell won the 200-meter dash, an event in which she earned All-State honors last year as a sophomore.

Wonski earned a second place tie with training partner Shauna Spencley of Charlevoix. It qualified both for state.

LaVake had a great day as well.

She finished third in the 100-meter dash and fifth in the shot put. Boyne City's other individual scorer was Corrina Hoekwater, who placed eighth in the discus with a personal best throw of 79 feet 6 inches.

Erin Haley ran her personal best in the 1600-meter run with a time of 6:05.3, but did not place. It was seven seconds faster than her previous best time.

"It was a great team day, as all four relay teams placed in the top eight and won medals," Boyne City coach Andy Place said.

The 3200-meter relay team ran its best time of the year to finish fifth overall. It included freshman sprinter Mackenzie Macksey for the first time.

"She ran a good split, and the rest of the team of Melissa Seeley, Haley and Casmear Kerr all ran their personal best splits," Place said.

Emma Stuewer, Macksey, Shala Archer and Maureen Lee finished eighth in the 800-meter relay.

LaVake, Sammy McLeod, Amanda Spence and Bell finished sixth in the 400-meter relay, and the 1600 relay team of Kerr, Hoekwater, Wonski and Sarah Archer finished sixth. Boyne City finished seventh Boyne City and East Jordan will both have runners competing at the state meet on May 31.

as a team out of a field of 13 teams with 45 points. Benzie Central was regional champion with 120.5 points, Gladwin finished second with 89 and Kingsley third with 78.5. The top two teams qualify to compete for the state title.

Next up for the Ramblers is the Lake Michigan Conference Championship meet at Charlevoix today (Wednesday).

East Jordan's Ashley Skrocki will be the lone Red Devil competing at the state meet May 31. Skrocki won the 100 meter hurdles in 16.24, and she came away with the victory in the 300 hurdles with a time of 48.98.

Ramblers sweep Charlevoix, split two at Hillman tourney

By GREG GIELCZYK
 SPORTS WRITER

BOYNE CITY — Coach Sandy Clausen isn't concerned too much about the Boyne City girls softball team's record in the Lake Michigan Conference right now.

The Ramblers still have four games left to play in the league, including a pair of makeup contests that may be rained out anyway if the National Weather Service forecast holds true this week.

So she's just put the league record on the back burner and turned her team's attention to the next game.

Despite splitting two games in the Hillman Invitational tournament last Saturday, the Ramblers are still one game under .500 at 13-14.

Clausen went old school to produce the only run of the game in a 1-0 win over Charlevoix in the opener of an LMC doubleheader last Wednesday, and she scored on Allison Aown's sacrifice bunt.

Stephanee Woodward picked up the win in the pitcher's circle, striking out four.

Boyne City also got a double from Cheyenne Shumaker, and Shelby Mittig singled.

Those were the only hits for the Ramblers.

Despite giving up seven hits and striking out only one batter, Shumaker got the win as Boyne City took the nightcap 5-3.

Two runs scored on a throwing error by Charlevoix's catcher in the third inning.

Boyne City had four hits in the sixth inning, and the Rayders committed one error as the Ramblers scored three runs.

Woodward led off the inning with a hit and Shumaker drove her home with a double.

Tanya Persons drove in Shumaker with a single.

Teresa Sessions reached on an error and Sarah Gerberding singled to drive in a run.

Shumaker also had a double for two hits. Lindsey Clemens and Aown also had singles.

Boyne City lost to Hillman 5-4 in the first game on Saturday after taking a 4-0 lead.

Woodward was the pitcher of record for the Ramblers.

Mittig went 3-for-4 to lead the Ramblers at the plate with a triple and two singles. Aown had a double and a single.

The Ramblers beat Central Lake 8-6 in the second game as Shumaker struck out five.

Woodward had an in-the-park home run and a single to lead the Ramblers at the plate. Jessica Knysz finished with a double. Aown, Trisha Tomkins and Nicole Higgins all singled.

Boyne City scored four runs in the first inning, and managed to stay ahead of the Trojans the rest of the way.

Red Devils swept by Rayders, finish week 3-3

By CHIP CORWIN
 SPORTS EDITOR

EAST JORDAN — Over the course of a season, a team will experience high points and low points. Last Tuesday's LMC doubleheader with Charlevoix was a low point for East Jordan.

The Red Devils, who had been playing very well, were swept by the Rayders at home 5-1 and 12-2.

East Jordan coach Meg Kitson didn't try to sugarcoat the losses.

"Today wasn't our day," she said. "The girls did not play well today. We had many missed opportunities."

"Charlevoix got timely hits and capitalized on our mistakes."

Shaina Peters took the loss in game one, despite only giving up only three hits and striking out 13. The Rayders had seven batters reach on walks.

Peters and Alex Snowden each had one double, and Ashley Warrington stroked two singles.

In game two, Randi McFall was in the circle for East Jordan but couldn't cool the hot Rayder bats.

Charlevoix scored three runs in the first, two each in the second and third, and then really blew the game open in the fourth with 5 runs. East Jordan put up one run in the second and third, respectively.

McFall walked six, fanned one and gave up five hits. Peters came on in relief and walked five while striking out four and giving up two hits.

Cassy Crick had two singles, Andi Chew had a triple, and Clancey Garland stroked a double for the Red Devils.

On Wednesday evening East Jordan returned to form and beat the SVC leading Bellaire Eagles 3-1 and 9-3. The game was scheduled to take place in Bellaire but was moved to East Jordan at the last minute due to poor field conditions in Bellaire.

"I'm so glad we got to play today," Kitson said. "It was nice to get the girls back on track."

It didn't take the Red Devils long. They scored all three of their runs in the first inning off Bellaire's Logan Edgecomb, who has been shutting down teams all season. Edgecomb finished with 10 strikeouts but was bested by Peters, who only walked two and only gave up two hits while striking out 11 for the shutout.

Chew had a triple and an RBI, and Mary Gocha contributed a single, a double and an RBI to lead the Red Devils at the plate.

In game two, the Red Devils were down 1-0 after one inning, but scored 7 unanswered runs over the next two innings to blow the game open.

Randi McFall picked up the win, striking out eight while giving up two walks and five hits.

Garland picked up a double and three RBIs, while Warrington, Alyssa Piechocki and Crick each had an RBI.

"This was the best pitching that Randi had done all season," Kitson said. "Her defense was solid behind her. We played relaxed and not uptight, which really worked for us today."

East Jordan finished the week with a split at Kingsley on Friday. The Red Devils picked up a 3-0 win in game one behind another transcendent performance from Peters, who struck out 13 and only gave up one walk and one hit.

"Shaina was dominant this game," Kitson said. "Our defense only had to make five outs because she struck out 13."

Peters also had a double to lead the offense. Emily Bajko contributed a single.

Game two saw a reversal of fortune as Kingsley scored five runs in the bottom of the second inning to take a commanding 5-1 lead. East Jordan never responded, and the Stags cruised to an 8-1 victory.

McFall took the loss, striking out one while giving up five walks and six hits.

The offense struggled. Garland and Warrington each had a single to account for all of East Jordan's hits.

"We had many missed opportunities," Kitson said. "Our girls played hard but just couldn't get anything going on offense."

East Jordan (20-10, 9-5) had a league makeup game last night and travels to Ellsworth tonight (Wednesday) to finish up their regular season schedule. Districts are at Inland Lakes May 30 and 31.

East Jordan soccer finishes week 1-1-1

By CHIP CORWIN
SPORTS EDITOR

EAST JORDAN — East Jordan's girls soccer team experienced every possible outcome in their three games last week — a win, a tie, and a loss, in that order.

On Tuesday, May 13, they traveled to Grayling and beat the host Vikings by a score of 1-0.

"The ladies all worked hard for the win and did a much better job of winning the ball and moving it forward to a teammate," head coach Peter Elliott said.

The game's lone score came with 10 minutes left in the contest when Katherine Rowley gained possession on the outside corner and completed a pass to Whitney Kraemer, who then passed to Paige Fuller. Fuller found the back of the net to score the game-winner.

"Whitney picks up the assist with the pass and Paige was the finisher with the goal, but it came on the back of the strong effort Katherine put out," Elliott said. "At that point the momentum swung our way and we had several more strong attacks with near misses. The entire game was exciting, but the last 10 minutes were much more intense."

Maribeth Poindexter recorded the shutout in goal, making 17 saves. Elliott also noted the strong play of Briana Sladick, Shelby Campbell and Amanda Zipp.

"Graying played hard from the beginning to the end and gave us a great game," Elliott said. "We had fun and were very excited to be the ones who picked up the win." Poindexter picked up another shutout — her third in a row — against Burt Lake NMCA last Thursday, making 27 saves. This time, however, the offense couldn't score, and the game ended as a 0-0 tie. East Jordan lost to Burt Lake 5-1 earlier in the season.

"I am very pleased with the tie," Elliott said. "The ladies worked hard to keep in the game all night. This was a very good effort that showed a lot of heart and determination."

On Friday, the Red Devils squared off against Harbor Springs and lost 5-0. Harbor led 2-0 at half-time.

"Everyone had a bit of an off night tonight," Elliott said. "Our passes weren't connecting and our timing was off." Poindexter had 24 saves. Rowley and Fuller led the team in shots on goal.

East Jordan was at Elk Rapids last night and travels to Boyne City tomorrow (Thursday) to wrap up regular season play.

Loggers sweep Lancers

By PHIL TROMBLEY
SPORTS WRITER

BOYNE FALLS — Boyne Falls pitchers Anthony Carpenter and Jared Mathers held the visiting Ellsworth hitters to just six hits and one run for the day to lead the Boyne Falls boys varsity baseball team to a sweep at home on Thursday, May 15.

Mathers struck out six batters, while giving up three hits, one base on balls and one run as Boyne Falls took the opening game 8-1.

Carpenter shut out the Lancers and recorded five strike outs, while yielding three hits and no walks in the second game 10-0 victory.

The Loggers improved to 4-2-2 in the Northern Lakes Conference standings.

Chad Deming led the Boyne Falls hitters with four hits and two runs batted in for the double header. Mathers had three hits and four RBIs, Reggie Fiel added three hits and three RBIs and Ryan Matelski chipped in with three hits and two RBIs.

"We played some pretty good ball today," said Boyne Falls coach Chris Fiel. "Both games our pitching was there, as was our defense. Offensively, we are starting to hit the ball in key situations and with runners in scoring position."

Loggers stopped by Warriors

Ski Valley Conference opponent Forest Area captured a pair of non-conference wins on Tuesday, May 13, defeating Boyne Falls 5-3 and 6-2.

Forest Area scored four runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to overcome a two run deficit in the first game.

Boyne Falls led the contest 3-1 after the first inning.

"We started strong offensively, had one bad inning defensively, and they capitalized on it," said Fiel.

The Warriors spread out the scoring in the second game striking for three runs in the first inning, two in the third and one in the fourth to blow past an early 2-0 Boyne Falls lead.

"We started Devin Simon to rest some of our regular arms and I thought he did a fine job," Fiel said.

At the plate Carpenter had four hits, while Deming, Fiel, and Justin Aytes all had two hits apiece to pace the Boyne Falls hitting.

Boyne Falls (6-6-2 overall) will travel to Inland Lakes on Thursday, May 22.

Ramblers split with Charlevoix in LMC baseball doubleheader

By GREG GIELOZYK
SPORTS WRITER

HILLMAN — They're not out of the Lake Michigan Conference baseball race by any stretch of the imagination.

But splitting with Charlevoix last week certainly didn't enhance the Boyne City Ramblers' chances of taking the crown.

Jarred Forbes pitched the first game and spun a masterful three-hitter, striking out four and walking only two.

With the Ramblers getting eight hits against the Rayders, it would appear from the statistics that Boyne City won.

Unfortunately, three of those hits came from one player, Robby Jensen. And all were pretty scattered throughout the six-inning contest. Charlevoix made the most of its opportunities to come away with a 4-3 victory.

The Ramblers rallied for a 3-1 win in the nightcap to put their LMC record at 6-2.

Jensen gave up just five hits and had five strike outs in another outstanding performance on the mound.

Boyne City had five hits as well, led by Trever Kruzel who had a home run and a double.

The Ramblers lost both games in the Hillman Invitational last Saturday 10-4 and 7-2.

After traveling to Petoskey on Monday the Ramblers were scheduled to play at Harbor Springs on Tuesday and host Traverse City St. Francis on Thursday.

NHL forces Detroit fans into tough choice

By PAT CAPUTO
OF THE OAKLAND PRESS

It's a classic matchup on a number of different levels.

Experience vs. youth. Champions vs. challengers. Superstars vs. superstars.

The spice comes with the reality the Red Wings have as much to prove as the Pittsburgh Penguins during what figures to be the most intriguing Stanley Cup finals in eons.

The Red Wings have consistently been the NHL's top team for nearly two decades. Yet, they haven't captured the Stanley Cup title since 2002.

As such, doubt tends to creep in about the Red Wings at the first sign of adversity. After the Nashville Predators rallied to tie the opening round series at two games apiece. After the Dallas Stars made it too close for comfort by winning two straight games after the Red Wings roared to victory in the first three.

At every turn, the Red Wings have answered the challenge this spring — especially by wrapping up the Western Conference finals with an impressive 4-1 Game 6 triumph over the Stars Monday night.

Too bad the NHL, led by commissioner Gary Bettman, continues to figuratively spit in the face of the Red Wings and their fans.

The latest: Playing the first three games of the Stanley Cup finals on dates — and at roughly the same start times — that mirror the Pistons' Eastern Conference final series against the Celtics.

So while this area is united behind the Red Wings and Pistons, they are forced to be divided during what figures to be epic matchups on both fronts.

Why is the NHL doing this? Why not start the finals on Friday — and then go Sunday and Tuesday? Why force Detroit fans to choose?

Given the paltry television ratings of the NHL, and that much of the country will be shutout of coverage of the first two games anyway because of the league's short-sighted TV deal with Versus, Bettman couldn't help Detroit out by scheduling the series on the off days of the Celtics-Pistons series?

It's one thing to make us watch Nashville and Columbus every other night all winter long — and never let us see the Maple Leafs or Canadiens. And mess with Al Sabotka and the time-honored tradition of the octopus. But this is the topper. It's beyond foolish. It's cruel.

Ah, we can't let that knucklehead Gary Bettman ruin our Detroit party, can win?

Not when there was so much pressure on the Red Wings Monday and they responded like true champions. Not when the Stanley Cup final presents such a marquee matchup.

Who do you think is better? Detroit's duo of Pavel Datsyuk and Henrik Zetterberg? Or the Penguins' Sidney Crosby and Evgeni Malkin? Seems like trying to decide who is mightier — Batman and Robin or the Green Hornet and Kato.

The goaltenders present an obvious contrast between the savvy of Red Wings' veteran Chris Osgood and the raw talent of Penguins' youngster Marc-Andre Fleury.

Want an edge? The Red Wings appear to have a big one on defense with Nicklas Lidstrom and Brian Rafalski leading the way.

Detroit's specialty teams also appear stronger — and the Red Wings have much more depth.

But the Penguins haven't flinched during the postseason. If anything, they have been more dominant than the Red Wings. This should be a series for the ages.

Despite Gary Bettman and his schedule from hell.

Moments in time

- THE HISTORY CHANNEL
- On May 30, 1593, playwright Christopher Marlowe, 29, is killed. Marlowe had been arrested when "heretical" papers were found in his room. While out on bail, Marlowe became involved in a fight over a tavern bill and was stabbed to death.
  - On May 31, 1859, in London the famous tower clock known as Big Ben rings out for the first time. Many claim the clock was named after the famously long-winded commissioner of works Sir Benjamin Hall. Another story argues that the bell was named for the popular heavyweight boxer Benjamin Caunt.
  - On May 26, 1897, the first copies of the classic vampire novel "Dracula," by Irish writer Bram Stoker, appear in London bookshops. Dracula is the story of a vampire who makes his way from Transylvania to England, and preys on innocents there to get the blood he needs to live.
  - On May 29, 1903, film, TV, and radio star Bob Hope is born Leslie Townes Hope in Eltham, England. After careers in vaudeville and radio, Hope's career as a film actor made him one of the most highly paid entertainers in Hollywood.
  - On May 27, 1941, the German battleship Bismarck sinks in the North Atlantic near France. Three days earlier the British navy engaged the Bismarck in a ferocious battle. The Bismarck sank the battle cruiser Hood and escaped, but was leaking fuel and crippled when British warships finished her off.
  - On May 28, 1957, National League owners vote unanimously to allow the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers to move to San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively. In 2000, the two teams faced off in the World Series, the first "subway series" since the Dodgers and the Yankees met in 1956.
  - On June 1, 1980, CNN (Cable News Network), the world's first 24-hour television news network, makes its debut. In its first years of operation, CNN lost money and was ridiculed as the Chicken Noodle Network.

- TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Bravo to the determined Bovine. While others might give up, you continue to search for answers. Expect your Taurian tenacity to begin paying off by week's end.
- GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might want to consider stepping back from the task at hand for a while. This could help you get a better perspective on what you've done and what still needs to be done.
- CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your keen Cancerian insight should help you determine whether a new offer is solid or just more fluff 'n' stuff. The clues are all there waiting for you to find them.
- LEO (July 23 to August 22) Being ignored is difficult for any proud Leo or Leona. But pushing yourself back into the spotlight might be unwise. Instead, let things work themselves out at their own pace.
- VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Trying to uncover a colleague's secret under the pretext of showing concern is ill-advised. Control your curiosity to avoid raising resentment
