BOYNE CITY — After taking over the Director position at the Boyne District Library on Nov. 1, 1996, Nannette Miller has decided it's time for a change, a big change. Miller has accepted the same job in Haines, Alaska, after taking the Boyne library to new heights during her tenure.

Miller's new venue, the Haines Borough Public Library was voted the Best Small Library in America in 2005 and she couldn't be more excited to start her new job.

"Have you ever been to Haines, Alaska? It is breathtakingly beautiful. It is a small, remote community so the library is a focal point. They built a beautiful new $3 million dollar library five years ago, and only had to ask for a bond for $300,000 from the taxpayers," Miller said. "The rest came from donations, grants and fundraising."

After reading about the library, Miller was so impressed she wondered if the current Director

Main Street celebrates five years

BOYNE CITY — The community is invited to a celebration of the fifth anniversary of the Boyne City Main Street Program.

The event begins at 7 p.m., Thursday, June 19, at Old City Park. Enjoy an ice cream social and hear the announcement of the winner of the Boyne City song contest.

The Jelly Roll Blues Band will provide entertainment and a brief program about the Main Street Program and its accomplishments will be offered.

Five years ago Boyne City was officially designated a Michigan Main Street community, one of only four communities selected statewide.

"It is hard to believe five years have passed since Boyne City became a Main Street Community," said board chair Bob Carlile. "This program has been great for Boyne City and has accomplished several significant goals."

The ice cream social will have a bit of a twist. Rather than being served ice cream in Old City Park, those attending the anniversary celebration will receive a card that can be redeemed on the evening of the celebration for an ice cream treat at Kilwin's of Boyne City, the Dairy Queen or Thick N' Juicy.

Trail to start within Boyne City

By B. J. HETLER

BOYNE CITY — A county non-motorized trail that will be partially constructed within the city of Boyne City is becoming a high priority as gas prices rise.

"We're seeing more people using bicycles to get to work," said commissioner Dan Adkison at a June 10 city commission meeting.

The trail will help tourism and strengthen the local economy by providing a link between Young State Park and the city, commissioners agreed. Department of Public Works superintendent Michael Wiesner said that the portion of trail within the city will be a trail head and, as such, the location should provide a parking area and restrooms.

"We might look at bringing the trail down into Veterans Park and that would help downtown businesses as well," Wiesner said.

The non-motorized trail will run alongside of the Boyne City-Charlevoix Road and is designed as a separate path

Boyne City sees increase in larceny crimes

By JEFF BERGREN
EDITOR

BOYNE CITY — In recent weeks, Boyne City has seen a large increase in larcenies of personal property in the area. According to Police Chief Randall Howard, individuals have been gaining access to unlocked vehicles and stealing items of value.

"Items have also been stolen from residences and businesses as well," Howard said. "Most of these items have been taken from yards and other outside areas."

Howard is encouraging all residents to lock their vehicles and secure any items of importance in their sheds or garages to try and deter these thefts from taking place.

Howard was concerned about the recent developments and is urging all citizens to be on the look out for anything unusual.

"We are also asking the citizens to report any and all suspicious activity or persons immediately by calling 911 and asking for the duty officer to respond," Howard added.

Citizens can also call the administrative office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at 231-582-6611 and follow the paging instructions to reach an officer in addition to calling 911.

The police department offers additional programs according to their website for residents and business owners that include a Residential House Check Program that monitors house and property upon request for residents who will be out of town.

For businesses, the police will offer tips after an inspection of the perimeter and building for local owners.

SENIOR LIFESTYLES

Should You Or Not?

By Tresa Erickson

You're getting on in your years, and with your children grown and busy with their own families, loneliness has started to set in. Sure, you have some pals that you play cards with regularly, but you would like a bit more companionship. Perhaps it is time you got a pet.

Pets offer many benefits for seniors. They lower heart rate, reduce blood pressure and stress, and combat depression and loneliness. Studies show that seniors who own pets feel better and visit their physician less often than those who don't.

Although they make great companions for seniors, pets are a commitment. If you are seriously considering getting a pet, keep this fact in mind and ask yourself these questions:

- Do you have the time to care for a pet? All pets need to be fed daily. Some also need to be exercised, groomed and bathed on a regular basis. Most require attention as well, many more than a couple quick swipes on the head. Are you home enough to provide everything they need?
- Do you have the stamina to care for a pet? Some pets require more care than others. In addition to food, water and shelter, dogs require exercise. Goldfish, on the other hand, don't. Usually all you need to do is feed them everyday and clean out their fish bowl from time to time. Can you do this?

- Do you have the funds to care for a pet? All pets require food and shelter, and many require regular medical care, which can be expensive. Can you afford this?

If you have the resources to care for a pet, then you must next decide what kind of pet to look for. Do you want something that requires minimal care? Then fish might be ideal. If you are looking for something a bit more affectionate, then perhaps a cat or dog would work. To ensure you make the right choice, do some research on the pets that interest you and make sure they suit your needs.

If you feel that a pet isn't for you, don't despair. You may be able to contact one of the local animal societies and find a volunteer who is willing to share their pet with you for a few hours each week.

A cost saving measure during tough times

As our wallets continue to shrink with gas prices hovering over $4 a gallon and food prices soaring out of control, people are in constant search of any cost saving method. With consumers forced to change how they drive, shop and pay bills month to month, saving your dollars right now is becoming a huge challenge.

So with that in mind, one article from the Home Planning News explains how we might be literally pouring money down the drain in our homes. For example, the longer you wait for hot water to get to your faucet or shower the more money you waste in water and energy bills. There are however many ways homeowners can reduce or eliminate water waste.

According to Home Planning News, one option is to add a hot water recirculating loop to your home's plumbing system. When properly designed, a recirculating loop is economical and easy to install while providing on-demand hot water that conserves electricity and water.

Hot water recirculating systems can be added to outlets throughout your home from kitchen and bath sinks, bathtubs and showers, and dishwashers. Larger homes may require separate loops if they have widely separated fixtures.

The recirculating system pump speeds up hot water from the heater to the fixtures and a plumbing return line is added near the end of the branch to allow water in the lines to flow back to the storage tank for reheating.

A recent study by the Oak Ridge National Laboratory found that ten to fifteen gallons of water is wasted each day by people waiting for hot water in an average single-family home. Gary Klein of the California Energy Commission estimates that more than $11 billion in energy dollars is wasted each year when combined with residential water heating and wastewater treatment costs.

Now that's money down the drain. Tim Carter of AskTheBuilder.com says anyone with basic home-improvement skills can install a hot-water recirculating system in just a couple of hours. However, if you lack handy-man acumen, a plumber can install the system for around $500 which includes the cost of insulating the loop piping.

Who knew how much money we were wasting on water alone just waiting for a hot shower? This is only one example of how we as consumers can find alternate ways to put a buck in our wallet during these financially tough times. Perhaps this one cost saving method can put an extra gallon of gas in your car this month, or buy a little something extra for dinner. Either way, look for more cost saving ideas for your home and we'll keep updating you with what we find.

Born to be mild

Infrequently, a friend will find him or herself in a quandary regarding an issue to do with their kids and they will let it slip. I say infrequently because I am not the go-to gal for this sort of advice. My own history is redolent with debauchery and anyone privy to this information would seek counsel from Courtney Love before calling me. But sometimes they spill something that makes my jaw drop.

"Andy has such terrible luck," my friend Patsy lamented recently. "He's totaled three cars within the last year and none of the accidents were his fault."

"I'd call that a staggering coincidence and good luck that he's still here to tell the tale," I opined.

"Well, yes - But the poor kid! We've had to replace his vehicle every time and our insurance has skyrocketed." Patsy's face contorted with motherly concern. "He feels just awful about it."

"You've still got him on your insurance? Isn't he 27-years-old?"

"He's 28, actually," she admitted. "But it's hard for kids to get started these days. Everything's so expensive."

"Not for him. Isn't he living rent-free in your guesthouse?"

"We want him to stay close by. If we hadn't offered him the guesthouse, he was going to move to New York City with his college girlfriend. Can you imagine? My little guy in a city like that? I wouldn't be able to sleep at night."

"You mean he was going to leave home and you deflected his plan by dangling free cars and housing and... What else?"

"Well, I do clean the place a couple of times a week and I do his laundry, but you know how boys are," she smiled ruefully, "He'd never separate his whites."

I guess not. Why would he?

I don't get it. Patsy may not remember, but we could hardly wait to strike out on our own. If any bribes had been offered (none were), we'd have bristled at the assumption that we couldn't fend for ourselves. Our parents supplied luggage, disguised as a high school graduation gift, and the message was clear.

Our newfound freedom came at a price. We made horrendous mistakes. We found our feet and ran smack into a concrete wall, but we recovered. Sometimes we made a terrible mess of things and we were the ones obliged to clean it up.

But we also soared. We attempted the ridiculous and the sublime because no one hovered or fretted or told us that we couldn't. Our naiveté was monumental, but we worked without a safety net and it was thrilling. We thrived in that wide-open time when we were wild and arrogant and drunk on our dreams and the world was large.

I don't have kids, I have animals. And I'll admit that my experience with parenting is limited to the occasional carpet stain. So maybe I'm not the person to give parenting tips. I advocate a policy that doesn't seem to sit well with my friends who have adult children. I say love them but let them go. Get out of their way and allow them the luxury of failure. They will not love you less if you stop tending to their boo-boos and dispensing cash like an ATM. Take up a hobby, reconnect with your own friends or travel in Europe while they pay their dues and learn to live without their hands in your pockets. Do it because in your heart you know that unexercised muscles will atrophy. Do it because they deserve to have the same fulfillment and fun that we had. Do it because you love them and it's their turn to fly.

The classmates of 1958 enjoyed a great turnout for the monthly lunch bunch on Monday, June 9, at 220 Lake Street. It turned into a four-class party. All enjoyed visiting with Carol (Reinhardt) Heffington from Grand Rapids, Don and Kitty Nesson, Rod Spencer, Carl and Sue Charon, Morrie and Sue Hobbs, Ray Speltz, Diane (Easton) Archer, Ed and Sally (Shaler) Pasque, Lois (McCurdy) Gerant, and Nelda (Kindy) Stanley, all from the class of 1958, and Bob Fitzpatrick (class of 1956), Vern Erickson (class of 1957), and Jerry Davis (class of 1959). What a great lunch and a great time.

Jean Marie Detcher of Greensboro, S.C., spent a long weekend here visiting her grandmother, Eleanor Detcher of Deer Meadows. Due to the weekend of rainy weather, they waited until Monday to join in a fun time family cookout at the Ray and Judy Detcher home. Her parents, Rich and Carol Detcher of Florida were also there.

Jerry and Sarah Davis of Durango, Colo., were here this past week visiting his mother, Florine Davis, and other area friends.

Charles and Annette Mariner honored Boyne City High School graduate of the class of 2008, Casey Mariner, with a graduation party this past Sunday night. In spite of the down-pouring rain, friends and family members attending made it a bright and happy occasion, in sharing congratulations, cards and gifts, memories and refreshments. Especially here for this special time in her life were her proud brothers, Scott and Carl Mariner of Grand Rapids. Her aunt and uncle, Ashley and Tim Whennen, of Indiana had been here to attend her graduation last Sunday, with their best wishes. Casey is planning to continue her education at North Central Michigan College in Petoskey in the fall.

Grandvue Auxiliary met on June 12 with 15 members, 5 residents, and 2 guests attending. Jackie Swanson demonstrated the new "Wii" gaming system recently purchased for Grandvue by the auxiliary.

Members and residents played golf on one of the many games in the program. "Wii" functions as a therapy tool for the residents, along with creating a recreational and social interaction between residents. In a short time, its value has already been recognized. Permanent nametags were presented to the auxiliary members by the Grandvue staff. Re-elected officers are: Ardieth Hawley, president; Helen Deming, vice-president; Shirley Howie, secretary; and Peg Crosszier, treasurer. Details for the July 10 Salad Lunch were discussed. A request was made from the Activities Department for help with the weekly Tuesday restaurant outings. Compliments were given to the staff for their quality and informative auxiliary programs. Anyone interested in learning more about Grandvue and rendering service to Grandvue and its residents is invited to attend monthly meetings on the second Thursday of each month at 12 p.m.

Karl Waldner of Boyne City turned 86 on June 10. So, if you see Karl, make sure you wish him a happy birthday. His daughter, Lisa Alexander and family, will be traveling from Stafford, Va., to spend Father's Day weekend with Karl and Janet in Boyne City.

Theresa Hecker of Boyne Falls sent in a note to express and share deepest sympathies to the family and friends of Marge McClees Stamper who passed away on May 5 in Curtis, Mich. Marge was formerly of Boyne City and worked at United Technology/Essex Wire and was a dear loyal friend to some people here in Boyne City. She was sad to hear of her passing and will treasure the visit she had with Marge and her mom, Marilyn Jarema, when they had traveled to Curtis to visit Marge and went shopping and out to lunch. "She was a wonderful woman and will be missed by those that knew her well."

It was a great turnout on Friday at the Boyne Area Senior Center. As a tribute to Father's Day, Terry Powers pinned on boutonnières to the first forty attending and the girl scouts served each of the men a generous and good lunch. All enjoyed the entertainment of the Jordan Valley Duo.

In The Darnedest Things Happen corner is a story that came in this week from Theresa Hecker of Boyne Falls. "I was on my way to the NMC BBQ in Traverse City when a swan hit the power line behind the Fitness Gym on Main Street. I tried to get the swan off the road, as it was injured from the fall. I put my car on the road to block off drivers from coming through and running the swan over. I ended up calling several agencies to be informed that they only work certain days or don't handle "wild" animals. I had no choice but to call 911 and ask for the police officer to keep the road blocked until a rescue party arrived. Does anyone know what happened to the swan? I had to leave the scene after the police arrived in order to get to the BBQ in Traverse City. Song

$1,000 and four nights at a Disney Vacation Resort inside Disney World in Orlando.

"Many entries were first time song writers to professional song writers who have written a number of songs," Kowalske said. "Although anyone who would take the time to write a song about Boyne City is a winner in my mind."

According to Kow-

alske, there were numerous songs written but not submitted for one reason or another. He said "some just wanted to see if they could do it. I have had a number of people who submitted songs that said they would love to win but foremost they had fun writing it, and that this is something you could never take away."

Kowalske, with the help of Boyne City Main Street and the Chamber of Commerce sponsored this contest to find a new song for the City. The only requirements were to have some fun and find a tune that was both uplifting and makes you feel good. The new tune will be featured on radio, television and the city website.

"A couple of first time song writers told me that they have now started on their second song. I am so proud and honored to have gotten this type of response," Kowalske added. "It says a lot about the pride and love for our little town."

Kowalske started this project and his idea came from a slogan contest 14 years ago when he and the Downtown Development Authority organized a group to shape the future of Boyne City.

Over 720 entries poured in at the time from adults, kids and schools. Bonnie Johnson ended up coining the now popular "home town feel...small town appeal!" slogan that still appears all over Boyne.

In the case of inclement weather, the program will be held at the old Middle School on Park Street. For questions about the contest, contact Kowalske or Karen Guznick at 231-675-3721 or 231-582-2355.

Main Street

The Boyne City Downtown Development Authority was created in 1994, thanks to the efforts of volunteers, many of them business and property owners who wanted to see a better downtown. Projects achieved include paving of alleys and parking lots, the DDA assisted with the reconstruction of Ray and Main streets, downtown events were initiated and the Boyne River riverwalk was constructed.

Even with these achievements, the DDA wanted to do more and research led to the National Historic Trust and the Michigan Main Street Program. Since it started with the Program, Boyne City has assisted three property owners in the improvement of their facades. It created "Stroll the Streets," partnered with the Farmer's Market and created "Boyne Thunder." In the past two years, Main Street has been involved in the infrastructure projects downtown.

The National Historic Trust's Main Street philosophy is economic development and downtown revitalization through historic preservation.

Boyne City is part of a pilot program that involves 11 communities in the state working to create a culture more willing to embrace entrepreneurship.

Other accomplishments include organization of the Christmas parade and Taste of Boyne open house, and participation in the mushroom festival and the Fourth of July celebration.

Future short-term goals are continuation of the parking utilization survey, expansion of holiday decorations, creation of a plan for maintaining the new streetscape, assisting with vibrant small cities initiative projects, implementing a streetscape plan with benches, tables, banners and more, and building a volunteer base.

For more information about the anniversary celebration, contact the Main Street office at 231-582-9009 or email mainstreet@boynecity.com.

was thinking about retirement. She started to look at jobs that might be open and ironically the Director position was available.

"It's kismet. My job here is done. It's time for a new challenge," Miller reflected.

Miller came to Boyne from the Marshall District Library. During her time in Boyne she helped the library board oversee the expansion of the library in 2001 tripling the size. She also helped automate the library collection for easier searching and access for patrons.

"I have a lot to thank Nannette for. She brought me in as Assistant Director a couple years ago and I have learned a lot working with her," Assistant Director Cliff Carey said. "The staff will hate to see her go but understand that it will be a good move for her. We are all thinking of moving to Alaska!"

Carey will replace Miller as the new Director after holding the assistant job for the last three years. He said Miller was very involved in the community and had a great vision for the library.

"She was instrumental in our receiving the gift of over $2 million from the Mary Peabody Foundation. She has been involved with all aspects of the community, from working with the city manager, Main Street project, Northern Michigan Economic Alliance and the Chamber of Commerce," Carey said. "It was important to her the library serve the needs of the area."

Miller credited the staff at the library for all their work and said the experience has been wonderful.

"Not only do we all work well together, we all care about each other. I am amazed at how much I have learned, and not just about libraries, but also about people," Miller said. "There have been so many changes. Automating, more than tripling circulation, joining the PAC2 Consortium and changing circulation systems again...it is difficult to sum up twelve years of experiences in a few sentences."

While Miller is leaving Boyne City she said she loves the area and will miss the people here. She is proud of her accomplishments and singled out Hugh Conklin for some comments he made when Miller started.

"The first time I met Hugh Conklin, then the owner, publisher and editor of the Citizen, he threw down the gauntlet by declaring the library a joke and challenging me to do something about it. Thank you Hugh," Miller commented.

Miller has many fond memories in Boyne that include meeting Frances Fisher, one of the Directors of the Mary K. Peabody Foundation and the grand opening of the new building when she said her mother was crying after her speech.

There will be an open house on Monday, June 23, from 6 to 8 p.m., in the library community room for people to stop by and say goodbye. Miller has this last message to the community.

"I believe more than ever that strong communities have strong libraries. Get involved, and support the library," Miller said. "We have a great Friends group who has a lot of fun supporting the library. The library is here to serve you; let them know what you want and need. Thank you for everything."

from the road. Bicyclists, walkers and joggers will no longer need to travel on the shoulder of the road.

Commissioners approved an $11,072 commitment of funds toward the portion of the trail that is planned within the city. An application has been submitted to the state seeking a countywide grant for construction of the entire 16-mile long pathway from the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Plans for the trail consist of three phases of construction. The first phase is the portion within city limits and begins at Court and Addis streets and ends at Nelson Road, west of Young State Park. The next phase is Nelson Road to Pinchery Road, west of Horton Bay. The third phase is from Pinchery Road to U.S. 31 from where the trail will link up to the existing Little Traverse Wheelway.

Grants would cover most of the estimated $3 million cost of construction for the

October 1, 2009, is the earliest date that funds would be available, Sullivan said.

In other action at the June 10 commission meeting, police chief Randy Howard introduced recently hired patrol officer Tavis Tannehill.

Tannehill came to the Boyne City Police Department after eight years with the Emmet County Sheriff's Office. Prior to that he was a reserve officer with the Traverse City Police Department. He said he will enjoy working in a small community.

The next regular city commission meeting is at noon, Tuesday, June 24.

HOME & GARDEN PLANNER

Give Your Kitchen A Facelift

By Tresa Erickson

Take a walk through your home. How's your kitchen holding up? Is it starting to look a bit outdated and worn? Perhaps it's time you changed that. Don't have a lot of money to spend? No problem. You don't have to spend big bucks on a kitchen remodel to make the room look good. With a few inexpensive fixes, you give your kitchen a whole new look.

Paint is one of the easiest and most inexpensive ways to transform the appearance of a room. Almost any surface in the kitchen can be painted from wooden cabinets to laminate countertops to paneled walls to faded linoleum. Go ahead, be brave and paint your kitchen walls that bold color you've always wanted. Brighten your dark cabinets and woodwork with a fresh coat of white paint. Transform those old laminate countertops and linoleum floors with a faux finish resembling stone.

Want to make your freshly painted cabinets sing? Give them new pulls. Switching out old hardware for new will do wonders to revive tired cabinets and update a kitchen. Even if you decided to stick with your cabinets as is, don't neglect replacing the hardware. You will be surprised what an effect such a small change will have.

How's the lighting in your kitchen? Not so great?

Replace it. Take down that brass chandelier from the 1970s and paint or replace it. Switch out that tarnished brass overhead light for a sleek chrome one and that mustard-colored globe in the light above the sink for a frosted white one. Lighting fine, but need more of it? You don't have to hire an electrician to install more lighting in your kitchen. You can find a variety of battery-operated fixtures that you can install yourself. If those won't work, consider adding a lamp somewhere in the room.

Got an old ceiling fan in your kitchen that could use an update but not in your budget to replace it? No big deal. Turn off the breaker, grab a ladder and give your fan a good cleaning. Remove the fan blades and paint or replace them. Add a new pull chain, and your fan will look good as new.

Traffic flow in your kitchen a little tight? Take a good, hard look at what's in your kitchen and eliminate all of the pieces of furniture that you can do without. Get rid of that baker's rack and store your cookbooks in a cabinet or drawer. Trade out your large kitchen table for a smaller one and move the plants to the bay window in the living room. Clear the way for better traffic flow in your kitchen.

Clutter taken hold of your kitchen? Put a stop to it. Take a day to sort through drawers and cabinets and clear away all of the clutter. Donate items you never or rarely use. Bring in trays, lazy Susans and other items to organize the stuff remaining. Move small appliances off the countertops and into a cabinet. Get rid of the clutter and see how spacious your kitchen becomes.

Once you have given your kitchen a facelift, don't forget to clean it. Nothing brightens up a room like a thorough cleaning. Wash those cabinets inside and out, scrub that backsplash and floor, and scour those appliances. Make your new kitchen sparkle.

Local leaders add regional collaboration to entrepreneurial initiatives

A strong group of business, chamber, government and community leaders in the City of East Jordan is banding together to strengthen the Northern Lakes Economic Alliance Entrepreneurial Division's goal to make the region the hub of entrepreneurial energy.

The partnership will help the NLEA Entrepreneurial Division make northern Michigan become a more fertile ground for innovation and business creation and attract additional talents and resources for existing businesses.

"We have brought together a good cross section of business and community leaders to help us grow as we build what we call an incubator for new or existing businesses," said Lori Meeder, Director of the NLEA Entrepreneurial Division.

Partners with NLEA in the East Jordan area include Floyd Wright, Wright Builders; Mary Faculak, Executive Director of the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce and owner of EJ Shoppe and Mary's of Boyne; Dan Bennett, East Jordan Iron Works, and East Jordan Mayor; and Dave White, East Jordan City Manager.

Meeder said NLEA will count on these partners to identify start-up and existing businesses that could use services and resources to help turn an idea and a dream into reality.

As the NLEA division continues to grow its services, local community partners will assist two-fold: first, by identifying entrepreneurs needing assistance and secondly, possibly providing expert advice or services in areas such as talent development, early-stage funding, regional marketing, business outreach, and more. Ultimately, the NLEA Entrepreneurial Division hopes to form what is called "incubators" which could take a variety of shapes and forms - from an actual building that provides affordable space for new companies with common services such as a receptionist, to a menu of experts to step in and help in the areas of human resources, finance, information technology, or marketing.

In addition to providing services to the community, the partners will also benefit, Meeder noted.

"At the same time they are investing in the community and giving back with their time and expertise, they can gain by learning about new industries and helping them grow," she said.

"It is my goal to engage these community leaders to drive the growth and success in the region," Meeder said. "We're all about launching business forward."

"We're pleased to be involved in this exciting partnership focused upon making northern Michigan the premier place for new start-ups and existing businesses," said Keith Carey, Executive Director of the Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority, and a lead member of the NLEA Entrepreneurial Committee in Charlevoix.

The Northern Lakes Economic Alliance Entrepreneurial Division is a public/private nonprofit organization serving Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, and Emmet counties. Established in 1984, the NLEA mission is to serve as a resource to local communities and businesses to retain and create jobs.

Boyer City to Charlevoix Road receives support

Elsenheimer, Allen successfully place road project in budget

State budget work is getting under way and Rep. Kevin Elsenheimer and Sen. Jason Allen are wasting no time making sure the Boyne City to Charlevoix Road gets the attention it deserves.

After an Elsenheimer amendment placing the road project in the budget was defeated by the House Democrat majority, Sen. Allen came to the rescue and inserted language requiring the Department of Transportation to assume jurisdiction over maintenance and repairs for the Boyne City to Charlevoix Road.

"I was able to convince my colleagues in the Senate that this road was a priority for northern Michigan," stated Allen. "I am pleased the Senate honored the desires and interests of Charlevoix County residents."

Earlier this year, Elsenheimer held a public hearing and took public comments about the condition of this road.

"I am pleased the Senate has adopted the necessary language in this budget bill that honors the local sentiments which I heard at the public hearing," stated Elsenheimer. "It's time for the House to follow suit."

Although Elsenheimer voted today to support the Senate passed version of the bill, the measure was once again defeated by the House and referred to a conference committee for further consideration over specific points of difference between the House and Senate versions, including the Boyne City to Charlevoix Road in section 395 of the bill (House Bill 5808).

The conference committee will be chaired by a House Democrat since the budget bill originated in the House chamber. Considering the House defeated the original Elsenheimer amendment the likelihood of the Senate language remaining in the final conference report is uncertain.

A few years ago Elsenheimer was successful in attaining language in the transportation budget for the Gaylord overpass project.

"Even though the project was vetoed by the governor on two occasions, it was ultimately approved," says Elsenheimer. "Persistence pays off. If at first you don't succeed, try and try again. While I am uncertain as to whether the language for the Boyne City to Charlevoix Road will remain in the final conference report, the actions taken today are the first of many monumental steps that will heighten the administration's attention to the wants and desires of northern Michigan."

The conference committee is expected to begin its deliberations in the next few weeks. Elsenheimer and Allen are encouraging local residents to voice support to the governor and conference committee members that will be named soon.

CMU Summer Theatre bringing three plays to Boyne City

BOYNE CITY — Central Michigan University Summer Theatre is heading to Boyne City once again this summer. The cast and crew of students will present three productions in July. Performances will take place at 7 p.m. nightly, July 10 through 12, at the Boyne City Public Schools Performing Arts Center.

The schedule includes:
July 10 - CMU Summer Theatre will present "The Odd Couple (Female Version)" by Neil Simon. The revised version of the classic "Odd Couple" story tells the tale from the female perspective of main character Olive Madison; the story begins with her inviting friends over for a night of Trivial Pursuit. Communication and dramatic arts faculty member Keeley Stanley-Bohn will serve as director.

July 11 - CMU Summer Theatre will present "The Complete Works of William Shakespeare (Abridged)." The play, which has been called "impossible to resist" by the New York Times, is a parodied compilation of Shakespeare's plays and features selections from each of his works. Communication and dramatic arts faculty member Steve Berglund will serve as director.

July 12 - CMU Summer Theatre will present the musical "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." The production, based on the "Peanuts" comic strip by Charles Schulz, will explore the wild optimism and utter despair portrayed in the comic as seen through a day in the life of Charlie Brown. Communication and dramatic arts faculty member Timothy Connors will serve as director of the play, which features book, music and lyrics by Clark Gesner; additional dialogue by Michael Mayer; and additional music and lyrics by Andrew Lippa.

Tickets to each performance, which cost $8 for students and children and $15 for adults, can be purchased at Boyne Country Books, 125 Water Street in Boyne City; call 231-582-3180 for ticket information. Grants help buy mobile dental equipment

Matthew Pawlick, DDS, discusses how mobile dental equipment will be used to evaluate and treat dental problems for nursing home residents. Pawlick is a dentist at the Dental Clinics North Petoskey/Harbor Springs location. For more information about Dental Clinics North services in Mancelona, East Jordan, Petoskey/Harbor Springs, or Gaylord, call 877-321-7070.

Three local community foundations have awarded grants to Dental Clinics North toward the purchase of mobile dental equipment for its Long Term Care Oral Health Program. The foundations, Charlevoix County Community Foundation, Otsego County Community Foundation, and Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation, contributed a total of $11,750 which was matched by the Health Department of Northwest Michigan for the purchase of the equipment. Nursing home residents need regular dental care just like the rest of us. But most of them have problems getting to their dentists' offices, putting them at risk for potentially serious oral health problems, according to Greg Heintschel, DDS, Dental Director of Dental Clinics North, a system of dental clinics in partnership with local health departments that serves low-income people. "With our new mobile equipment, we are able to remove a major barrier to dental care for some of the people who need it the most - residents of long-term care facilities," he said. "Just being in an older age group increases risks for tooth loss, gum disease, or oral cancer." Nursing home residents, usually diagnosed with at least one chronic disease, are especially vulnerable to oral health problems, said Patti Ulrich, who coordinates Community Programs and Outreach for Dental Clinics North. "Oral health problems can exacerbate heart problems and lung infections. People with diabetes are particularly prone to dental problems. Many medications can cause dry mouth, causing discomfort and more tooth decay." Heintschel and Ulrich have already contacted the 30 long-term care facilities in the Dental Clinics North service area across the tip of Michigan. They expect to contract with at least 15 of them over the next 12 months for on-site dental visits. "With regular visits to nursing homes, our dentists and hygienists can identify and treat residents' oral health problems before they become serious," said Heintschel. For additional information about the Dental Clinics North's Long-Term Care Mobile Dental Project, contact Ulrich at 231-547-7648.

COA gives progress report

CHARLEVOIX — The Charlevoix County Commission on Aging continues to research the needs of the county's senior population and to develop programs to meet those needs, a consultant told county commissioners. David Emmel, who was hired as a consultant by the Commission on Aging, gave an update to the county board of commissioners at a June 11 meeting in the county building.

Emmel said he meets with the COA board officers and with staff to form programs that help seniors. He asked the county commissioners for feedback. County commissioner Joel Evans said he hopes that the COA stays focused on the programs that address the current needs of seniors. Future programs should be taken on slowly when the time is right, he said. County commissioner and liaison to the COA Bob Drebenstedt said the COA is helping the seniors that are for the most part forgotten. County commission chairman Chris Christensen summed up the county commission's expectations of the COA when he said the COA should meet the services of seniors and in an efficient manner. In other COA matters, this year's Senior Picnic is from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m., Wednesday, July 9, at the Harvest Barn Word of Life Church, 210 S. Lake Street in East Jordan. The cost is $6 for people under 60 years of age and a suggested donation of $3 for those 60 and over.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR,
CHARLEVOIX AREA
HUMANE SOCIETY

Left to die after suffering intolerable cruelty, this six-month-old Labrador Retriever refused to give up hope. Used as a bait dog for dog fighting, this adorable black lab was abandoned beside a garbage dumpster in a crate that was barely big enough for her little body to breathe in. After receiving ongoing medical treatment at the Michigan Humane Society and 8 weeks recuperating in a MHS foster home, Hope was finally ready for the good life. Hope is one of the lucky ones. Stories abound of puppies and cats suffering similar fates of being used as live bait for fighting dogs. They are either thrown loose in the fighting pit or often, strung up in a harness, legs dangling, so that they can not get away. Once they have served the purpose of inciting the fighters with their blood and movement they are left for dead or thrown out of a moving car. The fighting dogs, victims in their own right, are beaten and encouraged to fight. The non-fighters, or the losers, are left for dead somewhere, or killed outright. We think of these gruesome events as being held in cities and areas far away from northern Michigan. We think we don't need to concern ourselves when we have kittens or puppies to give away. However, dog fighting is very real and present in northern Michigan. Rest assured, free puppies and kittens are often the very victims that fighters of dogs look to use as bait. Those cute puppies and kittens that your pets give birth to, for whatever reason you have allowed, may very well suffer the same fate as Hope. So please, save some lives, respect some lives, spay and neuter your pets. If an unfortunate unplanned breeding does take place please be responsible for the careful placement of the offspring. Screen your prospective new owners carefully and however you plan to place them, do not give your pups and kittens to people you don't know. These people could very well turn out to be simply looking for "bait."

Challenge Mountain and Spirit Day Camp receive grants

Challenge Mountain and Spirit Recreation have recently been selected to receive grants from two local foundations. Both the Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation and the Charlevoix County Community Foundation chose the organization to receive grants for their prospective participants to benefit from. The Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation Youth Advisory Council chose to fund Spirit Day Camp with $2,500 for scholarships for day camps for youth and young adults with developmental disabilities. The Circuit Control Fund also chose to offer another $1,200 to the group. Challenge Mountain received $750 to purchase Flip Video Systems that will allow summer camping participants to videotape their experiences. The videos will then be uploaded to YouTube, My Space Accounts, and to Challenge Mountain's website. The videos will allow participants to learn more about internet usage, videography, and most importantly for others to have a better understanding of how they view their world and adaptive recreation. The Charlevoix County Community Foundation also chose to fund scholarships for Spirit Day Camp. The YAC for the foundation chose to award $2,000 to the day camps. Challenge Mountain was chosen to receive $3,000 to purchase a new Automated External Defibrillator for all recreational activities at the Adaptive Recreational Facility on Springbrook Rd. Mike Hurchick, Board President stated, "We are extremely pleased with the continued support and belief these two foundations show to us. It is through these generous gifts that we have been able to offer new and exciting things at Challenge Mountain and Spirit Day Camp. Year around they have funded our programs through new equipment, scholarship funds, and new programs. We couldn't do what we do without them." For more information or to donate, call 231-582-1186.

Local pressure reverses committee chair stance

Phone calls, e-mails put Bellaire trail back on table

The Michigan House has directed the Department of Natural Resources to work with Bellaire-area leaders to establish a snowmobile trail from Bellaire through the Jordan Valley region following a barrage of phone calls and e-mails from local supporters. "This is democracy at work," said Rep. Kevin Elsenheimer. "The host of people that have a stake in the years of effort that's gone into this project and the future benefits it holds for Northern Michigan came through by showing Chairman Lahti the importance of the snowmobile trail will have. "I commend them for the quick response they initiated to make a change for the better." Elsenheimer learned late on Thursday, June 6, that Rep. Michael Lahti of Hancock, the chair of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Natural Resources, had agreed to insert language into the state budget bill Senate Bill 1106, which will direct the DNR to work with the Bellaire snowmobile council and other interested residents to find a suitable path for the new trail. Lahti added the amendment during House session that evening and the bill was approved. SB 1106 now goes to the Senate for consideration.

WEEKLY Health Tips

By Steve Czerkes, Pharmacist

Coffee May Lower Diabetes Risk

According to recent studies, coffee drinkers have a lower risk of type 2 diabetes than those who don't drink coffee. In one study, 910 adults over 50 without diabetes were surveyed after eight years about their coffee drinking habits. Those who drank coffee (regular or decaffeinated) were 60% less likely to develop diabetes. More research needs to be done on exactly how much coffee is needed to be beneficial and what compounds in coffee make the difference. However, other studies have suggested that for people who already have type 2 diabetes, caffeine may hinder their body's ability to control blood sugar.

Alano Club receives $5,000 community foundation grant

The Boyne Area Alano Club has received a $5,000 grant from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation to assist with the purchase of Unity Hall, a meeting place for 12-step recovery programs in Boyne City and surrounding areas.

Unity Hall, a former church, located at 509 N. East St., opened its doors in the summer of 2007 as a result of a grassroots community effort. "There has long been a need for a meeting place for 12-step groups and when the opportunity arose to purchase the abandoned church, a group of volunteers seized the moment and made it happen," said Alano Board president Richard Fish. The board was organized last summer to purchase and manage the hall.

Unity Hall was sold to Boyne Area Alano Club for $65,000. With the grant from the community foundation, approximately $35,000 has been raised through fundraisers and donations from individuals and businesses.

"Locally, 12-step programs have met for years in various places and many people have benefited," said Jerry Matelski, Unity Hall's volunteer building manager. "Meeting space was obtained wherever possible and had to be changed time and again. This resulted in confusion, a lack of cohesion, and inhibited its growth. A permanent meeting space has been a major goal of local organizers for years and is now being realized.

"Unity Hall will further the goals of our local programs by adding stability, continuity and securing anonymity," Matelski added. According to members of the Alano Board, Unity Hall is a tremendously worthy endeavor. "It has solid community support and strong leadership," said board member Bill Winn. "It has already proven to be a great benefit to our community. Group meetings are growing and use of the building is expanding. Unity Hall currently is home to nearly 20 meetings a week and growing with a monthly average of 300 people attending." Addiction is a devastating illness, according to information from Alano. The disease reaches far and wide, touching 7 out of 10 people in one form or another. Most people know someone who is afflicted with the disease of addiction - a father, mother, sister, brother, friend, relative or co-worker. Addiction's destructive force rips through all segments of our society. Its costs are astronomical. Boyne City and the surrounding area reflect these statistics, with addiction deeply affecting individuals, families and employers. "One proven and effective treatment for addiction is the 12-step recovery program. It works. It changes lives. It keeps families together," Matelski said. "It provides huge benefits in coping with a devastating disease. Fortunately we now have a place in our community where 12-step program meetings can thrive; where voices can be heard and problems shared;

where addiction is recognized without prejudice; and where a community becomes whole. "Unity Hall is a place where those affected by addiction can find real answers and the comfort of knowing they are not alone," he added. The challenge to raise funds for the building's purchase continues. If you would like to make a donation, contact Alano board chair Richard Fish at 582-6724, or mail it to: Alano Club, P.O. Box 406, Boyne City, MI 49712.

Full moon names date back to Native Americans, of what is now the northern and eastern United States. The tribes kept track of the seasons by giving distinctive names to each recurring full moon. Their names were applied to the entire month in which each occurred. There was some variation in the moon names, but in general, the same ones were current throughout the Algonquin tribes from New England to Lake Superior. European settlers followed that custom and created some of their own names. Since the lunar month is only 29 days long on the average, the full moon dates shift from year to year.

Wednesday, June 18, Full Strawberry Moon. This name was universal to every Algonquin tribe because the relatively short season for harvesting strawberries comes each year during the month of June. However, in Europe they called it the Rose Moon. Friday, June 20, Summer Solstice. Friday, July 18, Full Buck Moon. July is normally the month when the new antlers of buck deer push out of their foreheads in coatings of velvety fur. It was also often called the Full Thunder Moon, for the reason that thunderstorms are most frequent during this time. Another name for this month's full moon was the Full Hay Moon. Saturday, Aug. 16, Full Sturgeon Moon. The fishing tribes are given credit for the naming of this moon, since sturgeon, a large fish of the Great Lakes and other major bodies of water, were most readily caught during this month. A few tribes knew it as the Full Red Moon because, as the moon rises, it appears reddish through any sultry haze. It was also called the Green Corn Moon or Grain Moon.

4th Annual Missy Memorial Scholarship fund-raiser.

Missy Kamyszek was a valued manager at the Red Mesa Grill in Boyne City, whose life was tragically cut short during the summer of 2004. A scholarship fund was established in 2005 and scholarships will be awarded annually in her honor to area students enrolled in the Northwestern Michigan College Culinary Program. National lightning safety week

Governor Jennifer Granholm has declared June 22 through 28 as "Lightning Safety Awareness Week" in Michigan.

While lightning can be fascinating to watch, it is also extremely dangerous. During the past 30 years, lightning killed an average of 62 people per year in the United States based on documented cases. This is more than the average of 54 deaths per year caused by tornadoes and the average of 49 deaths per year caused by hurricanes. However, because lightning usually claims only one or two victims at a time, and because lightning does not cause the mass destruction left in the wake of tornadoes or hurricanes, lightning generally receives much less attention than the more destructive weather-related killers. While documented lightning injuries in the United States average about 300 per year, undocumented injuries caused by lightning are likely much higher.

Between 1959 and

2007, the state of Michigan ranks 13th among all states in the number of lightning deaths, with 104 people known to be killed by lightning. During that same time period, Michigan ranks second only behind Florida in lightning injuries, with 730 people known to have been injured by a lightning strike in the state.

Lightning had a devastating toll in Michigan last year. One person unfortunately was killed by lightning in 2007, and an additional three people suffered injuries. Damages from lightning totaled nearly one million dollars. Three people were killed by lightning in Michigan in 2006.

During a thunderstorm, each flash of cloud-to-ground lightning is a potential killer. It's only a question of whether a person is in the path of the lightning discharge. Lightning deaths can be prevented only if people are aware of the dangers and seek shelter in a building or car.

Lightning can strike as much as 10 miles away from the rain area in a thunderstorm, which is about the distance that you are able to hear the thunder from the storm. That is why we stress: if you can hear the thunder from a storm, you are close enough to be struck by lightning. "If thunder roars, run indoors."

Where organized sports activities are taking place, coaches, umpires, referees, or camp counselors must protect the safety of the participants and viewers by stopping the activities sooner, so that the participants and spectators can get to a safe place before the lightning threat becomes significant.

We encourage everyone to take advantage of Lightning Safety Awareness Week to review their plans and discuss with their children the dangers of lightning. Simply moving indoors when you see lightning or hear thunder can save lives.

Obesity & Quality of Life

The gaining cultural perspective on obesity boils the physical hazards down to personal deficits. While society hammers away at the dangers of obesity, for instance high blood pressure, increased cholesterol, heart disease, and diabetes, (this is the short list)—has society noticed that obesity levels have not changed in our culture. As a result, this cultural focus on obesity leaves the psychological needs of the person behind. I was speaking with an adult learner (4.0 pre-med student) and she was discussing the pains of obesity. She relayed her pain in the following questions: 1) Have you ever had to sit in the handicapped area because these seats accommodated your body size? 2) Have you ever gone into any professional office and noticed chairs are not for fat people? 3) Do you have to be acutely aware of your environment always anticipating or fearing whether your body will fit? As I left that conversation, I was reminded of how painful obesity is and the psychological struggle as well as physical thus altering quality of life! Dr. McMillian 582-0553

Red Devils lose to Allendale 9-3 in Division 3 quarterfinal round

By GREG GIELCZYK
 SPORTS WRITER

CADILLAC — The stage appeared to be set for East Jordan to reach the state semifinals for the first time since 1979.

After scoring two runs in the top half of the first inning, East Jordan sent senior ace Scott Hansen to the mound against Allendale.

It had been a successful formula all season for the Red Devils, and there was no reason to think it wouldn't be again in the Division 3 quarterfinals at Cadillac.

But the Red Devils didn't score again until the sixth inning. By that time, Allendale had taken control of the game building an 8-3 lead en route to a 9-3 win.

The Red Devils had won their first regional championship in eight years just two days earlier.

Some luck was involved in both games as the Red Devils defeated Newberry 3-2 and Elk Rapids 1-0.

Both decisions involved an umpire's call. The first came against Newberry in the semifinals when a balk forced in the winning run in the Red Devils' 3-2 win.

Elk Rapids was called for player interference after a force at third, resulting in a double play to end the game in the last inning.

Allendale's successful m.o. this year has been its small ball game.

It worked for the Falcons against the Red Devils, who didn't always respond well to the pressure.

"Those are plays that we routinely make," East Jordan coach Pete Inman said. "Part of Allendale's game plan is to put pressure on your defense."

"And they did that well. I believe that we should have been here. I feel skills-wise, we're as good as this team. We're just waiting to take the next step."

East Jordan made a good first impression with its fans with a two-out rally in the first inning.

Matt Werner was hit by a pitch, and scored all the way from first when the Falcons made a wild throw after Ryan Gettle singled.

Gettle went to second on the error, and came home when Darryl Bingham laced a double to left field.

But the Red Devils' offense went silent through the next four innings as the Falcons gradually pulled ahead.

Allendale scored a single run in the bottom of the first on a double, two walks and a bases loaded sacrifice fly.

Two bunts, a single up the middle and a throwing error pushed across the tying run in the second. Allendale scored a single run in the third to take a 3-2 lead.

It was a 4-2 game after four when the Falcons used its small ball game to rattle East Jordan's defense again.

East Jordan helped with a hit batter and an error, before a bunt single loaded the bases. The Falcons scored on another Red Devils error.

Allendale built an 8-2 lead after five innings before the Red Devils' bats finally came back to life.

Mac Brennan doubled with one out. With two outs, Kevin Lavanway's double drove home Brennan.

Hansen was lifted after 5 1/3 innings after giving up eight hits and three walks. He struck out two and hit three batters.

It was a gutsy performance.

"Well, he worked on two days rest," Inman said. "That's tough for a pitcher. He gutted this one out for us."

"And we rode him for as long as we felt that we could."

The Red Devils started four sophomores against Allendale.

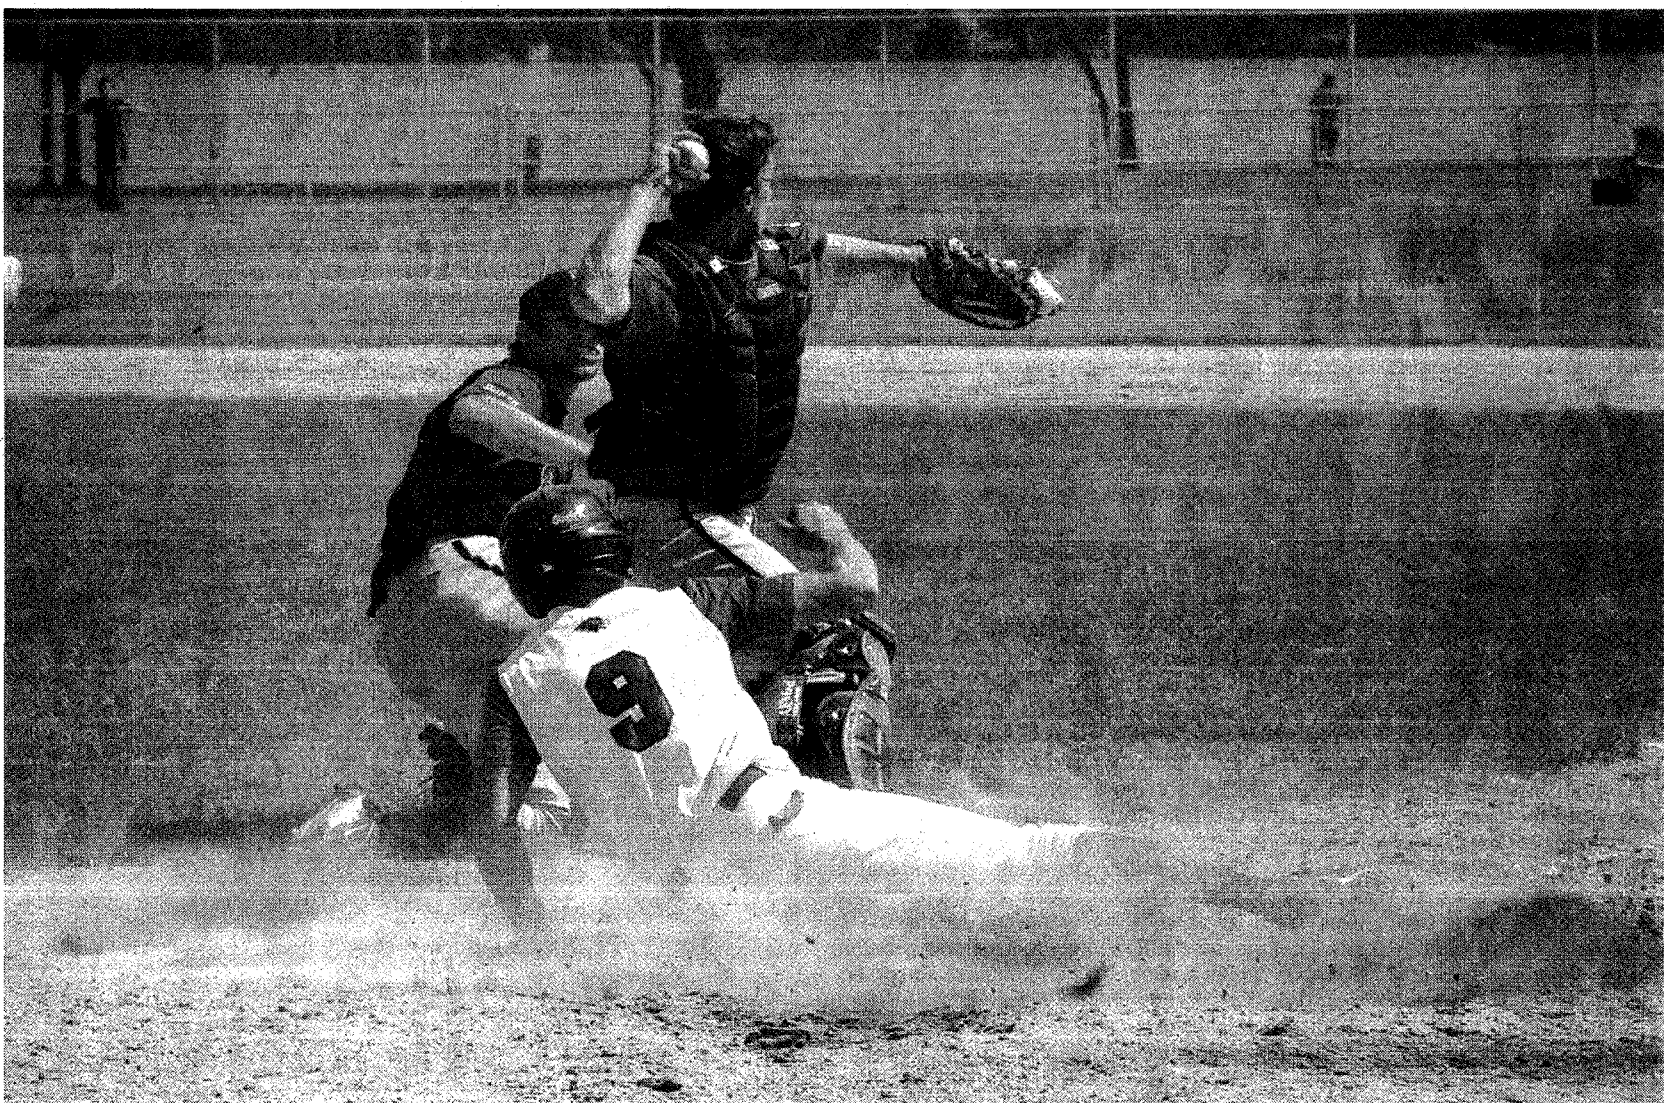

"We have a good baseball program, and we expect to keep building," Inman said.

East Jordan finished the season with a 25-11 record, and its first regional title since 2000.

Allendale (27-7) defeated No. 1 ranked Niles Brandywine (31-9) in the semifinals, but committed eight errors in a 14-4 loss to Grass Lake in the championship game at Battle Creek's Bailey Park.

Shortstop Ryan Gettle of East Jordan waits for the throw as an Allendale runner steals second in Division 3 quarterfinal at Cadillac Tuesday, June 10.

East Jordan catcher Billy Kraemer throws to first after forcing an Allendale runner out at the plate in Division 3 quarterfinal at Cadillac Tuesday, June 10.

Red Devils softball team sees season end against Gladstone

By GREG GIELCZYK
 SPORTS WRITER

EAST JORDAN — It wasn't how East Jordan's softball team planned to have the season end.

But that's why they play the games.

You don't know what's going to happen, normally, until the final out is recorded.

Unfortunately for the Red Devils, it just happened they ran into a solid Gladstone team in the Division 3 regional final at Kalkaska's field.

Gladstone cruised to an 11-0 victory, and made it a clean sweep by shutting out Kalkaska 8-0 in the championship game.

The Red Devils had visions of playing in the quarterfinals, and then perhaps the final four.

It just didn't happen.

Still, the Red Devils can be proud of their accomplishments during the regular season.

"We just couldn't get any hitting," East Jordan coach Meg Kitson said. "We played pretty well, but didn't hit."

East Jordan finished the game with three hits, two of them singles by Clancy Garland. Melissa Skrocki had a single.

Shaina Peters took the loss in the pitcher's circle. She had five strike outs, and gave up 10 hits.

"We felt good about our season," Kitson said. "When you end up losing to a team that is better, it doesn't hurt as bad."

"It hurts worse when you lose to a team that you think you should beat. I think all of the girls realize that was a team (Gladstone) that we should not beat."

Kitson didn't feel the Red Devils would have fared much better had they managed a few more hits.

Gladstone was just that much better.

East Jordan finished 23-12, with a district championship and second place in the Lake Michigan Conference.

DNR WEEKLY FISHING REPORT

Northwest Lower Peninsula

Petoskey - Boat anglers will find trout scattered in shallow waters along the shoreline south of the port.

Charlevoix - Trout anglers will want to target waters 70 to 90 feet deep.

Lake Charlevoix - The steelhead are running late into the season due to the cold weather, and a few brown trout have been caught. Bass fishing has been good with plenty of fish either spawning or cruising the flats. Try tube baits, crank baits or worms.

Walleye are turning up along the drop offs, emerging weedbeds, or where there is a current. Rock bass and other panfish have been caught.

Elk Lake - Strong winds have made it difficult for anglers to get out. Water temperatures have gone from 55 to 61 degrees. Anglers are targeting walleye in the north section of the lake but so far no fish were caught. Bass fishing was slow.

Skegemog Lake - The surface water is 65 degrees. Look for smallmouth bass in the southern end of the lake, near the marsh, the Torch River and the access site. On the north end of the lake, check out the Narrows while using tube baits, crank baits, spinners, and crawlers in 3 to 15 feet of water. Walleye fishing was slow, but those targeting bass and muskie have caught a few. Pike have been caught between the Torch River and the marsh.

Big Glen Lake - The warm weather has turned out some really nice catches. Smallmouth bass are hitting bright spinners along the shoals. Some northern pike have been caught. Rainbow trout are moving into shallow waters to feed. Try casting silver rapalas.

Crystal Lake - Anglers are catching perch on wigglers or minnows. Look for smallmouth bass in the weedbeds off Beulah.

Manistee - Fishing has picked up with chinook salmon caught in waters 100 to 150 feet deep when using blue or green Dolphins. Pier fishing was slow with only a couple salmon caught on spoons or alewife.

Lake Cadillac - Bass fishing has been fantastic. Crappie and pike catches have also been good, and the bluegills are finally on the beds.

Lake Mitchell - Has very good crappie, pike, and bass fishing.

Ludington - A couple salmon and lake trout have been caught in 80 to 150 feet of water, but fishing pressure has been light.

- THE HISTORY CHANNEL
- On June 29, 1613, the Globe Theater, where most of Shakespeare's plays debuted, burns down. The Globe was built in 1599 from the timbers of London's very first permanent theater, Burbage's Theater, built in 1576. The galleries could seat about 1,000 people, with room for another 2,000 "groundlings," who could stand on the ground around the stage.
 - On June 28, 1857, Emerson Hough, one of the most successful writers of adventure novels of the Romantic Western genre, is born in Newton, Iowa. One of his most popular works, "The Covered Wagon" (1922), established many of the conventions of the genre that continue to be popular today.
 - On June 27, 1922, the American Library Association awards the first Newbery Medal, honoring the year's best children's book, to "The Story of Mankind" by Hendrik Willem van Loon.  - On June 26, 1948, U.S. and British pilots begin delivering food and supplies by airplane to Berlin after the city is isolated by a Soviet Union blockade. By July 15, an average of 2,500 tons of supplies was being flown into the city every day, with planes landing every four minutes round the clock.
 - On June 25, 1967, the Beatles record "All You Need Is Love" in front of an international television audience. The six-minute version recorded on the TV show, however, was cut down to four minutes for its release as a single.
 - On June 24, 1987, comedian, actor and musician Jackie Gleason dies. He was one of TV's most popular stars in a number of shows, including "The Honeymooners" and "The Jackie Gleason Show," which ran throughout most of the 1950s and '60s.
 - On June 23, 1992, Mafia boss John Gotti, nicknamed the "Teflon Don" after escaping unscathed from several trials during the 1980s, is sentenced to life in prison without possibility of parole after being found guilty on 14 counts of conspiracy to commit murder and racketeering.

Responsibility

Responsible Adj. 1. liable to be called to account, 2. morally accountable for one's actions; capable of rational conduct, 3. respectable. This word comes up a lot in our line of work. Mostly in wanting to place some reason, even blame, on others for the deplorable work to be done at times. Employees in the sheltering business end up in this work usually because they love animals. This love translates in many ways. Some love so much they want an animal to live at any cost - financially or physically. Others love so much that they see extreme suffering as a reason to consider "letting an animal go" using a humane method. Both types of "love" cause different reactions in the public at large but regardless of which line of thinking feels more "right," responsibility is still at the core of your action. When you bring an animal into our life, whether by choice or stray, you have become morally accountable to and for that animal. There will be times when it will become impossible to continue caring for a pet.

Whether the reason is circumstantial or due to behavioral incompatibilities, the responsibility is yours to be accountable to the animal and to those of whom you ask help. In "open" admission shelters, such as ours, staff are often asked to be the ones to take on others "problem" animals. Sometimes, you may not hear what you want to hear when you ask these shelters to take an unwanted pet. When you ask them to take on an elderly pet, or an aggressive dog or cat with behavioral issues that make it impossible for that animal to be adopted or even integrated into the stressful environment that a shelter situation offers they will often decline to admit them. It is an extension of that "love" they feel. Some, whom are denied, then ask what they should do with the pet. The answers vary from seeking behavioral counsel, veterinary consultation and, if all those have been tried you may even hear "perhaps you need to consider euthanasia." This elicits a wide variety of reactions but the sad fact is that the animal will not stand much of a chance for a better result in the shelter.

It all gets back to the "responsibility" issue. What these persons are asking is that the shelter become the responsible party for making the difficult decisions for them. If the animal would suffer more in a shelter environment, and keeping it is impossible, what option would you choose? The responsible owner will want what is best for the animal.

If you are of the "keep the animal alive at any cost" faction your choices will vary from the faction that does not see suffering as a viable existence. Neither faction is "right" or "wrong" - they are simply ways of looking at a difficult situation. Please consider the aspect of "responsibility" when you ask your admission shelter to take on your difficult decisions.
