Our man with the night stick acts as salesman for a fire prevention outfit when he's off duty, and now we see where he also sells matches... both the cause and the cure.

Al Sinclair was handed a bowl full of the long green as it was passed for collection at the banquet the other night. Said Al, "I didn't know we were having lettuce salad."

Andy Anderson and Teddy Kotowich, who appeared in the film shown at the bowling banquet the other night, were watched very carefully by Conservation officer O'Brien as he viewed the film from the back of the room. Although the film showed various scenes on the Jordan, O'Brien was scratching his head over the number of fish these boys seemed to be catching on the screen.

If the snow keeps coming and our car keeps running we're going to hark back to that business about portal to portal pay from the time we get out of the snow bank in the morning until we get back into it at night.

They say, that to the average girl, courtship is the art of not showing her hand until it's asked for.

Many a husband's saddled with debt because of a clothes-horse, says Eddie Roberts.

We understand that the new de-skidding machine up at Bader's Standard caused friend Harold many a night of sheep counting until he received proper instructions on its operation. Customers reported that first cutting of their tires for better traction was like wrapping the slink side of banana peelings around the wheels.

Quick to adjust things, Harold called in representatives of the company merchandizing the machine and discovered that he had been given false information upon its operation. After adjusting the machine and slotting the tires, customers reported they were more than satisfied.

Following good sound business practices, Harold made complete and satisfactory adjustment to all customers who received their work when the machine wasn't operating right.

Today he is guaranteeing 100 percent satisfaction to customers who have their tires de-skidded at his station. Honest business men who are quick to do the right thing to all customers are a credit to our city.

The Christmas spirit is everywhere in ye old city. Our community Christmas tree at the end of Main street is especially beautiful this year; and the street decorations up and down Main street are a credit to the city.

Don't miss that Christmas scene atop the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery, it is well worth a long look.

Merchants, too, have gone all out this season in trimming their windows. Some mighty excellent ideas have been displayed in the various windows and you are missing a bet if you don't make a window shopping tour before Christmas.

John Porter pointed out to us what Consumer Power Company is doing nationally to attract industry to northwest Michigan. The power company purchased a full page ad in the November 10th issue of Time Magazine saying "Northwest Michigan... as good for industry as for vacations."

The national ad tells about the Northwest Michigan industrial development council and what it is doing to encourage industry to locate in this area. Finally, the ad says, "Check these advantages of outstate Michigan" and listed below are a long list of reasons why industrial plants should decide to locate in this northern territory. Consumers Power company is going a long way at its own expense to aid in the development of our territory.

East Jordan To Elmira Highway Condition Is Explained By Ziegler

The following letter to the East Jordan News comes as the result of an inquiry to the State Highway commission which was followed by an editorial on these pages. — Editor.

Marshall Sayles, Publisher
The East Jordan News
East Jordan, Michigan
Dear Mr. Sayles:

This will acknowledge your letter of November 21st, asking when we are going to reconstruct M-32 between East Jordan and US-131.

I am sure you are familiar with the fact that since 1941 our Michigan Trucklines have been going backward until this year. This has been caused by the following reasons.

1. During the four years of World War II Federal restrictions prohibited all highway construction. In 1946 when we expected to get started on a post-war program, necessary road building materials, new equipment, and even repair parts on old equipment, were impossible to secure because of the wave of strikes throughout the country. This was therefore the fifth year when no construction could be undertaken.

2. From 1941 to the beginning of 1947 when we did get started on our post-war program, costs had risen over 100%. These continued to rise until at the present time they are between 115% and 120% above 1941. This means that a mile of concrete pavement that cost from forty to forty-five thousand dollars a mile in 1941 is now costing one hundred thousand dollars per mile.

3. 1941 saw the peak pre-war volume of traffic. This, of course, dropped way down under gasoline, tire rationing, etc., during the war period. During these four years our revenue also dropped some forty-five million dollars. During 1946 this traffic again came up to equal the 1941 volume. Since the beginning of 1947 this total traffic has increased over 50% and as a part of this increase, truck traffic alone has increased some 90%.

This terrific increase in traffic, not only helped build up a terrific backlog of emergency work, but also rendered some 1500 miles of our trucklines overloaded, congested, more hazardous to drive and more expensive for the operation of motor vehicles.

From the beginning of 1947 to the middle of the year 1951, our finances were only adequate to match Federal funds allocated to the State for highway construction and did not leave any over for any other type of construction. It was necessary therefore, that practically all of our State funds be used to match the Federal funds so that these would not be lost to the State. During those years we had one million dollars of Federal funds which we could use on Federal Secondary Highways.

M-32 between US-131 and East Jordan is a Federal Secondary Highway, and our construction funds had to be divided in accordance with the Laws at that time, 25% in the Upper Peninsula, 25% in the Counties in the upper part of the low peninsula and 50% in the lower counties of the State. With all the backlog of emergency work we had, all over the State, two hundred and fifty dollars of Federal money for

Big Scare

The 18 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Merritt, of Deer Lake, was resting comfortably Saturday after giving her parents a big scare. She swallowed something.

Rushed to East Jordan, Dr. Van Dellen said first x-rays looked as though the child had an open safety pin inside her. But it was discovered to be an overall buckle with the prong sticking out.

Internal medication went to work on the child and Friday morning, after suffering 24 hours, the parents were in possession of the buckle and the child was reported out of danger.

Lutheran Church Holds Variety Of Christmas Services

The program centers around a mother who is trying to impress her children with the true meaning of Christmas. In order to do this, she takes them to the Sunday school Christmas service so they hear the real Christmas story. This includes the Prophecy, the Nativity, Adoration of the Shepherds, and Adoration of the Wisemen. These parts are to be portrayed by the Sunday school girls and boys.

Mr. Fred Stecker will accompany the program on the Hammond Organ.

Christmas church services will be Friday, December 26th at 8 p.m. with Pastor Phillip A. Frethem giving the sermon.

There will be a Hymn Sing Sunday, December 28th at 8 p.m. in the church annex followed by a social hour and refreshments. The congregation will honor new adult and teen age members at a New Year's Eve Party and Candlelight Service at the church Annex Wednesday evening, December 31st.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the Church Annex Tuesday, December 30th at 2 p.m. for their regular monthly meeting. Bring a 25c gift to exchange, and please note the change in date.

Michigan on Federal Secondary Trucklines, did not go very far and did not even cover the serious emergency projects.

Of course, you remember that the 1951 Legislature increased the gasoline tax from 3 to 4 1/2 cents per gallon, and also, increased the weight taxes on the heavy trucks. The gasoline tax collection became effective as of June 1st, 1951. The weight tax increase did not become effective until the sale of 1952 plates. As both taxes required by Law, were to be distributed quarterly, we did Honored at dinner in Ellsworth during the event was the Ellsworth high school basketball team of 1928 when Sinclair was their coach. It was the team that went to the quarter finals in the state tournament. On that team were: Evert VanderArk, Grand Rapids; George Klooster, of East Jordan; Arthur Elzinga, of Lansing; Lloyd Rood, of Indiana; Herbert Peebles, of Ellsworth; Adam Sinclair, of East Jordan; John Vanderberg and Ed Youngdike.

With the homecoming program at Ellsworth high school, special buses transported alumni to East Jordan high school for the basketball game and the rest of the festival. (East Jordan News Photo by Bill Hucktle)

Christmas Activities At Ellsworth

Joan Edson, senior in Banks Township School will represent Ellsworth at the "Miss Merry Christmas" dance in Bellaire Saturday night. She will compete with others from Antrim County for the title, Miss Merry Christmas.

Motorists driving through Ellsworth have enjoyed the special manger scene in the school yard. The scene portrays the Shepherds worshipping the Christ Child. The life size figures and special lighting are the handiwork of the shop instructor, Don Seifried with the coloring done by Mrs. Seifried. The lights and time switch have been loaned by the Ellsworth Electric Co. to highlight the scene.

And, as usual, the large evergreens at the town hall have been decorated with Christmas lights, and the strings of colored lights at the intersection of Center and Main Street give the village a festive appearance.

Church and school programs scheduled for the holidays include the Sunday School program at the Pilgrim Holiness church Sunday evening, December 21st, the program at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church Christmas Day at 11 o'clock im-

There has been a good deal of fuss most of it from the big cities, about Michigan's election system. As a member of the governor's study commission on this subject, we have listened to a number of authorities both from the group, and outside it.

So far, we don't discover much to get excited about. There are flaws, of course, flaws which can be easily corrected. But they aren't fundamental, and they don't threaten the purpose of elections—which is just to let people freely and fairly elect candidates.

Some good suggestions for improvement we have heard include:

1. Making the squares on the ballot smaller, thus permitting smaller ballots that would be easier to count.
 2. Make it a law for election boards to bring election returns to the county clerk—or to a deputy the clerk names—as soon as the votes are counted. This would eliminate long delays in some counties in reporting returns, although in Lapeer County we have been able to get most of the returns at the Press with our own staff.
 3. Eliminate local proposals and local contests at the fall state and Presidential elections. This would reduce the number of ballots.
 4. Eliminate some outmoded county offices such as County Surveyor, which again delays the counting, and lengthens the ballot.
 5. Change to appointive offices such minor ones as coroners. Again this would simplify the ballot, and aid the counting.
 6. Make it mandatory for precincts with over 1,000 votes to split into two precincts.
- These suggestions would simplify the counting of votes, and the gathering of returns. By making it simpler and easier for election boards to operate we'd make for greater accuracy. By providing a quicker, more certain system of reporting returns we would satisfy a public eager to find out the statewide returns. (From The Lapeer County Press.)

Violator Of Deer Law Caught By Two States Co-Operating

Lansing — Co-operation of conservation enforcement officers in Indiana and Michigan put an end to one violator's activity recently, the conservation department reports.

The story began to unfold when an alert Indiana officer found a deer in a locker plant in his area, bearing a Michigan resident tag. The deer belonged to an Indiana resident.

He notified Michigan authorities, who began a routine check. They found the man had purchased a resident hunting license. Checking further, they found he also purchased a half-year Michigan auto license and a Michigan operator's license to make the whole story of his Michigan residence look real.

Finally, Indiana reported the violator was back in Michigan, trying for another deer—having used his wife's license for the first one. Apprehended, he was charged with hunting illegally on a Michigan resident license and with removing a deer from the state illegally.

The violator paid fines and costs totalling $115, had hunting privileges revoked for three years and was given seven days in jail to mull the whole affair.

Indiana and Michigan co-operated on the case as acting members of the Association of Mid-western Fish and Game Law Enforcement Officers.

Three basketball games to write up . . . the one at Charlevoix was good, it was really too bad that we lost, of course, but it gave East Jordan and the Red Devils the chance to show their good sportsmanship, and that is very important, too.

Well, we finally made up our promise, and the honor roll is in. And we did have an excuse . . . the marks were not recorded in the office cards. Do you notice that the Seniors have more on the honor roll than all the other classes? percentage-wise that is. And only the 7th and 8th grades beat us in number, but the 12th grade has 35 in the class, and those two grades are the largest in Junior and Senior high. Look at Ron Wilson's marks! Six subjects and on the Honor Roll with more to spare! There's brains in that thar' head!

Hold Final Sale Of State Land Leases

Gas and oil well leases on more than 27,000 state-owned acres were sold at the conservation department's final sale of 1952, held at the Capitol recently.

That takes the total state-owned land under petroleum lease to a record high of about 955,000 acres. And the total number of wells on state land, also a record, stands at about 356 for oil and 23 for gas.

Of the total sold in the final sale, 26,996 were wildcat acres, 127 were proven. Bonuses totaled $6,029 on wildcat land, $18,626 on proven land.

More than 50,000 acres were offered.

IMP-LINGO

By THE IMP

Hi Jordan,

That Devil never seems to stay in one place long enough to finish what he's started . . . so I decided to snatch his space and write a column of my own!

To begin with, Fellas, that was a good game Friday night! "Better to suffer defeat than cause to be ashamed of victory".

Mr. Downing has a paddle! It seems he couldn't keep order in his last hour study hall, so he uses this . . . and it works out pretty good . . . just ask K. Ogden, D. Clark, and A. Ingalls.

Heard: Joe Pete gave a certain senior girl a book on Ju Jitsu . . . what's she trying to do defend herself? Against whom? Now, now . . .

Saw: Marg C. and Jack Z. as a twosome at the Charlevoix game. Some enchanted evening.

Ted S. has been asked to the Christmas Dance. Does anyone know who by?

Were your ears blasted in Friday night by a certain Judy M. playing her own horn?

Seen: A new blanket . . . of snow, of course.

I noticed Sally S. didn't ride home on the bus Friday night. Did Norm get you home okay, Sal?

What's the idea of breaking out the lights and cutting the rope at the ski tow up at Winter's Hill? After all, they're there for your benefit.

Well next week there'll be all those couples for the Christmas Dance and the PTC Dance . . . and what's this about a Senior New Year's Dance? B'by, you all, "the Imp".

Peninsula News

There were seventeen present at Sunday school. There will be a Christmas program Sunday, December 21st at 8 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reich are visiting in Muskegon and Rothberry and other points visiting his brothers and sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peters and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rose Jr. and family of Boyne City, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Kile Jr. and daughter of Greenville helped their father celebrate his birthday Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayden and daughter of Elk Rapids and Mrs. K. Staley and Mrs. C. Coblenz of Charlevoix spent Sunday afternoon with the Haydens.

Star 4-H and Peninsula 4-H met at Star School Wednesday evening. Mr. K. C. Festerling showed us the movie "Fun at Breakfast". It showed the talent winners at Chicago in 1951.

The Eveline Farmers Union met with Lyle Wilson Tuesday evening with ten members present.

Seed that is wonderful in Ontario may not germinate well in Michigan; seed that Minnesota farmers like may not be disease-resistant in Michigan; seed that wins praise in Pennsylvania may be a low-producer in Michigan. Out-of-state seed that is proven for Michigan will be handled by reputable seed dealers.

LEGION . . . Auxiliary News

The Legion Auxiliary Unit 227 held their meeting Tuesday, December 9, at the Legion Home. Several good committee reports were given. Peggy Thomas, community Service Chairman, reported that Rhea Thomas had taken over the responsibility of getting the dolls dressed for the Community Christmas. She found that there were more women who wanted to dress dolls than there were dolls. The Auxiliary is very grateful for the splendid response received in this program.

Edna Wilkins thanked the girls of the Auxiliary for their co-operation in registering people for civil defense. She also thanked Peggy Burns, who helped though she is not an auxiliary member.

It was reported that our Unit sent two Christmas gifts to the Gaylord Sanatorium in accordance with the Lower 11th District Hospital program.

The membership contest was won by Lillian Bennett's team with a total of 51 members for 255 points. Hilda Bathka's team had 30 members and 150 points, and now it is up to the losers to entertain the winners at some future date. Lillian thanked Helen King, Marie Woodcock, Peggy Thomas, Margaret Kenny, and Eva Peterson for their help in getting members. Hilda also thanked Mary Lou Breaky and Eva Peterson for the help they gave her.

Peggy Thomas reported that contributions for the Community Christmas are coming in.

To date contributions stand as follows: Money previously reported $152.00. Edith Swafford 2.00, Mary Martha Class $6.00, LaVera Ingalls 1.00, Hattie Kakke 1.00, Lutheran Ladies Aid 6.00, Clance Griffin 5.00, Jassamine Rebekah Lodge 5.00 and American Legion (Benefit Party) 181.73, Total $357.73.

The Auxiliary will meet Tuesday, Dec. 23, at the Legion Home 8 o'clock, the evening will be spent putting the finishing touches on the Christmas boxes. Rehabilitation chairman Helen King will have charge of refreshments. Be sure and attend.

A display will be shown in the window of the Quality Food Market to show the people of the community just what will be in the boxes that will be distributed to the needy families for Christmas. It is the object of the Auxiliary to acquaint everyone with the good this program does in our community.

Your Christmas tree will stay green and fresh longer if it is cut slantwise about an inch up from the original cutting and the stem placed immediately in water.

MCS Warns On Peddlers Of Oat Seeds

Farm-to-farm salesmen, selling seed oats at high prices for out-of-state companies, are operating in Michigan, according to reports received by Stuart C. Hildebrand, farm crops extension specialist at Michigan State College.

These "new" varieties may be practically unknown or unadapted to Michigan. They may sell for more money than Michigan-proven varieties that yield as well or better, farmers are advised by Hildebrand. He is secretary of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association.

Great performance claims are made for these "new" varieties but the quoted tests were in other states or other countries . . . not by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. Prices are exorbitant when compared to Michigan-grown certified seed, the best in the state for varietal purity.

"For instance, one variety being sold is Nemaha," explains Hildebrand. "Yield tests in Michigan in 1950 and 1951 show Nemaha will run two-to-five bushel less per acre than the Clinton variety. Nemaha is more suited to Kansas and Nebraska."

"If Mohawk seed is being sold, there is no point in buying it, at higher prices, in preference to Clinton. The two varieties are sisters, very similar in all respects, including yield and test weight. We have known Mohawk as New York Clinton."

Hildebrand recommends that Michigan farmers seeking the best oat yield and the greatest economy in seed insist on performance records that apply to Michigan conditions. Plant Michigan-recommended varieties. Clinton and Eaton oats still have the best records in most locations; Kent performs well in some areas and on light soils; Bonham does well in northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula; Bonda is Michigan-recommended even though not certified.

Farmers can check on seed possibilities through the MSC farm crops department at East Lansing or see their county agricultural agent for performance records before buying. They should play safe and steer clear of any seed without a Michigan record and beware of salesmen selling seed claimed to have greater varietal purity than Michigan certified seed. No such seed is available commercially, the MSC specialist claims.

The best bet, according to Hildebrand, is to patronize your local elevator or seed dealer. He will have seed of recommended varieties at reasonable prices. The farm crops specialist urges that it pays to use Michigan certified seed.

Check for defective wiring or connections around the Christmas tree. When selecting a place for the tree it is best to stay away from curtains or draperies that might ignite easily.

Insects keep working all winter in stored grain—the label on the can of grain fumigants will tell the farmer what to do.

Michigan Bell Improves Its Pension Plan

Detroit. — The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has announced major improvements in its 39-year-old Pension Plan.

The changes have been reviewed with the Communications Workers of America CIO and approved by the Wage Stabilization Board. While not a joint petitioner with the company before the WSB, the Union did not oppose such action.

Changes provide:
1. Substantial increases in minimum retirement income at age 65 or older for those entitled to Social Security benefits.
2. Freezing of adjustments for Social Security benefits to that the full amount of any increase in such benefits in the future will be passed along to all pensioners.

Minimum retirement income at 65 will be increased by a new provision that the minimum pension of $100 a month include only one-half the amount of the Social Security benefit at time of retirement. Minimum pensions Social Security benefits.

The freeze provision will assure pensioners the full amount of any future Social Security increases after their retirement. Pensioners who retired before September 1, of this year, will receive the full amount of the increased benefits provided in 1952 amendments to the Social Security Act.

Clifton W. Phalen, Michigan Bell president, said the current modifications marked the fifth time that major improvements have been made in the company's pension plan since its inauguration in 1913.

"The latest changes," he said, "continue our policy of modifying the Pension Plan to meet changing times and conditions and to keep the Plan in good relationship with those in outside industry."

Michigan Bell's plan is non-contributory. Pensions are computed on the basis of one per cent of the employee's salary or wages during his last 10 years of service, multiplied by his total years of employment.

Anglers Are Busy Digging 'Wigglers' For Ice Fishing

Lansing.—With the approach of the ice fishing season, Michigan anglers and commercial bait dealers are busy digging "wigglers" from mud bunks for use as bait.

Wigglers, larvae of the burrowing mayfly, probably provide the important single source of bait used by Michigan ice fishermen.

Conservation department records show that commercial bait dealers have placed such emphasis on wigglers that now the insect type ranks second only to minnows in bait importance.

Generally 1 1/2-2 1/4 inches in length, wigglers are found during the fall and early winter in mud banks lining streams or lakes. Bait dealers dip them out with special screens.

Now that the rush of the Christmas season is upon us, there are a lot of things crowding into our thoughts. Including such things as gifts and wrappings and goodies to make, and the tree.

Particularly the tree and decorations; that's where one of our chief enemies, fire, can begin its destructive job. We should remind ourselves that Christmas trees and decorations are very inflammable . . . that this condition is heightened by the drying heat of the furnace or fireplace, which removes humidity from the air. A fir tree, full of resin and pitch, is one of the most combustible objects known. Once ignited, it burns so quickly that it's almost impossible to put the fire out.

The National Board of Underwriters suggests a number of safety rules to observe in order that fires may be prevented:

- 1—Choose a small tree, for it's less of a fire hazard.
- 2—Keep it away from radiators, heaters, fireplaces, open doors or stairways.
- 3—Use flame proof ornaments of glass or metal.
- 4—Decorate the tree with electric lights, with wires in good condition. New lighting sets should have an Underwriters label.
- 5—Put your lighting switch at some distance from the tree. That's safer than crawling under the tree to plug the cord in or out.
- 6—Do not leave tree lights burning when nobody's home.
- 7—Take your tree down as soon as the needles start to fall.
- 8—Dispose of all gift wrappings immediately after gifts are opened.
- 9—Do not allow smoking near your Christmas tree.
- 10—Be sure to buy flameproof decorations, if you use those made of paper.

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA.—(FHTNC)—Accepting her fate as an orphan of war, "Miss Hap," a two-week old Korean kitten, chews down on canned milk piped to her by medicine dropper with the help of Marine Sgt. Frank Praylor of Birmingham, Ala. The Marine adopted the kitten after his mother was killed by a mortar barrage near Bunker Hill. The name, "Miss Hap," Praylor explained, was given the kitten, "because she was born at the wrong place at the wrong time." (Official U.S. Navy Photograph—FHTNC)

Also misplaced were these youngsters—children of some 70 refugees from a North Korean fishing village—who grin with delight as they face their first real meal in many days. Crew members aboard the destroyer USS Cunningham, such as D. H. Bartley, engineman first class, USN, of Fort Wayne, Ind., were pressed into service to pass out huge portions of steaming rice and scrambled eggs to some very grateful customers. "Any Deer" Season Reducing Herd Dept. Reports

Michigan's special "any deer" season, held during closing days of the regular buck season in November, was a successful start to the conservation department's plan for reducing the deer herd in areas of winter deer food shortages.

A summary of information on the special season, mailed to department supervisory and field workers, shows that the estimated took about 91,000 deer, mostly 250,000 special season hunters from places where thinning of the herd was most needed.

Game specialists estimate hunters might have taken twice the number without harming the herd, but this year's kill was at least a long stride in the right direction.

Some areas had fairly heavy kills, such as Gladwin Refuge, where 32 deer were taken per square mile during the entire season. But this is not excessive when compared to normal Michigan counts of deer per section, or to kills reported by other states. A recent tracking count made in fresh snow along roads at the refuge showed 20 deer per mile.

But game men say chances are good that a stepped-up productivity of remaining does and reduced mortality of fawns will give a 1953 fall population nearly as high as that of 1952. The experience of other states is that continuing harvest of does and fawns is necessary to deer herd management.

Pre-season anxiety over belief that the any deer season would greatly increase hunting accidents was not borne out. The accident rate this year did not vary significantly from that of the last five years.

Figures show the kill during the final three days was composed of eight percent adult bucks 50 percent adult does, 22 percent fawn bucks and 20 percent fawn does.

Further information will be available at a later date. The University of Michigan and Michigan State College are aiding the department in two post-season hunter surveys, presently under way.

Record Bear Take Reported By Conservation Dept.

Final totals of game carried by hunters over the Straits indicate Michigan will probably register a record take of bear in 1952.

Reports received by the conservation department show 406 bear crossed on Straits' ferries, by far the highest number taken in recent years.

Straits' figures reflect the total kill for any year. Last year, 216 bear were carried over the Straits; total kill for the year was computed at 1,110. In 1950, the total computed kill was 1,179 and 281 bear came over the Straits. In 1949, an estimated 716 were killed—131 of these crossed the Straits. Highest previous total taken across was 314 in 1946.

Generally mild weather that prevailed during much of November's deer and bear seasons kept bears out of hibernation and was believed responsible for the high kill.

Other final totals show 8,522 deer, 59 coyotes, 27 bobcats, 17

Record Bear Take Reported By Conservation Dept.

foxes and five wolves also were carried over the Straits. Hunters received 466 permits to take deer through Wisconsin and five deer were carried south on the Ann Arbor ferry. During the special any deer season, 28 does and fawns were taken north across the Straits.

Allegan—Forty deer were taken by 373 hunters during the special Allegan county "any deer" season, December 1-7, the conservation department reports.

Hunters had some snow during early days of the season; rains ended all attempts at tracking during the final days. However, 19 of the deer were taken during the final two days of the season.

Last year, 497 hunters took 54 deer; in 1950, a registered 488 hunters took 49 deer; and 581 hunters took 30 deer in 1949.

This year's kill was composed of four adult bucks, seven adult does, 15 fawn bucks and 14 fawn does.

Hunting on the 55,000-acre tract is by permit only, and 1,000 were issued this year. Hunters must register and report success at the Swan Creek Wildlife station.

FARM GOSSIP COLUMN

(Compiled and Edited by the News Staff)

You may not find the job of figuring your income tax quite so hard this year. The tax forms, procedures, and information needed are the same as last year. There are, however, some changes brought about by the Revenue Act of 1951, the effects of which will not be fully realized until the 1952 tax year. Following are the major changes that will affect you as a farmer:

1. Tax Rate Increases — The increase in tax rates provided for in the Revenue Act of 1951 took effect late the same year, but apply to the entire year of 1952. The tax rates on 1952 incomes are, on the average, about 9 percent higher than those on 1951 incomes.

2. Capital Gains — For 1952 and thereafter, the "50 percent rule" (when schedule D is used) can be applied to any long-term capital gain only after any short-term capital loss has been subtracted. Prior to 1952, the 50 percent rule was applied to capital gains before short-term capital losses were subtracted.

3. Sale of Draft, Breeding, or Dairy Animals — There has been a further clarification of the conditions under which sales of breeding, dairy, and draft animals are treated as "sales or capital assets". When so treated they will be reported on Schedule D (Form 1040), where only 50 percent of the net gain from capital gains and losses will be taxable income.

If a sale of livestock is to be treated as a sale of a capital asset, the following requirements must be met:

- a. The animal must have been owned for 12 months or more.
- b. The animal must have been held for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes, and not primarily for sale in the ordinary course of the farm business.

The term "livestock" is given a broad interpretation and includes cattle, hogs, horses, mules, donkeys, sheep, goats, fur-bearing animals, and other animals. It does not include chickens, turkeys, pigeons, geese, other birds, fish, frogs, and reptiles.

The determination of whether or not livestock are held for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes depends upon all the facts and circumstances in each particular case. The purpose for which the animal is held is ordinarily shown by the taxpayer's actual use of the animal. An animal is not considered as being held by the taxpayer for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes merely because it is suitable for such purposes or because it is held by the taxpayer for sale to other persons for use by them for such purpose.

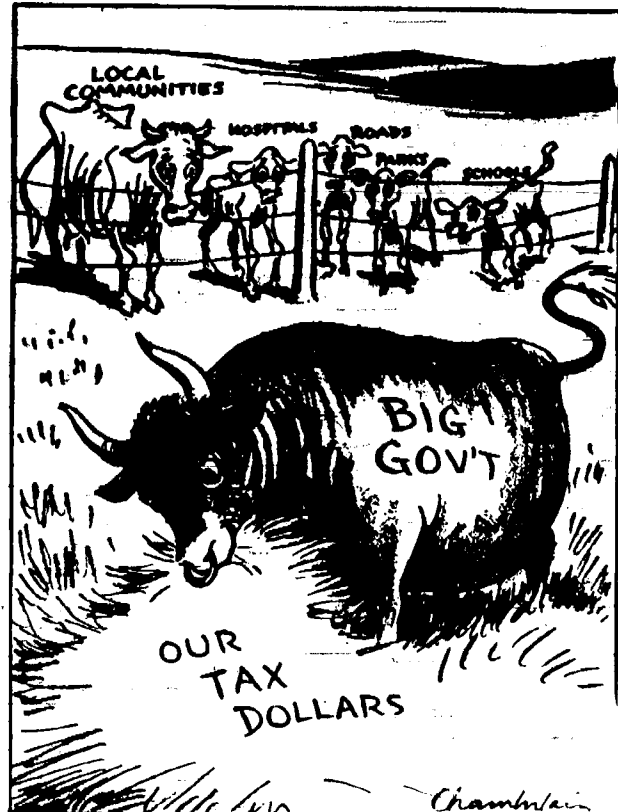

A change in the Revenue Act of 1951 provides that a farmer who reported as ordinary income the gain from the sale of dairy, breeding, or work stock in 1949 or 1950 that were held over 6 months may make an amended return treating the sale of such animals as the sale of a capital asset and file a claim for refund on Form 843.

In addition, he may make an amended return for any year with respect to which a consent agreement (Form 872) is still in force. He also may make a claim for refund for any previous year for which additional payments have been made within the past two years.

In reviewing the request for refund the entire return and the supporting evidence is subject to re-checking by the collector.

To help farmers prepare income tax reports, Michigan State College has made available a bulletin, "Farmers 1952 Income Tax", which has been approved by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. This bulletin presents in greater detail the changes that have been made in the tax laws and gives assistance in computing tax returns. Farmers can get this bulletin without cost from their local County Agricultural Agent.

Northern Michigan farm youths can improve their future farm income and community leadership by making use of the slack season after the holidays. R. E. Dennis of the Michigan State College short course department says:

Enrollments are open for 12 different eight-week practical short courses in agriculture, home economics and related subjects, plus leadership training, starting January 12.

This type of training, offered for many years, has been kept on a usable and practical basis. I have talked with Dennis and with many of the boys and girls who have taken the courses at Michigan State College. These courses offer a real opportunity to students of Charlevoix county who do not plan, or must delay, full college training. Courses will be over early in March to enable the youths to start farm work. He will be happy to discuss the courses with any young person or parents that is interested.

Short course students will be housed in Wells and will make many lifelong friendships in classes and dormitories. Enrollment can be arranged by writing to Short Course Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing. Full materials will be mailed. The cost of an eight-week course is about $160 for room, board, tuition and books.

Farmers Set Three County Meetings

Three annual farm meetings have been scheduled for the Ellsworth community hall with farmers from Antrim and Charlevoix counties attending.

The meetings which will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. January 6th, will include the following farm associations: The Antrim and Charlevoix A.B.A.; the Charlevoix and Antrim counties Dairy Herd Improvement Association and the Antrim and Charlevoix counties Red Dair Breeders Association.

Charlevoix county agricultural agent Ed Rebman said discussions will be conducted during the day by George Parsons, dairy specialist; and Karl Wright, farm management specialist, both of M.S.C.

The Kewadin A.B.A. will meet the next afternoon, Jan. 7th at Milton Town hall. The MSC specialists will also conduct discussions at this event.

County Farmers To Hear Soils Expert Jan. 21

Casper Blumer, county farm agent of Alcona and Oscoda, will be the main speaker at the 5th annual meeting of the Charlevoix county Soil Conservation district at the high school, Boyne City, Jan. 21st.

Blumer, who has been working for many years with legume seed production, trench silos, grass silage and an improved pasture program, will show slides of his work.

Charlevoix county movies will be shown at 2 p.m. and a business meeting will be held from 2:15 to 3 p.m., with Clayton Healey as chairman.

The election of two new directors will be held with Lyle Peters as chairman of the election committee.

Clayton Healey and Norval Kortase have terms expiring and the names of four nominees will be placed on the ballot. Other nominations will be received from the floor.

"LOOKING AHEAD"

The Bureau of Marketing and Enforcement, Michigan Department of Agriculture, announces that mandatory grading requirements will become effective in 1953 for five additional fresh fruits and vegetables marketed in Michigan. The United States grades and grade requirements will then apply to slicing cucumbers, cantaloupes, melons, peaches, and pears. At the present time, apples, grapes, potatoes and tomatoes must be sold by grade when marketed in fresh form, and cherries for processing are also sold on the basis of grade in Michigan.

Winter Driving Caution Urged For Holidays

Accident rates go up when the sun goes down, cautions a University of Michigan traffic authority.

This is doubly true of the Christmas holidays when more people than ever are driving at night and the weather is most apt to be bad, says Prof. John C. Kohl, director of the U-M Traffic Institute.

Here's what he advises for safety:

Take your time. Christmas is sure to come, but if you're careless, it may never come for you.

Dim your lights when approaching or passing other cars.

Don't walk along highways at night. Dark clothes and general darkness form an accident producing combination. If you must, carry a light and be sure to walk against traffic.

Don't drink if you're going to

ORCHARD NOTES

By C. Fairman

Fruit Varieties for the Commercial Orchard and Home Orchard.

Many are now looking at the pretty pictures in the nursery catalogue and selecting trees for their orchard or garden and back yard, either for commercial purposes, home fruit, or semi ornamental.

It is one of the fine arts to plant and grow a nice shapely tree producing a beautiful bloom and nice luscious well colored fruit.

For peaches in Northern Michigan the largest number of growers recommend the following varieties. Earliest and best the "Red Haven"; next to ripen "Fair Haven"; next "Hale Haven"; from there on its a toss up. Perhaps a few "Kal Haven" and "J. H. Hale" for late ones. The "Amber Gem" is the selected clingstone for Michigan canning factories. If peaches have not lived for you before the chances are that they had leaf curl from the lack of early dormant spray. In most cases this one spray before growth starts is the only spray needed.

Apply the first days—the temperature is up to 40 degrees. There is still a little snow on the ground and before grass turns green. If not sprayed in the dormant stage they winter kill easily.

Remember it takes longer to stop on ice and snow and that skidding off the road or into another vehicle under such conditions is amazingly easy.

and on up into August. Any one is welcome to come here and note the varieties of sweet cherries and the varieties of most other fruits.

To any one planting only two trees of the sweet cherry, I would recommend the "Windsor" and the "Schmidt". The "Windsor" is late to ripen, is the most prolific and has a dark color. It takes its size at ripening time; holds its flavor after ripening and is the easiest to (pit). It is the largest tree of all, and yields the most bushels, up to ten or more bushels or 20 lugs per tree.

The "Schmidt Biggreau" is earlier or just before "Windsor" and gets the largest and blackest of all cherries, and the fruit does not crack from wet weather. Does not hold its flavor if left on the tree too long. Bears lighter than "Windsor" and some times the wood or limbs of the tree die back. It is one of the very best cherries only it costs more to grow it.

Other varieties of cherries: "Seneca" late June; Gov. Wood July first yellow; "Yellow Spanish", yellow; "Black Tartarian"; "Royal Anne" or "Napoleon"; Yellow pink cheek "Bing" "Lambert" "Late Lambert"; "Black Giant" "Late Yellow"; "Dyke-man" very late.

(Fruit varieties continued next week.)

by LEON BARTLETT

Hi, Sportfans! Someone was wondering the other day how anyone could get tired of deer meat, but a local merchant was overheard saying that the meat business was back to normal again. Either someone got tired of venison or ate it all up. I know someone who thought he didn't like venison. But he ate some venison hamburger the other day and didn't even know he was eating it.

Well, the main attraction of the week in sports is basketball. Now that the season is underway, it is showing a lot of excitement moments. To most north-erners, basketball takes a high spot along with skiing, skating, or maybe shoveling snow. All around the country basketball is a high spot in sports, and a lot of people enjoy seeing a good game. It has drawn more spectators and has given more thrilling moments than any other sport. Why not follow your team and back them up. Many others do.

It seems that the Ellsworth Lancers have quite a powerhouse this year. Beating Harbor Springs, a class C school, 48-36 shows that they have an outstanding team in their class. This last week they ran over Elk Rapids winning 64-14. The Lancers have a lot of height which is to their advantage and so a good job controlling the rebounds from the back board. They are rated tops in their class and are not expected to lose this season.

In the battle of the week, the Red Devils playing the Raiders at Charlevoix gave basketball fans quite a thrill. It was a battle from the start of the game to the finish, and showed some outstanding playing from Bobo Bennett, Warren Frank, and other members of both teams. East Jordan led throughout the game until the last quarter. When Charlevoix won 48-38. Not only was it a game to show conference standing, but the two teams had a personal race of their own.

In the last ten conference games between East Jordan and Charlevoix each team has won five. Last Friday's game put Charlevoix in the lead.

At Charlevoix Hazel Walker and her girls gave the sports fans a different and exciting exposition of basketball against the Charlevoix alumni team, using boys rules. Hazel has a choice of girls from different parts of the country and has outstanding performance in free shot shooting, etc.

Games scheduled for Tuesday were as follows: Boyne City at Mancelona, Harbor Springs at East Jordan, Gaylord at Pellston. On December 19th the games are Boyne City at Petoskey, East Jordan at Gaylord, Pellston at Harbor Springs, and Mancelona at Charlevoix.

"Safe" Christmas Friends, And Keep It Disaster-Free

Merry Christmas, friends, but remember... Christmas Eve is the deadliest holiday night of the year, twice as bad as New Year's Eve for traffic casualties, and fires have put the end to many a Merry Christmas.

Your last-minute rush to complete Christmas arrangements may be your last minute to enjoy life, warns David G. Steinicke, Michigan State College safety extension specialist. The 15 hours of darkness before Christmas are a time to be on guard. Some of us will find it a good time to be home trimming the tree.

If we follow some simple rules Steinicke suggests, our Christmas may be merrier. The ordinary Christmas tree is one of the most flammable objects known, full of pitch and resin. It may take less than two minutes to burn. Firemen might be way too late.

Choose a small tree, it's just as beautiful and safer. Buy it early if you like, but don't set it up until a few days before Christmas; keep it outside or in a cold place. Cut the tree trunk diagonally one inch above the original cut; mount the tree in a container of water and keep water above the cut surface until the tree is taken down; this will make the tree less burnable and keep needles from falling. Erect the tree in a cool spot, shutting off nearby heat if necessary.

Paper and cotton decorations, wires and electric trains around trees can cause fires, as can candles or electric lights with frayed wires and loose sockets. A switch at some distance is safer than plugging and un-plugging lights beneath or behind the tree. If needles turn brown, move the lights, and when needles start to fall, take the tree down or hold lighting to a half hour at a time.

Holiday Supper Tips For The Busy Housewife

Holiday suppers can be fun and easy if you employ a little strategy, says Faye Kinder of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department.

Make it simple! That is the keynote of Miss Kinder's recommendations. Plan to serve buffet style and when the guests ask to help... let them. They will feel more a part of the party and you will get less flustered. The buffet service will save dishes and linen, too.

The real secret is to plan a menu that can be prepared... at least in part... a day or so in advance. Miss Kinder suggests molded gelatine salads with either fruit or vegetables and ice box desserts such as chiffon pies or filled angel food cakes. On the day before list you could also include cooking shrimps or fowl for casserole dishes and getting most of the items for the relish tray ready. But Miss Kinder cautions against overdoing the early preparations that might end in soggy or dried out foods.

Here is a suggested menu: Ham loaf, au gratin potatoes, jellied fruit mold, relish plate, rolls, coffee and angel food cake filled and iced with chocolate whipped cream. In the menu the salad and dessert could be prepared the day before and also a relish plate that included celery sticks, carrot sticks, radishes, cucumber fingers and green pepper sticks.

Hooks on cupboard doors are convenient for holding measuring cups and spoons.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS NEWS

The general spearing season for ice fishermen will get under way January 1 and will remain open through February on most inland waters, the conservation department advises.

Each year, the popular spearing season draws large numbers of anglers seeking northern pike, muskellunge, lake trout and many other species, all listed in the 1953 fish law digest. The digest is now available through license dealers.

Brevort Lake, Mackinac county, Otsego Lake, Ostego county, and Houghton Lake, Roscommon county will not open to such fishing, nor will most trout waters of the state.

The only trout waters open to such fishing are listed below; anglers may obtain detailed descriptions of these waters by consulting local conservation officers. The trout water list, by counties.

Alcona part of Au Sable River, Cheboygan part of Black River, Grand Traverse-all power ponds on Boardman-River-Gogebic-parts of Black and Presque Isle Rivers, Iosco-part of Au Sable River, Kalkaska-Mill Pond on North Branch Boardman River at Kalkaska, Manistee-parts of Manistee and Pine Rivers, Marquette-Chocoma River Bayous, Oscoda-part of Au Sable River, Wexford-part of Manistee River.

Two hunters have returned tags from bucks shot in the upper peninsula during the recent deer season, the conservation department reports.

One hunter, D. R. Jones, Curtis, said he shot a buck November 16 that he thought for a moment was a Christmas tree. However, on closer inspection he found it was a buck all right... but bearing no less than three ear ornaments.

Tag 4168 was in the left ear, tag 4534 in the right and blue disc number 438 also in the right ear, was trapped by Cusino wildlife.

The animal's history shows it experiment station personnel and first tagged in northwest Schoolcraft county February 6, 1951 as a nine-month old fawn. Tag 4168 was placed in its ear. On January 28, 1952, the animal was caught again at about the same place and the second tag and disc affixed. The disc enables department personnel to check movements of tagged deer through filed glasses.

The animal was shot only a few miles from where first tagged.

Edward Tyson, Wayne, Ohio, shot the second tagged deer east of Melstrand, only two miles from where first tagged. The eight-point buck had only one tag, number 4572, in its right ear. The animal had been captured apparently lost one of the tags not get any advantage in 1951 from the new revenue. This year was the first year that we got the benefit of this.

In 1951, with all our available funds under contract, we only had about a twenty-two million dollar construction program. This year we have had nearly forty million dollars worth of work under contract from regular State and Federal funds. This is the first year therefore that we have been able to cut down on the backlog of emergency work which

East Jordan Vote Count Upsets County Totals In Third Ward Mistake

A 64 vote change in favor of Alger for Governor turned up in recounting East Jordan votes at the county building.

The county clerk's office reported Wednesday that in the recent national and state election a 63 vote counting error in East Jordan was made in the third ward and one error in the second. First returns counted in the East Jordan third ward show Alger with 198 votes while the recount showed he collected 259 votes.

Governor Williams neither gained or lost in the recount of East Jordan votes, but county officials said East Jordan's mistake changed the county voting picture considerably.

Final tabulations for the city show Alger with 484 votes and Williams, 339... a difference of 145 in Alger's favor.

Alger did not do as well as General Eisenhower, who topped Governor Stevenson with a 173 vote lead at the end of the East Jordan voting.

Urgent Need For Hay In Drought Areas Continues

The supply of hay being shipped from the Northern States to the drought area is still far behind the demand, says LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the Charlevoix County PMA Committee.

307 tons of hay in 22 cars have already been shipped from Charlevoix County to farmers in Georgia, Louisiana, Kentucky and Mississippi. Hay is now being shipped from East Jordan and there are prospects of hay being offered for some time. Offers of at least 10 cars are now in the county office and more expected as farmers become aware of the great need in the Southern States and determine the surplus they will be able to offer.

It is not desired to ship in quantities that will make the county short of hay but if there are surpluses of any quantities they are urgently needed to help these farmers in the South to save their breeding stock. Farmers wishing to offer hay for shipment to these drought areas may call the Charlevoix County PMA Office in Boyne City for further information.

has been growing continuously since 1941.

We did, as you remember, make an improvement of a bad hill situation on M-32 several years ago. I believe this improvement was about a mile and one-half in extent.

Naturally we have been giving preference, from what little money we had, to those gravel surfaced trucklines where the traffic was the heaviest. It was almost impossible to give any satisfactory maintenance on a gravel route where the traffic was averaging 800 to 1000 or more vehicles per hour, the year around. The traffic on M-32 today, between US-131 and East Jordan is only about 200 vehicles per day.

As stated above we have just started this year to cut down on work which had grown to a total traffic backlog of emergency of approximately two hundred thirty million dollars.

We also built a new bridge just Southeast of East Jordan, about three years ago, on M-32.

I am sorry I cannot give you any definite information as to just when we can put more work on relocation and reconstruction for better alignment and grades on M-32. We have not forgotten this truckline, but when our funds are expended on the basis of greatest good to the greatest volume of traffic, and we feel this is the correct and fair way to look at this, we can only hope that we will be able to put a further project on this section of M-32, probably in 1954 or 1955. I am sorry our progress has been so slow since the end of the War, and will, of necessity, also progress slowly but still with a step-up of progress for the next couple of years.

We will keep this section of M-32 in mind and try to work out something as soon as our finances permit.

Sincerely, Charles M. Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner

Lancers Whip Elk Rapids In Homecoming Game

The Ellsworth Lancers put on a big show for the "old grads". The boys were sharp for the most part, while Elk Rapids had a bad night and didn't play the game they usually do. The Lancers whipped the Elk Rapids boys to a resounding 66 to 14.

Scoring honor for Ellsworth went between Smith and Allen, Elzinga. Elzinga kept the nets whipping in the first half and Smith took over the job in the second half. For Elk Rapids, Peterson and Cole were top scorers.

The reserve also showed a lot of power by swamping the Elk Rapids outfit 59-18.

Both teams went all out to show the 1928 champs (who were present) what the 1952 team could do when they got down to business.

Jordan Ski Club Will Operate Tow On Mt. Nebo

Preparations have been made to resume operation of the ski tow at Mt. Nebo this winter. It is expected that the tow will start Sunday, December 21. There is some weed cutting to be done before the slope is in order.

Again this year, there will be no charge for the use of the tow, but all winter sportsmen are urged to join the club. Annual dues are: Under 16, 50c; Adults, $1.00; Family, $1.50. Membership cards can be purchased from present members.

Chop leaf-over parsley into small pieces and dry in your oven. You have the same thing as dehydrated parsley sold in spice cans.

Mich. Bell Gives Tips For Those Christmas Calls

If you want to make sure that you talk to Aunt Nell back in the old home town this Christmas, take it from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company that you might do well to follow two suggestions:

1. It will help a lot if you call by number.

2. It will help even more if you call a day or so before Christmas Eve.

It's not that Michigan Bell won't give the old college-try to every call it handles; but indications are that perhaps as many as 200,000 people will be trying to call at once. Under the circumstances, telephone people are fearful of delays in putting calls through.

Planning for plenty of operators and long distance circuits to meet this busy Yule Season's rush began December 26, 1951. Last year's 175,000 call tally gave some indication of what to expect this year.

Direct dialing of long distance calls by operators to key cities throughout the nation has increased this past year. That will help the company in handling the big load but probably not enough to avoid delays in handling the inevitable rush.

of pine trees. We made birthday cards and sang the birthday song to Sharyn.

Marlynn Hughes and Linda Healey celebrated their birthdays together Monday. Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Healey served us ice cream, cake and candy. We thank both mothers for a wonderful party. We helped with the party by making birthday cards for Marlynn and Linda.

We will see a Christmas movie Friday morning.
