Over the Back Fence

By Marshall

There's much talk about opening television reception in northern Michigan in the months to come. A new transmitter to be constructed at Green Bay, Wis., may make it possible for local folks to enjoy at least one station.

Persistent rumors regarding a new northern Michigan daily newspaper leads one to wonder if (what with new north state industry arriving) area-development isn't coming faster than most of us were led to believe.

Local politicians will be shifting for position in the days ahead with their eye on the spring election. It's only 24 days away.

Have a look at the demonstration in the window at Romaine Plumbing & Heating.

A call for a local lawyer brought a number of fast replies. From the results the city may have a home town lawyer before too long.

There's been some discussion about an information room or booth for the city along about the time the resorters begin to arrive.

The closer trout season comes the more excited talk we hear from local fishermen. They are watching the calendar and checking over their equipment. And in a few weeks it will be: "Jordan River, here I come."

A pat on the back goes to city workers who have done such a good job of snow removal, scraping and sanding our streets this winter.

Plans are in the hopper to establish metal signs at outlying intersections telling about East Jordan sports activities during summer. Tom St. Charles, head of the city's parks and chairman of the merchant's trade at home committee, is working with the trailer park association to obtain their standard signs and add additional information about the city.

Fellow said the other day that East Jordan isn't a small town. He said it is big town with the undesirables removed.

Have you seen that modern look in the display windows at Chris's Men's Wear? The redecoration job has been outstanding.

There's a spring atmosphere at the Dress & Gift Shoppe. A new interior paint job has added to the pleasant feeling always noticeable at Minnie's.

Whiteford's 5c to $1.00 store has gotten out the paint brush and gone to work on the building's interior.

Andy's Duck Inn has installed a modern chrome and glass pie cabinet.

Porters Hardware has finished painting display stands for merchant's use.

We've heard it said that no family should have less than three children. If there is one genius among them, there should be two to support him.

County Gets Nine State Road Contracts

Iron Works Seeks New Building

The East Jordan Iron Works contemplates a $20,000 addition to its present factory building if East Jordan residents agree to close 200 feet of Spring street at the April spring election.

At a special meeting of the City Council Tuesday night, Iron Works representatives discussed possible closing of the street and explained how they need the space for expansion.

Ed Malpass told the East Jordan News Wednesday that the firm is complying with requirements necessary to have the street closing question placed on the April 6th ballot.

The Iron Works plans construction of building 192 feet by 94 feet and it was pointed out that the structure would not close rear access to the library, the Fire Hall or the American Legion hall.

It was said that construction would start immediately if residents agree to close the street.

The new addition would house pattern storage and hydrant assembly.

TO MEET TRAVERSE

East Jordan Moves Into Regional Tournament Tonight

For the second time in two years the Red Devils will move into the Northern Michigan Class C basketball regional tournament at Petoskey 7:15 tonight.

The district tournament win Friday night was East Jordan's second since 1940 and the 4th in local school history, Coach Gayle Saxton said.

His boys will face a strong Traverse City St. Francis team tonight which is fresh from knocking Frankfort out of their way.

In regional tournament drawing held at Petoskey Sunday, Cheboygan Catholic Central, Gaylord and Marion drew bys.

Winner of the Red Devil-Traverse City game tonight will meet the Cheboygan outfit, 7:15 Friday night. The Cheboygan Catholic school whipped Onaway 50 to 38 to enter the regionals.

Also Friday night at 8:45, Gaylord will play Marion and the regional finals will be run off 7:30 Saturday night.

Merchants Set New Date For General Meet

The board of directors of the East Jordan Merchant's Association Tuesday afternoon cancelled the group's regular monthly meeting set for tonight.

It was the decision of the board that too many East Jordan residents would be attending the regional basketball tournament in Petoskey tonight.

The board set next Thursday night for the general meeting. It will be held in the American Legion hall, 7:30 p.m. The board plans to have coffee and doughnuts for refreshments.

The board heard a letter read which indicated that a manufacturing firm, not previously contacted by the association, would check the city this week for possible location. Members of the firm are making a swing through northern Michigan.

The letter referred to the East Jordan Industrial Development Corporation and members of that group will meet the firm's representatives.

Due to continued demands from downtown and out state residents concerning the city, Chairman McDaniels instructed the publicity committee to draw up a pamphlet describing East Jordan.

The literature will be presented to the association for final approval. The publicity committee, which produced the now valuable brochure on East Jordan, includes: Doris Huckle, Overt Burull, Earl Clark and Milt Meredith. The pamphlet will be used as would a chamber of commerce piece.

The board heard a report from the secretary regarding the association's request that a lawyer be found to locate within the city.

Several answers are on hand and one prospective lawyer visited the city Saturday night. None have given final decision to locate here as yet.

The board was informed by Leo Somerville that the city has underwritten the cost of adding three sentences to metal trailer park signs which are being obtained by Tom St. Charles.

The trailer park association is furnishing its regular "approved" metal signs for East Jordan and additional wordage will tell residents that East Jordan has hunting, fishing, swimming, etc.

The signs, it was reported, will be placed at intersections around East Jordan in the near future.

The board discussed the possibility of holding a fourth of July home-coming program, but no decision was made.

Many Players Complete High School Careers

Many high school athletes whose names have become familiar in northern Michigan Class C sports circles are completing their high school athletic careers in the basketball tournaments. All are seniors who will graduate in June.

Boyer City will be hardest hit with the loss of eight men; Manicelona and Harbor Springs will lose six men each; East Jordan, four and Gaylord, Charlevoix and Pellston three each.

Boyer City will lose eight of their first ten players. On the list are such regulars as Don Arner, Ron West, Shorty Smith and Bob Fairchild along with Denny Pratt, Merle Karskin, Roger Poutette and Dave Hosmer.

Manicelona will also lose two regulars in Harold Patrick and his uncle, Andy Patrick, as well as four others who were on the substitute list. They are Jim Whiteford, Juosef Jabara, Vern

Ease Rayders Out With One Point Margin

A nip and tuck breath-taking thriller that makes basketball worthwhile to sport fans saw East Jordan's Red Devils cut Charlevoix's conference leading Rayders from competition in the 1953 tournaments at Petoskey.

The Red Devils dumped Charlevoix from the running and won the district contest after a touch and go affair that found the locals ahead 43-42.

Matching the Rayders throughout the game, the Red Devils copped the district crown amid a sideline din that drowned the sound of the final signal.

Last year East Jordan took the Gaylord district tournament and Charlevoix copped Petoskey's.

A free throw Friday night by East Jordan's Keith Evans cinched the game and shoved Charlevoix out of the limelight as a strong tournament contender. Playing without their famous all-state forward Bobo Bennett who had gone to bed with the flu, the Rayders fought desperately throughout the game.

Evans, who was placed on the all-state second string this year, hit the loop with 75 seconds to play. Charlevoix had driven desperately but the locals copped the ball and hung on.

A traveling penalty turned the ball over to the Rayders and they moved toward the basket. Referee Arnold Bohn saw Charlevoix traveling, but the sideline din drowned his whistle.

The Rayder's Bill Mosier tossed the ball through the net after the unheard whistle.

Taking the ball out of bounds Evans tossed it to Dick Freeman seconds before the final gun.

REMEMBERED DEFEATS
Playing hard to offset two regular season defeats by Charlevoix, the locals racked up their second C tournament win in as many years. Last year they moved into the regionals at Petoskey bowing to the Rayders during the finals.

In addition to Evans, tournament heroes included Dick Freeman who shot from the sidelines to give the locals a 42-41 lead with under 2 minutes left to play.

Warren Frank was tied down most of the evening, finally benched on fouls. But later he sank three field goals in quick order.

The Red Devils' big center clicked with two free tosses for all important points.

Contributing five field goals was Bob Danforth. With the locals behind 38 to 39 he stepped up and connected with two free throws.

Given one free throw during the game Sam Milstein's shot was perfect, helping his team keep pace with the fighting Rayders.

LOCALS OPENED FAST
East Jordan racked up a 3-point advantage at the start and kept it, 11 to 8 at the end of the first period.

Charlevoix outscored the locals in the second period and held a 22 to 21 lead at half-time.

After that the Rayders moved ahead with three points and went into the last quarter out front 32 to 28.

Late in the game Charlevoix's Jim Lewis tied things up with a field goal. During the latter part of the final quarter it was a toss up—anybody's game. Never was there more than one point difference during those moments.

The final gun sounded amid chaos with the Red Devils holding a one point lead.

HOPE HE FINDS THE KEY!

Balance Budget First!

President Eisenhower has made a balanced budget one pillar of his domestic policy.

The President wants to cut taxes, but he gave top priority to the balanced budget.

That position is sound—both morally and financially. It demonstrates a willingness to meet obligations. It shows awareness of the menace of inflation.

All of us would like lower taxes. That is all the more reason for strong leadership to make us face the need for sacrifice required for living within our national means.

Good Skiing At Mt. Nebo

Skiing has been excellent but the attendance has been poor atop Mount Nebo. Better known as Winters hill, the slide is located north of the city water supply reservoir. An easy access to the hill is by way of Division street making a left turn at Sixth street and following Sixth north to its end. The ski-tow is open to skiers and tobogganists Saturday and Sunday afternoon and Tuesday and Thursday evening (weather permitting). The tow is free.

Leona Graham And James Graham Wed Here

The Presbyterian Church of East Jordan was the scene of the marriage of Miss Leona Nellie Dougherty and James Edward Graham, Saturday, February 20 at 8:00 p.m. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dougherty of Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Graham of East Jordan respectively.

Rev. Edward O. DeHaven performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of colored gladioli and white carnations. Donna Clapsaddle played the traditional wedding music and accompaniment for the trio, Margaret Lord, and Nan Drapeau, who sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me."

Mr. Harry Dougherty, Jr., brother of the bride, gave his sister away in marriage. The bride was attired in a white satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt ending with a train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of white flowers, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Dora Dougherty was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a floor length gown of powder blue over taffeta. Her bouquet was of pink carnations.

Bounce Per Ounce

It doesn't take long for this fellow to get started on his way, as the conservation department photographer discovered. But that speed, added to the white-in-winter, dark-in-summer coloration makes snowshoe hare hunting one of Michigan's outstanding sports. The snowshoe hare gains his name from the size of his hind feet, large enough to carry him over deep snow without bogging down.

"Train X" Makes First Visit To Northern Area

"Train X", a revolutionary new train being developed by the C & O, made its first appearance in northern Michigan when it came north with the regular train recently.

The experimental adaptor instrument car and the experimental car which compose the unit may be the forerunner of a new type of train which the C & O someday may put into regular service.

Compared to a conventional car, Train X is a little over a third the length, four inches wider, three feet lower and two and a half feet nearer the rails. It has one set of wheels at the rear.

READIN' WRITIN' and 'RITHMETIC

KINDERGARTEN
 I. Sidebothem

We are enjoying our books "Getting Ready." We have found many pictures in them. Now we are finding different pictures that begin with "M." It is the first letter we have had.

We are counting different things and learning to make the same number as the objects we have counted. This week we are going to learn about 8.

Today some of the boys and girls brought books about Easter. It will be fun to read them.

SECOND GRADE
 Agnes Johnston

Our spelling booklets for February were finished last Friday. The work in the booklet covered the last six weeks' work. Some of us are showing marked improvement in our spelling.

Linda Healey brought the first pussy willows to our room. We drew pictures of them in art class. They look very pretty upon the front bulletin board.

Our gym period on Thursdays is being enjoyed by all. We are learning to play "I See You," "How Do You Do My Partner" and "The Muffin Man".

We are learning to tell time on the hour and half past the hour. It is fun to know how to tell when our different classes come during the day.

Last Tuesday, Marjorie Wood celebrated her ninth birthday. We each made a birthday card for her. Marjorie served candy to all of her class friends.

Donald Bowerman brought two very interesting books to school for us to look at. One book was on real airplanes the other on real boats. These books created much interest in our room.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy for the last six weeks are: Thomas Breakey, Dale Cutler, Jerry Holley, Mariynn Hughes and Louise Walton.

THIRD GRADE
 Marie Hughes

We celebrated Mary Murray's and Darlene McClanathan's birthday together because both were nine years old February 25.

Five children have birthdays in March. Kathy Petrie, Steve Sutton, Jean Combest, Yvonne Redmer and Dawn Moore brought treats to share with the children in the room.

Mrs. Hughes draws a big birthday cake and greetings on the blackboard. We serve our treats and sing the birthday song. Most times we make birthday cards.

Gladys Archer, Michael McWaters, Patsy Cutler, Bernice Misner and Mary Murray have perfect attendance this past six week period.

Most of the children have done very well with their books about America.

Our children enjoy their gym period. We are glad they can have this half hour once a week.

There has been a marked improvement in spelling and arithmetic lately among those who find these subjects so difficult. We are learning to keep after it.

That game that gives the greatest pleasure for noon and recess in our room during stormy or extremely cold weather is "Jacks."

THIRD GRADE
 Adeline Bowerman

In spite of the flu epidemic during the last six weeks, we had 10 children in our room who did not miss any time during the period. They are Richard Annear, Louis Bader, Roger Clark, Tommy Derenzy, Patrick Greenman, Betty Metcalf, Glenn Pinney and Donald Snyder.

Betty Healey treated her classmates with ice cream cups to celebrate her ninth birthday on March 5. Suzanne Malpass is planning to entertain several friends after school on Wednesday, March 11, in honor of her birthday.

Janet Dougherty brought the first bouquet of nice big pussy willows for us. We have been observing at home how the days are lengthening, the first sign of spring.

Our group four read a nice story about puppets. We some books from the public library to tell us about puppets and how to make a puppet theater. The group was divided into seven committees, each to make a puppet to represent some character, then to make up the conversation for their act. We had a variety of plays including the dramatization of Little Black Sambo, use of a record for acting a song, a wedding play, the three Stooges, a religious song dramatized and a school play. We had puppets made of potatoes, clay, wall paper cleaner, rubber and finger puppets.

FOURTH GRADE
 Grace Galmore

Eight people were neither absent nor tardy during this six week period. They are David Bartholomew, Yvonne Elzinga, Norma Gee, Barbara Kortan, Harold Murray, Gerald Peters, Avette, Reed and Ronald Sulak.

The Antrim County Farm Bureau women held their March meeting in the home of Mrs. Harm Sitzema, Tuesday afternoon.

We celebrated two birthdays last week. Harold Murray treated us to delicious cup cakes Wednesday and Barbara Kortan served hers on Thursday. We especially appreciated Barbara's treat as she was given the chance to choose whether to buy a gift for herself or a treat for us. We made thank you cards for both and wish to thank the mothers too.

Harold Murray and Donald Johnson did several experiments about air. These were taken from our new book, "See For Yourself," by Nancy Larrick. This book is easy enough that any boy or girl can read and work out an experiment on air or water.

Barbara Kortan is in charge of our exhibit on Florida. We learn many things including shells which we are identifying.

FOURTH GRADE
 Jean Stehl

Judy Malpass gave an interesting talk to the boys and girls on Wednesday about her mother's and father's trip to Florida. We have some beautiful shells left in our room to share.

Monday we saw the movie "Land of Liberty." It was very good and we saw many things we have been talking about in our classes.

In arithmetic class we divided into teams to help us learn our time tables. The teams are the "Shooting Stars"—Captain Connie Bennett and the "Globe Trotters"—Captain, Ronald Klooster. The Globe Trotters are winning at present.

Helen Addis celebrated her tenth birthday with us on Monday. The children made some very attractive cards and sang our birthday song. Mrs. Addis visited our room and treated us with some lovely cupcakes.

Harry Simmons visited our room on Monday.

Those having perfect attendance the past six weeks are Sharon Sweet, Helen Addis, Sharon Pinney, Richard Hayes, Bobby Omland, Ronald Klooster and Mary Porter.

We have been writing poems in our Language class. Some of us find it very interesting and have written several.

A PRETTY RAINBOW

I wish I was a rainbow, don't you?
 It has so many pretty colors, even red and blue.
 It reaches to the clouds in the sky. And it is so very, very high.
 They say at the end there's a pot of gold.
 But I don't believe that, it's just told.

IMP-LINGO

By THE-IMP

Hi Jordan.

Nice going team, in the game with charlevoix. Hope you go all the way.

I heard Pat G. and Ted G. have been playing checkers again.

Did anyone notice at the Charlevoix game a group of kids were yelling "Ray, Day, Ray" where "Rah, Rah, Rah" was supposed to be. It seemed to please Beth W. How come?

I noticed Sam M. played a better game last Friday than Tuesday. Could it be because May was in the stands yelling for him?

Who can Ken S. talk to when the girl he is with is sleeping? Carol must have been beat out after watching the Charlevoix-E. J. game. Who wouldn't be?

I saw Shirley M. at the game Saturday night. I wonder who she was watching.

I see Jean N. is splitting his time between Mancelona and Ellsworth.

John Downing New President Of Conference

Officials of the Northern Michigan Class C conference held their annual spring meeting at Boyne City Monday night.

John Downing was named president of the Conference for 1953-54 to succeed Gayle Saxton, also of East Jordan.

William Aldridge of Harbor Springs was elected vice president and Roy L. Kipke was re-named secretary-treasurer for another term.

The group voted to invite Grayling to return to the Northern Michigan league effective in the fall of 1954. This date was set so members could complete present schedule commitments. Grayling left this league at the close of the football season in 1951 to join the North Central league which is being disbanded at the close of the current basketball season.

The return of Grayling to the league will bring the membership to eight schools. The others are Pellston, Harbor Springs, Boyne City, East Jordan, Mancelona, Gaylord and Charlevoix.

All schools officials announced their intentions of having track teams this spring. East Jordan, Boyne City, Mancelona, Gaylord and Pellston will have a baseball schedule and Harbor Springs and Gaylord are planning to organize golf teams for the first time. May 9 was set as the date for the annual Northern Michigan Class C Conference Track meet at Charlevoix.

Many Players Complete School

East Jordan, who finished in second place and who captured the Class C district title at Petoskey, will find themselves without one of their two top scorers, Warren Frank, as well as Sam Milstein, Dick Freeman and Jim Shepard.

Charlevoix lists only three but the trio is from the starting line-up of the present squad. All were important in this season's successes, which included the Conference title with 11 wins and one loss. The Rayders' leading scorer, Dean Davenport heads the list followed by two able players, Jim Lewis and Bill Mosier.

Gaylord also lists three players but only two are from the regular squad. They are Tom Buell who came through toward the end of the season to play an important part in Gaylord's recent successes and Larry Northey. The third player is Bud Jones who has seen little action recently.

Pellston also loses three players, Ray Andrews and Fred Ball, from their starting line-up and Lee Archer who saw limited action as the season ended.

On the strength of their returning lettermen, East Jordan, Gaylord and Mancelona should be the potential threats next season.

FARM GOSSIP COLUMN

(Compiled and Edited by the News Staff)

Purchasing power of farm prices for the U. S. is 95 percent of parity...

There is a profit squeeze. Costs are rising and will remain high...

Our economy is making progress. Farmers have shared in the increased standard of living.

We used to point to 1929 as a symbol of prosperity. Since then industry production has doubled...

Output per man-hour has gone up about 80 percent. We are working about a day less each week.

Average annual incomes have increased from $1,000 in 1929 to $1,500 in 1952...

We had 23 million autos in 1929—now we have 44 million. Now we have 80 percent of our homes with mechanical refrigeration...

From the farm market viewpoint the consumers' income has never been better divided. Since 1935 all incomes of the lowest two-fifths of the income range have increased 90 percent...

Fertilizer will continue to be a best buy in 1953. Prices will be up about 5 percent due to increased freight rates.

Butter consumption continues downward. The government has 30 million pounds in storage. Butter makers are storing less.

Wheat exports will suffer, unless the international wheat agreement is renewed. At present each bushel exported under the agreement is costing our taxpayers 70 cents.

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

Charlevoix county dairy farmers, who are weather-conscious and try to keep calves dry and out of drafts, also seek better feeding systems to bring calves to full growth at good body weights.

Leave the calf with the cow a day or two and make sure the calf gets the colostrum, the first milk after calving; then feed the calf a pound of milk for each 10 pounds of calf, but not more than 10 pounds a day.

Start feeding a good calf meal in the third week, half pound a day and gradually more, with fairly free access by the fifth week, but a five-pound limit until the 16th week.

This limited whole feeding would require from 350 to 400 pounds of calf meal to grow the calf up to five months. If skim milk is available, switch the calf gradually from whole to skim milk at four to six weeks and continue skim milk up to four to six months.

Always give the calf free access to fresh hay and water, and if calves over six weeks are unthrifty or lack appetite, give a daily dose of a teaspoon of cobalt solution: mix an eighth ounce of cobalt sulfate in a pint of water for the solution.

Good results also are reported from feeding milk substitute from the fourth day on, Don Murray, Michigan State College dairy specialist said. One company reported Holsteins averaging 326 lbs. and Guernseys 251 lbs. at four months of age.

Pigs can be raised successfully on synthetic milk. But it's not putting the sows out of business yet. This practice has been used for years at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station and the idea has been adapted in commercial milk replacers.

The benefits of synthetic milk are not 100 per cent certain, according to Dr. A. J. Hoefler, swine feeding research specialist at Michigan State College. The pig breeder can use the method to breed sows quicker, and boost his volume.

The man with prolific sows, orphan pigs or pigs from sows that fail to milk can save pigs this way. Valuable bloodlines from a diseased herd can be salvaged for a new start with clean animals. Anyone can try the method, notes Dr. Hoefler, but it's best to try it first on one or two litters and learn management problems before putting litters of the whole herd on synthetic milk.

Advantages of synthetic milk include more pigs per sow per year—about 2 1/2 litters. Pigs are heavier at 56 days and there are fewer runts; pigs get all the milk they want with no hind teat or blind nipple problems. The first week for farrowing is worst normally for death losses; pigs put on synthetic milk at two days are safer.

Heavy losses can result if management detail is neglected. Pigs on synthetic milk need strict sanitation, clean equipment and quarters and better housing, with 85-degree floor temperature and draftless ventilation. There is danger of diarrhea of scouring. The synthetic milk will sour—the powder becomes rancid—without proper storage. Pigs should be weaning at four weeks—these replacers are expensive—and should be starting on a highly-fortified pig starter.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS NEWS

A total of 1,624 forest fires burned 12,525 acres in 1952 for a timber loss of $114,581 the conservation department reports.

Sparked by the second driest October on Michigan record, 1952 was the worst year for forests since 1949, although the loss that year was nearly twice the 1952 loss. Nearly one-third of Michigan's loss last year occurred in October.

Debris burners and smokers again last year, as in the past headed the list of most guilty forest users. Together, the two groups caused nearly 80 percent of the fires. Camp fires, railroads and lumbering groups also caused their share of fires.

Strangely, most fire loss—7,500 acres—occurred in the southern lower peninsula, more than the combined loss of the upper and northern lower peninsulas.

The spring hazard period developed in April and extended through June. The April loss was most severe during this period, with a loss of 3,600 acres. Few fires were recorded after that until October.

'Baby Habits' Of Free Calf Aid Mastitis

Mastitis can get a head start and be active in a heifer the first time she freshens, according to a MSC veterinarian.

Dr. Edward A. White says that calves can become infected with mastitis "while they are in kindergarten." The disease will begin to tear down the udder tissues, and will result in "lumpy" quarters when the cow freshens.

Dr. White says the disease is spread to calves in this manner:

When calves are fed in open pails, the milk slops over their muzzles. This milk often contains the mastitis germs. After feeding the calves tend to nurse others in the pen, and in doing this, open small sores on the teats.

If the milk on a calf's muzzle is mastitis-infected, the germs enter the other calf's udder and begin to infect her.

Spread of the disease in this manner can be prevented by using nipple pails, which do not slop milk over the calf's muzzle, or by tying calves until their muzzles are dry. The germs will not spread when the milk dries, Dr. White says.

After the infection first takes hold, the tissues in the udder gradually deteriorate until a lumpy quarter develops. Infected cows will milk if farmers do not expect them to produce much. But extra strain on the udder, caused by pushing production of the cow, makes the disease worse and the cow is eventually worthless. Medical treatment and care can keep damage from increasing after the infection is diagnosed.

No Big Flow Of Beef Set From Canada

Michigan State College agricultural economists doubt there will be any great influx of Canadian beef and cattle now the border is open again. The ban of the past year—imposed after outbreak of hoof-and-mouth disease in Canada—was lifted Sunday, March 1.

No great surplus of cattle or beef is backed up in Canada, explains Robert C. Kramer, M. S. C. agricultural economist, and the prices in Canada are about the same as ours. With the import duty added, Canadian shippers have little incentive to send cattle and beef into the U. S., where domestic market supply is very high at present.

No more New Zealand beef is expected, according to Harold Riley, M. S. C. agricultural economist, because that shipping was a temporary arrangement while Canadian beef and cattle were banned.

April Nears, Advice Given On Raincoats

April-shower weather requires a good raincoat, so a home economist at M.S.C. recommends you give a little thought to what kind of raincoat you buy.

Geitel Winakor of the textiles clothing and related art department at MSC points out that there are two kinds of rain coats—water proof and water repellent. A waterproof coat protects against prolonged, heavy rain but it is nonporous and very hot to wear. Plastic or fabric coated with plastic or rubber are waterproof types.

Water repellent raincoats will protect against short exposure to showers, Miss Winakor advises. For most persons, they are practical, because they are porous and comfortable. In buying a water repellent coat, check the label to see if it is durable to washing or dry cleaning or if the coat must be treated each time.

Look for a closely woven, smooth fabric because it will shed water better. Look, too, for a coat that has double fabric on the shoulders where rain hits hardest. Children's raincoats should be bright colored to show up on dark days, Miss Winakor urges. Easy-to-work buttons that close the coat high and low to keep out rain are an advantage. A hat or hood that is water-shedding is advisable.

Look for a conservative cut in a raincoat, Miss Winakor suggests. A raincoat that flaps in the wind and drags on the floor of the bus or car is not practical. And get an amply cut raincoat so suits can be worn underneath comfortably.

during the spring season. Then a terrific die-off in 1942-43 nearly wiped the fish out of the Great Lakes. Since that date, increases have come rapidly, however, and reports are that smelt are again at a high population point this year.

The fish is not native to Michigan waters. Department plantings were first made in 1912; present populations stem from those plantings. Most waters open to smelt dipping are the mouths of streams where they empty into some larger body of water. Nearly all streams emptying into the Great Lakes will be open, in addition to many inland waters. Local conservation officers have complete lists of waters open in their district.

Set 2-County Farm Meeting At Ellsworth

The annual meeting of the Antrim Charlevoix Co-operative Growers Association will be held this Friday afternoon, March 13 at 1:30 p.m., Ed Rehman, county agricultural agent announced.

The meeting will be held at the Consolidated Food Processing Plant at Ellsworth. In addition to election of officers and other business, Ray Olney, secretary-treasurer, will give a report on the labor supply for 1953.

ORCHARD NOTES

Seven Causes For Those Farm Fires

Farm fires have numerous causes. Seven principal causes are:

- 1. Defective chimneys and heating systems. 2. Sparks on combustible roofs. 3. Lighting. 4. Spontaneous ignition. 5. Careless use of matches and smoking. 6. Careless use of gasoline and kerosene. 7. Faulty wiring and misuse of electrical appliances.

Of the known causes these seven are responsible for almost eight-five per cent of the total losses from farm fires.

ways felt that we learn from each other in the exchange of ideas. Progress in the industry comes about slowly but it surely takes place; probably more rapidly than we realize until we chance to talk with a man who has been away from the industry for 3 or 4 years.

We must not forget that Michigan is experiencing an increased population and this trend will, no doubt, continue. It means that the fruit grower needs to anticipate this increased demand for well grown, well colored fruit.

With best personal regards and looking forward to seeing you at the Spring meeting at Traverse City on March 17, I am,

Very Truly yours, H. D. Hootman, Ext. Horticulturist, Michigan State College.
