Over the Back Fence

By Marshall

There is a good healthy scent of optimism in the air these days. The urge for community development is at fever pitch; and much of our talking and planning now is crystallizing.

Everywhere we see and hear signs of cooperation and determination to improve community service and community living.

Several months ago a long time resident said that it would be just about impossible to approach complete cooperation for the purpose of sound civic development. The enthusiasm and home town spirit is here, he said, but it can never be organized and concentrated with everybody working together. But, he added that if such a thing were possible the spirit of our people would outshine any community in northern Michigan.

We are happy to report that our friend was right and wrong at the same time.

Our entire community is working very closely together with hope and faith and determination. Cooperation is everywhere. At the city council, at the businessmen's meetings, at industrial meetings, in our churches, at our bank, our school, our service clubs, our industries and our places of business.

In this respect our friend was wrong.

But he was right in predicting what would happen if our residents ever got together on common ground. For so great is our enthusiasm for civic development, it has spilled over into surrounding communities, and one hears about it throughout the north. We have uncovered a burning home town spirit the likes of which few communities have ever experienced.

In fact East Jordan has set an astounding example of what can be done when residents become fired with hope and enthusiasm for a better community.

In all seriousness, this newspaper would be more than willing to challenge any city of similar size in the United States—challenge them to show in what way they have more community-wide cooperation than in East Jordan.

For we have set something of a record in organization and cooperation with the results easily checked on your fingers.

Already our residents are looking far into the future. They see a new East Jordan, a city filled with promise and hope, a community attracting more and more desirable residents, a growing city with a healthy business and industrial life.

Yes, there is optimism in the air. And to breathe it gives us all a new lease upon life.

The first double-deck refrigerated self-serve meat case in northern Michigan has been installed at Thrift Super Market. Meats are displayed hardily for customers.

Also at Thrift are two newly installed self-serve ice cream cabinets which have stepped up the market's sale of packaged ice cream.

Mrs. Arthur Brasca, who owns a cabin on the Jordan river, became mighty homesick in Germany recently. Mrs. Brasca, a sister of Mrs. Frank Ronowski, also an East Jordan summer resident, was at post exchange in Germany and purchased a can of Jordan Brand cherries, canned by the East Jordan Canning Company. Mrs. Brasca spent one winter here and now has been in Germany for five years. She is expected back in East Jordan soon.

Ann Whiteford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Whiteford, now is a member of Alpha Phi Delta by virtue of her scholarship record made in Central Missouri State College. In addition to scholarship a standard of personality and professional spirit was met by Ann.

Fred Vogel Ends 30-Year Business Career

Thirty years of business at the same location ended this week for Fred J. Vogel, of Vogel's Standard Service, when the station was sold to Tom Galmore, 31, Navy veteran and graduate of the East Jordan high school. Galmore spent 15 years working at the station except when he was in service.

Vogel opened the station at the corner of Mill and Second streets April 27, 1923. Built by Standard Oil, he later purchased the property. It now is known as Galmore's Standard Service. Galmore was hired by Vogel July 1, 1938.

One of the oldest businessmen in the city, Vogel is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the Jordan River Sportsmen's Club and the East Jordan Businessmen's Association. He was to leave this week with Mrs. Vogel for a short visit and vacation at Long Island, N. Y. The Vogels were to stop in Grand Rapids and fly with their daughter and grandson. At Long Island they will visit their son John. (Photo by Huckle).

ANNOUNCE QUICK NEED FOR INDUSTRIAL FUND

Seek Additional Pledges To Construct New Factory

Five team captains and their workers set out Monday morning to secure an additional $20,000 in pledges to raise the total subscription toward construction of an industrial plant in East Jordan.

The urgent drive for additional pledges came upon the heels of the announcement that East Jordan's industrial project number one is now larger than anticipated earlier; and that if the industrial committee can secure the money to construct the building, the project is practically assured.

Industrial committeemen said Wednesday that as far as they have been able to learn the only block now in the path of obtaining the plant is the raising of the additional money.

Legal and financial negotiations will get under way immediately after the committeemen are in possession of the necessary pledges.

Other changes in the original proposition include the complete return of money pledge not later than 12 years, rather than 10. Each subscription bears five percent interest per year.

Obtaining the additional $20,000 was pointed out as one of the most important moves here in recent years. Without immediate financial backing to construct the factory building, the project will be cancelled.

Those who are at all able are being asked to double their original pledge; and those not contacted in the original drive are asked to see one of their local merchants if they are able to make a pledge.

Meeting the deadline with the total subscriptions is said to be vital in the work of obtaining the plant.

Every resident in the city of East Jordan is asked to help toward reaching the pledge goal this week.

HOOK AND LINE TALK

Warm Weather Improves Fishing On Jordan, Other Spots

Warmer weather over the week end has improved the fishing for small trout on the Jordan River and in another two weeks it should be a lot better.

Several fishermen reported good catches of brook trout in the head waters of the Jordan. Most of the trout were small and about one in every five trout were keepers but they bit fast and furious.

Claude Pearsall caught four Pike and a sixteen inch Brown Trout on the pond at the Dam Site. He reports that they all were caught in about an hour and he used large Chubs for bait. Incidentally Jack Bennett has a large supply of these Chubs on hand.

Andy Anderson caught a twenty-one inch German Brown Trout on the Dam last Saturday while fishing with Keith Annear. He used a large Herring Shinner to entice the fish.

The Perch in Lake Charlevoix are still biting fairly good but they have moved to the vicinity of Holy Island. The fact that most of them are still full of spawn indicates that they will be in the lake for a while yet, before returning to Lake Michigan.

John Kotowich proved his ability as a guide this week by catching three nice large rainbows and a German Brown. However, John refuses to divulge any of his Professional Secrets on where or how he caught them.

Several Sportsmen report that the use of outboard motors on the Jordan River has become quite alarming and have asked what can be done about it. There are no laws covering the use of motors on trout streams at present but there are two bills now before the Legislators to regulate their use. In the meantime, it is hoped that those who must use motors on the Jordan, will try and use a little courtesy for those who are fishing from the banks or wading. Strangers to the River have been observed running their boats over the Moss Beds and destroying them to the point where they fail to furnish necessary food and cover for the fish. It is a proven fact that motors in a small stream such as the Jordan River is detrimental to the fishing.

MOTHER'S DAY

It may be a 'grown-up' photograph that Mother has on her dresser on Mother's day. But forever, in her arms, in her heart, is the child that was—so soft, and helpless, and trusting.

The years go on; the birds leave the nest, to make nests of their own. They return, in thought or in person, to pay tribute to Mother on her special Day. But in her heart they have never left her arms, and they never will.

Rural Life Sunday

Rural Life Sunday falls annually on the Fifth Sunday after Easter. This will make it May 10 this year reminds Bill Grimm Farm Planner for the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District.

Rural Life Sunday is a recognized day on the Church calendar in most of the Protestant denominations. The Catholics and to some extent the Episcopalians have been observing the day as Rogation Sunday.

Here is an opportunity to highlight Soil and Water Conservation. A list of Bible texts on which sermons may be based can be secured from the Soil Conservation Service, Federal building in Boyne City.

"The Creed of the Soil Conservationist" by C. W. Gee of the Soil Conservation Service seems appropriate at this time.

As a soil conservationist, I believe God created the earth by His divine processes for the benefit of man, not one man, nor one generation, but mankind for all time.

I believe the Almighty gave man an inheritance of the earth, not to be hoarded as a miser guards his treasure, but to be used with wisdom and in the fullest for the perpetual benefit of all men.

I believe all of mankind, regardless of race or creed are entitled to a fair and equitable share of the earth's bounty commensurate with their own efforts. But in so believing, I hold the irrevocable conviction that man himself owes earth a debt of respect and fealty.

Spring Time For Starting Fruit Plants

Spring is the time to get new fruit plantings into the ground and here are some tips from a Michigan State College horticulturist on how to do it.

Clarence A. Langer, fruit specialist at MSC says all fruit plants should be put in the ground as early as possible in the spring. This gives them a chance to get a head start for the following year. Small fruits—raspberries, strawberries and grapes—should be planted in ground that has been under cultivation at least a year. Row crops, corn or potatoes, are preferred to precede small fruits.

It is not necessary to plant large fruit trees in land that has been cultivated. Some have been planted directly into a sod with satisfactory results, Langer notes.

Organic matter, either green manure or rotted barnyard manure, is important. Peat moss is also good but is expensive for large operations.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS NEWS

Rain, some snow and windy weather swept across Michigan during the weekend and made the opening of general fishing season a chill business, the conservation department notes.

But good numbers of anglers went after trout and some fair successes were reported.

Conditions in the upper peninsula were poor to fair because of weather and fishing pressure was reported light. Stream levels were high and the water roily. Some fair creels of brook trout were reported and a few limit catches. Rainbows were beginning to move in the Huron River, Baraga county and in Rock and Miner's Rivers, Alger county, in the Two-Hearted River in Luce county and in the Black River, Mackinac county.

In the northern lower peninsula weather again seemed the limiting factor. Fifty percent fewer fishermen were reported in the Mio district than on opening day last year. Only a few fish were taken in the district opening morning. Good reports came from Bear Creek, Manistee county and Boardman River near Traverse City.

In the Baldwin district, angler numbers were moderate to light, with the Little Manistee and White Rivers getting most pressure. Streams were generally high and cloudy.

At Gaylord, the heaviest fishing pressure was found on Pickerel Lake in Pigeon River state forest near Vanderbit. Some good catches of rainbows were taken from the Sturgeon River near Wolverine and from Weber Lake west of Wolverine. Streams were high and roily.

Honey bees are indispensable to the agricultural economy, reminds E. C. Martin, Michigan State College entomologist. No county can afford to be without honey bees, he notes, and the sale of honey governs the numbers of bees available to pollinate important crops.

U-M Expert Says You Can Catch More Pike, Muskies

Along streams, into shallow pools and out in deep lakes, the Michigan angler may go in search of pike and muskies, but the success of his expedition depends upon knowledge of the fish, according to Karl F. Lagler, U-M Department of Fisheries chairman. A prized catch of almost any Michigan fisherman is the pike, of which only a small percentage is caught. Professor Lagler explains that although it is not an abundant fish, except in particularly favorable or restricted habitats, pike can be found in marshes during the spring. They move to shallow, inshore waters for the summer and deeper ones early in winter, returning to the shallow areas for mid and late winter. Bail-casting with treble-hook spoons is the favorite means for

Paint Tricks Help Make Better Job

There are tricks-of-the-trade you should know while doing your spring painting, say Michigan State College specialists. Surfaces are paint-ready only when clean, dry and smooth—free from dampness, grease, gummy or sticky substances, loose paint or dust. Remember! Oil paint and varnish will not dry on a damp surface or over a partially dry coat of paint or varnish. A rapid stickiness, cracking and peeling by letting each coat dry thoroughly before applying the next. Use fine sandpaper on unpainted wood or metal surface. If an old painted surface is to be repainted, reduce the gloss with a strong soap or scrubbing powder, dry for 48 hours, give it a light sanding and you are ready for painting. Sand old painted surfaces that are rough or marred until all rough spots disappear. Paints come in opaque, semi-opaque and transparent forms. A good flat-oil paint is opaque and hides the surface well. A semi-gloss is semi-opaque and may allow the under surface to show through a little. Enamels, except for a few, are semi-transparent and varnish is even more so—both enamels and varnish let the undercoats show through. Water paints are opaque.

The best plan to follow is to use an opaque, flat-oil paint under the finishing coat unless you plan to repeat the same color. The booklet, "Color in the Home," is available from the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing. The price is 10 cents.

catching the fish. "Best casts allow the bait to settle to the bottoms of pools," he says, "which are the favorite pike hideout and resting areas."

Very similar to the pike, and often confused with it, is the grass pickerel. This fish seldom reaches a length of more than 14 inches and therefore is often taken for young pike, which the law says must be thrown back in.

Professor Lagler states that the main distinguishing feature between the pike and grass pickerel is that the latter has scales covering both the cheek and the gill cover, while the pike just has them on the cheek and upper half of the gill cover.

Spring Tonic for Your Menu: Meat Baskets With Corn

A brand new way to make thrifty ground beef the hit of the meal is to mold it into individual meat baskets and fill it with your favorite style of canned corn. The final effect is equally delicious whether you use cream style or whole kernel, golden or white. A ribbon of hot chili sauce across the top adds color interest and that extra zip we're accustomed to with hamburgers and variations thereof. Canned corn is a year around favorite in the vegetable category, and this year the choice is plentiful and of top quality. Here's the easy recipe:

Meat Baskets With Corn

- |                         |                                   |
|-------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 cup soft bread crumbs | 1 pound lean ground beef          |
| 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco    | 1 1-pound can yellow or white     |
| 1/2 cup milk            | whole kernel or cream style corn  |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt       | 2 tablespoons chopped onion       |
|                         | 2 tablespoons butter or margarine |

Put crumbs in mixing bowl; add Tabasco to milk and pour over crumbs. Add salt. Mash crumbs to a soft mass. Add ground meat and mix well with a fork. Divide mixture into 4 patties. Shape over inverted custard cups, pressing meat 3/4 of the way down. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) 45 minutes. During last 15 minutes baking time, drain corn, if whole kernel is used. Add onion to liquid and boil rapidly until reduced to 1/2 cup. Add corn and butter; heat to serving temperature. Remove meat cups; spoon in corn. Top with heated catchup or chili sauce.

YIELD: 4 servings.

*If yellow or white cream style corn is used, add onion to butter and cook until tender, but not brown. Add corn; heat to serving temperature.

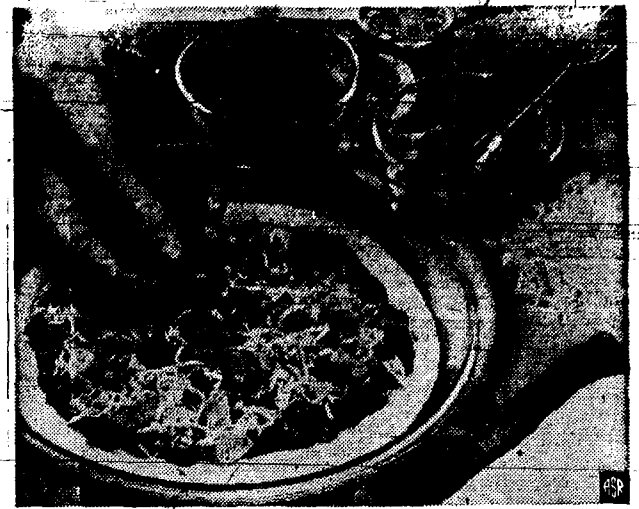

Chocolate and pears are favorites together. Here rich, velvety smooth Chocolate Mousse is teamed with succulent canned pear halves to make a handsome, delicious dessert duet. Don't let the title "mousse" frighten you, for it's really easy to make. The gelatine chocolate base is allowed to thicken slightly and whipped to fluffiness; whipped cream is added; and then it is turned into the mold to chill in the refrigerator until serving time. Unmold it on a platter and surround with the chilled canned pear halves.

Chocolate Mousse With Pears

|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine      | 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla     |
| 1/4 cup cold water                  | Dash salt                   |
| 1/2 cup powdered sugar              | 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon       |
| 1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate | 1/2 pint whipping cream     |
| 1/2 cup milk                        | 1 No. 2 1/2 can pear halves |
- Soak gelatine in water for 5 minutes. Combine sugar, chocolate and milk; heat over boiling water until chocolate is melted. Add the gelatine and beat with rotary beater until dissolved. Add vanilla, salt and cinnamon. Chill until slightly thickened and whip until fluffy. Fold in whipped cream. Put in a mold and chill until firm. Unmold on serving dish and surround with chilled pear halves. Six servings.

Hot Roll Italian Pizza

- |                                  |                                     |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 package hot roll mix           | 1/4 cup finely-cut parsley          |
| 1/2 cup minced onion             | Parmesan cheese                     |
| 1 tablespoon olive oil           | Additional toppings:                |
| 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce    | Mushrooms: 1 cup, chopped or        |
| 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste    | sliced                              |
| 1 teaspoon salt                  | Anchovies: 12 to 14, whole or       |
| 1/4 teaspoon oregano             | pieces                              |
| 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt         | Italian Sausage: 1 cup pepperoni,   |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper              | diced or sliced thin                |
| 1/2 pound Italian or other white | Salami: 1 cup; cut into thin strips |
| cheese, sliced thin or grated    | Pork Sausage: 1 cup, cooked         |

Prepare hot roll mix as directed on package. Let rise until light, 30 to 60 minutes. Sauté minced onion in olive oil until golden brown. Add tomato sauce, tomato paste, salt, oregano, garlic salt and pepper. Divide dough into four parts. Flatten each piece and pat into bottoms of four 9 or 10-inch pie pans. (Or divide dough in half, roll out and place on ungreased baking sheets.) Brush with additional olive oil or salad oil.

Arrange half of the Italian cheese on top of dough. Cover with the tomato sauce. Top with remaining cheese and additional topping desired; see above. Sprinkle with parsley and Parmesan cheese, if desired. Bake immediately in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot.

The oat variety plots for 1953 will be planted on the farm of Art Nicloy & Sons of East Jordan. This farm operated by the two brothers, Curtis and Roy, is located on the peninsula between Advance and Ironton.

The following varieties of oats will be planted; Eaton, Craig, Beaver, Clinton, Kent and Clintland. The purpose of these plantings is to find out which variety does the best here in Charlevoix County. This will be the third year these oat variety plots will have been planted in Charlevoix county.

These oats are planted the same as Nicloy's will plant their own oats. The same amount of fertilizer, grass seed, and oats will be sown on all the plots. Each variety will be repeated three times. At harvest time a certain area will be harvested and sent to Michigan State College for threshing to obtain the yields.

For the last two years Craig was first with 72 bushels per acre, Eaton was second with 63 bushels and Beaver was third with 62 bushels per acre. Craig is a new New York variety and it is hoped it will continue to be a high yielder. No seed of Craig is available. Visitors will be welcome to observe these varieties growing on the Nicloy farm.

Milk production broke another record in February. Mild weather and liberal supplemental feeding boosted production per cow, as of March 1, 5 percent over a year ago and 14 percent over the 1942-51 average.

New support prices are $3.74 per cwt. for manufacturing milk testing 3.95 percent, and 87.3 cents per lb. for butterfat. They will be maintained by purchases of butter, Cheddar cheese, and non-fat dry milk solids.

Indications are that spring-planted crops will reach 271 million acres, compared with 266.7 million acres a year ago. But the principal purpose of the report is to assist farmers in making plans; so final plantings may differ from the March intentions for the 16 crops.

For selected crops, the percentage comparisons with 1952 are: corn 98.9, spring wheat 100.4, oats 101.9, barley 99.7, dry edible beans 101.0, sugar beets 111.2, and potatoes 106.5.

Potato growers are being warned to reduce plantings about 10 percent below these intentions or be faced with the prospects of low prices.

Be sure to plant your corn thick enough this year. The Farm

Crops Department found, in the average of all tests in 1949 and 1950, that increasing the number of plants per hill from 2 to 4 (or the equivalent in 42-inch rows) increased corn yields 39 percent. Recommendations call for about 16,000 plants per acre. In 42-inch rows, this means a stalk every 8 to 10 inches. A good stand is particularly important if you plan to side-dress with nitrogen this summer.

Cattle and calf slaughter this year seems likely to exceed 1952 by about 15 percent. This would slow, but not halt, the increase in cattle on farms. With pork output likely to be down about as much as beef is up, total meat supplies won't be much different than in 1952.

If cattle slaughter is about as anticipated, prices probably will level out and be fairly stable the rest of this year — unless a drought forces liquidation of range livestock.

The USDA is offering to buy boneless beef for school lunches institutions and other outlets in hopes that sagging beef prices can be bolstered. Financing is from "Section 32" funds—that part of the import duties set aside for buying surplus farm products.

Fruit doesn't just happen on the tree... there because of good pollination. "Whether or not trees will be pollinated depends on careful planning," says Ed Reberman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent. A good orchard must be planned out for proper pollination. Farmers must take into account whether trees will pollinate themselves, whether they must receive pollen from other varieties, or whether they are incompatible with other varieties.

The four important Michigan apple varieties... Jonathan, McIntosh, Delicious and Northern Spy—all have viable pollen and will pollinate each other. As for pears, Bartlett and Seckel will not set fruit from each other's pollen but all other varieties are cross fruitful.

Sour cherries are self-fruitful and require no pollinator. Peaches will set their own fruit, except for J. H. Hale and a few other varieties not widely grown. Most plum varieties are helped by cross pollination. Stanley, ReineClaude and German Prime appear self-fruitful. No other varieties are. Sweet cherries are all self-fruitful, and Bing, Emperor Francis, Lambert and Napoleon will not set fruit if pollinated by each other.

Cross pollination can be provided for in several ways. The best time is when the orchard is planted. Self-fruitful varieties should never be planted singly or in blocks. Varieties planted together should have about the same blooming season and come into bearing at the same time. Varieties planted for pollinizers should be compatible with the variety to be pollinated, produce a large amount of pollen and bear blossoms every year.

Best Yield

Corn yields on many Northern Michigan farms can be boosted considerably by thicker planting, says E. C. Rossman, Michigan State College farm-crops researcher.

Five years of testing at several locations in the state have shown that about 16,000 corn plants per acre give the best yield on average-to-good corn soils. You can estimate 16,000 corn plants per acre this way, says Rossman: When corn is planted in 40-inch rows, it takes one plant every 10 inches. In 36-inch rows, a plant every 11 inches will average about 16,000 plants per acre.

Here is the way the corn yields compared with differing plant populations: The 16,000 plants per acre averaged 11 per cent more corn than populations of 12,000, and populations of 12,000 plants averaged 25 per cent more corn than 8,000 plants per acre. This means that yields were increased 40 per cent by increasing the plant population from 8,000 to 16,000 per acre.

With the thicker plantings, ear size and weight per ear decreased but larger numbers of ears per acre more than offset the smaller size. And, says Rossman, there was no consistent evidence that thick planting increased the amount of stalk breakage.

On the basis of the tests, says the scientist, stands of 16,000 plants per acre are recommended for good-to-average corn soils. And on light soils where fertility is low, Rossman recommends 12,000 plants per acre.

In the Michigan tests, Rossman reports, there were no cases where 16,000 plants per acre on good corn land resulted in a lower yield than the lighter rates of planting.

Michigan State College dairy specialists are working with Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association officials on a program to put DHIA records into a modern business machine setup. This will help make the records more useful.

Are you easily talked out of your pet ideas? Whether it's a new invention, a new color scheme for your bedroom, a new way of eating, or anything else, there will always be someone who thinks it's all wrong. It pays to get good advice—but it also pays to remember that even the experts sometimes guess wrong.

H. G. Wells, one of the best of modern prophets, made at least two major wrong guesses. He thought submarines wouldn't work, and predicted no important changes in transportation through the airplane.

Napoleon, greatest of world conquerors was receptive to new ideas. But he missed on one of the biggest. Gaslight, he said, was impractical and foolish.

Daniel Webster had no confidence in railroads, maintaining that frost on the tracks would halt the trains. The shrewd Chauncey M. Depew advised against investing $5,000 in the Ford Motor Company, because he thought the auto would never replace the horse. At least some of the "great brains" in every era have hooted at the new inventions or discoveries of their time. Learned professors called crazy, and few inventors in history have escaped similar "advice."

Not many who pursue the arts have eluded the wrong-guessers. Authors, artists and composers, like scientists and inventors, have all had their fill of them.

Facts are one thing—but opinions are something else. Get all the facts you can, and as many opinions as you want. But remember that when you make up your mind, it's you who'll reap the reward or pay for failure. You may be wrong—but will you back your own, or the other fellow's judgement?

If you think it's a good idea—don't get talked out of it. —Journal of Living.

By C. Fairman

There seems to be considerable interest in nut growing in northern Michigan. The Rustmore Farms near East Jordan can furnish information in regards to walnuts for this territory. In the year of 1920 we planted some Japanese Butternuts. We planted some on new land next to a forest, some in an open field, and one in our garden. By cutting the top back on the one planted in the garden, we now have a very large wide spreading tree that yields a large amount of nuts. The ones planted on new land with no cultivating stayed very small. The ones planted in an open field and in sod seem medium to small. It would seem that cultivating or using plenty of mulch would be the best plan. And also the use of some fertilizer.

We have species of nuts from Asia planted in our garden that are growing well. At present there is concern regarding potash fertilizer for cherries. This material travels down to the tree roots very slowly. Sometimes there is not enough potash at root depth. The wood of the cherry tree needs potash and also the pits of cherries. A lot of potash is removed from the orchard through the pits. Too much potash may fill up the tree and prevent the tree from taking up the other elements. The best guide is by the way the tree grows and bears.

Remember that Ranger alfalfa is wilt-resistant and will pay off if the alfalfa field is to be left for more than two years, reminds Dr. Stephen T. Dexter of the Michigan State College farm crops department.

IMP-LINGO

By THE IMP

Hi, Jordan,

Dear me, do you realize that school has one more month to go! The seniors really have been working on that treasury for their Washington trip. Now they are selling tickets for "The Clown" to be shown May 12th and 13th at the Temple Theater.

Speaking of the theater, has anyone noticed B. W. has been seeing every show 'change' plus? Jim's a nice name, isn't it, Beth.

On the subject of actors, I hear the Junior play casts of Ellsworth and E. J. are planning a party. They are having fried chicken (southern at that) on the menu. I might come as a 'CORPS' if someone would invite me.

So Ted S. doesn't like house-keeping. He remarked, "I've definitely decided not to be a BACHELOR."

Say teachers... on the food thought, I think you better ask Mr. Damoth how he does it to have a couple of his fourth hour history class girls bring him a doughnut from home. He even was polite enough to leave the room so the kids wouldn't have to watch him eat it. Wish I was a teacher!

Word is leaking out that the Junior Prom is getting well underway. I sure would like to go. HINT HINT HINT. You know the 22nd isn't too far off. I heard the Seniors are wondering what records they're going to play. What about it, Gordie and Ted?

This weather is sure nice. I can hardly keep my mind on my school work. Or should I say it makes it harder to keep my mind on school work. POOR TEACHERS.

You can put that orange stocking cap away until another year.

This Saturday the mixed chorus goes to Mt. Pleasant. Good luck to you. If you hear a squeak it's just me!

"The Imp" P. S. You're coming close to who "this imp" is.
