They say that in the words Public Relations, the P stands for performance and the R for recognition. Before any town can expect favorable recognition, it must give a good performance. We believe that East Jordan today can rightly be recognized.

East Jordan and Charlevoix county is the only area in the northern lower peninsula yet to be photographed from the air in a state-wide project started last year by the conservation department and the department of agriculture. The aerial maps will be used by the department's foresters, game men and law officers. It is expected that work will be finished next fall—it is being done by professional flying services.

With summer ahead of us there is talk already of the county fairs. First in northern Michigan will be the Northern Michigan Fair at Cheboygan, August 18 to 21; Emmet County Fair at Petoskey August 24 to 28; Northwestern Michigan Fair at Traverse City, September 1 to 5; and the Charlevoix County Fair at East Jordan, September 8 to 11.

Stuff & things: Largest crowd of the year lined city streets when 10 north state bands paraded down Main Street led by prancing majorettes. The music, the color received the oh's and ah's of visitors from cities throughout the north. Photographs of the several bands are available at Doris Meredith Studio. Minnie DesJardins' pink store front has set up a chain reaction and one hears mumblings about other merchants planning to select a pastel color for their buildings.

Swimming season officially opened here Saturday. Our friends, the Ronowski's, enjoyed an early dip in the Jordan saying, "It's no different than during the summer." . . . a pre-view of things to come was seen Saturday when old Sol beat down to drench the city in August like heat. Visitors from many a southern city came north for the first real outing since last fall. . . fishermen are everywhere. . . at Ironton. . . in the bay. . . on the Jordan. . . over at Advance. . . and few sportsmen have been disappointed this season. . . more strangers in town, some passing through, others stopping to have a look around. . . more people will "discover" East Jordan this summer than in our history. . . they are reading, and hearing about us and they now are coming to have a look. . . talk of a new chain supermarket persists and the rumors are getting stronger. . . resort officials say to look for the largest track north in history. . . hot, dry summer is claimed. . . workers are rushing around signing up the last of the necessary pledges for the city's industrial fund. . . negotiations are continuing. . . talks are progressing for the new factory. . . real estate changes are becoming more active. . . more optimistic talk throughout the north than ever. . . general north state development is seen by many. . . resort business versus industry is having a go of it in some quarters. . . the straits bridge project is far from dead in the minds of promoters. . . plenty of talk for and against.

Looking ahead: City Council plans many improvements on streets this summer. . . work should start soon on improvement on M-32 through town. . . much talk of developing a high school athletic field near the school. . . various construction plans will aid looks of the city in general. . . plans for Iron Works addition going forward. . . Dahlquist variety store construction progressing rapidly. . . surrounding farmers have broken ground for summer crops improving appearance of territory. . . many ideas in the minds of men for future development of city. . . some will materialize. . . outsiders have ear to ground, watching our development, wondering how they can fit in.

Good Catches Reported On Jordan River

Fishing on the Jordan has picked up considerably during the past week due to the warmer weather. Fly Hatches have been quite heavy for this time of the year and very good catches were reported on Dry Flies.

Fishermen have been having a field day catching Pike in the back waters of Lake Charlevoix. Practically everyone who fished there were rewarded with limit catches. Several fishermen in that vicinity reported seeing a large Muskellunge which most estimated would weigh between forty and fifty pounds. This fish was also seen several times last year in the same area.

Crappies are in around the wreckage of our City Dock but only a few fishermen have been fishing for them at night. The best bait for them are small minnows used on a light leader with very little weight.

Fly fishing in that area above Graves Crossing on the Jordan is very good. Many of the fish run small but about one in every six is of legal size and practically all of them are good Native trout. The Royal Coachman seems to be their favorite fly at the present time.

Mr. Yeddo from Ellsworth caught four nice Rainbow trout from the Jordan River. They weighed from two to four pounds and were taken between Kit's Cabin and Rogers Bridge on night-crawlers.

Jim Cameron from Birmingham, Michigan reported seeing a fisherman lose a Rainbow Trout in the large hole just below Graves Crossing. This fish would have weighed between ten and twelve pounds and it broke a ten pound test leader going upstream after having been hooked for about five minutes.

White Bass are now in the head of the Lake feeding on the millions of Minnow there. A large school of them were observed Monday night from the main bridge in town. However, the minnows were so thick that they would pay no attention to one lone minnow on a hook. Perhaps they will start biting as soon as the natural food becomes a little scarcer. Generally they will strike in the evening by trolling for them with a minnow behind a silver spinner in the vicinity just this side of the old Chemical Site.

Black Bass season does not open until June twenty-fifth but quite a few are being caught in the back waters by fishermen fishing for Pike and some of them are not being put back. Perhaps the fishermen-keeping them did not know the season isn't open (Continued on Page 5)

Incorporating procedure for the East Jordan Industrial Development Corporation and the group's by-laws were being completed this week, it was announced Wednesday. The corporation is the organization established to handle subscription funds to be used in construction of a prospective factory building in East Jordan.

Corporation President Howard R. Porter this week was naming a construction committee to work out details involved in making preparations for possible construction of a factory building.

East Jordan Businessmen's chairman M. N. MacDaniel said Wednesday that the final subscription drive for funds was progressing satisfactorily. He also pointed out that detailed legal and financial work requires many long hours of study and work; and that although the industrial committee's work is progressing much time and patience is required.

Other officers elected are: Vice-president, Mrs. Frank Hayden; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Clayton Healey; Teacher Vice, Mrs. Adeline Bowerman; Father Vice, Harold Goebel.

Following the election of officers the group went to be gym for a musical program.

The East Jordan Methodist Church gave a supper Thursday night, April 30, in honor of the seniors affiliated with the church. The number graduated from the church was much smaller this year than last. Out of the four that were invited, Diana Beishlag and Shirley Murphy were there. The speakers table was decorated with white carnations

Local chairman Harry Watson has announced that about 1,000 Boy Scouts will take part in the 3-day and night camporee at the fairgrounds.

Purpose of the Camporee is to: "Teach troop camping through observation, inspection, contests, demonstrations and games and practice, which will aid the troop in carrying out its own camping program, on an off the Council Camping Site."

The Camporee is offered to Scoutmasters, and committees as a tool to be used in capitalizing on this interest, and developing the ability of their Scouts to camp comfortably, and safety in the most Scout-like fashion. All Scout parents and the general public have been invited to attend the Sunday afternoon program.

Here is a quick look at the program: Friday night, fellowship campfire; Saturday morning, scout games demonstration; Saturday night, parent campfire, Sunday morning, church and swap time; Sunday afternoon, patrol contests.

At the Sunday afternoon program, which is open to the public, the scouts will assemble by Troops to perform a grand march and will be reviewed by Camporee Officers and the public.

Visitors will see the following contests: Antelope race, human chariot race and actual chariot race.

Plans are going forward for a scout parade down town Saturday at which time a speaker will address the members.

A long list of preparations have gone into planning for the 3-day event. Electric service and telephone service is being installed at the fairgrounds. Grocery, ice cream, candy and bakery firms have been contacted to help supply food at the post headquarters on the field. A fire truck and ambulance will stand by in case of emergency.

The scouts will live in tents while here and inspectors have been assigned to see that there is proper disposal of garbage and tin cans. Eighteen county-wide committees have been appointed to insure a successful Camporee. Newspapers, radio stations and photographers have been asked to cover the activities.

Complete details including a full schedule of activities, committees and special public programs will appear in next week's issue of the News.

The program consisted of the meal, group singing, a talk by Rev. Robert Moore and the presentation of the New Testaments to the Seniors.

The general chairman of the FFA Banquet May 19, Steve Hayden, reported the banquet is for both father and mother.

The highlights of the year will be discussed, ten awards will be presented to outstanding students, and diplomas for the adult night school members will be presented by Supt. E. E. Wade. The FFA band will play several selections.

The feature of the evening will be a film "Farmer of Tomorrow." The Future Homemakers of America (FHA) under the direction of Mrs. Clara Brown, will serve the dinner.

EDITORIAL

The question has often been asked: "Where is the Rainbow City's pot of gold?"
The pot is here, but for the past 20 years the gold has been traveling to other cities. To the very cities where one laughs and asks, "Where is your pot of gold?"
Workers in our campaign to increase local payrolls have "beat the bushes" night and day over a period of months, giving over their strength, their time and their energy to re-filling our pot of gold.
But what proof have we that healthy portions of any new, locally earned money will remain at home?
Without a sound, workable plan to see that new locally earned money is spent here, there is every indication that unfavorable buying habits will continue—on a much larger scale.
The East Jordan Businessmen's Association has not worked exhaustively for the past five months merely to eat the crumbs of a new loaf of bread.
But if an alarming amount of local money now is spent elsewhere, what assurance have we that vast amounts of new payrolls will fail to travel the same roads out of town?
Charging us with the responsibility of spending our money where we earn it is not the answer. We cannot legislate emotions and desires.
It seems rather that we should create new, more attractive reasons for shopping at home.
Shoppers have been known to travel elsewhere to buy $1.00 item not obtainable here. That's why they went out of town.
But, strangely, they often purchase $20 worth of goods while there... goods that sell for the same price at home. How many times have we used a "spool of thread" as the excuse for going out of town to buy a week's supply of groceries or $25 worth of merchandise priced the same at home?
Eliminate the state reasons for shopping out of town and we will at once hear new "reasons." So, new desires to want to shop here seem the only solution.
Stated boldly, new industry will not mean a new East Jordan unless we plan now to strike at the very heart of this out of town buying habit.
So it is true. Our pot of gold is here; and it will be re-filled again and again. But to what purpose if our gold is taken away from us?
We do not believe that the good residents of this city placed $90,000 in the pot to help develop other cities so people there can laugh and ask, "Where is your pot of gold?"
We are buying a new quart of milk; and for the first time in history we have got to make up our minds that THIS time we are going to taste the cream.—Marshall Sayles, editor.

Red Cross Mobile Blood Unit To Be Here In June

Mrs. Bennett also reported that the county's quota for the three day clinic has been set at 260 pints of blood. LEGION... Auxiliary News

NATION TO HONOR WAR DEAD MAY 23

Poppy Day will be observed in East Jordan and throughout most of the nation on May 23, the Saturday before Memorial Day, it has been announced by Florence Stucker, Poppy Chairman of Rebek-Sweet Unit 227 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

On that day everyone in the community will be asked to wear a memorial poppy in honor of the dead of two World Wars and the Korean conflict.

Crepe Paper poppies, made by disabled veterans of the three wars, will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary, and will be proceeded by a house to house canvas throughout the poppy sale May 21 and 22. The poppies will be replicas of the wild poppies which "grew between the crosses, row on row," in the World War I battle cemeteries in France and Flanders, thus becoming the memorial flower for America's War dead. Disabled veterans who make the poppies are the only persons paid for their work in the American Legion Auxiliary's poppy program. The women who distribute the poppies are all unpaid volunteers. Promotion work is handled by volunteer committees, and members of the state and national headquarters staffs in addition to their regular duties.

In exchange for the poppies,

We'll See You At The Duck Inn Famous Throughout Northern Michigan Fine Food — Excellent Coffee Sportsmen's Headquarters East Jordan

the Auxiliary will accept contributions for its work for disabled veterans and for needy children of veterans which is largely supported by those contributions. All funds from this sale will stay in our local Unit to be used for veterans and their families in our own community with the exception of contributions sent in the hospitals for cigarette funds, etc. and to the billet at Otter Lake

IMP-LINGO

By THE IMP

Hi Jordan, Another week, another column. My eye, it's beginning to look more like a key hole every week.

So E. J. met Mance at Mancelona for a ball game and came out with victory for — Mance! That was quite a record established too—16 errors. I went along for the ride and almost got in. They played everyone but "The Imp." (Who knows, maybe he got in too!)

The Prom is coming up fast. I hope I can find someone to go with me. P. S. referably a Junior?

And speaking of the Prom, Jim B. wants to take either S. B. or R. I. Which will it be, Jim?

And someone said that Sam Milstein was getting around a little more lately. But I don't know.

A D. W. seemed to make a big hit with Boyne girls at the May Band Festival. All except one, that is. Jim S. kept her occupied.

Pat C. and Martha and Louise S. are out of the hospital and in fine shape now, so girls, you'd better watch out. Competition is really getting keen for that Prom. I hope all are asked. As for me, I think I will take the last one. (Catch?)

Bob D. isn't going to the Prom, but I bet P. B. could talk him into it.

I wonder if those oh so eligible bachelors, Gordie, Leon, Lawrence are going?

I saw T. R. riding around with G. D. I wonder if he will take her to the Prom? (I saw them at the ball game together, too.)

I guess the Senior Class leaves the 20th for their trip. It must be a relief to know that you do have enough $ to go after—wondering so long. But they do—or so I hear—Au revoir, Seniors. (For Good, the 4th of June).

Once upon a time there was a certain boy that couldn't (or wouldn't) wait for someone—to come home. Golly, he'd better! Or I'll tell.

So the Junior Class has to put on their play again for the LDS church. And all because of a certain T. S.? And by the way (when is that chicken dinner?)

P. S. Don't you wish you knew who "The Imp" is? She must be a boy!

This looks like the usual starting lineup for the Prom: Jim and Marie, Martha and Fred, Shirley and Bert, Larry and a honey from Petoskey (how that boy does it!) Carol and Ken, Sally and Peter, Murph and a certain boy we'll be hearing more about, Sally and Norm, Son and Kay, Ron and Judy, Ray and his love, Dan and think, Jim B. and one or 'tother—and Leon! Let's hear from you boy! Then you have—Gordie, Floyd, Bob, Bob, Alan, Denny, Deanna, Larry C., Pat G., Pat B., Pat E., Marg A., (I forgot Jean and Warren). Mix all these well, plus more next week (more fun) and you have—one huge success.

I have to give an author report for Mr. Downing so I must stop now.

The Lamprey Eel has been reported to be on the down grade but twenty-three of them were counted in about an hour's time around the mouth of the Jordan River recently. They ranged in size from eighteen to twenty-four inches. Also a lot of the larger minnows have been observed with small lampreys attached to them which indicates that this menace to our fish is still plentiful.

ORCHARD NOTES

By C. Fairman

What's the latest and the most interesting? The juice of cherries is up to equal eight cents for the grower. All tree fruits are well budded and set for a heavy crop this year. Not any damage from frosts or freezes so far. Plenty of moisture stored up.

We could put on a dormant peach spray the last days of the month of March. April was a very good month for orchard work. All of our brush is picked up. Our mulch is spread and the largest part of our cultivating is done as well as fertilizer spread. Except one hundred and fifty ton of manure now piled in the orchard to be spread soon.

We finished applying the green tip stage scab spray for apples today, May 6th. We used fermate until the tree is in bloom and then and then every seven days up apply the next spray in six days on each side of a tree. We will stop scab sprays for the season.

There has been plenty of moisture for tree planters and the forecast for the month of May is wet. This also means beware of shot hole; perhaps Memorial Day. Many a grower has been caught when Memorial Day comes on Saturday. By Monday it is too late.

State May Buy 500 More Acres Of Land

Purchase of 500 acres for hunting and game land, fishing site and state park development is recommended for approval at the conservation commission meeting Friday.

The hunting lands are located in Pigeon River state forest. Land for the recommended fishing site development is a platted lot surrounded by publicly-owned land at the already-established Horse-shoe Lake site in Montcalm county.

Under the Pittman-Robertson program, 80 acres in additions to three state game projects is recommended. Three parcels of land are also suggested for purchase to increase the size of Wilderness state park by 74 acres and to fill in a small section in Higgins Lake state park.

Ample Farm Water Supply Means More Dollar Return

A good water system is the heart of every farm and should be well planned says Ed Rebman county Farm Agent.

Very important is selection of a good pump. The type will depend on the depth of water, the depth of the well, water yield and location of the pump in respect to the well.

Two types of wells, shallow and deep, require two types of pumps. Shallow well pumps depend entirely on vacuum or suction and lift the water only about 20 feet. Deep well pumps are set near the water level and send the water up with a piston or jet.

of water per hour are desirable for the farm. A 42-gallon pressure tank is the best for farm installation. If there are a large number of dairy cows or other outlets for the water, a larger tank should be used.

In planning a water system, consider uses of the water for the dairy herd, beef cattle, chickens, hogs and possibilities for watering gardens. Rebman says a high portion of meat, vegetables and milk foods are water; an ample supply of water in the right places means "a large dollar return for the farmer."

With Your COUNTY FARM AGENT

By Ed Rebman

Even though an insecticide may not bear the "skull and crossbones" label, people should be cautious in handling the chemical. Since many substances are harmful even if they are not poisonous.

That's a tip from Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county farm agent. He says that insecticides help fruits and vegetables but they often have the opposite effect on man.

David G. Steinicke, extension specialist in health and safety at Michigan State College, warns that people handling insecticides should take special precautions not to inhale vapors of fumes. The insecticides should be labeled at all times and should be put in safe storage where children cannot reach them. Here are some of the rules he suggests for handling insecticides safely:

Follow the directions of the manufacturer in handling, mixing and applying the chemical. Always spray or dust with the wind. Wear respirators when there is danger of inhaling fumes.

Gloves, long-sleeved shirts and clothing to cover the entire body are recommended. Wash hands and other exposed parts of the body thoroughly with soap and water after using poisonous chemicals.

Store poisonous materials in strong leak-proof containers. Be sure they are out of reach of children or livestock. Thoroughly wash fruits and vegetables to which poisonous chemicals have been applied.

In three out of the past four years, yields of corn planted between May 5 and 9 were significantly higher than the crops planted between May 19 and June 21 in tests at Michigan State College.

Eliminating raw garbage feeding is a must in controlling vesicular exanthema in swine, says Dr. Glen W. Reed, extension animal pathologist at Michigan State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Kidder attended the funeral services for their brother Charles Brown at Central Lake Thursday.

Growers Urged To Supply Wheat Data

Wheat growers of Charlevoix County are being asked to help in the preliminary work of assembling data for possible acreage allotments and marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop.

According to Le Roy Hardy, PMA Committee Chairman certain information from farmers is absolutely necessary in order to do a sound administrative job of setting equitable acreage allotments for individual farms. Farm allotments will be determined by the county PMA Committee, with the possible assistance of the community committees.

Data needed includes the farm's wheat acreage and production data for the 3 years 1951, 1952, and 1953; the legal description of the land, and other pertinent information. If farmers operate a rented farm, he should be able to supply such additional information as the name and address of the owner.

Hardy emphasizes that the final decision has not yet been made as to whether acreage allotments or marketing quotas will be used for the 1954 crop of wheat. That decision will be made later, when there is more known about the supply and prospective demand situations. However, the indicated wheat supply is such that production controls will probably be necessary, as directed by law.

Proclamation of a national wheat acreage allotment is mandatory unless dispensed with by the Secretary because of a national emergency or of a material increase in exports. Proclamation of quotas is mandatory when supplies reach a certain point specified in the legislation, except under emergency conditions.

An early start on the necessary advance work is particularly urged. Mr. Hardy explained, because the decision and proclamation must be made not later than July 1 for marketing quotas and July 15 for acreage allotments without quotas. If quotas are proclaimed, a national referendum among growers must be held by July 25.

Hardy requests that the farmers have ready the needed information as soon as possible so that the committeemen, when calling on the farmer, will be able to get it without delay.

Charlevoix County has an estimated 125 farms growing wheat. There are an estimated 2.1 million wheat farms in the United States.

SOMETHING TO SQUAWK ABOUT

Use Cheese For Saving, Good Health

Cheese usually plays a supporting role in menu planning, but it deserves a starring role, points out a Michigan State College nutritionist. Not only is cheese a concentrated, valuable food, it is also in abundant supply now and relatively inexpensive.

Mrs. Lucile Decker of the MSC School of Home Economics reminds homemakers that one pound of cheese contains the equivalent of four quarts of milk fat and the equivalent of three quarts of milk in protein, calcium and phosphorus. Cheese is rich in vitamin A and riboflavin. Compared with other common protein-rich foods, cheese rates high in fat, protein, ash and calories.

Mrs. Decker wants to correct the mistaken notion that cheese is indigestible. Nutritional research has proved that cheese is one of the most completely digestible foods.

There are two general kinds of cheeses, process and natural. Spreads and other cheese products which have added ingredients such as cream milk, skim milk or cheese when in addition to natural cheese are called "process" cheeses. Mrs. Decker points out that process cheeses are somewhat diluted and contain less of the natural cheese nutrients. However, the handy sizes and convenience of process cheeses make it attractive to many homemakers.

If you have the common figure problem of narrow shoulders and out-sized hips, de-emphasize the skirt and give special attention to the yoke or blouse of your clothes. recommend clothing specialists at Michigan State college.

Depth of batter in cake pans seems to affect cake texture, warn Michigan State college pans should not be more than half full to achieve a velvety, smooth cake consistency.

Leo Murty spent the weekend with his family of Detroit.

Industry Men To Check The Farmers' Work

The work of County Agricultural Agents will be recognized by the Northwest Michigan Industrial Development Council, Friday evening May 15, 1958.

The executive board of the council has invited all of the County agents in their area to be their dinner guests at the William Stebbins farm, two miles South and East of Kalkaska.

They will meet at the farm at 6:30 p.m. to watch a milking demonstration, this will be followed by a "Thrasher Style" dinner served in the farm home. Following a short business session there will be a general discussion on undeveloped farm resources.

Professor Paul A. Miller, Department of Sociology, Michigan State College, in talking to a group of secretaries said, "In 1950 there were 400,000 more people living on farms and not farming for a living than those who were."

It is the hope of the council that more industry can be brought into Northwest Michigan to provide off season and part time jobs for farmers who desire added income.

J. Frederick Kirkpatrick, Kalkaska, Vice-President of the Council and owner of Kirkpatrick's Dairy, is the local chairman.

Sick Tractor Gives Clues To Troubles

The color of the exhaust may be the indication of what's wrong with your tractor engine, says MSC machinery men.

If the tractor's exhaust pipe fumes black smoke, for example, it's getting more gas than it needs. The air-fuel mixture may be too rich. Or the black smoke may mean an improper float level or a plugged air cleaner.

When your tractor fumes bluish smoke, the engine is burning oil. Oil in the combustion chamber means that valves or piston rings are worn or stuck.

Having a mechanic find out the trouble and repair it before the job becomes more costly.
