CITY SET TO WELCOME BOY SCOUTS

Good To Be Home, But . . .

It's good to be back home in East Jordan after more than five years in Germany, but Sgt. and Mrs. Arthur Brascalla, who own a cabin on the Jordan River, say their stay in United States may not be for too long. He asked for further overseas duty, but probably will retire before long and return to East Jordan. The Brascallas are shown here as they entered their cabin on the Jordan for the first time in several years. (Photo by Huckle)

From a worker at the East Jordan Iron Works to military governor of Passau, Germany, Sgt. Arthur Brascalla has packed years of experience into a little time.

Lounging at his cabin on the Jordan River after flying to the States, Brascalla recalled his long and varied career in the service of his country.

Visiting the Frank Ronowskis and the Bill Huckles during their stay here recently, before returning to Detroit, Brascalla told of his many experiences as governor and honorary mayor of Passau, a city of 43,000 now under American guidance.

"It was like being city manager or Justice of the Peace," he said, "because it seemed that everyone in town brought their troubles to you."

"With 21 important positions to look after, he was responsible to the colonel in charge and he handled all the duties assigned to headquarters. Strabbing, Germany.

Unfortunately, since Brascalla is still in service, he was not at liberty to discuss current American relationships with Russia as he saw it there.

However, he has had time to learn many German customs and study the ways of the people.

He recalls the fun hunting, especially Roebuck—german deer. While there, Brascalla shot 43 "yule deer," two wild boar, one 300 pounds and one 200 pounds.

He thinks that we in America could learn much about hunting from those over there. For instance, before a license is issued, you must take a shooting test while you are checked by an official.

Then too, if you wound an animal instead of killing it, you are fined heavily. It doesn't pay to miss your hunting shots in Germany.

SANTA BIG ATTRACTION
Santa Claus is taken more seriously than here, he said. Christmas is almost a civic event when the whole town turns out to celebrate.

And as mayor of the city, he acted as Santa Claus in behalf of the American people. The children who followed him in the streets at Christmas time, called him Oopa, "grandfather," and they were sorry to see him leave for the states.

Brascalla's experience as mayor was actually the result of his early schooling at Cheboygan, Michigan, where he learned to speak German. He went first to Germany as a linguist.
Born in Cheboygan in 1903, Brascalla attended school there and joined the Marines in 1920. (Continued on Page 4)

Hook and Line Talk

Fishermen Hook 59 Northern Pike At River Mouth Sunday

Pike fishermen are really having a time of it in the back waters and around the head of Lake Charlevoix. A total of fifty nine Northern were tabulated on Sunday alone.

One youngster caught eleven of them using a Dare-devil Spoon as a lure. Monday morning Jack Bennett and his wife caught nine ranging from about two to five pounds apiece. Most of the Pike are small but some have been recorded at seven to nine pounds.

White Bass are now beginning to bite fairly consistently and one fellow caught his limit Sunday morning. All those which have been caught so far have been males which indicates that the run is just starting.

The female White Bass are much larger and weigh as much as four pounds. Between now and the middle of June these fish will furnish a lot of sport.

The best bait for them is a good lively minnow. A good way to attract them is to hook the minnow in the mouth and keep it working across current.

Some of summer visitors to the Jordan River are quite impressed by the way they are being treated here. Chris Taylor, in addition to being a good Mayor is also a very efficient guide and one fisherman remarked that they really roll out the carpet for guests when he learned that his guide was also Mayor of the town

Later Saturday night the Council has invited the public to attend the annual Pageant Campfire during which the scouts will be costumed.

About 1:30 Sunday afternoon each scout troop will take part in a grand march at the fairgrounds which will be reviewed by the public and Camporee officers.

Scouts will form a troop front with patrol leaders at the head of their patrols and scoutmasters with their troops. Following the march they will be dismissed and prepare for the afternoon contests.

Sunday afternoon contests will include a human chariot race and an actual chariot race.

Local and area committees have spent several weeks making arrangements for the influx of young visitors.

Under direction of co-chairmen Harry Watson, of East Jordan and Harvey Bays, of Traverse City, preparations have been made to receive the scouts and to welcome a large number of their relatives and friends to the city this weekend.

The following East Jordan committees have been making plans to aid the scouts in their annual Camporee here: Grounds Preparation, Howard Porter; Plumbing Utilities, William Grauel; Electrical Utilities, Lou Gardner; Parade, Tom St. Charles; Fire Wood and Willows, Bill Bennett; Service Troop, John Downing; Publicity, Marshall Sayles; Church, Rev. Edward DeHaven. L. B. Karr has been named to take charge of the trading post set up at the fairgrounds.

POPPY DAY

Proclamation By The Mayor

All citizens of East Jordan were urged to wear a memorial poppy on Saturday, May 23, in a proclamation issued by Mayor Chris Taylor setting the day aside as Poppy Day. Pointing out that wearing of a poppy is an individual tribute to the memory of America's war dead, the proclamation stated:

"Whereas young men of the City of East Jordan are still serving in defense of our country and are taking their places among our honored citizens alongside those who have served in other wars, and

"Whereas the roll of those who have given their lives in the nation's defense is increasing as war takes its toll of our finest young men, and

"Whereas the memory of those citizens of East Jordan who make the supreme sacrifice for America should live forever in the hearts of all citizens of our City, and

"Whereas annual wearing of the memorial poppy is an individual tribute to the war dead, showing that we remember and are grateful for their sacrifices in our behalf, now

"Therefore, I, Chris Taylor, Mayor of the City of East Jordan, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 23, to be Poppy Day in the City of East Jordan, and I urge all citizens to observe the day by wearing the memorial poppy."

IT CAN STAND A LOT OF WHITTLIN'

Ever since late January, President Eisenhower and his aides have been whittling away at the budget for fiscal 1954. Sometimes they have whittled off a sizable shaving, but most were small. In other words, some of their economies, like the refusal to buy new equipment for upkeep of the White House and its grounds at a cost of $3,016, have seemed picayune when measured against the Truman budget of $78,000,000,000.

But the "whittlers" have kept on at their task. A few thousands here, a few million there, and finally a few billion off proposals for defense and foreign aid—taken together, all these economies mounted up to the $8,500,000,000 budget cut announced recently by President Eisenhower.

Let us hope the "whittlers" never grow discouraged. If Congress will stand behind their budget cuts, we may be in sight of a balanced budget that will make it possible to reduce taxes.

Child Needs Teamwork By Parents

A key to happy family life and well adjusted children, says a Michigan State College specialist, is so simple that many fathers and mothers won't believe it. The key he asserts, is for parents to live happily themselves.

Dr. Elmer Knowles, an MSC child development specialist, believes that the parent's primary function is to be a team worker. The job is not single-handed.

A child feels frustrated if parents can't agree on discipline. He's confused if he is held back in points out, don't feel safe if by one parent and pushed ahead by the other. Children, Dr. Knowles says, know they are getting away with something.

Fathers and mothers, adds the specialist, represent security for the child. The love which parents show for each other and their creation of a happy atmosphere in the home mean safety and stability to the child.

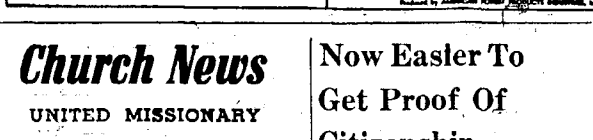

But, Dr. Knowles points out, quarreling, bickering and sarcastic remarks by parents mean to the youngster that his ship of state is rocking.

and Pat Looze have obtained their workers permit, and are now able to help out whenever needed after school and on week ends.

STEARNS COUNTY, MINNESOTA, PRODUCES MORE BUTTER THAN ANY OTHER COUNTY IN THE UNITED STATES.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS NEWS

It's easy to have "more fun fishing," especially for trout, according to University of Michigan Prof. Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the U-M Department of Fisheries.

All it takes is a little "know how" in regard to trout characteristics, habitats and habits to enable fishermen to have bigger and better catches. Also, the state can better preserve its fish population and maintain its reputation as one of the greatest fishing areas in the country.

The "big game" fish among the trouts, Dr. Lagler says, is the lake trout. Found in deep, cold lake water running from a depth of 5 to 250 feet, this variable, or mottled grey, species is the largest of the Great Lakes fish, excepting the sturgeon. Its average weight does not exceed 15 pounds, although some attain a weight of 125 pounds and a length of four feet.

Because of its large size, the trout customarily is caught by trolling at considerable depths with copper line, heavy rod and large spoon, Dr. Lagler explains. It will give any angler a big fight, he states, usually from beneath the surface and at great water depths.

Moving into cool streams and lakes with swift, clear water, the Michigan fisherman will find the rainbow trout. Distinguishable from other trout by its rainbow spots, this is the most migratory of Michigan stream trout. Professor Lagler claims.

One fish gaining most in popularity is the lake-run rainbow trout. These large spring fish are sensational fighters, jumping many times when hooked. Dr. Lagler says "it rises well to the fly when feeding on floating insects, but gives the same battle to worm fishermen." When caught it often will weigh in between five and 12 pounds.

Cool, spring-fed streams, protected by overhanging banks or shade trees, are the favorite habitat of the eastern brook trout, the one trout species native to Michigan streams and lakes.

Although brook trout must have cool water in which to live, Professor Lagler points out that very cold water may seriously retard growth. The ideal location, he continues, is a stream with a moderate to fast current over a gravel bottom, richly endowed with pools and caves.

With dusky olive marbling on its back, back fins and tail, the brook trout's lower fins are edged in creamy white, with red spots on the sides of its body. Thus it differs from the lake trout and the introduced rainbow.

Bait fishermen in alder-covered streams or dry fly enthusiasts on larger, more open waters all will find the eastern brook trout of great sport, Dr. Lagler states.

Native to Europe and first introduced in Michigan about 1885, the brown trout usually is found in warmer water areas with sluggish, quiet sections, where there is both cover and food close at hand. This fish frequently is found under logs, overhanging banks, edges of deep holes and beside stumps or log jams.

Occasionally attaining lengths up to three feet and weights of 13 pounds, the brown trout has large brownish-black spots, with reddish ones on its sides.

The churches of the community through the cooperation of the manager of the Temple Theater, Mr. McDaniels, are sponsoring the double feature shows "Cry the Beloved Country," which is the most authentic story seen in pictures of the social, spiritual, political situation in South Africa today. And the second picture will be "Royal Journey," a picture in technicolor of the visit to Canada and the United States of Princess Elizabeth, now Queen Elizabeth II. The churches are happy to sponsor this type of film not only because of good entertainment but also as valuable information. The WYF's of the churches are selling tickets for this show which will be the 26th and 27th of May, and will appreciate the cooperation of the entire community in this endeavor.

Now Easier To Get Proof Of Citizenship

A revised application form for use of persons seeking to establish proof of age or citizenship through personal Census records is now available at the Census Bureau's district office in Boyne City, according to District Supervisor Donald P. Watkins.

The revised form is designed to encourage applicants to use the Censuses of 1880, 1900 and 1920, if possible, when requesting searches of the voluminous census records. Officials point that information from these Censuses can be furnished more rapidly because the records for these years have been card indexed.

The WYF of the Presbyterian church will discontinue their regular Sunday evening meetings for the remainder of the summer. A very enjoyable time was had by our group with the Boyne City WYF at Whittings Park last Sunday.

What Poppy Day Means To Our Disabled Veterans Of America

Saturday, May 23, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day. When, once a year, we of America pay tribute, by wearing memorial flowers, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars, and in Korea.

And as you receive your poppy from the Women of the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 227, who will distribute the flowers on the streets that day, you will be aiding the War's living victims by the contribution you make.

The poppy comes from the fields of France and Belgium where the churning tide of War obliterated all touches of beauty except its brave red blooms.

It comes to us from the shell-pitted battle areas and from among the Wooden Crosses of the War cemeteries. There is was nature's tribute to the heroic dead and here in America it is the tribute of patriots to those who made patriotism's highest sacrifice.

The poppies which you will wear are not, of course, natural flowers from the battle fields. They are flowers which have a greater significance than any nature could produce. They have been made in hospitals and work-rooms where war's suffering still goes on.

They have bloomed under hands of men disabled in war... the comrades of those in whose honor they will be worn. Their petals are only paper and their stems wire, yet into them has been breathed the spirit of patriotic sacrifice, the spirit of those days when life itself was not too much to give for America.

The disabled veterans who make the poppies derive double benefit from the work. First, it gives them employment... their only chance to help support themselves and families. With strength and health gone they cannot do regular work, but they can make poppies. Even in their hospital beds they can do this work, earning money for each flower they make. Second, the work is of real value in aiding their recovery, occupying hands and minds, breaking the tedium of long idleness, and restoring spirits crushed by hopelessness.

The women who distribute the poppies, unlike the disabled veterans who make them, receive nothing for their efforts... nothing tangible, that is, only the satisfaction of having helped brighten the memory of the dead and having contributed to the welfare of the living. It is hard unaccustomed work for them, but they do it gladly, happy to be able to serve in such a cause.

The money which is dropped into the coin boxes in exchange for the poppies goes, entirely to the welfare activities of the American Legion Auxiliary, supporting the work which this service organization does for disabled veterans, the families of disabled veterans and the families left in need by death of veterans. Every penny is made to serve in a cause of highest worth.

Understanding the meaning of the poppy and the uses to which the poppy funds are put, can anyone be deaf to the appeal of Poppy Day? Can anyone fail to greet the Auxiliary poppy workers with a welcome smile, or fail to put on the poppy of remembrance for the dead and show that they remember the living by contributing as liberally as means will permit?

The Auxiliary is sure there are few in East Jordan in whom remembrance, gratitude and patriotism burns so low. They are sure the poppy will be worn over every heart on Poppy Day. (Contributed)

Suggests Poison Bait To Control Pests In Garden

Garden slugs and snails in gardens, orchards and greenhouses in Charlevoix County can be controlled by poison bait, according to County Agricultural Agent, Ed Rebnan.

Ray Hutson, head of the entomology department at Michigan State college, recommends a poison bait containing metaldehyde plus either calcium arsenate or sodium fluosilicate.

In gardens snails and slugs cause serious losses through their attacks on seedlings, flowers and vegetables. The pests also hit at succulent plants and seedlings in greenhouses.

BACK HOME

After two years in that service he spent 14 years in the coast guard and became a chief gunner's mate.

Leaving service in 1945 he worked as a guard at the National Bank of Detroit. Later he married Mrs. Brascalla in Detroit and then bought a cabin on the Jordan River. For about 6 months he worked at the East Jordan Iron Works, but decided that due to his previous military service it would be better if he re-enlisted.

Once in Germany, he progressed rapidly, increasing his knowledge of the language. At first he was assigned to Strabbing as provost marshal of the section; and after three months he was transferred to headquarters detachment as chief of section engineers builders of housing and repairs. After a year he was moved to Passau in lower Bavaria as military governor. There he was commanding officer (NCO) representing the colonel in charge.

Brascalla says there is a strong chance that he may return to Germany and replace his own vacancy as mayor. But it won't be for too long. Mrs. Brascalla has not decided whether to go back or not.

"When I'm retired," he laughed, "you'll find me right here on the Jordan River." With that he arose and walked over to the river and cast his line. "This is the life for me," he said, smiling.

SPORT NEWS

BY BOB DARBEE

Last week before the closing game of the 1953 baseball season we had a little excitement in two inter-squad games between the Fresh-Sophomore teams and the Junior-Senior team. The Freshman-Sophomores came out on top in both games played. In the first game (5 innings) the score was 3-1. Freeman worked for the J. S. team and Bob Danforth was the winner for the F. S. team. In the second game Darbee, Sommerville and Romback pitched for the F. S. and Sam Milstein, Warren Frank, and Keith Evans for the J. S. All the F. S. runs were scored in the first inning off Milstein and all the J. S. runs in the last. The score was 6-3.

In order to earn a varsity letter in any sport in East Jordan you must have a certain amount of playing time in the season. In football, eight quarters (this season Coach Saxton gave a number of letters to boys who had only six or seven); in basketball you must be a member of the first team for most of the regular season; in baseball you must take part in as many innings as there are games; in track you must place 1st, 2nd or 3rd in the Conference or Regional meet.

Letter winners on the baseball team this season are: Lawrence Chanda, Keith Evans, Sam Milstein, Allen Sommerville, Charles Carney, Bob Romback, Clinton Clark, Bob Danforth, Warren Frank and Dick Freeman. Letter winners on the track team this season are: Keith Evans, Bob Danforth, Warren Frank, Allen Sommerville, Jack Zoulek, Sam Milstein, Bob Darbee and Jim Weisler.

Last week Monday Boyne City Don Arner pushed the shot out 45' 10 1/2" at Cheboygan and set a new Cheboygan field mark. He also ran second to Tom McGinn in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

In sporting events this year the East Jordan teams have won about 68% of their games.

Special Church services for the visiting Boy Scouts will be held at 11:00 a.m. in the following churches. The United Missionary Church, the Catholic Church and the Presbyterian Church.

The regular morning services that are usually held at 11:00 a.m. in the Presbyterian will be held at 10:00 a.m., and at the United Missionary Church, Morning Worship and Legion and Auxiliary Memorial Services will be at 12 p.m.

We urge the regular attendance at these services to attend the regular service, because we will need the room in these churches at the special services for the Boy Scouts.

Smartest of the three stream trouts and thus hardest to catch, the brown will give fishermen a vicious battle. Professor Lagler states, being especially sought by night fishermen using minnows or large, light-colored streamers resembling minnows. It also is readily taken sometimes in larger streams during heavy hatches of mayflies or caddisflies.

STRAIGHT FROM THE FIELD

FARM GOSSIP COLUMN

(Compiled and Edited by the News Staff)

Cold, wet weather during the last half of April slowed plant development and seriously interfered with field work. Adverse weather continued the first days of May but improved rapidly the second week as clear skies prevailed and temperatures averaged 6 to 10 degrees above normal for several days.

Oats planting is behind schedule with less than half of the intended acreage planted by May 1. Progress varies widely between areas from nearly completed on May 1, in the southern counties of the lower peninsula to just started in the eastern and central parts of the state.

Michigan's tree fruits were not damaged during the past winter. However, many trees are continuing to show damage from the severe freeze of November 25, 1950. Cool weather in late April and early May delayed blossoming thus reducing somewhat the danger of late frost damage.

With Your COUNTY FARM AGENT

By Ed Rebmán

Grain is food—keep it clean. That's the slogan used by the administrators of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act in their campaign to boost grain sanitation, reports Ed Rebmán, Charlevoix County Agricultural Agent.

Rebmán points out that many farm storages are open so that rats, mice, cats and birds and other animals can contaminate grain in bins. This may be the grain which later goes to the mill to be made into food for human consumption.

Here are some tips from Arthur J. Bell, extension agricultural engineer at Michigan State College, on protecting grain from rat contamination:

Bell reports that it's easy to protect new bins with half-inch hardware mesh or galvanized sheet metal. The entire bin, floors, walls and top should be lined. The door should have its edges protected with sheet metal, too. Galvanized bins would solve the problem quickly.

Rat proofing an old bin, he says, may be more of a problem, although the same principles apply. Sometimes it may be necessary only to put a two-foot strip of galvanized sheet metal at the base of the wall to stop gnawing. Then a 12-inch strip of sheet metal can be placed about four feet higher to prevent rats from crawling up the sides.

The floor should also be covered with sheet metal. If the wall metal is placed on the inside of the bins, it should overlap about six inches on the floor. Then the floor metal should be placed over the overlap to give a tight seal.

The top of the bin should be covered so animals can't get inside from overhead. This can be done by building the bins and

Canning Company To Aid Important Farm Meeting

The Charlevoix County Extension office, Michigan State College and the East Jordan Canning Company will hold an important county-wide meeting at East Jordan high school 8:30 next Thursday night, May 28.

Local farmers are asked to attend the meeting to learn how to bring the Mexican Bean Beetle under control.

Ray Janes, entomology specialist at MSC will discuss the life history of the insect and disclose means of control for both the small gardener and commercial grower.

County Farm Agent, Ed Rebmán, who called the meeting, says "Many farmers have seen these beetles and probably are more acquainted with the young larvae than with the adult. These larvae rows of black-tipped spines and are always found on the under side of the leaves."

Cooperating with the farmers and the meeting, the East Jordan Canning Company will furnish refreshments following the discussion.

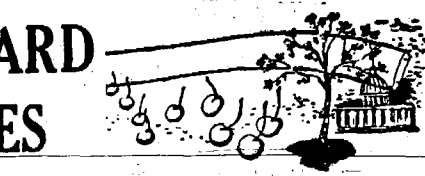

Minimum milk requirements for children are three to four cups per day. Adult milk requirements are two and a half to three cups per day, say U. S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists.

bin partitions to the ceiling and lifting the ceiling with metal.

If it's not possible or desirable to build the bins to the ceiling, a removable metal-covered top may be put on top of the bins. The top can be made in sections for easy handling.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration's plans to enforce the grain sanitation program have been set aside temporarily, pending further research and study.

ORCHARD NOTES

By C. Fairman

The fruit crop seems to be all right here May 14th. The temperature dropped to 30 degrees for a short period. Sweet cherries are O. K. Montmorency's being in the bloom stage, came through all right. Peaches, pears, prunes and apples O. K. We have had excellent weather in regards to apple scab. That is, no rain.

We sprayed for apple scab May 4th and 5th, expecting rain and foliage coming out at a fast rate. One day's progress was like two ordinary days. We again sprayed Saturday, May 9th, expecting rain over the weekend. We are now due to spray again May 16th. We use a mild protective material that keeps the foliage healthy.

It is less expensive for us to jump off the tractor and crush an army worm's nest (using our hands) than it is to use expensive poisons or poison harmful to foliage or bees.

We still believe in hoeing young trees that are under cultivation once in May and once in June. It seems to give them an extra boost. As with apples or pears to be grown under mulch and where trees are to be filled in, we spade up a hole for the tree one year in advance, filling the hole with manure and covering it with straw. Thus the spot is ready to plant the following year. All vegetation should not touch the roots when planting as it will burn the roots. As soon as roots are covered with rich top soil, add the old manure and soil. The tree will grow good without cultivating if well mulched and planted very easily in the season.

Most all commercial planters are building up their soil a year or two in advance of planting fruit trees.

IMP-LINGO By THE IMP

Hi Jordan,
It sure won't be long now—just one more week after this—my vacation! Hot dog! Hot summer, I hope!

I flew down to Malpass' cottage Sunday night on the back of a mosquito (sure were plenty of 'em around) and was just in time for a weiner roast which ended up at the new drive-in theater.

The Seniors will be leaving us soon but we'll see plenty of them before they leave at the Junior Senior Banquet and the Junior Prom tomorrow night. I guess the Juniors are still pinching pennies but at least they won't drive the town nuts next year with sales and raffles.

Well, finally the Junior play cast had their chicken dinner—invitational and delicious! I invited myself.

Better brush up for those exams, kids! Wonder how the Seniors came out on their all day tests. I bet they were a pain in the neck.

Whoops—there blows the whistle. There'll be more next time. I'll tell you about the prom. "The Imp"
