Overheard downtown: "A girl should wear slacks only when the end justifies the jeans."

There are thieves at the post office. A couple of new pens were put out for use of patrons and within two hours one had been stolen.

It cost you about 10c per day during 1952 for all of Charlevoix county's government functions. Also in 1952 you paid between 4c and 5c per day for maintenance and construction work of the county road commission. That is for every county resident, 13,475 of them.

These figures were taken from the State Auditor General's report on Charlevoix County to the board of supervisors, May 22, 1953.

In East Jordan, if the city is to raise $35,000 for its 1953 budget and if there are about 2,000 people here, each person would pay between 4c and 5c per day during the year to support city operations.

Last week's story on Grandvue hospital brought wide comment throughout the county. The story, however, failed to mention that the East Jordan Fire Department also donated a stretcher to the hospital. The omission was certainly not intentional.

They say when a wife leaves home she's usually going buy-buy.

Many years ago Harlow Currier a young ambitious fellow answered a want ad in a Detroit newspaper for a bookkeeper. He got the job and kept plugging. A while ago he became president of the firm, General Motors.

Have noticed the new striking color of the rest room at the tourist park? The bright red blends well with the many other colors that make the new park so beautiful.

LETTER BOX

Highway Commissioner Gives Facts and Figures To Support Ellsworth C. of C. Resolution

Dear Editor:

In addition to its own analysis on the merits of the proposed straits bridge, the Ellsworth Community Chamber of Commerce made searching inquiry to obtain facts in support of its position, contacting government units, the Bridge Authority, persons familiar with economic and transportation problems of our state, and newspapers.

A letter recently received from Charles M. Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner, and also a member of the Mackinaw Bridge Authority, which reads in part:

"Practically all the Governor, Prentiss Brown and the New York Financing House, which is handling it, desires of the $417,000 annual appropriation taken from the State Highway Department Construction fund is, in my opinion, to create the impression to the people throughout the country who might buy these bonds, that the State of Michigan is behind it."

It seems to us and our Traffic Division in the Department that the estimate made by the New York traffic consultants that there will be some two and a half million vehicles using this bridge within a couple of years after it is completed, is quite flimsy and unreasonable.

If such a volume of traffic does come to pass, the Michigan State Highway Department would have to widen and increase highway facilities extending thru the Lower Peninsula to the Straits and do the same on US-2 between St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie and on US-2 from St. Ignace west probably as far as Escanaba or beyond. These increases in highway facilities, providing traffic volumes do increase, would have to be made in a few years and would cost about 50 million dollars.

Obviously to do this we would have to draw heavily on annual construction funds available for the Northern Peninsula and also the northern part of the Lower Peninsula.

"It could also be that the annual appropriation of $417,000 from our construction fund would not help much in covering the annual interest and principal payment on the bonds in case the traffic volume did not reach the above staggering figure. In such an event it might normally occur and certainly would occur in a case of depression or another war period, that the easy place for the Legislature to turn to for additional money, which might reach a figure of two to three million dollars per year would be the State Highway Department construction fund, as this precedent had already been established."

"I predict that if the bonds are sold they will be sold at an interest rate of 4 1/4 to 4 1/2% (even though they are tax exempt bonds) and will also be sold at a discount below par, probably at 97 or as low as 96. Last December the Department sold 20 million dollars worth of State Highway and City of Monroe bonds for which the interest and principal payments were pledged to be paid for annually from State Highway and City of Monroe annual allotment of motor vehicle revenues. These bonds were rated as double A bonds and sold at an interest rate of 2.03%. The $80,000,000 worth of bonds which were sold a year previously and for which the City of Detroit assumed an obligation of $20,000,000, and Wayne County Road Commission $20,000,000, and the Department $40,000,000, were sold at an interest rate of 2 1/2%. Our bonds were picked up immediately both cases by large Bond Houses throughout the country, by the big banks of the City of New York such as Chase, Hanover and Manufacturers National and other major banks throughout the country.

"I feel the same as your Chamber of Commerce does that to date at least the financing of these bonds is not a sound set-up."

"Our boys have roughly figured out that at the rate of two and a half million vehicles per year this would mean on an entire year basis that there would have to be a vehicle crossing the bridge every 12.6 seconds 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. As the ratio of summer traffic to winter traffic is 3 to 1, or there is 3 times as much traffic in the summer as in the winter months. This would mean that during the summer months there would have to be a vehicle crossing the bridge about every 4 seconds, 24 hours a day. I can carry this a little further and say that the traffic between 6:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. every day would be at least 3 times the night volume or from 6:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. every day during the summer a vehicle would have to be crossing every 1 1/2 seconds on an average during this 12 hour period."

Now consider that on a Saturday and Sunday the traffic is more than double week day traffic. This would mean that during the week ends there would have to be a vehicle crossing the bridge at least every half second. When you get this far you are getting to a point where the capacity of the bridge, even though it has a four-lane pavement, would not

One-Day Blood Program Starts Here Wednesday

The one-day community blood procurement program designed to secure sufficient blood for plasma and fractions to help meet the needs of Charlevoix county will open in East Jordan Wednesday, July 1, Mrs. Ted Malpass, local chairman announced this week as a reminder to all prospective donors.

Similar clinics will be held in Charlevoix and Boyne City on Monday and Tuesday. The blood procurement center will be set up at the Consumers Power Building, just south of the theater and will be open from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

It will be staffed by local physicians, Michigan Health Department nurses and technicians and local volunteer nurses. The Michigan Health Department mobile unit will arrive here earlier in the day to prepare for the clinic.

Fifty per cent of the blood collected will be returned to Charlevoix county as blood plasma and fractions including the all-important gamma globulin used to prevent or modify polio. The remaining 50 per cent will go to the armed forces. The quota for the county has been set at 260 pints.

The amount of plasma and fractions the county will receive will depend entirely upon the number of donations for these products plasma and fractions, cannot be manufactured from crude chemicals as wonder drugs are but must be made from human blood.

"If takes, for example, 1.4 pints gamma globulin, according to blood to make one dose of gamma globulin, according to Health Department figures.

Registration cards are available at the postoffice or call LE 6-7191.

It is not too late to register for the clinic, Mrs. Malpass said Wednesday. If you are unable to register before Wednesday, you may still donate blood by signing up at the clinic.

Local Men Study Factory

A preliminary lease agreement for East Jordan's prospective factory was studied here Wednesday afternoon.

Calling in their lawyer, board members and directors of East Jordan Industrial Development Corporation and the East Jordan Businessmen's Association went over the contract drawn up by the prospective factory attorneys.

The group set a meeting 2 p.m. Monday in Detroit with factory officials and their attorneys and look forward to an early signing of a contract that will permit construction of a factory here.

be sufficient to take care of the traffic."

Mr. Ziegler is very liberal to the bridge project. We have estimated it would take over three million vehicles per year to pay for the bridge. Summed up it means that if traffic should increase to the point where it would pay for the bridge then the proposed bridge is not large enough. And if the traffic does not increase to that point then there is not enough to pay for it.

Highway records disclose that in 1951 there were 683,014 vehicles which brought in gross receipts of $1,289,889.35. In 1952 there were 794,516 vehicles with a gross of $1,509,429.90. In 1943 the ferries carried only 105,211 vehicles across the straits.

Those who boosted for the bridge should not now complain about the new high ferry rates. They forced them on us. This most certainly will retard sight-seeing travel.

Ralph Hess, president, Charlevoix Improvement Corporation, will give the address of welcome.

The meeting is open to all who are interested in this part of Michigan. The dinner will be at 7:00 at the Belvedere Hotel, reservations should be sent to Stewart Coleman, secretary Charlevoix Board of Commerce.

Those joining included: Howard Porter, Leo Sommerville, Dr. J. Van Dellen, M. N. McDaniel, Bill Huckle, Marshall Sayles, Norman Bartlett, Cal's Tavern and the State Bank of East Jordan.

Local Organizations Aid Construction Of Playground

For the first time in the city's history East Jordan residents now are playing soft ball under the lights of their own athletic field.

Dedication ceremonies of the city's completely modern playground were held Tuesday night before a crowd of 500 or more people who stayed to see the first softball games played under the new lights.

In a brief pre-game dedication ceremony Mrs. John Porter, president, East Jordan Community Chest, stood in the batter's spot and swung at the ball pitched by Mayor Chris Taylor, representing the city council.

Catching the ball was Ted Malpass, representing the East Jordan Iron Works. Vale Gee turned the lights on officially.

Ceremony announcement was made by Marshall Sayles, editor, East Jordan News, who said:

"The need for a well equipped playground upon which our residents and visitors might enjoy themselves in wholesome outdoor activity has at last materialized."

"Through the cooperation of the East Jordan Community Chest, the City of East Jordan, the East Jordan Iron Works, Consumers Power Company and many individuals, this community may now be proud of its own athletic field."

"Among the many individuals who put their time and energy into the completion of this field were: Vale Gee, Bill Bussing, Leo Sommerville and Lou Gardner."

Residents were asked to again look ahead and give the East Jordan high school all the cooperation possible on closing their short street, so they can make a running track and lighted football field—a field of which the city can be justly proud.

It was said that then East Jordan could boast of a lighted softball field and a lighted football field second to none in northern Michigan.

Immediately following the dedication ceremony the East Jordan co-op and the American Legion softball teams took to the field to play the first ball game under the new lights.

Second game of the evening was played by the East Jordan Iron Works and the East Jordan Canning Company, which ran 10 innings. All teams were members of the Rainbow City league.

The Co-ops took the first contest against the American Legion, 10-5; and the Iron Works copped the second game from the Canning Company, 11-9.

Program arrangements were made by Community Chest recreational director, Coach Gayle Saxton.

Truth About Interest

Somewhere along the line the Eisenhower Administration has failed to explain fully and in simple terms the whys and wherefores of interest rates. If the Administration wants to avoid further blame for false conceptions about interest rates, then it should give some simple lessons in economic ABCs.

What a laborer gets for his work is called wages. What working money—money that is loaned—gets is called interest. There are no ceilings for wages. But there have been ceilings on interest—manipulations of varying degree worked during the 20 years of New Deal and Fair Deal socialistic experimentation.

The Government set abnormally low interest patterns by pegging, via the Federal Reserve System, prices of Government securities and by fixing low rates on loans in competition with those offered by private enterprise.

This pegging operation brought a flood of freshly printed money—inflation.

Now the Government's attitude is changed. The Federal Reserve no longer pegs United States bond prices and Federally set interest rates are up somewhat. The forces of supply and demand are coming into play.

There is more demand for loans these days; private loans have expanded by $33 billion. The supply of lendable money is being soaked up. The competition for this supply bids up interest rates.

That is a horse of no different color than when the scarcity of labor bids up wages or when a shortage of meat bids up meat prices.

This fight for return to normalcy is embodied in the fight against vicious inflation which has robbed the purchasing power of the dollar and savings, including those who found the dollars they get out of their defense bonds are puny facsimiles of those they invested.

Rising interest rates—and they are still far lower than those of a generation ago—are among the road signs along the comeback trail of the dollar. This spells good for no special group, but all who want their dollar to become pink-cheeked and husky again after a lingering illness. —from the "New Orleans States"

Scouts Pick New Officer For Northern Territory

Announcement was made today by the Office of Scenic Trails Council of the appointment of John W. Murchie as District Scout Executive in the Northern District serving Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix, Otsego and Antrim counties.

JOHN W. MURCHIE

Murchie will make his home in Petoskey while serving this five county District. The appointment of Murchie brings to full strength the Professional Leadership of the Scenic Trails Council.

Murchie is a native of Grand Blanc, where he attended and graduated from grade and high school. He comes from the Central Michigan college of Education where he majored in Physical Education, Speech and Health Education.

Murchie has been a Boy Scout for five years and has held all of the Offices from Ass't Patrol leader up to Ass't Scoutmaster. He is a Life Scout. He has been an Explorer Advisor at Remus, a Committeeman and a Member at Large in the Valley Trails Council at Saginaw.

While attending College, Murchie participated in the Boy Scout Executives' Training Program which is conducted by the National Organization to train men while in College for positions of professional leadership in the Boy Scouting program. Murchie is one of five members now employed in the Scenic Trails Council, other members living in Alpena, Cadillac and Traverse City. Murchie also becomes one of 2700 professional Scoutleaders in the movement throughout the 541 Councils in the United States.

He is currently serving on the Camp Staff at the Scenic Trails Council Boy Scout Camp Greilick and following his Scout Executives Training School will be residing in Petoskey and serving the Northern District.

Murchie is married and has a son, Jack. Mrs. Murchie is the former Miss Lou Aine Fowler, daughter of Charles Fowler of Harbor Springs. Mrs. Murchie is currently staying with her folks in Harbor Springs. Murchie fills a vacancy caused by the resignation of A. C. Slim-Rehm of the Northern District some weeks ago. Murchie will work with all committees in the Northern District to bring about a more complete and better understanding of Scouting so that more boys may have the benefits and privileges of this National Youth serving Organization.

Local Scouts Invited To Walloon Meet

Scouts, Cubs, explorers and leaders in East Jordan will assemble in Walloon Lake at the Melrose Township park 7 o'clock tonight. This will mark the June Roundtable appearance of the Northern District Scouters and the first Annual summertime District Picnic.

The new Field Scout Executive for the Northern District, John W. Murchie, will be in attendance along with the Scout Executive, Donald E. Berg.

All Scouts, Cubs and Explorer Units in East Jordan have received instructions concerning the type of hot or covered dish they are to bring with them for the picnic. Refreshments will be served.

Serving as Master of Ceremonies for the event is Elver Carroll, District Chairman, of Walloon Lake, Michigan. Contests, etc., will be run for the benefit of all. This picnic is for the fathers and mothers of all the boys and including the boys of the various Units throughout the Northern District.

Boy Scout Camp Opens Near Travers

Over 100 Boy Scouts and their leaders and staff of the Scenic Trails Council opened the annual Boy Scout Camp at Camp Greilick near Traverse City, last Sunday. Camp Greilick is the official Boy Scout Camp for the Scenic Trails Council Boy Scouts of America. It is one of some 700 Boy Scout Camps in the United States operated by 541 local Boy Scout Councils. E. W. "Duke" Towner, Camp Director, reports that during the first week of Boy Scout camping there are Scouts from Manistee, Traverse City, Frankfort, Manton, Walloon Lake and Lake City in attendance at Camp. Camp got under way Sunday afternoon with the check in, the physical recheck and the waterfront swim check. Operating under a new approach of Unit and Troop Camping the boys organized their various Patrols and Troops during the Sunday evening program in order that the Monday morning activity program could get under way with a full head of steam.

Unofficial Tabulation Of Hospital Bids Shows Enough Funds

The dream of a new area hospital for the county moved one step nearer reality Wednesday afternoon as bids for the new $600,000 structure were opened before members of the Charlevoix Hospital board of directors, state and local officials. The bids, however, cannot be awarded until they meet with the approval of Michigan Office of State Hospital Survey and Construction and federal hospital representatives, Fred W. Willis, chairman of the hospital said.

Nine bids were received for the general construction of the hospital which is to be built on the Trailer Park site overlooking Lake Michigan. Other bids submitted include 11 for plumbing, heating and ventilation; 8 for electrical work; 1 for laundry equipment and 4 for food service equipment. Unofficial tabulation of the bids submitted indicates that there will be sufficient funds to build the hospital, providing all pledges are paid, Willis said. Official tabulation of the bids to determine final costs will require about ten days. The bids submitted will be released for publication at that time, according to Willis. The construction of the area hospital will be financed by funds raised by public subscription and a federal grant obtained under the Hill Burton act. The proposed new building will replace the present frame hospital building located on West Hurlbut ave which has served the county since 1918. The new area hospital will be built of concrete with steel reinforcements with brick facing from plans submitted by Gordon Cornwell and Associates, Traverse City architectural firm.

Conservation department foresters are preparing a directory of wood-using industries in the upper peninsula, to be published in July. The directory will help individuals and firms locate manufactured wood products in the UP. More than 100 industries will be listed.

Farmers To Attend Forage Day July 1st

Antrim county and other northern Michigan Farmers seeking "the good old days" in bigger forage crop yields can get some tips if they are in Antrim county on July 1.

Ways to boost pasture, hay and silage production on tired land will be shown at a special field day the afternoon of July 1, at the Frank Polus farm, on US-131 about four miles northeast of Alba Tours will start at 1 p.m., notes Walter G. Kirkpatrick, Antrim county agricultural agent.

This will be a "working" field day—no shows, no formal program or speeches—just tours of good forage areas and information on how it got that way. Edward D. Longnecker, Michigan State College soil scientist and 1953 Grass Days chairman, and W. G. Kirkpatrick of Bellaire, Antrim county agricultural agent, promise some worthwhile tips. Specialists from the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station will be on hand to answer questions during the tours.

"One farmer in that area—with an unusual strip of land—once took 43 alfalfa cuttings off one seeding over a period of about 20 years," reports Longnecker. "He hasn't done that in recent years—it was back when the land was fresh."

Specialists will give information on pre-seeding treatments of the buckwheat and rye that was plowed down as green manure and the barn manure that was spread on the land. They'll outline the rates of fertilizer applications at seeding time—including the minor or "extra" plant food elements that were applied in connection with basic fertilizers. Rates of lime applications and soil fumigation, for possible nematodes will be discussed. The research crew, and cooperating extension workers, also will tell about results from applications of "straight" nitrogen on established stands. "Farmers in this area have been reporting for the past 10 or 15 years that they got lower yields than they formerly did," explains Longnecker. "We're trying to answer their questions on "what to do" and we have some answers."

This season will give the second year of answers on the Polus farm where the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station operates a "branch" on a hired land-and-labor basis. This land had a "PH" of 5.8 to 6 when they started the project. A ton of lime per acre added another 800 pounds of hay per acre. Two tons—gave a 900-pound increase and lime requirements for perhaps 10 or 15 years. Use of 10 tons per acre of manure added 1600 moe pounds of hay and 500 pounds per acre of 0-20-20 fertilizer added still another 1,000 pounds of hay. Lime, manure and fertilizer gave an extra 3,500 pounds of hay per acre the first year. Additional benefits are expected to show up this year.

The Michigan Legislature has appropriated special funds for forage crop improvement work in this northern area and there are three related projects. Soil scientists under Dr. Lloyd M. Turk, director, designate of the experiment station, have projects on the Bryce and Vernon Vance farm, 10 miles north of Bellaire, and a third Antrim county site, the Earl Streiffert farm, west of Gaylord on the Otsego line. A fourth project is being carried on by Milo B. Mike Tesar of the M.S.C. farm crop research staff on the Paul Rickerd farm, 3 miles south of Traverse City on US-31. All are concerned with better seedings.

Stocks of frozen vegetables are above a year ago, but the increase in use of frozen vegetables is expected to influence another big pack, report Michigan State College farm economists. The total pack in 1953 will about equal that in 1952, they say, with some ups and downs in specific vegetables.

ORCHARD NOTES

By C. Fairman

It was very interesting attending the Cherry Institute at Traverse City. Cherry growers from Wisconsin, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio were there. There are not too many cherries in Ohio and Wisconsin is having their third poor crop in a row. It was very cold over there. Our west coast of Michigan seems to be much warmer and better for fruit.

The advertising and tie ins, the statisticians and other remarks were just the same old stuff and nothing new to me. Except I found out that there was one agency that few growers knew about. The agency that estimates the number of canned cherries that are on grocery store shelves this time of the year. And the number of stores that do not carry cherries. New York City uses but few cherries as compared to Chicago.

Personally I can see where some work can be done in New York City, also the South Eastern states as well as the south in general.

Some day we may have a cherry growers association by which we can find a way to promote and for the grower and the grower cherries in places where they are not now consumed to any great extent.

Husbands Have No Rights With Wives' Property

Take care and remember that every word counts when writing that last will and testament, a University of Michigan law professor warns.

Have complete legal advice in drawing up wills. Every layman should be acquainted with the pitfalls which may result from carelessness or inadequate planning.

As an example in Michigan a husband has no rights at regarding his wife's property. On the other hand the wife may take a substantial share of her husband's estate, even if the will states that she is not to do so.

Therefore, a complete listing of all those who are to share in the estate and the amounts they are to receive is recommended.

This theory applies to children also; for a will should make mention of all children of the deceased, even if they are not to share in the property. Otherwise, they may be able to break the will and receive an equal share.

Any mention of gifts to charitable organizations should give the group's full legal name. This avoids the confusion which may result from two organizations having the same general title.

Many people want to be sure that their wills are not lost or destroyed and have carbon copies made, an acceptable practice. But the mistake comes when both copies are signed and witnessed, for this results in two wills.

Summer hog slaughter is expected by Michigan State College farm economists to run 15 to 20 per cent below last year.

Farm Bureau Asks Cuts In Federal Aid

Federal funds appropriated for agricultural conservation should be allocated on the basis of conservation needs, the American Farm Bureau Federation believes.

The Bureau's Official News Letter has emphasized that Federal spending should be cut, and that agriculture should bear its share of the reductions. However, the periodical explained some research and service activities are essential, so an "across the board" reduction is impractical. That makes it necessary, the Bureau added, to impose relatively heavy cuts in direct payments to farmers.

Changes Proposed
"Appropriated funds for the Agricultural Conservation Program should be allocated on the basis of conservation needs," the Bureau asserted. "Payments for practices which have become a normal and accepted part of farming operations of the area in which a farm is located, should be discontinued."

"Payments due individuals should not be increased after practices have been performed, as has sometimes been done to use up available funds. Unused funds should be returned to the Treasury without penalty to the county in the next year's allocations."

The Bureau urged its Board of Directors to consider the possibility of substituting a program of long-term, low-interest rate loans for the present ACP program.

Smallmouth Bass Best Fighters Says UM Expert

Pleasant and popular bass are longtime favorites of East Jordan anglers. Yet many persons have difficulty identifying and finding these well known game fishes, a University of Michigan professor claims.

As an example, there is the smallmouth bass, which agrees Dr. Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the U-M Department of Fisheries is the gamest fish that swims, fighting the angler inch for inch, pound for pound. He recommends fishing for it after dark, playing live bait such as soft-shelled crawfish or casting a red-headed plug into shallows among the reeds.

Preferring cool streams and large, clear lakes, the smallmouth black bass requires rock, gravel, or sand shoals for successful spawning. Heavy angling pressure, Dr. Lagler says, has depleted the population, but it is still considered common in many inland and Great Lakes waters.

The smallmouth black bass is distinguished from the largemouth by its upper jaw, which never extends back beyond the level of the eye pupil when the mouth is closed.

Fertilizers Aid Alfalfa In Summer

Start your August-September build-up of alfalfa fields now, as soon as your first cutting is harvested, advise Edward D. Longnecker, MSC extension soil scientist.

One principal cause of unsatisfactory alfalfa yields in Michigan is lack of readily-available plant food in the soil. The 1950 agricultural census showed the average Michigan alfalfa acre yielded only a ton and a half of hay. Yields of twice and three times that amount are not uncommon where plant food is available.

This necessary plant food can be added to the soil any time during the growing season. Longnecker explains, but there is no better time than shortly after the first cutting. This provides for the important August-September build-up.

This fertilizer application right after first cutting should increase next year's yields more than nutrients put on in late summer, fall or early next spring, he notes.

Farmers should not try to place fertilizer in the soil on established stands, the MSC soil scientist warns, because discs of the drill will injure plant crowns; this might be a factor in spreading bacterial wilt. He advises broadcasting the fertilizer over the surface.

On heavy clay soils, use 0-20-10 analysis fertilizer, Longnecker suggests. For light or sandy loams he prefers 0-20-20, and 0-10-20 or 0-10-30 are better adapted to light sands. Don't skimp on quantity, he adds. Plan on at least 200 pounds per acre per year of this fertilizer.

Bills Would End Postal Savings

Bills to kill off postal savings as a matter of economy have been introduced in both houses of Congress.

The post offices began accepting savings in 1910, chiefly to accommodate people who distrusted banks. However, the government's guarantee of bank deposits up to $10,000 has to a great extent eliminated the need for postal savings departments, which cost an estimated $2,000,000 annually.

With Your COUNTY FARM AGENT

By Ed Rebman

How well dairy farmers handle their hay in the next few days will determine their feeding costs next winter, says Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Experiments at Michigan State College, he points out, show there is little difference in quality between silage and mow cured hay if the feed is handled properly. Field cured hay, if handled right and the weather cooperates, is of equal quality, too, he says.

Roughage . . . good hay or silage . . . Extension Dairyman Donald L. Murray of MSC points out, is spoken of today as "a means of profit" instead of as "a means to more profits." He refers to the farmer's need of cutting costs wherever possible in order to show a margin of profit in these days of the so-called squeeze.

With good pasture and forage, he says, feed costs can be reduced to half the cost of feeding grain. It's the cheapest way of providing protein and other feed nutrients for dairy cows.

Maintaining good pasture, according to Murray, means extending the season after June. Alfalfa-brome, the main pasture in Michigan, sometimes is in short supply and other grasses go dormant after June. He suggests using Balbo rye for early and late pasture and sudan grass, where adapted, for pasture after June if it's needed. And, he adds, Reed canary grass can be sown in low places for pasture. It's palatable if fertilized and grazed heavily.

Also, if pasture runs low and the first cutting of alfalfa-brome has been put in the silo, part of it can be fed as a supplement.

Be sure to clean granaries thoroughly and spray with methoxychlor or DDT before putting in this year's grain, cautions Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Use methoxychlor where possible, he suggests, because there is less danger from poisonous residues on the grain. And, he advises, store all old grain in separate buildings or sell it. Storing new grain with old grain is one of the surest ways of helping granary insects increase in numbers and damage the grain.

Extension Entomologist Ray Jones of Michigan State College says this is the recommended application: Use methoxychlor 50

Prune Pines Now, Shape For Christmas

If you're growing pines for Christmas trees, this is a good time to trim them-up through the first week of July.

That's a tip from MSC Extension Forester William G. Stump. Pine trees usually grow too fast and leave too much space between whorls of lateral branches, he says. Pruning will help give a compact tree with the right height.

All you need to do the job, are a pair of hedge shears and a jack-knife, cut back the terminal growth at the top of the tree to control the height growth. Then cut back the lateral growth of the terminal whorl so they are an inch or two shorter than the terminal growth.

Next come the lateral branches on the remainder of the tree. Some of these may be growing too rapidly and will have to be pruned in order to give the tree a conical outline. Occasionally, Stump suggests, it may be necessary to remove some old growth in order to shape the tree.

You don't need to worry about pruning spruce and fir trees now, he says. They can be pruned during the dormant season.

Details on pruning can be obtained in a publication called "The Pruning of Red and Scotch Pine for Christmas Trees."

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Headquarters for a new real-estate office have been located in the old chamber of commerce room in the community building. Keith Dressel and Frank Nachazel, this week opened the office and are listing area property for sale.

Ken Diller, of the Box and Crate factory, said whenever he is down town when the fire whistle blows he checks to see if the truck goes across the bridge. That's where his factory is, on the Ellsworth road.

But Monday the whistle blew and Ken was downtown; but he had gotten tired of always checking the truck so he forgot about it.

When he got back to work the truck had been to his factory. A sawdust pile had caught fire.

Scouts Jamboree Trip Completed

49 local Scenic Trails Council Scouts and Leaders have completed the arrangements for the 5,000 mile roundtrip to the 3rd National Scout Jamboree at Santa Anna, California beginning on July 10. Scouts from all sections of the 18 Counties of the Council will entrain at Traverse City on July 10th at 6:00 p.m. and will return at noon on July 30th p.m. Scouts will stop off at Grand Canyon, Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, San Francisco, Catalina Island and other points of interest enroute. They will set up their own tents which they are taking with them and distinctive gateways portraying the Council in Northern Michigan. Under the leadership of Harold Weinrich, Reed City, the members of the contingent have participated in a weekend of cooking the Jamboree meals and utilizing the equipment they will use at the Jamboree. This was done at Camp Greilick the first weekend in June.

The local 49 boys will meet with 50,000 other Boy Scouts from all the other countries in the World and States in the Nation at the large 3,000 acre Camp at Santa Anna. They will actually be encamped on the grounds for 10 days during which time they will participate in the giant program staged for the boys. This gathering of Boy Scouts will make the largest gathering of youth in any democratic country in the World.

The boys have been invited to participate in the National Cherry Festival Parade in Traverse City on Friday, July 10th several hours prior to their leaving on the train. They will be escorted to the train by bands and the National Cherry Festival Queen.

Bargain

Did you know that milk is actually cheaper than ever before? Real purchasing power is not figured in dollars and cents, but on the basis of how long you have to work for the money to buy what you want.

Department of Labor Statistics show that dairy foods cost less of the average industrial workers hourly wage during 1952 than ever before. Last year, for example, an hour's work bought 7.4 quarts of milk as compared with only 5.7 in 1940.

Operation Sharptail

Trapping sharp-tailed grouse takes lots of patience, as biologist Tony Peterle, working with the conservation department on a grouse research project, well knows. The birds are captured for examination and banding at winter feeding grounds or at concentration points in the spring. Here Peterle holds one of the reluctant birds after capture in a net trap in the upper peninsula.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS NEWS

The increasing popularity of ruffed grouse hunting in Michigan is reflected in a report of the 1952 season recently released by the conservation department.

Hunter numbers increased 16 percent and the total grouse bag rose 28 percent over the 1951 totals, the report shows.

Computed hunter report card figures, used to indicate year to year trends rather than actual kill totals and hunter numbers, show that in 1952 a record-breaking 142,000 hunters shot 807,000 grouse. In 1951, the report cards showed 120,000 hunters shot 631,000 birds.

Most of the increase in hunter numbers occurred in the northern lower peninsula. Game men say the statewide October 1 grouse opening last year probably drew many hunters into the northern lower peninsula who formerly hunted only pheasants, waterfowl or other game. Grouse was the first opening on the game calendar last year. Also, both peninsulas opened the same day last year, probably keeping many hunters below the Straits. In the past, the upper peninsula has generally been first to open.

The increased kill, game men feel, was probably caused largely by the 41-day, longer-than-usual season. Also, hunting conditions last year were generally favorable throughout the state.

At present grouse populations seem to be down in the state generally compared with 1951, though the population is still higher than in 1949 and 1950.

Sales of standing timber in three state forests have been slated in July, the conservation department reports.

The first sale is scheduled July 10 at 2 p.m. at the department's Newberry district headquarters for timber in Lake Superior state forest.

Some Ogemaw state forest timber will be auctioned in the second sale, slated at the department's auxiliary equipment building at West Branch on July 13 at 10 a.m.

The final sale, for cuttings in the Grand Sable state forest, will be held July 14 at 10 a.m. at the forest headquarters in Shingleton.
