Lunch under the big top

BY JENNIFER VANCONANT
Summer Editor

East Jordan elementary and middle schoolers were treated to an unusual lunch Friday.

The cafeteria was turned into a three-ring circus, complete with a juggling act, clowns, free basketball cards and popcorn.

The special theme, "Circus Under the Kitchen Canopy" was concocted by the school's food service staff, who dressed as clowns for the event. Food Service Director Arlene Hammond said the idea was the result of a marketing class the food service took.

"It's just a fun day for the kids, lots of excitement" Hammond said. "They are never this noisy."

Although cafeteria employees dress up for all holidays, they decided to go the whole nine yards this time. Hammond said the activity will be an annual one and plans to add two more next year.

The artwork was done by the middle school art class and the ceiling streamers were hung by the food service staff.

High school cheerleaders passed out basketball cards while the middle school student council served popcorn popped by the parent-teacher association.

"It's pretty cool," said Corey

Flag raising for Pride

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Contributing Writer

A misty rain dampened flags but not spirits, as members of East Jordan VFW Post #7580 raised the symbol of the United States along Main Street during April 29, Loyalty Day ceremonies.

Friendly voices sent words of advice and encouragement to the brave souls climbing ladders to the top of the lightposts.

East Jordan Mayor Russ Peck did his part, too. He bore the brunt of a jibe or two from his perch high above the street, but all was meant in fun.

The ceremony signals the commencement of the spring town clean-up which will culminate in Community Pride Week May 16-22. East Jordan Chamber of Commerce co-sponsored the event.

Downtown to have facelift?

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Contributing Writer

The East Jordan Chamber of Commerce has launched a campaign to spruce up the downtown area. The April 19 motivational meeting was stage one in what the Chamber hopes will become "Operation Facelift."

East Jordan merchants and civic organizations were encouraged to send representatives to the meeting. A group of 24 that included some city council members attended to hear a presentation by Fran Pletz.

"I do not come tonight as an expert, but only as a person who cared about her community," Pletz began. As Chamber of Commerce President, Pletz was instrumental in organizing an "Operation Facelift" for the town of Williamston, near Lansing.

Williamston and East Jordan are very similar in size and profile.

Pletz is now an active member of the East Jordan community. She showed a video which described the renovation of downtown Williamston.

The Williamston program began with a two-week Paint-Up. Painting is a quick, relatively inexpensive way to cosmetically improve appearances. Williamston merchants chose from a color scheme in order to integrate the downtown buildings.

During the Paint-Up weeks, volunteers helped with the painting at street level. Some groups, such as Girl Scouts, planted shrubs and flowers.

Spring cleaning? Proceed with care

Spring has finally sprung in northern Michigan, and with it comes the chore of spring cleaning. Although we all like to clear out those items that have collected in the garage since last year, many household items can have adverse effects on water resources if disposed of improperly.

Cleaning products, medicines, used oil, old batteries, mothballs, antifreeze, and lawn care products all require special care in disposal. Some cleaning products and old medicines can be safely washed down the drain with plenty of water. Old batteries and used oil can be recycled. Some lawn care products and paints may need to be saved for special hazardous waste collection days.

If you are unsure of how to dispose of a household item you think is toxic, you should first read the label, as this may describe the best method of disposal. If this doesn't provide adequate information, contact the Tip of Mitt Watershed Council at (616) 347-1181.

Motorists encouraged to give the Gift of Life

Every year the Michigan Department of State distributes up to two million donor labels to motorists for placement on the back of driver licenses and personal identification cards as a way to encourage organ and tissue donation.

This year, in addition to issuing the labels, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin is joining with Gift of Life, the organ procurement agency of Michigan, to remind motorists to use the labels.

"Since 1976 donor labels have been issued to motorists to promote organ and tissue donation," Secretary Austin noted. "Last year 432 lives were saved in Michigan because someone was willing to donate an organ upon their death.

"Unfortunately, there are thousands of Michigan residents who will not survive without a transplant and this is why the donor label is so important," Secretary Austin added. "If a motorist has a signed label affixed to the back of their driver license they are more likely to have their wish for organ donation fulfilled in the event of their unexpected death."

Every Secretary of State office will have available to the public printed materials on donation during Organ Donor Awareness Week April 18 - 24.

The donor label is designed to encourage individuals to discuss organ and tissue donation with their family and friends. Once signed by the motorist and two witnesses, it is placed on the back of the driver license or I.D. card. New labels are provided when driver licenses and I.D. cards are renewed and are also available at any Secretary of State branch office.

Organs and tissues may be recovered from anyone 75 years of age or younger at no charge to the donor or their family. Organ and tissue donation is supported by all major religions and does not affect customary funeral arrangements or alter body appearance. Among the organs and tissues that may be transplanted are heart, lungs, kidney, liver, pancreas, bone, eyes and skin.

The Gift of Life Agency estimates more than 1,400 people are awaiting transplants in Michigan. Last year, some 72 people passed away who were awaiting a transplant. Nationwide the numbers are more dramatic with more than 30,000 people on a transplant waiting list.

"Thousands of customers will make their annual visit to a Secretary of State branch office during the week of April 18," Secretary Austin concluded.

"This year, we want to provide more information about organ and tissue donation so customers will be encouraged to make the important decision to give the gift of life."

Grant will benefit Central Lake library

Director Christine Bachmann has been notified by State Librarian James W. Fry that Central Lake Township Library has received a LSCA Title I grant for $4,100 to purchase Large Print books. This will translate into approximately 200 new books for Central Lake area readers.

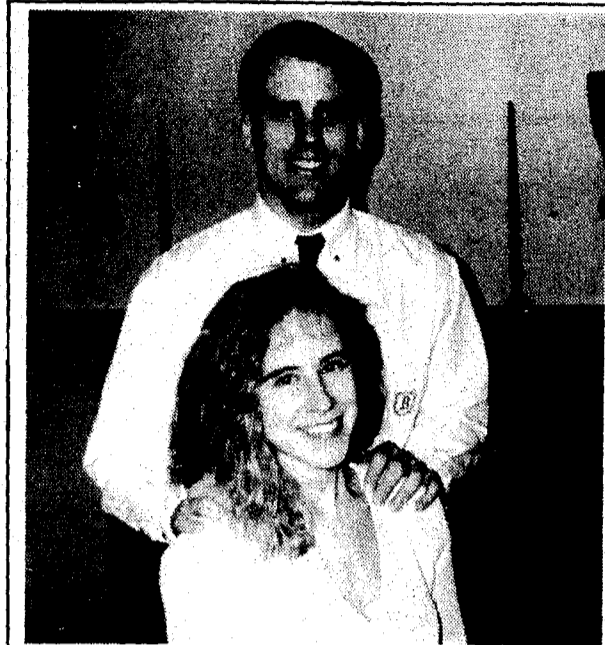

Added to the present 121-volume Large Print collection, plus the 40-volume revolving collection, your local library will offer a very good selection of Large Print books.

Director Bachmann has just completed ordering and cataloging the non-fiction books purchased through a LSCA Title I grant awarded for fiscal '92.

Neither the new $4,100 Large Print grant or the $6,000 non-fiction grant would have been possible without the Central Lake voters who through their support of library millage made the Central Lake Township Library eligible to apply for and receive Federal aid.

Director Bachmann is to be commended for her skill and hard work in writing and administrating the LSCA grants.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

The Temple Within Us

"Do you not know your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, which you have from God? You are not your own; you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body."
1 Corinthians 6:19-20

Paul was chastising the Corinthians for their immorality in this letter, pointing out that each man's body is not his to be used for slothful or evil ways. That is a thought we should all dwell on, for if we accept the belief that we are created in God's image, we should recognize that any bodily immoral acts are, in essence, a desecration against the Lord. We would not consider entering a church or other hallowed place with intent to defile its holiness. Since we are each the repositories of God's Holy Spirit — in essence a temple to His being — that is all the more reason to consider our deeds for they could profane not only ourselves but God.

Lancer talents move onward

BY S.F. PUCKETT
Sports Writer

The Lancers baseball team won all four games last week, continuing a happy tradition from the previous sporting seasons.

Wolverine provided the opposition Thursday, slowing the Lancer drive down but for a moment before falling to the onslaught, 14-4 and 11-0 in four innings.

Tim Koivisto picked up the win in game one, Mike Alfred adding five RBIs to the coffers. Mike Warner and Jeremy Peterson provided bench strength.

Game two featured a solid pitching effort by Jared Lucas, with Brent Seese, Scott Essenberg and Ben Stutzman enjoying some good plays.

Friday was a make-up with the Alanson Vikings at Alanson, and the trip had a refreshing result for the Lancers, a pair of wins, 7-1 and 4-2.

In game one, Koivisto not only got the victory, he joined Tim Heneveld and Brent Seese in hitting home runs.

In game two, Jared Lucas pitched a shutout into the last inning before being touched for two runs.

Ellsworth has just one match this week, a trip to Vanderbilt for a Northern Lakes contest with the Yellowjackets.

Trojans edged out at Alanson

BY S.F. PUCKETT
Sports Writer

Central Lake baseball continued to find its niche, coming close with the Vikings of Alanson but still forced to take the lower score and the subsequent loss.

Mike Aenis pitched the first game for Central Lake, aiding his cause with a grand slam, but that was all the offense the Trojans would muster this outing, dropping an 8-4 decision. Brad Klooster pitched well in relief.

Game two had Shawn VanValkenberg hurling, with Ryan Newton slamming a double and triple and Rick Graham adding a single and double. The homestanding Vikings had enough to hold off the Trojans 8-5.

Trojans sweep Alanson; fall to Frankfort

BY S.F. PUCKETT
Sports Writer

The Lady Trojans rolled onward in their quest for another Ski Valley softball title, sweeping past Alanson in the division, then taking part in the Frankfort Invitational over the weekend.

Dhana Lockhart pitched both Alanson games, giving up a combined total of just five hits, two of those in game one.

Central Lake claimed the win in number one, 5-2, with Misty Boatwright and Elissa Wagner coming through in the clutch. Julie Aenis, Amy Dawson and Shana Lockhart providing good defense.

Game two was much closer and in some doubt to the end, but efforts by Brooke Oliver, Cally Breithaupt, and Sara Roach preserved the 5-4 win.

Central Lake's key match with Bellaire was rained out and not rescheduled as yet.

Saturday at the invitational, Central Lake eased past Benzie Central in the opening game, 6-2, using a Julie Aenis triple, single and RBI to back up the three-hit pitching of Dhana Lockhart.

The championship pitted the Trojans against host Frankfort. Both teams squeezed in a pair of runs early, and by the sixth were still tied 2-2.

A Panther rally in the bottom of the sixth netted a pair of runs and put Central Lake on the low end of the score for the first time this season, 4-2.

Dawson, Boatwright, the Lockharts and Laura Murray all provided opportunity for the Trojans, the Panthers simply making better use of a break.

The Lady Trojans went to Forest Area Monday, returning home for a joust with the pesky Hornets of Pellston on Thursday.

Portside Society requests lease extension

By Deb Sayers Hobbs
Contributing Writer

After discussion at their April 20 meeting, the East Jordan City Council decided to stay with the one-year lease that has been their policy.

Portside requests lease extension

The issue was raised when Robert Veryzer approached the council on behalf of Portside Art and Historical Society. The Society was hoping to extend their lease at Elm Pointe from one to 10 years.

The preservation group is planning some lighting changes and expansion of present exhibits. Members are concerned about the security of the group's future at Elm Pointe.

Veryzer noted that a longer lease would "give membership assurance that what we put our money into is going to be there for awhile."

The society would also like to expand into the second level of the building, he noted.

Council member Lyle Etcher felt that a 10-year lease was too long. He also expressed concern about the state of the upper level.

Mayor Russ Peck agreed that the city needed to deal with the condition of the roof and back stairway.

Providing handicap accessibility must also be considered before the second floor can be opened to the public.

City Attorney Scott Beatty reported that it is city policy to maintain one-year leases. This guarantees an annual review.

Council member Ruth Gee assured Veryzer that the city wants Portside to remain at the Elm Pointe building. Although the city opted to keep the lease as is, council felt there would be no problem with continuous renewal.

Ruth Gee also commented that she would like to see the Society expand into the second floor as soon as the city addresses the concerns.

In other business ...

Regular meetings will now be a requirement for all council committees. Meeting times will be publicized more vigorously. Whether the meetings should be monthly, quarterly or biannual will be left to the discretion of committee chairs.

Mayor Peck designated May 16-22 Community Pride Week.

There will be leaf and brush pick-up as well as street-washing by the fire department.

Council member Russ Gee requested that the city enforce the junk ordinance more strictly. Ruth Gee agreed that East Jordan needs to stick more to "our resolve to be aggressive" in this issue.

Police Chief John Imeson assured that action is being taken on several cases. Superintendent Bob Johnson explained that the process can be slow, especially if litigation is involved.

Peck suggested encouraging homeowners who make an effort to spruce up their property. He would like to send a letter of appreciation and a citation for efforts to beautify the community.

Girls track team hits slow patch

East Jordan's girls track team ran into some rough turf competition-wise last week. Compounding their problems were illnesses that forced Tina Richards and Melissa Spence to scratch some events.

However, when the dust settled, several fine performances were on the record in the April 28 and May 1 competitions.

In April 28 action at home against Boyne City, Charlevoix and Elk Rapids, East Jordan took a strong second place.

Outstanding performances included firsts by Callie Ransom (100-meter and 200-meter dash), Melissa Spence (400-meter), and Tina Richards (3200-meter run). The 3200-meter relay team also claimed a first.

Second-place finishes were posted by Susan Mills (discus), Erica Olafsson (high jump), and Ransom (long jump). The 1600-meter relay team also earned a second.

Final scores: Charlevoix, 99.5; East Jordan, 60.5; Elk Rapids, 51; and Boyne City, 28.

A May 1 five-school meet at Suttons Bay saw East Jordan finish fourth.

Notable against strong opposition were first-place performances by Callie Ransom in the long jump, 100-meter dash and 200-meter dash. Ransom has an unbeaten record in the latter two events.

The 3200-meter relay team continued in the fast track by running down another first.

Earning second-place recognition were Tina Richards (1600-meter) and the 1600-meter relay team.

Final scores: Lake City, 115; Mason County, 82.5; Suttons Bay, 80; East Jordan, 62; and Benzie, 49.5.

"The competition was very tough," noted up-beat Red Devil Coach Dennis Snarey. "I'm certain we'll benefit from it later."

Local talent agency wants you!

BY MARY FREY
Editorial Director

Would you like a career in the entertainment industry? Got a yen for modeling?

Of course, if you're a statuesque, attractive young person, your chances are pretty good.

But if you're a child (especially male), a man of just about any description, a woman over 40, or a size 18 or larger, Kross Talent Agency would definitely like to talk to you.

"It's not about glamour," Kross owner Bev Christian stated emphatically. "Many types are needed to fulfill our clients' needs - short, tall, young, old, gap-toothed, freckle-faced - you name it."

Christian ought to know. Her Central Lake business, started in late 1991, has seen bookings multiply in recent months. In 1992, the agency handled 15 assignments. So far this year, 11 bookings have already been completed.

"There's no end to the possibilities," Christian stated. Kross Talent handles them all, including movie, commercial, video, theatre and modeling assignments - live and print.

Currently, about 50 area residents are in training or under contract, she said.

LOOKING FOR ALL the world like the living mannequins they have trained to imitate are (left) Ellsworth's April Chapman and (right) Bellaire's Jennifer Newland, on separate assignments earlier this year.

While Kross Talent is not a school, training is provided for models in exchange for 15 to 20 unpaid hours of their services.

After that, runway and mannequin models are paid from $10 to $22 an hour if they are under contract and the job itself is a paid one. "We anticipated that about 50 percent of the work we handled would be unpaid," Christian stated, adding that so far only one "benefit-type" show has actually been scheduled.

Models are expected to provide services free of charge when the agency does make such a commitment, she noted, adding that even unpaid work offers excellent exposure and experience.

"Reliability is everything," Christian stressed. "We place a great value on that. Ability, availability and willingness to try different things are also important."

Virtually every applicant who possesses such qualities will be offered a contract, Christian stated. Each must provide a resume and photo for their Kross portfolio. Costs for photographs range from $65 to $350, depending on how much models wish to promote their abilities, she said.

While there is no charge for lessons, models can expect to devote at least 12 hours to learning the craft before they begin to discharge their obligatory hours of free services.

"There's no hard and fast rule," Christian stated. "Some practice at home, and you can see the difference. Some attend one session and miss the next. Those with determination and discipline will make it. Others will come along a lot slower."

If you visit the Grand Traverse Mall, you may have already seen Kross models in action. Mannequin modeling - holding a motionless pose for 20 minutes or more - has been a regular feature in GTM promotions.

If you're curious about the type of assignments your friends and neighbors may already be tackling, stop by the May 8 GTM Fashion Show. More than 30 Kross models, including 12 children, will be on assignment there, among them Debbie Newland, Kelly Smally and Brandi Hughey of Bellaire, and Central Lake's Tera John and Sarah Titus (at 3, the agency's youngest model).

Men's Softball meeting tonight

The organizational meeting of the Ellsworth Men's Slow-pitch Softball League will be held, May 5, at 7 p.m. in the High School Library. All team managers (or representatives) are required to attend. The league will accept area teams that were not members last year.

Anyone wishing to umpire this summer or looking for a team to join should also attend. For more information, call Hugh E. Campbell at 588-2544 or 588-7605.

Trojans edged at Alanson

The Trojans will be searching for the right combination and putting it to the test this week with games at Forest Area on Monday and home with Pellston on Thursday.

No make up date for the rained-out Bellaire game has yet been announced.

A word fitly spoken

BY ANNE MESSERSCHMIDT
Contributing Writer

"This is the day the Lord hath made: we will rejoice and be glad in it." Ps. 118:24.

Whether it be Spring, Summer, Autumn or Winter, each day is unique, one of a kind, created by our Lord and Savior.

Easter is a recent reminder of Jesus Christ's resurrection, after He was crucified and died on the Cross for our sins.

We feel this renewal in the Spring as we observe the earth coming alive, with trees, shrubs, flowers, and vegetation and we marvel at this miraculous birth.

The return of birds from their winter destinations, the mating and caring for the young, among all species - How could anyone doubt God's existence?

In winter, we enjoyed the seed catalogs; now, it is time to be doers. God also wants us to be doers of "His Word" not just hearers.

I was thinking of all this as I raked the sodden clumps of dead leaves from my small "yard area," here at the manor. Many types of perennials are growing and I am blessed by myriads of surprises daily - all planted by a former, well-loved tenant. I am fortunate to be a part of this Senior Housing Complex and being a "friendly sort," I am never lonely any more.

I am pleasantly surprised, but a little annoyed, by the raucous sea gulls. (We are across the road from Lake Charlevoix.) Lots of bird feeders for the birds and a pair of ducks. Wouldn't you know a "pesky squirrel" causes dissension a-plenty and annoys many of us? He/she is cute, though.

We know God is good, loving, caring and wise - so why all the allergens in the air? Some pollution is of our making. Of course the pollen is needed for pollination so we have to accept it, and it does give us a topic for "small talk" as we engage in our daily excursions to shop the supermarkets, doctors appointments and wait in the check-out lines or waiting rooms.

Maturity teaches us to give of ourselves to others and is found in God's Holy Word - The Bible. Remember: "A smile can be spoken and understood in any language."

Anne Messerschmidt is a 73-year-old "joyous Christian." Readers can expect to see more of her writings in future issues.

Canola could be a good spring crop given a chance

An oil crop that could provide northern Michigan growers upwards of $200 gross return per acre may be worth looking into.

The crop is spring canola, and there are several reasons why it could be fitted into northern Michigan crop rotations, according to Larry Copeland, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service agronomist.

"Spring canola does best in a cool climate, which is characteristic of northern lower Michigan and the Upper Peninsula," Copeland says.

He believes that farmers in northern Michigan can produce canola crops as abundant as those in Canada, where canola is a major oilseed commodity.

Field trials in 1990 at MSU's Lake City Experiment Station on 17 varieties of spring canola showed yields ranging from 2,260 pounds to 3,474 pounds per acre.

"With good market planning and proper crop management, canola should provide a return of 40 bushels an acre," Copeland says. "With current prices at about $5.67 per bushel delivered to Windsor, Ontario, that's a fairly good return on investment."

Canola has become a sought-after crop because of its oil and protein content. Canola typically has 40 to 44 percent oil and 23 percent protein. The soybean typically has 18 percent oil and 37 percent protein.

Canola debuted in southern Michigan in 1988 on about 100 acres. The estimate for the 1993 crop is about 10,000 acres, down about 3,000 acres since 1991.

Copeland isn't too concerned about that acreage fluctuation, but he hopes farmers won't give up on canola because of one or two years' bad experience.

"Canola has not found stability in Michigan agriculture, but it needs to be given a chance," Copeland says. "While I encourage farmers to try to crop, I also urge them to remain with it for at least three years because we are still on the up side of the learning curve for this crop."

COMMUNITY PRIDE WEEK CITY OF EAST JORDAN

MAY 16TH THRU MAY 22ND, 1993 has been proclaimed as Community Pride Week in the City of East Jordan. Residents are asked to clean up and fix up their properties. The East Jordan Fire Department will wash City Streets during this time period and the City's DPW department will conduct an additional leaf and brush pickup on Monday, May 17, 1993. As a reminder, it is against City ordinance to open burn trash, leaves or brush within the City Limits. The City picks up leaves and brush free of charge on a monthly basis as long as the City's bio-degradable bags are used. Several waste disposal contractors operate in the East Jordan Area.

Downtown to have facelift?

For Williamston, the new look was a psychological boost. Many home-owners were stimulated into refreshing the outside appearance of their home. Businesses beyond the downtown area also began to make improvements.

Major renovations of building fronts was a much slower process, but as the video demonstrated, results were dramatic. Preserving architectural character was considered a priority. Details such as signs, lighting and the backs of buildings received attention.

To show appreciation, the Williamston Chamber of commerce awarded handsome wooden plaques to businesses that renovated.

Pletz emphasized the opportunity East Jordan has to take advantage of its unique character. The area's beautiful natural scenery, along with specialty shops and restaurants, should draw many visitors, she noted.

"But the town has to look attractive if you want people to stop," she added.

Because the cost of renovation can be daunting,

East Jordan Chamber of Commerce sponsors a re-investment program.

Through the cooperation of local FMB Northwestern and Charlevoix County State Banks, a special loan fund of $100,000 with a payback term of up to 10 years.

Merchants should have enthusiasm and a take-charge attitude for the renovation to be successful. "We can't sit back and wait for someone else to do it," said Pletz.

East Jordan Chamber of Commerce President Jean Pardee was very pleased with the response to Pletz's program. She said the Chamber of Commerce will plan their strategy for pursuing "Operation Facelift" at upcoming meetings.

The organization also plans a flag display on Main Street in the coming weeks. "That should get everyone's attention!" said Pardee.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes that attention will develop into enthusiasm for "Operation Facelift," so that East Jordan merchants and residents can once again view their downtown area with pride.

Under the big top

Schroder, a sixth-grader.

East Jordan native "Tommy Tropic" entertained the students with his juggling act and humor.

"This requires teamwork," said EJMS Principal Eivor Swan. "The staff spent time after work hanging up streamers"

Swan said Hammond should be commended for the many creative touches she has added to the students' lunch hour.

"She is a jewel," Swan said. "There is no end to her creativity. We have so many kids that eat hot lunch because it's good. The kids love it."

Approximately 900 students pass through the cafeteria daily, officials said.
