OUR WEATHER

Although many mornings dawned overcast and cool, skies cleared and highs reached the upper 70s to low 80s throughout the week. Thursday was the exception, remaining cloudy and drizzly all day. Saturday saw mostly sunny skies, with the mercury climbing into the mid-80s. Sunday started gloomy but ended with blue skies and temps in the 80s. The clouds were back Monday morning, with showers and cooler temperatures predicted through Wednesday.

Operation Facelift gathering steam

BY DEB SAYGERS HOBBS
Contributing Writer

Operation Facelift is coming alive in East Jordan as a very committed Chamber of Commerce forges ahead.

AMONG SEVERAL AREA business receiving certificates from Joan Lemerand for their commitment to the Ground-floor Paint-up Program sponsored by Operation Facelift are (above) Bruce Woodcock of Mr. Bruce's Barbershop and (below) Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Mary Faculak, pictured in front of her business, the E.J. Shop.

The Chamber began the promotion of their "Ground Floor Paint-up" project at their July 26 meeting. Attended by representatives of about a dozen downtown businesses, the meeting focused on details of the operation scheduled for Sept. 13 through 24.

The paint-up project is the next step in a process which began in April with the introduction of the Operation Facelift concept.

The Chamber of Commerce voted to pursue the project for downtown East Jordan under the leadership of chairperson Joan Lemerand.

A review of the buildings along Main Street showed the predominant architecture to be turn-of-the-century. A color scheme has been chosen appropriate to that era.

Linda Snyder, co-owner and decorator at Busy Bridge Antiques and Gifts, will coordinate the selection of paint colors with building owners who are interested in becoming involved with the improvement effort.

Three downtown paint dealers, Evan's Building and Home Supply, Ben Franklin's and the East Jordan Co-op, will offer discounts to business owners who take part in the project. The discounts will be given to businesses that have signed a painting agreement with the Chamber of Commerce.

Joe Evans is also willing to give individual appraisals on paint types and other factors related to the condition of the building.

The terms of the agreement are to have the ground floor prepared before the target date of Sept. 13, to choose from selected colors, and to provide a painter, either volunteer or contracted.

Area painters Bud Barnes and Donald Anderson have offered their services, also at a discount rate, for the September project.

Business owners may contract with the painters on an individual basis. Both men will keep the paint-up dates open until Aug. 15.

The chamber is also arranging for a power washer and cherry picker to be available during the paint-up period.

Mary Faculak, executive director of the chamber board, spoke of expectations for the effort.

"We hope it will be contagious and have a nice domino effect the more we get the word out," Faculak said.

Faculak, Lemerand and chamber president Jean Pardee reported on some successes already achieved in Operation Facelift.

Portside Arts Fair cruising into its 31st year

The finishing touches are being added for the 31st annual Portside Arts Fair in East Jordan. The show is set for Sat., Aug. 7, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sun., Aug. 8, from noon until 5 p.m.

The fair's Elm Point location on Lake Charlevoix provides an appropriate backdrop for the art works exhibited at the yearly event.

"The Portside committee prides itself on running a top quality art fair," noted committee member Laura Hanson.

The fair has numerous volunteers who assist the artists and cater to fair-goers. A children's booth helps keep the younger set entertained while their parents shop. A historical museum and the Cyg Riley Art Gallery will also be open for visitation. All are located at Elm Point and are free of charge.

Refreshments will be supplied by the Lutheran Church.

The highlight of the event is the Purchase Prize awards. Each artist has the option of entering a piece to be judged. If selected, the piece is permanently displayed at the Cyg Riley Art Gallery. This year's juror is executive director of the Lansing

Art Gallery, Karen Stock.

Stock has coordinated Lansing's downtown Arts Festival and has served on many Lansing area art-related committees.

Stock's bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan and experience judging many art fairs provides a solid base for the difficult task of selecting the 1993 Portside Purchase Prize winners.

The Collecting Consort will also be on hand to entertain visitors' ears while their eyes absorb the artistry on display. The duo of Anne and Gary Wakenhut is best described as a sensitive and skillful pairing that combines music and story. Their simplicity and gentle humor provide a soothing contrast to an increasingly complex world.

The Consort's musical blend of Celtic harp, hammered dulcimer, whistle, wood and pan flutes has already entertained listeners this summer in Beulah, Harbor Springs, and Petoskey.

The Portside committee welcomes returning and new visitors to their show and hopes they remember the Portside Arts Fair is "Always the first weekend in August."

EJ Senior Center - "The place to come"

Every weekday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., the East Jordan Senior Center is humming with activity.

The credit goes to center director Jeanette Norton, whose aim is to provide lots of fun experiences and a large variety of services.

All members of the advisory board are seniors. Norton keeps in close contact with the board, as well as center participants, in order to provide for as many special needs as possible.

Clinics for all types of physical screening and educational workshops are frequent. Special arrangements are made for help with home and garden chores, including lawn care and snow removal.

One of the most important services the center provides is the daily lunch. At low cost, seniors can receive a nutritious, delicious and generous meal without the trouble of preparation or clean-up.

Activities revolve around the lunch hour. Any day, before or after the meal, a visitor can meet seniors busy with a variety of interesting pursuits.

Quilting, cards and good conversation are available. Bingo is so popular there is a session every Tuesday and Friday.

The center also has a choir, directed by retired teacher Margaret Thompson. They rehearse on Mondays after lunch.

Seasonal activities include electing a King and Queen for the annual Freedom Festival and monthly birthday parties.

Funding is provided by the state Commission on Aging, but according to Norton, there is never quite enough. Volunteers are an important resource for providing services.

Often, the center staff is supplemented by teens in the county Youth Training program or court-directed community service.

Norton also has high hopes that a recently organized Booster Club will be another source of assistance.

"If you're looking for friendship and a meal at low cost," Norton promises, "the East Jordan Senior Center is the place to come."

SIDEROADS

The long-awaited Firemen's Field Day is only a few days away. The rejuvenated event is sure to be a hit with kids of all ages. Activities will begin at 11 a.m. and run until 7 p.m. at Barnes Park. The event is a benefit for the Torch Bay Ambulance and Torch Lake Township Fire Department.

While traveling in Europe, Paul and Alene

Anderson found the time to send us a postcard. It sounds like they are enjoying the countryside and meeting relatives. Their postcard can be found below.

It's always nice to hear from our readers, especially when it's a compliment. East Jordaner Hope Tyrrell recently dropped us a note saying she appreciates the coverage we've been giving East Jordan news and events. (That must mean we're doing our job!)

Swimming is a summer tradition, but so is swimmers'itch. The schistosome dermatitis occurs when cercariae, free-swimming larval worms produced in the tissues of certain snails, penetrate the skin. In Michigan they are only able to penetrate the skin and cause no systemic problems. To avoid the little blighters, stay away from situations that encourage birds to remain in swimming areas, and steer clear of concrete walls or rocks where infected snails may lay eggs. It also appears that most swimmers contact the parasites while swimming on eastern and southern lakeshores. After swimming, swimmers should always briskly towel dry as a final preventative measure.

Calling all bear hunters! The United Bear Hunters will hold a bear hunting seminar 2 p.m., Aug. 8, in Mt. Pleasant at the Holiday Inn. Because 17,000 people applied for bear permits, the association felt some training would be helpful. Anyone interested in the event can contact Jim Bard at 946-7370.

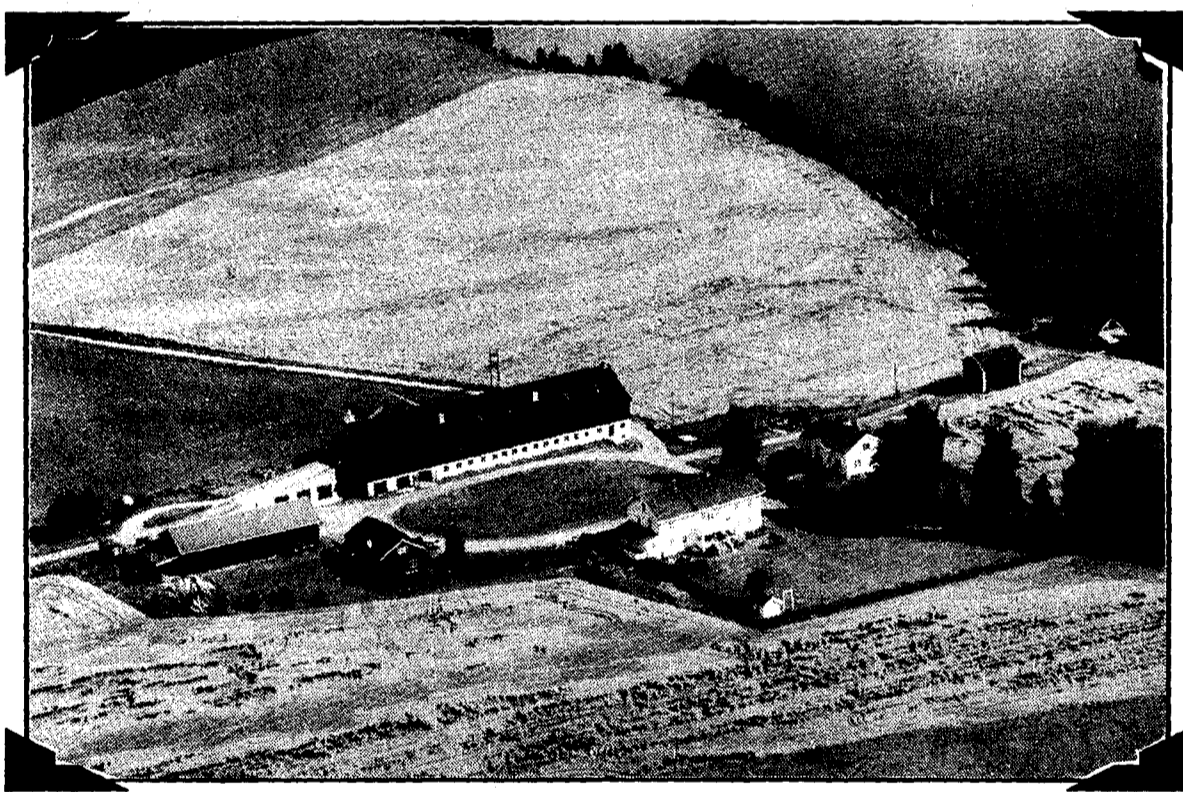

Dorlands welcome son

David and Shelly Dorland of Eastport are pleased to announce the birth of their son, Samuel David.

Born July 7, he weighed 9 pounds, 8 ounces and was 22 inches long.

His proud grandparents are Bud and Rosa Klooster of Eastport and Rita Dorland of Elk Rapids.

Historical input on areas sought

HELLO!

I moved to this Valley Town, a few months ago and find East Jordan and all the surrounding towns, very friendly and rich with history and lore. I personally research the newspapers and books at the libraries and converse with new friends and towns people about their ancestors, who settled here. Would any of you from East Jordan and Central Lake take time to call me at 536-0360 and tell me stories and facts remembered, or written in Bibles, Diaries and on photos and scrapbooks, that you want to share?

Living at Lakeview Manor here in East Jordan I have, many folks who are sharing their families' history, stories and remembrances. School days, reunions, old buildings, old country schools and old churches. Church socials, parades, celebrations any and all of these are of interest to our communities.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett who re-side here at the Manor shared the history of each of their family's log cabins built so, very, long ago and perhaps sometime I shall share the details with all of you folks.

The remains of the old wooden buildings on Finkton Road, corner of County Road 624 and Finkton Road - would someone add to our knowledge of when it was a post office, store, dance hall and in use?

Thank you!

ABOUT TO CUT the symbolic ribbon celebrating the opening of their new addition are owners and supporters of Busy Bridge Gifts and Antiques. The July 30 occasion was heralded with refreshments, door prizes and a two-day store-wide sale.

AMONG THE EYECATCHING displays that now fill the former Hite Drugstore is this collection of items.

Busy Bridge rejuvenates old Hite Drugstore building

New life was breathed into the old Hite Drugstore building on Main Street in East Jordan when its neighbor, Busy Bridge, opened an addition in the building.

Cake and punch were served following the 10 a.m. ribbon cutting ceremony Friday.

An art gallery featuring local artists, and a bookstore which specializes in Michigan books will be located in the new space. Co-owner Linda Snyder said they will also expand their gourmet foods section.

"We never had enough room to do anything before," Snyder said.

The new addition has a Northern Michigan-north woods theme, Snyder explained. "It's just a continuation of our original store," Snyder said. "But with a different flavor."

She said customers have been very supportive of the expansion.

"They love to see that building open again,"

Snyder stated.

Snyder's husband Bob and co-owner Sharon Jackson's husband Bill helped with the remodeling work.

"They're our support system," Snyder commented.

The hardwood maple floors were restored in the turn-of-the century building. The ceiling still sports the old tin covering and some of the cabinets are the original ones used in the drugstore.

Snyder and Jackson are both happy with the new addition.

"We've always thought it was a neat building and now we're in it," Snyder grinned.

MUCC invites artists to enter wildlife contest

Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) invites Michigan artists to enter its 14th Annual Michigan Wildlife Artist of the Year contest.

For the first time, MUCC is opening competition to include new forms of creative expression for wildlife and outdoor art. MUCC will accept either horizontal or vertical artwork in any medium suitable for reproduction.

"We believe this change will draw a wider variety of talented artists to our contest, increasing attention to Michigan's abundant wildlife and beautiful outdoors," said Laurie Langstaff, project coordinator.

The contest winner will receive a $2,000 cash prize, 50 artist proofs, and have the winning artwork featured in Michigan Out-of-Doors magazine and our annual wildlife calendar.

In addition, MUCC will publish 750 prints of the winning entry. Proceeds will benefit MUCC's educational and environmental programs. The artist retains his or her original work.

Entries will be accepted from Sept. 1 through Dec. 17. The contest itself is January 28-30, at the Lansing Center, in conjunction with the Northern Wildlife Art Expo, sponsored by Hawk Feathermeyer and Company.

For more information and competition rules, contact Langstaff at MUCC, 2101 Wood St., Lansing MI 48912.

A Word Fitly Spoken

by Anne F. Messerschmidt

We all have "valleys" in our lives but The Lord also provides "peaks." We tend to become too busy doing all manner of things, working daily for a living and to accumulate material possessions.

We must "Look Up" and realize there is a Higher Being. Think on Spiritual Things, like all the blessings our Lord bestows on us each day, and the beauty that surrounds us.

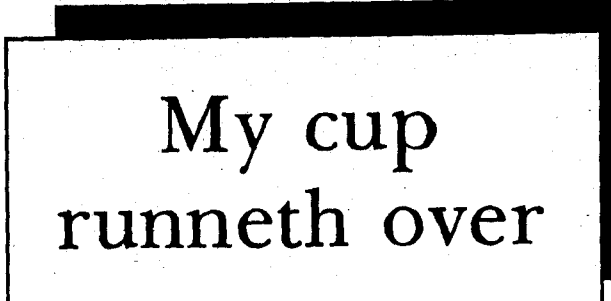

When our lives are "Status Quo," with no adversities - well, we just go along doing our jobs, raising our children, enjoying our grandchildren and life as we know it.

Now, when adversity comes into our lives, above and beyond our comprehension, it is then we turn to God and plead, Why me Lord? We even bargain with God and make promises we do not keep, for we are desperate and so forlorn. Prior to this dilemma, we turn to worldly things or to another person but we find no solace.

When we have a personal relationship with God, we are shown wisdom and learn to cope. We turn from self to others in obedience to God's Word and it is then we find joy and peace.

I recall reading that to fully appreciate the expression, "My cup runneth over," we must understand the Oriental way of showing hospitality. When a host poured for his guests, he was extremely generous. The custom was to pour and lavishly fill each cup or bowl to overflowing to demonstrate his friendship with that person.

The latter part of Psalm 23, verse 05, reads, "Thou anointest my head, my cup runneth over." Who is not familiar with the 23rd Psalm? This psalm is frequently read at funerals and churches by all clergy. It is God's unstinting love for us that is emphasized by "the Overflowing Cup." It is his blessing to each of us.

Whew! A person's head spins and I lose count of all the "Drinks" that fill the common "Cup": Fruit juices, colas, and all manner of artificially flavored powders. On and on the ads entice us to buy their products. Then there is plain water, H₂O. Ever realize how tasty a plain, unadulterated glass of cool water can be?

Don't you agree many of the sweeter, fancier and most advertised "Drinks" are the costliest, yet do not quench our thirst? They are even a hazard to our health and well-being, and an expense, causing dental caries in our children.

Look at the large proportion of diabetics in our country. (Drinking these sweet beverages does not cause diabetes but, once diagnosed as a diabetic, we must eliminate every form of sugar from our diet.)

Water is mentioned frequently in the Bible, "Living Water." Jesus says in John 04:14, "But whosoever drinketh of The Water that I shall give him, shall never thirst: but The Water that I shall give him, shall be in Him, a well of Water springing up into Everlasting Life." This scripture verse represents Christ.

In John 07:37 and 38, "If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink." When Jesus refers to Water, He means cold water, where it takes much effort, physical effort, to bring it up from a deep, earthly well. Really, from deep inside of us. Jesus brings out the goodness from within each of us, as we strive to emulate Him in our daily lives.

Remember, no one nor any living thing can live without water. In addition, all of us, all mankind, need and long for this other "Water--" the Spiritual "Living Water." We need Christ Jesus in our lives to grow in grace and discern His Holy Word, and obey Him and commune with our Lord daily by reading His Word and praying. Blessings will flow and our "Cup" will truly "Runneth Over." Praise the Lord!

Anne Messerschmidt is a 72-year-old "joyous Christian." Readers can expect to see more of her writings in future issues.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

You Cannot Hide From God

"For there is nothing hid, except to be made manifest, nor is anything secret, except to come to light." — Mark 4:22

As children, we all played hide and seek, so we all know that eventually the one hiding was found. So in adult life we all know that when we try to hide something from each other or society, the secret has a way of coming to light. Either through our own conscience or the prying of someone else, those things we want concealed eventually become bared. It is our conscience usually that brings about exposure. And what is conscience? It is the sense of morality that we learned from the scriptures and the fear we have of God's displeasure. God is all-wise, all-knowing, therefore it should be obvious that you cannot hide from God.

Memories

TAKEN FROM THE TORCH

July 28, 1955

■ William Alfred Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brooks of Antrim City, and Jacqueline Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newell of Detroit, were united in marriage July 23 at the East Jordan Presbyterian Church.

■ In court news, seven people pled guilty in separate incidents to speeding in Central Lake. Speeds ranged from 50 to 65 mph. All were fined between $5 and $10 plus $2 each for court costs.

■ Myrna Chloe James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale James of Auburn Heights, former Central Lake residents, and Clayton Crouch, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Huttenhower of Pontiac, were united in marriage July 23 at the Christian Temple in Pontiac.

■ A grass fire at the Spencer Arnold farm raised quite a bit of excitement Monday afternoon. Eastport, Ellsworth and Central Lake fire departments came at their call. Neighbors helped, too, and were able to put out the fire before any damage to crops and buildings were done.

■ Mrs. Gordon Dawson had the misfortune to fall and cut her knee quite badly at the beach Thursday evening. At the present, she is confined to bed.

■ Mr. and Mrs. Vern

Lambert and five children Kathryn, Tommie, Roselee, Paula, Evelyn, and Micky Pappas of Pontiac, spent the weekend with Vern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Lambert.

■ Thirteen members of the Ellsworth Extension Club took off in three cars and had themselves a good time Monday evening. They had dinner at Dell's restaurant in Traverse City. They were then taken on a tour in Schall's Bakery. Their third stop was at the WPBNTV Studio, where they were on the program Harry Entertains. For answering a question correctly, Mrs. Morey Taylor received a lovely toaster.

■ Torch Post V.F.W. members, who have been negotiating since April to provide a carnival for a weekend homecoming celebration, have had to concede in order to bring into town rides and concessions of the desired calibre and have agreed to sponsor a celebration which will run Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 29, 30 and 31.

■ Farm Bureau has odorless paint. The strong smells of turpentine and oils around the home under decoration where there are sick people can be very disturbing. This is a rubber-base paint known as "Accent" that can be purchased at Farm Bureau stores. It comes in a wide variety of colors and tones. It thins with water. Brushes are easily cleaned. It dries within a few minutes. It is durable.

■ A two-door, six-passenger Buick Special Sedan, Model 48 could be purchased at Fred Schreur & Sons of Kalkaska for $2,270.

The Central Lake Peanut A boys baseball team captured the win that has eluded them for the past seven years - beating Alden-Rapid City 5-1 in the final game of the league tournament last week.

On the mound, Donovan Eggleston allowed only one run in five innings. The pitcher walked one and gave up three hits.

The second inning kicked off with a single from Eggleston, and an RBI single from Taylor Groll. Kevin Kendall contributed a two-run triple and also scored on an error to round out the second inning.

Nicholas Hopp homered in the third inning to make it 4-0.

Alden-Rapid City fought back by scoring one in the fourth inning, but to no avail. Hopp added a single in the fifth inning and later scored with a triple by Eggleston to make it 5-1.

The game ended a perfect 15-0 season for the Bass Festival, league and tournament champions.

"Beating Alden-Rapid City in the final game was the highlight of the season," coach Neil Rogers said.

The 9- and 10-year-old players outscored their opponents 191-36 runs. The team ended the year with an ERA of 1.89. Hopp had an ERA of 1.02 and Eggleston posted an ERA of 1.40.

The coaching staff was rounded out by assistant coach Mary Eggleston and statistician Cindy Hopp.

Inuit art sale back by demand at NMC

The annual Northwestern Michigan College Inuit (Eskimo) Art exhibition and sale is back by popular demand. The 31st sale will take place through Aug. 29, at the Denno Museum Center.

The sale will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday - Saturday, and 1 - 5 p.m. on Sunday. Included in the exhibit will be stone sculptures and prints by Inuit artists of the Canadian Arctic. The works range in price, with most in the $100 - $250 price range. In addition, there will be Inuit note cards, books, calendars and many gift items.

The Eskimo Art Exhibit and Sale, begun by former NMC Librarian Bernie Rink, was an annual event held in the library on the NMC campus since 1960. With the opening of the Denno Museum Center, which houses the college's permanent collection of over 540 works, the sale was discontinued. Now pieces are sold on a year-round basis in the Museum Store. Demand by collectors has prompted the Museum Store to again begin the tradition of an annual sale. New works will be purchased for this sale to be held in the museum lobby. Proceeds from the sale are used to add new works to the NMC Inuit Art Collection. The collection has been hailed by Inuit scholar Dr. Marion Jackson, of The University of Michigan, as one of the finest and most historically complete in the United States.

For additional information on the exhibit and sale, call Terry Tarnow, Museum Store Director, at 922-1586.

THE STRIKES KEPT coming for Ellsworth pitcher Irene Widerstedt, captured here at the all-important instant of release.

CL takes final tourney

Central Lake's 8- to 10-year-old girls defeated Ellsworth to take their league championship in July 26 softball action.

Winning pitcher for the 6-3 final game was Robyn Bruce. The young ace said her team was in fourth place going into the tournament, with a 6-6 season behind them.

The Ellsworth team took their defeat in stride, after compiling a satisfying 8-4 record in regular play. Last year, the team lost all but one game.

U of M hosts reception

Apply now for weatherization

Talking about winterizing your home in August is not as ridiculous as it may sound. It's possible that if you apply for Northwest Michigan Human Services Agency's (NMHSA) free Weatherization program now, your home may be snugger and warmer this winter.

The weatherization department will weatherize whether you rent or own, or live in an apartment, mobile home or house. Eligibility is determined by household income. Income guidelines are: one person = $8,713 annual income allowed; each additional household member, add $3,075 per year to the limit.

Energy conservation services will result in a 15% to 30% reduction in fuel costs per household, if you qualify.

If you would like an application mailed to you, call 947-3780 in Grand Traverse, Benzie, Kalkaska, Leelanau counties; or 347-9070 in Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

I LOVED THIS BOOK. . .

VIRGINS OF PARADISE
By Barbara Wood

This is a much better book than indicated by the title and cover. Virgins of Paradise is a street in Cairo populated by wealthy, powerful families, residing in mansions large enough to comfortably accommodate several generations. Such a family are the Rasheeds.

This is primarily the story of the Rasheed women and a post-war society in change. Women still wear the veil and live in harems. Living quarters are separated by gender. Marriages to acceptable male relatives are arranged very early in young womanhood.

Growing up under the watchful eyes of their grandmother and other female elders, Camelia and Jasmine launch personal and professional rebellions: Camelia to become the most famous Mid Eastern dancer and cast-out Jasmine to become a doctor in America.

In this exotic and sensual culture, the domination and suppression of women by their male relatives is beginning to crumble at the core. This novel presents a vivid portrayal of the customs, superstitions, mythology and religion of this ancient nation.

At times you will be appalled by the total life-and-death control Arab men exert over their women, and yet you will admire their determination to protect and provide for their families at any cost. The reading of this novel will bring you to a greater understanding of the mystical and male-oriented Muslim world. This book is available in the Central Lake Township Library.

Harbor Days in Elk Rapids

It's almost time for that annual frenzy - Elk Rapids Harbor Days.

The Aug. 4-8 schedule is filled with wonderful events, from the street dances each evening to that Rotary chicken barbecue, the Grand Parade on Saturday, the fantastic boom of the Zambelli fireworks Saturday night and the remote control car races on Sunday, there are five days of fun, followed by Sunday afternoon to rest up and think about next year.

If you want noise - it's here. If you want quiet - it's here. If you want beauty, along with food, fun, and music, that's here, too. With friends, neighbors, family, long-lost cousins and houseguests you may not have seen since last year, this is your time to enjoy all that Elk Rapids has to offer.

Public forum planned about cochlear implants

Are you or is someone you know hearing impaired? Affecting more than 20 million people in the United States, hearing loss is more prevalent than heart disease, blindness, cancer and multiple sclerosis combined. But for severely hearing impaired people who receive little or no benefit from hearing aids, the Cochlear Implant, sometimes call the "bionic ear," often can restore hearing.

A free public forum about the Cochlear Implant is being held

Tues., Aug. 24, from 7-9 p.m. in the conference center of the Waterfront Inn, Traverse City. Registration begins at 6:30 p.m.

NOTICES

DEAR RHEA, Okay - nineteenth century decor sounds great and I would love to shop with you. I also heard about something unusual that I want to look at - a National Cash register #7 with the clock on the side. I can use it with my coin collection. That Rotary Antique Show is really interesting and they get larger each year. However, I did hear this year's show is the largest they will make it. When it gets too big they think it is hard to insure quality and anyway, Rhea, you and I just don't like those huge shows. It's too hard to see it all and I can never make up my mind what to buy. I'll meet you there for lunch on the 4th or 5th of Sept. - at the Summit Center at Shanty-Creek Resort. XXXXX Al. c/132-50-34-1tc

I WILL COLLECT 1993 Central Lake Village Taxes Mondays 9-12, 1-3 p.m. Applications for tax deferment available. Joyce A. Tharp, Central Lake Village Treasurer. c29-tfc

Tips to care for fruits and vegetables

By the time fruits and vegetables reach your neighborhood store, most pesticide residues have been eliminated through the chemical breakdown over time, and through rinsing and polishing.

Although most fruits and vegetables are residue-free when you buy them, for the small quantities that might remain on the skin of the produce, simple cold water washing will eliminate or significantly reduce any residue.

The following are some tips to keep in mind as you prepare fresh food for yourself and your family:

* Buy fresh fruits and vegetables from reputable grocers or directly from farmers or city markets. Familiarity with a retail food business will help you gauge the quality and consistency of their fresh food, and will make it easier to approach them with questions and concerns about their products.

* Buy only top-quality fruits and vegetables. This doesn't necessarily mean "perfect looking". Some less-than-perfect looking produce may have been grown organically (without pesticides) but wholesomeness and taste will not be compromised.

* Many shoppers place fresh fruit and vegetables into plastic bags provided by grocery stores. These bags are a convenient way of protecting the produce while shopping or during the trip home. But fresh food should never be stored in closed, plastic bags because condensation that occurs may hasten ripening or cause the growth of mold. Never place washed produce back into a bag that once held unwashed food: you don't want to recontaminate clean food with micro-organisms.

* Wash all fruits and vegetables in cold water without detergent or soap. Soap residue can be difficult to remove from some foods and soap is not intended to be consumed.

* Water helps remove soil particles and other debris that may be hard to see, especially on leafy green vegetables like lettuce. Place the food in a colander and rinse well making sure to clean all sides of the produce, or fill a clean sink with clean cool water and let the fruits and vegetables soak for a few minutes.

* Some fruits and vegetables, like strawberries and mushrooms, have a high water content and should only be washed just prior to eating. Store these foods away from washed produce in the refrigerator.

* Fruits and vegetables that grow below ground or just above it can pick up additional organisms and pesticides from the soil than other kind of produce. These include potatoes, squash, watermelon, cantaloupe, carrots, parsnips and rutabaga. While rinsing in clear, cold water scrub the skin or rind with a firm vegetable brush. It is important to not only scrub the rind but use a clean knife when cutting into any produce so bacteria on the outside is not transported to the inside.

If you have any questions about fruits and vegetables or food safety call the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Food Division at (517) 373-1060.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
TORCH LAKE TOWNSHIP

Notice is hereby given that the Torch Lake Township Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct their monthly meeting on Wednesday August 11, 1993 at 7:30 p.m. in the Torch Lake Township Hall, Eastport, MI.

At this meeting the Board will consider appeal 93-04 from David and Jean MacDonald. They want to build a house in Edenshores on lots 68 & 69 Tax No. 05-14-515-034-10. They are requesting a variance that would enable them to erect their house set back 40 feet from Potawottamie Trail. In this R-1 zone an unoccupied front yard must be 50 feet.

Also at this meeting appeal 93-02 of Don and Pam Hagel which was tabled at the June meeting will be heard. They are requesting a variance that would allow them to erect their primary residence on a lot in an R-1 zone that already has a residence built above a garage. This is lot #4 San Marino Shores Tax No. 05-14-326-001-30. Bernard Brophy, Secretary

had a small but successful response.

"We've had nothing but favorable comments," said Jim Lercel of Sherman's Appliance. He took advantage of the low-interest, locally funded loan to remodel the front of his store.

Jordan Valley Pharmacy owners Debbie and Duane Chappuies also reported positive comments on their awning, financed through the reinvestment program.

Other businesses that have taken advantage of the program are Swan Valley Marina and Sam's Food and Spirits.

"I think the paint-up is a good project to get things going, to get people excited," said past chamber president Cindy Dalian, owner of Easterly Inn Bed and Breakfast. "It will build up people's faith that progress is being made."

Four businesses have already signed their painting agreement. The Chappuies are renovating the building next to the pharmacy and will join the paint-up in September. The building will house Future Fabulous Formals and Hair Dimensions.

Also signing up to take part in the Operation Facelift project are Mary Faculak for the E.J. Shop, Bruce Woodcock for Mr. Bruce's Barbershop and Carol Galmore for Galmores, Inc.

Each participating business receives a certificate to post in their window.

Although the project will span a two-week period in September, Sat., Sept. 18 will be a featured work day. Faculak said that Michigan Representative Beverly Bodem has been invited to participate.

"This will be an across the board community effort," Faculak concluded.

Fishing incident leaves duck unharmed

Two East Jordan youngsters caught an unexpected trophy while fishing from their grandmother's dock on Lake Charlevoix's South Arm, July 23.

Sue Brill's grandchildren, Adam Shimmons, 8, and Kendra Ryan, 12, who were sharing a pole, were dismayed when a female mallard swallowed their Canadian crawler.

The duck, terrified, swam off dragging the pole, unable to free the hook from her beak.

After several futile attempts by neighbor Tim Veryser to capture it, the children's mother managed to secure the duck in a fishing net. She and her husband removed the hook and released the duck.

The little mallard swam off, apparently unharmed.
