Proud moment

Though heavy rains pushed the ceremonies indoors, nothing could dampen the spirits of the new grads at East Jordan High School's commencement, held on Sunday, May 23, in the school gym. Here, Melinda Watson and Crystal Stevens put on their winningest smiles for the camera. For more photos, see page 14.

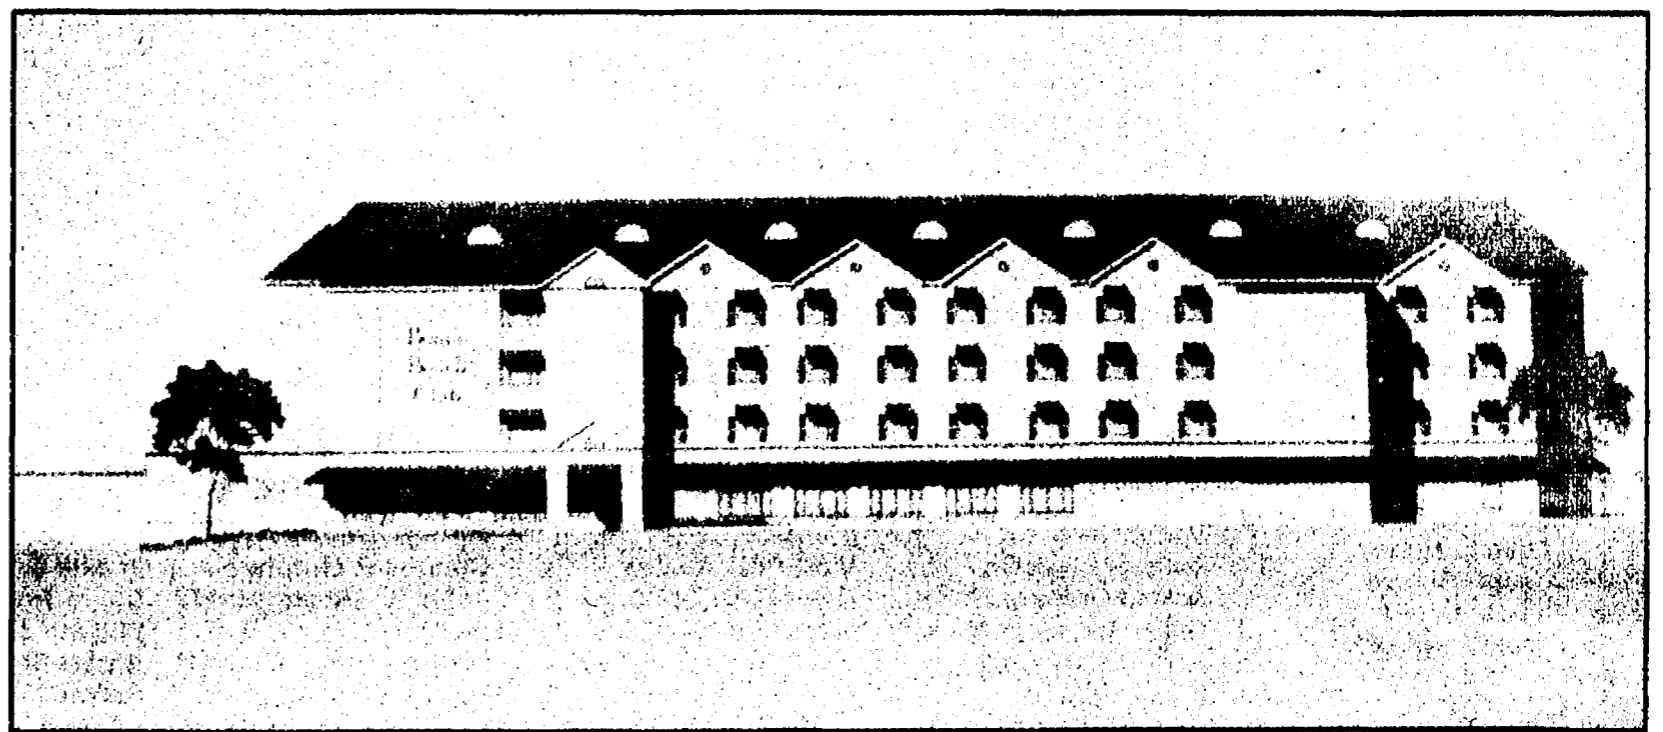

Hotel plan approved

Four-story hotel will include restaurant, condo rooms, public walkway

Boyne City Planning Commissioners last week gave the go-ahead for a four-story hotel project which will include six hotel rooms, 24 condominium rooms, and a restaurant and marina.

Dubbed the Boyne Beach Club, the project is being undertaken by the Devlon Corporation, headed by James Hevey, on what is commonly known as the "Big C" property, located at 475 N. Lake St., west of Glen's Market. The property, which measures 4.26 acres, is located in the Waterfront Marina District.

According to the staff report presented by Boyne City planning director Dan Reed, the restaurant included in the project meets the required utilization of 15 percent gross floor area as public service or retail space. While the planned structure stands 66 feet in height and, at four stories, exceeds the maximum height limit of 2.5 stories, the planning commission has waived the height requirement due to the expanded view corridors the project will allow.

The Boyne Beach Club will feature six hotel rooms, 24 condominium rooms, and restaurant and marina. The plan received approval from the Boyne City planning commission last week.

The project plans, created by the Beta Design Group, also include a public walkway along the waterfront, which, according to city staff reports, "retain a 'public' feel along the waterfront."

More than 200 parking spaces are also proposed, planned according to the projected needs of a proposed 113-slip marina, the plans for which are currently in review by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality.

Last week's action by the Planning Commission involves only the land portion of the project.

The approval is the first to come since the Boyne City City Commission approved a zoning ordinance amendment in the fall of 2003 to allow hotels as a conditional mixed use in the Waterfront Marina District. The district itself, which encompasses key properties along the Lake Charlevoix waterfront including Big C, Honeywell, and Garrett's on Water Street, was created in 2001 as part of a comprehensive overhaul of the City's zoning ordinance.

The hotel plan is set to go before the Boyne City City Commission for final approval.

BOYNE LIBRARY IS HOME BASE FOR EFFORT TO SEND SOLDIERS OVERSEAS THE GIFT OF

BOOKS FROM HOME

Boyne City resident Kelly Howard knows all too well about the boredom that plagues the daily lives of many soldiers stationed in Iraq. A truck driver from the Army 182nd reserve unit based in Traverse City, Howard was activated in December of 2003 and has been in Iraq since February of this year. Though their duties keep them on alert, the boredom, she said, becomes a factor during "the downtime created while we're waiting for things to happen."

Though there are supply stores available to soldiers, the availability of certain items is sometimes lacking. "They fill them as much as they can," she said, "but there's more people than supplies. There's a big need for comfort items."

Among those comfort items needed is reading material, and that's where the efforts of local residents come in. Dava Maat, a staff member at the Boyne District Library and longtime friend of Howard's, has, along with the Friends of the Boyne District Library, spearheaded an effort to collect new and gently used books and magazines to soldiers overseas.

Home on leave for a couple of weeks earlier this month, Howard had a chance to see the effort get started, as books began to trickle in from do-

Boyne City resident Kelly Howard, with her husband Scott and their three children, poses with library staff member Dava Maat, Paulette Lehto, whose daughter Jennifer is serving with Kelly in Iraq, and Friends of the Boyne District Library president John McClorey. The group has kicked off an effort to collect donated books for troops overseas.

More cuts

In the face of state budget pressure, EJ Schools looking at some tough choices

East Jordan schools superintendent Chip Hansen updated the board of education on the state of the district's budget, and, as is the case in most school districts in the State of Michigan, the news isn't great.

Hansen reported that the projected deficit in the 2004-05 General Fund Budget is expected to approach $640,000, approximately $100,000 more than originally anticipated. State measures that have increased the school's cost for retirement benefits (by 1.87 percent) and health care costs (by 18 percent, three percent more than the increase anticipated by administration) led to the increased deficit.

With per student foundation funds frozen for the third year at $6,700, the financial picture is dire, indeed. To balance the budget, Hansen is proposing to reduce expenditures by about $450,000 for the 04-05 school year, and, if another revenue freeze occurs, additional reductions of the same amount for the 05-06 school year.

"With the reductions, we give ourselves a fighting chance to survive another freeze in 2005-2006," he said. "Without the reductions, we'd be in even worse shape in 2005-2006, and we can't allow that to hap-

In Memory

Each Memorial Day, The Citizen-Journal is pleased to run the names of deceased area veterans to honor their service to the country. The lists are compiled in Bozeman City by Dean Kleinschrodt and in East Jordan by Ken Richards. Anyone with additions to or questions about the lists are asked to contact Kleinschrodt at 549-8000 or Richards at 536-7019.

Memorial Day services

A number of services and special activities are scheduled throughout the local area to honor the memories of those who served, on Memorial Day, Monday, May 31.

IN BOYNE CITY, members of the American Legion and auxiliary, and VFW and auxiliary who are taking part in early morning cemetery visitations are invited to the Boyne City Boosters breakfast at Boyne City High School, at 7 a.m.

Cemetery services will be held at the following locations:

- 8:55 a.m.: Dyer Cemetery, Bay Township
- 9:20 a.m.: Advance Cemetery, Eveline Township
- 9:35 a.m.: Maple Lawn Cemetery, Boyne City.

At 10:30 a.m., the Memorial Day Parade will follow a route from the American Legion Hall on Lake Street to the Boyne River, where a Memorial Service will be conducted for those lost at sea. The parade will then continue to Veterans Memorial Park, for Memorial Services to be held at the Memorial site. Services will include the singing of the National Anthem by Gail Gerrie, the Pledge of Allegiance led by local Scouts, music by the Boyne City High School Band, an address from American Legion Commander Jerry Evans, and a rifle salute.

IN EAST JORDAN, the day will begin with coffee and rolls at the VFW Hall, served by the VFW Auxiliary, at 6:30 a.m. The veteran's breakfast will be held at 9:30 a.m. Cemetery services will be held as follows:

Parade lineup will begin at 10 a.m. at GAR Park, on the corner of Main and Williams streets. Scouting groups, girls and boys little league players and entries pertaining to decoration day are encouraged to participate. The parade will be at 10:45 a.m., rain or shine, traveling down Main Street to Memorial Park for services, to begin at 11 a.m. Military services will be held under the auspices of the American Legion Rebec Hosler Sweet Post #227, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #7580, and their auxiliaries.

Rev. Jim Jordan of the Lighthouse Missionary Church will speak, with Senator Jason Allen as guest speaker. The East Jordan High School band will play selections, and troops will give a rifle salute. Also included will be the presentation of the memorial wreath and the reading of the names of area service-people who have given their lives for their country.

Following the Memorial Park services, troops will march to the Christopher Taylor Memorial Bridge to conduct a service for those who have died at sea. The service will conclude with the parade marching back to GAR Park for a flag-raising and dismissal.

The event will also feature the release of the Nijjiva floats, created by Jordan Valley Glassworks as memorials to deceased veterans, into Lake Charlevoix's South Arm.

Books from home

nors in the area. According to Maat, the library and volunteers are "at the ready" to collect books from any who wish to donate. Donations of postage for shipping the books, as well as names of family members in the service overseas who might like to receive shipments, are also welcome.

General interest paperback books, as well as magazines and crossword puzzle books, are being sought.

The shipments, Howard said, will not only benefit herself and other local soldiers, but a large number of other troops as well. "We share with our friends, we share what we get," Howard said. And though it may seem a small thing, reading material can mean a lot to the soldiers.

"It's great to have something to pull out and read when we're waiting for other trucks to refuel," she said. Sometimes, too, something low-tech like books turn out to be the more dependable luxury.

"For as bad as it is, we have the luxury of a microwave and coffeepot, but sometimes there's no water, no electricity," she said. In the end, sometimes nothing beats getting lost in a good book.

Books can be dropped off at the library during regular hours, which are: 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, Friday; noon-8 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday; and 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturday. Other arrangements can be made by calling Friends of the Boyne District Library president John McClorey at 582-6622.

For the good of the water

Local students are named first recipients of FOBR scholarship

The Friends of the Boyne River recently awarded the first-ever Marie Zoberki Scholarship, to two local students pursuing a career involving water resource management.

Jonathon Mauchmar of Boyne Falls and Timothy Wellert of Boyne City became the scholarship's first recipients earlier this month. Mauchmar is pursuing a degree in Natural Resources Management, and is studying at North Central Michigan College.

He is a 2003 graduate of Boyne Falls Public School, and is the son of William and Terri Mauchmar.

Wellert is a 2002 graduate of Boyne City High School, and is pursuing a civil engineering degree at Northern Michigan University.

He is the son of David and Jean Wellert of Boyne City.

Jonathon Mauchmar of Boyne Falls, left, and Tim Wellert of Boyne City are the first-ever recipients of the Marie Zoberki Scholarship.

The Marie Zoberki Scholarship fund was created this year, following the death of the Friends of the Boyne River co-founder in November of 2002, at the age of 90. Funding came from a bequest from Zoberki's estate, which gave a total of $60,000 to the Friends organization.

The awarding of the scholarship is intended to be an annual event. To be eligible, students must have lived in the Boyne River Watershed area for a minimum of one year, and must be planning a career in a field compatible with the purposes of the Friends of the Boyne River.

For more information on the scholarship, call chairperson Suzie Dickow at 582-0157.

DOWNTOWN

People are key ingredient to successful downtown

By C.P. MACMALLARD

I just flew in from Albuquerque and, boy, are my wings tired. (Sorry about that, I couldn't resist.) It's true, though: each of the Main Street committees, as well as the Main Street Board and the Chamber of Commerce, were represented at the National Main Street Conference in New Mexico. Dozens of meetings, lectures, and seminars were offered over the three-day conference. Each morning, we met informally and divided up the schedule, then set about absorbing as much as we could.

pressed me the most featured Tony Goldman, a New York developer who almost single-handedly transformed the SoHo District of Manhattan from a desolate and crime-infested collection of old factories and warehouses to a vibrant and exciting residential and commercial hub. His inspiration was the buildings -- turn of the century relics primarily of brick and cast iron construction. He saw the utilitarian beauty and character of the structures but this is only half the equation.

No matter how much money was spent, nothing could happen without people. Goldman's real genius is in visualizing the buildings with people enjoying them. He wanted to attract moneyed young people (yuppies).

As he began refurbishing properties he opened a restaurant. Not a chain but a unique, owner-operated bistro which set the tone for the whole neighborhood. He used his considerable charm, and a little guile too, to publicize the project.

The key to it all, Goldman stresses, is people. He chased the winos and emptied the crack dens, but he asked the police not to bother a blind man who played the violin on the sidewalk for handouts. He evicted the porn stores and wig shops, but he renewed the leases of mom and pop businesses that had hung on. The cobbler and the print shop and the hand laundry are essential to a real neighborhood and he encouraged them to stay, even signing long-term leases at very low rents.

I learned the ABCs of setting up an effective organizing committee, attended an enlightening lecture on attracting the Baby Boomers and studied methods for helping budding entrepreneurs establish and fund a "micro-business."

Your dutiful correspondent even attended a lecture on rehabilitation tax credits and real estate syndication.

So how do I put all of my new found knowledge and enthusiasm to work for Boyne City? Well, I'm not sure. I'm not even sure I fully understand syndication (I'm afraid I nodded off about halfway through the session.) I do know there are valuable little lessons in the great ideas and projects I studied. Boyne City and SoHo have something in common: diversity of ideas, goals, temperament, interests, talents and dreams among its people.

Without the people, downtown would be just buildings.

(This column, provided by the Boyne City Main Street Program, is a regular feature in The Citizen-Journal. C.P. MacMallard is a nom de plume.)

Boats, Bikes & Blades

Outdoor activities set for Memorial Day weekend will celebrate spring splendor

On Memorial Day Weekend, it'll be all about Boats, Bikes and Blades, as the annual festival returns to the Boyne City, East Jordan and Chain of Lakes area Friday - Monday, May 28-31.

Friday through Sunday, carnival rides from Schmidt Amusements as well as inflatable rides and a quad bungee jump will be located in Memorial Park in downtown East Jordan, to coincide with downtown sidewalk sales and demonstrations at the community's skate park.

On Saturday, the fun begins with kayak demonstrations and free trial rides at Veteran's Park in Boyne City, from noon-3 p.m., courtesy of Outside Edge.

Then there's the 24 Hours of Boyne, set for Saturday and Sunday, to begin at noon on May 29 and end at noon on May 30, at Boyne Mountain Resort, with plans for a bicycle competition for individuals as well as two- and four-person teams. Cash prizes will be awarded.

Also on Saturday, Detroit artist Matthew Loftin Davis will create shoreline sculptures using natural and recycled materials found on-site, beginning at 11 a.m. at the Walloon Lake Village Beach. He will work his way to Boyne City and East Jordan, and possibly Central Lake and Bellaire as well.

On Sunday, May 30, Boyne City will host its first-ever Memorial Day Drag Races from noon-6 p.m. at the Boyne City Airport, with side-by-side eighth-mile races.

On Monday, May 31, the annual Community Bike Ride will run from Boyne City to East Jordan, leaving at noon from the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce in Boyne City for a leisurely and picturesque trip to East Jordan.

Cyclists are also welcome to join the ride from anywhere along the route, which runs from Boyne City to Advance to East Jordan. Gift certificate prizes will be awarded.

For more information, call the Boyne Area Chamber at 582-6222.

East Jordan's Tom "Tinker" Brakey was surprised to find himself the man of the hour, as East Jordan Rotary named the 2004 Father of the Year earlier this month. Brakey's daughter Leah, who is stationed at an Air Force base in Turkey, nominated her dad long-distance for the honor.

East Jordan's 'Father of the Year'

For my parent, there's not much that can compare to the reward of knowing that their kids appreciate, and look up to them. For East Jordan's Tom Brakey, that knowledge was gained in a very public way, as his daughter Leah Brakey expressed in a heartfelt letter to the East Jordan Rotary Club, explaining why her dad deserved to be father of the year.

The effort was made that much more special by the fact that the nomination was long distance, with Leah currently stationed at an Air Force base in Turkey.

"It was a tear-jerker, for sure," Brakey said of the reading of the letter from his daughter at the Rotary Father/Son banquet held earlier this month in East Jordan.

The letter, five pages long, is full of glowing recommendations as to why Brakey deserved this year's honor.

"Dedicated to community service, he is also a current member of the East Jordan Fire Department, where he has been a member for the past 35 years," Leah's letter reads. "He has also been a member of the rescue dive team for 27 years. I remember whenever the fire whistle blew my dad was out the door, wasting no time, as he still does today."

Her father's commitment, she continues, has inspired her to get involved in emergency services herself. Beyond that, Leah writes of her father's commitment to his family. "He has always cheered me on during sporting events," she writes. "I could always look up into the stands and see my dad up there. He has taken my brother, Toby, and I fishing up in Canada several times. During the winter we would go snowshoeing out in what he calls the 'headwaters.' ... my brother and I would beat [the old snowmobile] up more and more every winter, but he kept fixing it for us. He taught us to appreciate what we had."

Most touching, perhaps, is Leah's take on her father's role in her life as she left for her duty with the Air Force.

"I made my decision and my dad supported me all the way," she writes in her nominating letter. "When it came time for me to leave for basic training, my dad was there, camera in hand and even a tear in his eye. ... He stayed with me till the bus drove away, waving from the sidewalk."

As for Brakey's take on his parenting, his philosophy is simple. He raised his children, which also includes daughter Melissa Rendulic, to "never be satisfied, and always do your best." The rest, he said, is just a matter of course, including having your daughter join the Air Force and end up living half a world away. "When she left, it was hard to let her go," he said. "But it's all part of growing up."

Opinions count on Boyne River discharge issue

TO THE EDITOR:

Our City commissioners should be thanked and commended for doing a fine job of service of the City of Boyne City. It takes untold hours of time, effort and dedication. How many of us who benefit from those efforts would be willing to fill their shoes? Their decisions on matters are based upon the best knowledge, input and objectively studying all aspects of an issue - as well as representing the voice of the community.

This one voice in the community hopes that there are many others who feel as I do about the possible discharge into the Boyne River of water coming from the proposed new sewage treatment plant. I have fears of many things if this was to happen. Without going into details, I will just say that I have read the reports of Larry Maltby who has done extensive research and has the facts. I have heard the reports and recommendations of the D.N.R. who concur that this would be a devastating blow to the river, the fishing, and to beauty and enjoyment of the Boyne River. It would also present many health issues.

Needless to say, cost is always a factor, and this becomes a major concern in this matter. However, in my opinion, the bottom line is not the cost, but the best way to produce a system that will protect our river (which is a gift and a treasure to be guarded) to keep it free of any areas of contamination not only now but for future generations. And there are alternative methods of discharge. It is my belief that many of us have not read the facts or taken the matter seriously enough to be either concerned or vocal about it. And many who are informed have not publicly stated their opinions to the city commissioners who do represent the citizens of our community.

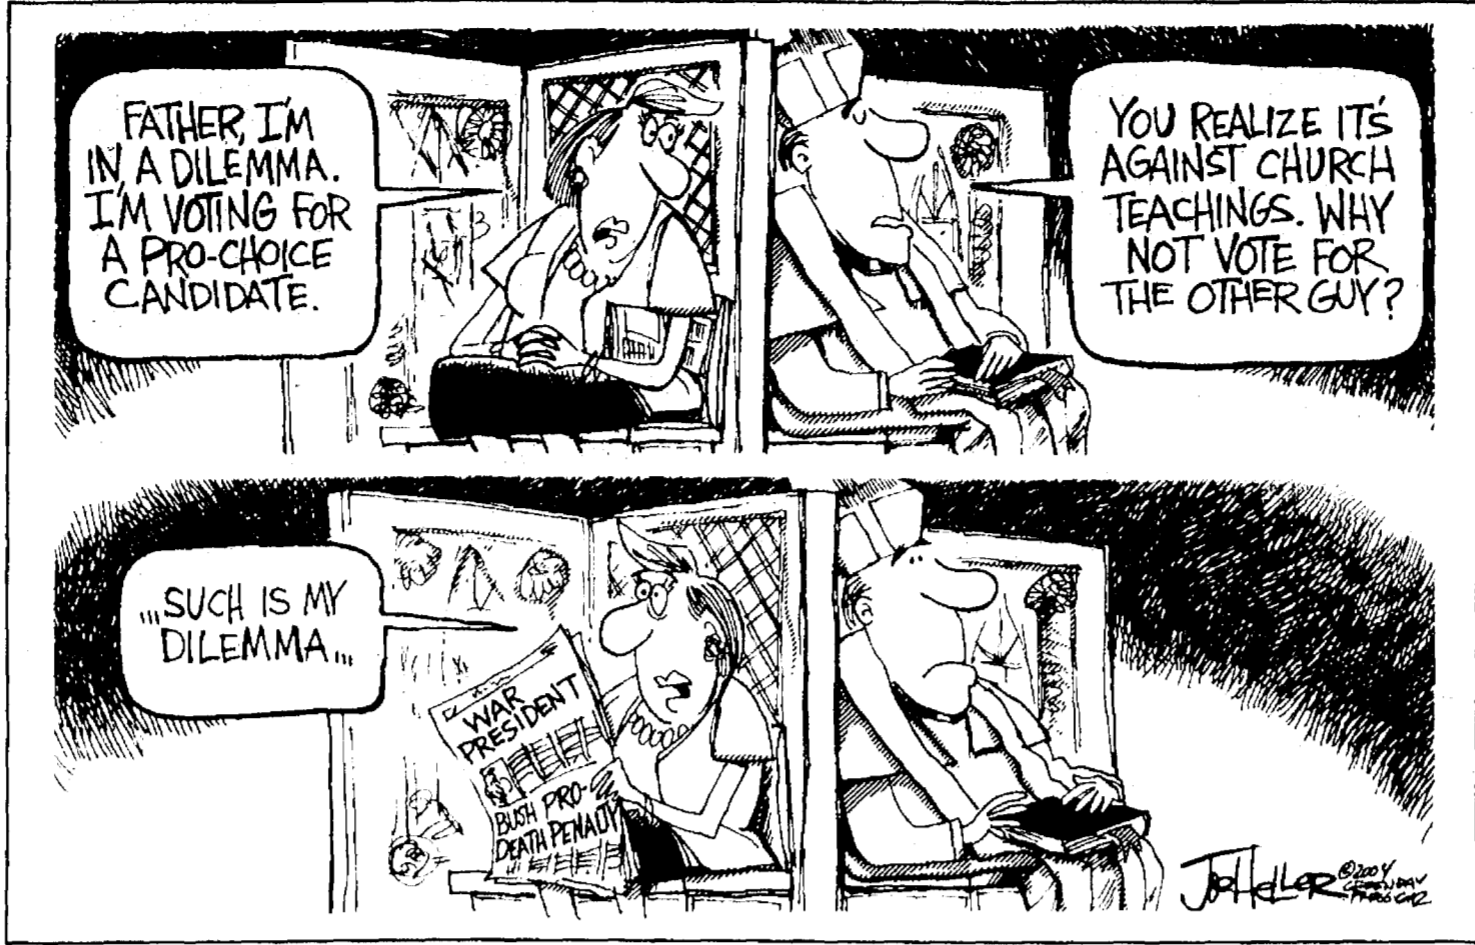

Although a decision was made by the City Council to discharge treated wastewater into the Boyne River, it does not have to be a "done-deal." If there is more input from the State of Michigan regarding environmental permits and reviewing the alternatives, it could result in another method of discharge being implemented. There is also the avenue of citizen involvement. Example: Governor Granholm's sanction of partial birth overruled by the people of the state.

My hope is that everyone who lives in the Boyne City area will make the opportunity to learn the facts, make a personal evaluation, and support the alternative choice of discharge into Lake Charlevoix.

How can this be done: 1. Read published reports and the D.N.R. comments; 2. Request an open forum to bring the facts from knowledgeable people who have done much research on this matter; 3. Support better alternative ways to discharge treated waste water; 4. Place values of a drainage-free river now and for future generations higher in priority than on immediate solution. We may pay a higher price now, but our great-grandchildren and those people coming here to live or play will thank us.

This is your city. What kind of a legacy do you want to leave for the next, the next, and the next generations? Learn the facts and speak up. If you would like a forum to learn more about those facts, call 549-3305. A meeting can be organized and publicized.

One individual can count and make a difference - you!

Support athletes at conference meet

TO THE EDITOR:

On Wednesday May 26, East Jordan High School will be hosting the Lake Michigan Conference Track and Field Championship.

This will be the last chance to catch a glimpse of some of the best area athletes. Boyne City and East Jordan have some tremendous track athletes who are running their last season in their high school uniforms.

Come see Boyne City's Katie Martin pole vault. She is an All-State performer at 11'0", which is nearly three feet higher than her closest competition. Come see Boyne City's Thereseann Zimmerman run the distance events, where she owns all the school records at distances of a mile or more. Come see East Jordan's Courtney Hammond who owns the school records in the 200m and 400m and anchors two of the finest relay teams in the state.

Come see Boyne City's Randall Sutton, who is unbeaten this season in the long jump at 20'9". Come see Boyne City's Brenton Rozycki throw the shot put.

These athletes and many others will be competing head to head with the best in the Lake Michigan Conference. The meet starts at 3 p.m. Call the East Jordan or Boyne City athletic offices for more information.

Motorists advised to 'buckle up'

TO THE EDITOR:

Want to avoid flashing lights in your rear view mirror and a $65 fine to boot? Then buckle up.

Starting May 24 and continuing through the Memorial Day holiday, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office will be conducting safety belt enforcement zones. They'll be looking for one thing and one thing only - safety belts. If you're not wearing yours, it's going to cost you.

Police officers don't enjoy pulling out their ticket books, but it's a lot better than pulling dead or injured people out of crashes where a safety belt would have made all the difference.

So, if you won't buckle up to save your life, buckle up to avoid a ticket. Remember, Buckle Up or Pay Up.

George T. Lasater
Charlevoix County Sheriff

MANY THANKS

Good deed won't be forgotten

Recently, my son's fourth grade class at Concord Academy Boyne responded to the request of Sgt. Mont, a US soldier in Iraq. This class project was a wonderful gesture on the part of these students and their families, but it turned out to be something special for others.

I was in our Boyne City Post Office mailing out this 40-pound care package. The people in line behind me were curious as to whom, what, where, etc. I explained this gift of love and one of the women in line handed me money to help cover the expense of shipping this package. Each of us had a tear in our eyes.

It is amazing how one good deed leads to another. Whomever you are, I will never forget your act of kindness and generosity. Thank you for the person you are.

pen."

This year's reductions alone will deplete the fund balance to about $700,000 at the end of the 2004-05 fiscal year.

Reductions will be hammered out through the course of meetings in the coming weeks with the district's administrative team and school family members, to be presented to the Board at their regular June meeting.

"It's safe to expect that we'll see reductions across the board," Hansen said. "The desire will be to funnel all available resources to the classroom which is the heart of the matter.

"We're certainly going to see staff reductions, unless we're going to get some retirements," Hansen added, noting that some staff members are currently considering such retirements. "We can [also] expect to see fewer dollars spent on capital projects and improvements, and we'll finance a bus purchase instead of buying one outright."

Much will depend, too, Hansen said, on the success of the Headlee override, which will appear on the ballot in the upcoming school election, set for Monday, June 14. "That's about $119,000," Hansen said. "It's a substantial amount."

On Monday, May 24, in a special meeting of the Board of Education, school board member voted to revise an earlier resolution relative to the site and term of the Headlee Restoration proposition, based on final taxable value numbers submitted to the district last week by the county equalization directors. According to those numbers, the tax levy captured by the Headlee Amendment in 2004 has increased .6390 mills, a level that is higher than the .50 mill proposition the board had previously approved for the upcoming billot.

As a result, the board rescinded their earlier motion, and amended the ballot language to reflect a Headlee Restoration of .75 mills for a period of two years, rather than the original request for .50 mills for a three-year period.

"It makes sense to place a proposal before the voters that is sufficient enough to cover the rollback," Hansen said of the move. "A loss of $119,000 in funding due to the Headlee rollback would be impossible to absorb next year, given the ongoing reductions in school funding that we're seeing from the State of Michigan."

And though the burden of dealing with the budget shortfall falls onto the shoulders of the district, Hansen is clear about who is to blame for the tight budget conditions being faced by districts throughout the state. "This is a State of Michigan problem, and it's up to our legislative leaders to fix it," he said. "I am deeply disappointed in the legislative leadership in Lansing. I believe there's been greater intent or partisan politics than to protect the funding source for kids in the State of Michigan, and that is fundamentally wrong."

Where were citizens of Boyne City when hotel was approved?

TO THE EDITOR:

Okay Citizens of Boyne City, where were you when the Boyne City planning commission held the hearing on the hotel/condo, restaurant, marina that will be built on the old Essex Wire factory property? Were you just going to wait around and read what happened in the paper?

That doesn't do any good because the papers don't print everything that goes on. They do a good job of reporting things but a few things do get left out. Besides you need to be at these meeting so you can voice how you feel about the different things that come up. The board doesn't know the general public feeling about these things if the people don't go and voice their opinion.

It was in the Petoskey News Review, written by Kristina Hughes. Although Kristina does a great job of reporting, she left out a few key issues.

She stated that the plan was unanimously passed by the planning commission with overwhelming support by more than 40 people in attendance. She failed to mention that of those 40 people, 20 of them were real estate people who stood up and gave their support for this project. They are going to be the ones who will gain from this project by selling those condos. Why wouldn't they want it? Then of the people left out of those 40 people were about 15 of them were Mr. James Hevey's close friends or business partners who aren't even citizens of Boyne City, but stood up and said what a good thing this was for Boyne City. And the other five people were people from Boyne City who care what happens to our town and our lake.

Dan Reed, the planning director, stated that the Main Street committee voted in favor of this project. Dan failed to tell everyone that there were only three people out of about 10 at that meeting that he took the vote and the vote was two to one, with only two voting for it. Dan said he was going to take it back to the board that the Main Street was for it. It is hard for me to understand how people can say how the other seven feel.

Kristina failed to point out how Tom Neidhamer tried to get it across to the board that there was an ordinance on the books that states there is to be no more condos on the lakefront. Tom tried several times to point this out. One board member said he didn't care what the ordinance said and then one of the board members stated that she thought they could change the ordinance if they choose to. Good for you Tom. What good is an ordinance if you aren't going to pay any attention to them? Do you make this ordinance just to use them whenever it is in your good to use them?

There is also a height ordinance but Mr. Hevey wanted to waive the ordinance of two and a half stories because he was giving us view corridors on each side of the building. If my memory serves me right we also have an ordinance where you have to leave so many feet of view corridors on the lake, so Mr. Hevey isn't giving us anything. Besides that, how can he be giving us a view corridor on the north side of the building when his plans show he is already partly on city property?

The headline of this article states that Boyne City oks a four story hotel. That is not a four story hotel; it is a five story building. The only difference is they call that fifth story a loft. Look at the picture in the paper, it even shows people standing up in the windows on this so called loft.

Come on people of Boyne City, you need to be going to some of these meetings or the people on these boards are going to be giving away all of our lake and maybe our town. I know that most of you really care about your town and you don't want to give it away to these people who come up here from down below who don't really care about our town but see a way to make money here because it is such a nice place to live and it is right on the lake. I know this because I have heard you talking. Talking among yourselves doesn't do any good. You need to be talking to those people who you voted into office to look out for your good. This issue still needs to go to the City Commissioners. So, all of you need to go to the city commission meeting and voice your opinion. If you don't go and this doesn't turn out like you want it to then you can't complain because you didn't even go to the meeting.

Thanks, too, for the great music of the Sagebrush Band and especially the many family and friends, who gave so much of their time, making it what it was. We are so grateful to everyone; the words thank you just doesn't begin to express our appreciation, nor our joy, now that our baby Alyssa is fine and growing stronger every day!"

Local athletes take first place finishes at regional track meet

Competing in some sub par weather conditions did not stop five individual athletes, as well as two relay teams, from capturing first place finishes at the Division III track meet held at Benzie Central on Saturday, May 22, to earn a trip to the state's final meet in Comstock Park on June 5.

The weather was a factor in the meet with rain affecting the early starting field events and while the showers stopped in the middle of the morning the track was still damp for the races on the track.

The Boyne City Ramblers grabbed four top spots as Kim Foster won the high jump (4' 11"), Katie Martin won the pole vault (10' 0"), Thereseann Zimmerman took the 3200 run (11:34.25) and Randall Sutton took the long jump (19' 11").

The East Jordan team had three winners as Courtney Hammond won the 400 (1:00.24), the 800 relay team of Sierra Roberts, Jaleesa Baier, Jessica Skop and Hammond won with a time of 1:50.53 and the 1600 relay team of Roberts, Baier, Kristi Werner and Hammond won with a time of 4:15.34.

The Boyne City varsity softball team raised its overall record to 14-10 with a 7-2, 6-4 double header sweep at home over Manton on Friday, May 21.

"We were putting the bat on the ball and making things happen," said Boyne City coach Sandy Clausen. "We played well tonight for two games."

Cadie Britton tossed a one-hitter to earn the victory in the opener with three strikeouts and no base-on-balls in six innings on the hill.

Boyne City tallied a run in the first inning, two in the fourth and four in the fifth, while Manton managed lone runs in the third and sixth innings.

Susie Wellert had a two run double in the fourth inning to get the game winner and highlight the Lady Rambler offense, while Emily McLane, Amanda Westrick, Michelle Metzger, Emma Persons and Tori Crum all chipped in with one single each.

In the second game the Lady Ramblers jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the top of the opening inning and then added single runs in the third and fourth innings to gain the win.

The Lady Rangers scored all four of their runs in the bottom of the third inning.

Kassie Bedford was on the mound and got the win for Boyne City, striking out five batters, while walking one and scattering four hits.

Haili Friedrich, McLane, Westrick, Bedford and Lyndsay Tomkins all had one single to lead the Rambler bats.

Traverse City 4, 4 Boyne City 2, 1

Traverse City St. Francis pitcher Layne Kiella limited the Boyne City bats to just four hits in the first game and only two hits in the second to lead her team to a double header sweep at home by scores of 4-2 and 4-1 on Monday, May 17.

The Lady Ramblers held a 2-1 lead after one inning of play in the opener, but a three-run St. Francis rally in the third inning proved to be the difference in the game.

"The third inning was too much," said Clausen. "We had two errors, they had two hits and Cadie gave up both of her walks. We started out putting the bat on the ball, but we didn't keep it up."

Persons, Bedford, Westrick and McLane all had singles to account for the team's four safeties.

The Lady Gladiators took the nightcap as St. Francis scored two runs in the third inning and added single runs in the fourth and fifth, while Boyne City managed just one run in the fourth frame.

Metzger had a double and McLane added a single to get the two Boyne City hits in the game.

Britton was on the mound for Boyne City in both games and took both losses, despite yielding just five hits in the first game and three hits in the second.

BOYNE CITY HIGH SCHOOL POLE VAULTER KATIE MARTIN IS

Reaching new heights

By ROBERT E. WOLLENBERG

Have you ever pictured yourself soaring over a bar extended 12 feet above the ground? Taking a 12-foot fiberglass pole, running down a runway, and vaulting your body skyward, twisting to see the earth waver below? For Boyne City High School's Katie Martin, that dream is an everyday reality, as she continues to break records, and looks to a bright future continuing to pursue the sport she loves.

An 18-year-old senior at Boyne City High School, Martin started her track career in seventh grade. Her family had a history of running track and, according to Martin, coach Dave Bricker encouraged her to try track and field. She loved it and found it challenging because it always presented a new goal — there was always something you could do to be better. She ran the 400 meter and felt a unique sense of accomplishment from taking on the long sprint which, she said, "burns the whole way."

There wasn't any pole vault for women in Katie's seventh grade year, but the Lake Michigan Conference later made some alterations to middle school track, adding pole vault among other things. Though at the time there were no girls trying it, Martin — ever loving a challenge — picked up a pole and cleared a whopping six feet that year to set the school record. Martin remembers, with a laugh, her first vaults, which took place over a bar lower than her head.

In ninth grade the school hired Andy Bryant, an accomplished pole vaulter, to teach science and help out with track. He found Katie to be quick and strong. Still, freshman year was frustrating for Martin, as she worked to get "all the kinks out" — learning technique, grip, running with the pole, hitting the weight room, and even taking more gymnastics classes at Boyne Area Gymnastics Club to learn body control and movement.

Once Martin learned her technique in her freshman year, nothing could hold her back. After practicing all summer, in her sophomore year Martin qualified for the State meet by clearing 9'6".

A pole vaulter since seventh grade, Katie Martin has gone on to break records throughout her high school athletic career. Set to graduate this year, Martin plans to continue pole vaulting in college, and has dreams of garnering a spot in the 2008 Olympics.

At the state meet, she took ninth and missed a state medal by one place. During that summer, Martin attended Bryant's highly-regarded "Pole Vault Camps" and learned the physical dynamics and different phases of the vault from the sprint, to take-off, to inverted body extension, and finally throwing the pole.

Martin's junior year consisted of traveling to indoor meets around the state, which anyone can attend as an individual competitor. "It was different there because there were girls from all over the state and they were women athletes who really were the top vaulters in the state," Martin said.

During her junior year, too, she did "a ton of lifting in the weight room and the Sliding Box," Martin said, referring to a wooden replica of the vaulting box that sits at the bottom of the pit and into which you slide your pole. "This is difficult to explain," Katie said, "It just helps with your approach and plant."

Katie lost only one meet all junior year and took third in the state meet, vaulting 10'3" and qualifying for All

State, making her the first female athlete to achieve that distinction in track in BCHS history. She also made All Conference in pole vault and the 100 meter dash and was named to the All Region Dream Team for northern Michigan.

Senior year for Katie has been grueling, as she puts in "...hundreds of hours of training" combined with academic homework, weight lifting, meets, vaulting "every day all summer," and trips to prospective colleges during the school year. "The thing is that the pressure becomes intense — pressure to be the best, pressure to do well so college coaches will take note, pressure to finish high school with a strong GPA, and being a senior that is 'expected' to win," she said.

Handling the mental aspect of being a champion vaulter takes "hours of long talks with my coach. Bryant, fortunately, is able to relate to Martin's situation, having 'been there' once, and knowing what the pressure feels like.

"He's always been there to talk to and it's good to have a coach who knows what they're feeling and helps get you through it," Martin said. "I wouldn't be able to have any of these experiences without Mr. Bryant and I've gained a friend along the way."

So when you've achieved this much, what's left? According to Martin, her goals include staying undefeated this season and setting the State record of jumping 12 feet. She's cleared 12 feet in practice and now has that "challenge" in her sights.

Further down the road, she may attend the University of Wisconsin in the Big Ten - Division One, but won't know until the State meet is behind her. The University of Wisconsin started recruiting Katie in April and she's had numerous calls from other colleges such as Purdue, South Florida, and Louisville.

Even beyond her college vaulting career, Martin has her sights set on a bigger prize — the 2008 Summer Olympics. As vaulting coach Bryant said, "Katie's got all the tools it takes to make the Olympics — she's quick, strong, smart, and has a burning desire to win."

FAT FACTS

Everyone is talking about low-carbs and low-fat. The fact is that not all fats are created equal. Watch out for saturated fats and trans fats (also called hydrogenated). These are found in red meat, dairy, coconut and palm oils, margarine and commercial baked goods. Instead, use monounsaturated fats found in olive, peanut, canola, and avocado oils. Monounsaturated fats help lower LDL (bad) cholesterol. Try polyunsaturated fats found in corn, sunflowers, soy, safflower or cottonseed oils. These fats help lower LDL too, but they are more susceptible to detrimental chemical changes that may contribute to the risk of some diseases.

JRAC awards scholarships

Area students were among those receiving scholarships from the Jordan River Arts Council, in an annual event held at the Jordan River Art Center in East Jordan.

Seniors and juniors participated in the competitive art scholarship event, including students from East Jordan High School, Boyne City High School, Concord Academy Boyne, Ellsworth High School, Mancelona High School and Bellaire High School.

Recipient of the Betty Ann Osborne Award of $500 was Concord Academy Boyne senior Bekah Garibay. Garibay is the daughter of Rob and Cheryl Garibay, and is a student of art teacher Julie Stoppel.

Wesley Eggebrecht of Ellsworth High School received the Doris and Bill Huckle Award of $350. He is the son of Dave and Kelly Eggebrecht and is the student of Deb Hughes.

Four honorable mentions of $50 each were presented to Kyria Osterhouse, Concord Academy Boyne; Patrick Teske, East Jordan High School; Stephanie Mills, East Jordan High School; and Amy Fifeleski, Bellaire High School.

Other students participating and receiving certificates of merit were: Amanda Korthase, Concord Academy Boyne; Joseph Haney, Melody Bishop and Sara Little, East Jordan High School; Angel Chipman and Skylar MacNaughton, Boyne City High School; Hans Murray, Bellaire High School; Jennifer Long, Mancelona High School; and Pedro Oviedo, Michelle Hizeberger, Katie Koivisto, Ellsworth High School.

Also presented during the awards event was the Charlevoix State Bank Purchase award of $250, open only to East Jordan High School students. Senior photography student Melinda Watson was the recipient of the award, for a piece entitled "Century Pylon." She is the student of Darin Podskalny. Her work will hang in the East Jordan branch of the Charlevoix State Bank.

The students' works will be on display in the scholarship exhibit through Friday, May 28.

"The Vine," an acrylic painting by Bekah Garibay, helped earn the Concord Academy Boyne student the Betty Ann Osborne Award from the JRAC.

"Putting an image on paper or canvas, molding clay with the fingers, or finding shapes through the camera lens, the artist shares a piece of him or herself with others," said juror Carol Ross. "This is the joy of being an artist. This collection of work shows the willingness to open oneself to others, so as viewers of this exhibition, we share your emotions and make them our own."

The art center is open from 1-4 p.m. daily, and is located at 301 Main St., East Jordan. For more information, call 536-3385.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

East Jordan design service opens downtown storefront with coffee shop, art gallery

The Inner Structure Interior Design, and Cafe Casa and Galleria, is open for business in downtown East Jordan, offering a coffee shop and art gallery for patrons to enjoy, as well as design services.

With the expansion of her interior design business into East Jordan's "little log cabin" at 105 E. Main St., owner Jennifer Aenis incorporated the coffee shop and art gallery to create a comfortable setting for local artists and coffee shop goers.

"It just seemed like the right combination," she said. "There are many talented artists in East Jordan and the surrounding area. Showcasing their work in conjunction with a coffee shop allows for more exposure."

As a design business, The Inner Structure specializes in residential, commercial, and condominium design. "Creating a personalized space for the way you live is the goal for every design," said Aenis, a licensed designer. "Drafting custom floor plans, selecting appropriate furnishings and materials, or locating skilled trade professionals, are all services we provide to complete the design."

Cafe Casa and Galleria is open 6:30 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Cinnamon Tree gifts and gallery open in East Jordan

Located at 07705 Rogers Road on the family homestead, Cinnamon Tree Crafts and Gift Gallery is the realization of a lifelong dream of owners Bill and Carolyn Ashley.

The Ashleys have long looked to own and operate a studio where they could produce quality handcrafted goods, with an outlet through which to sell them included.

The gift gallery is designed with a country flair, showcasing Bill's skills as a ceramic artist specializing in unique vases and other original artworks in clay, and Carolyn's needlework items, created in the tradition of old-fashioned crafts folks.

The gallery also features items and works by other artists and crafters, including soy candles, wooden collectibles and toys, photo greeting cards, soap and bath products, and dried and silk floral pieces.

The gallery also features original paintings and prints.

Cinnamon Tree is located on Rogers Road between M-66 and M-32, next door to Mom and Pop's Greenhouse and Nursery. For more information, call 536-3253.

Work exercise into your routine on the road

By Ernie Harwell

If you travel a lot for work, like I did for so many years, it can be difficult to maintain healthy habits. The secret is to watch what you eat and drink and to develop a routine that includes some exercise and to follow it religiously.

When I was traveling with the Tigers, I had a routine of waking up at 7 a.m., eating a light breakfast and then walking for about 45 minutes to an hour. For many of those years, I was joined by Tiger manager Sparky Anderson. Afterwards, I'd relax a bit, do some work, have a light lunch, and then go to the ballpark.

If you spend a lot of time traveling, try developing a routine of getting out for a walk or a light jog in the morning. It's a great way to start the day, get some exercise and take in the sights wherever you are.

And please remember to take care of your health before it's longgggg gone!

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. His latest book, a collection of his baseball columns entitled "Life After Baseball," is available at local bookstores or by calling 1-800-245-5082.
